THE ENEMY WAS PUT TO FLIGHT.

Canadian Soldiers Again Victorious.

Two Bridges Rushed and Hill Stormed at the Mayoress's Point—57th's Orders.

Last evening the 57th Regiment held a march out which was well attended. Nos. 1, 2 and 5 companies turned out nearly full strength, while No. 4 had no mean attendance.

After leaving the drill hall the Battalion, headed by both bands, march d in columns of sections down George street. When the Charlotte street crossing was reached the leading section received the command to wheel to the right about, and the soldiers marched north up George street. Nos. 5 and 7 companies marched on ahead and took up a defending position on the oval, and the two bridges leading thereto. Numbers 2 and 3 companies attacked and rushed the Dickson Company bridge, while Nos. 1, 4 and 6 companies carried the Smith street bridge. The defending sections retreated from the bridges and tried to retire to their supports; many however were captured.

The attacking party of six companies, including the reserve, then stormed the hill at the point of the bayonet, the defenders retiring at the double. The commanding officer did not deem it necessary to pursue the fugitives.

The battalion was then re-formed and after having been given a rest marched back to the drill shed, where the following orders were read:

No. 3.—The Regiment will parade with both bands at the drill hall at 8.30 p.m. Tuesday, June 30th, in drill order, helmets to be worn instead of forage caps, ball bags and pouches will be worn. The Companies will parade in leggings. Tunics will be packed in company boxes.

No. 4.—The Regimental band, the bugle and drum corps, the stretcher section and each company will each detail a man as orderly to look after the loading of baggage, etc. These orderlies will report at the drill hall at 4 p.m. Tuesday, to Lieut. McLean.

No. 8.—The method for entraining at Peterborough will be as follows:—The Regiment will march in column of sections down George St. and along Charlotte St. to G.T.R. siding between Charlotte and King Sts. and west of station. Upon arriving at the train the Regimental band and each Company will form in line and enter the cars in file as follows, the cars being numbered from the engine, the first and second being baggage coaches:—The Regimental Band will entrain in the 3rd car; No. 1 Co in 4th car; No. 2 Co. in 5th car and so on, No. 8 Co. entraining on 11th car. No. 9.—The badges on forage caps, front plates on helmets, numerals on shoulder straps, buttons on serges and tunics being regimental property must not be given away or exchanged and any N.C.O. or man disposing of them will be punished.

No. 10.—The Commanding Officer places fullest confidence in the N.C.Os. and men of the Regiment, that their deportment and conduct will be such as will reflect credit upon the corps as well as upon the individuals themselves and that everything will be so properly carried out as to make the out a memorably pleasant one.

Look on the Bright Side.

The sufferer from nervous exhaustion is generally blue and discouraged. He looks on the dark side of things and fears paralysis, locomotor ataxia or insanity. All this is changed by the persistent use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, which gradually and naturally rekindles and revitalizes the wasted nerve cells and instils new vigour and energy into the whole system.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT TO MR. JOHN KINCAID.

Collapse of Scaffold in Victoria Park Grand Stand Caused Injury.

Mr. John Kincaid, the contractor, superintending the erection of the band stand in Victoria Park, was the victim of a serious accident this forenoon about half past ten. Mr. Kincaid was on a scaffold in the interior of the stand, about ten feet from the ground, when one of the workmen stepped from a higher elevation to the scaffold on which Mr. Kincaid was standing, when the combined weight of the two men caused the support to give way, the result of which was that Mr. Kincaid falling to the floor received a double fracture of the right ankle.

Drs. Eastwood and Carmichael were immediately called and Mr. Kincaid was conveyed to his home where the fracture was set, Dr. Caldwell assisting in the operation. The injury is a most serious one, and it is feared that the fracture is of such a nature that it will not heal rapidly.

Mrs. Kincaid, who has been visiting in Omemee, was telephoned for, and arrived home at noon.

GEORGE STREET SOCIAL WAS A SUCCESS.

Pleasing Entertainment Furnished by Epworth League Last Night.

In spite of counter attractions, including a regimental parade, a large number attended and spent a pleasant evening at the social given by the Epworth League of the George street church last evening in the school room of the church. The platform was prettily and tastefully decorated with palms and flowers and presented a very dainty appearance. The chair was occupied by Mr. Jeffries in his usual pleasant manner. At the conclusion of a meritorious musical programme, refreshments of cake and ice cream were served, and the singing of a hymn brought to a close a most delightful evening's entertainment.

VALUE OF COURTESY.

Governor-General's Recent Good Advice to Toronto School Boys—Others on That Virtue.

Lord Minto recently gave some good advice to the school-boy cadets in Toronto. "Be courteous" was the main tenor of his brief but seasonable speech. His Excellency said:

"Both pupils and teachers ought to remember that it is not the actual education, but the training of the general character which tends to insure the success of the race. With all the self-reliance that marks a new country like this, it would be well to remember the generous traditions and the courteous manners of the Old Country. There was sometimes a tendency to demonstrate self-reliance by a want of respect to fellow-men and to those in authority. While he was a believer in self-reliance and in the words of the poet:

'The rank is but the guinea's stamp,
The man's the gowd for a' that," he thought one was much more likely to succeed by learning respect to those above and courteous manners. Respect was not at all an imitation of servility, and he felt sure that the younger generation would benefit by studying the generous traditions of the Old World to which he had already alluded."

This advice implied no reflection on His Excellency's public school audience. But it was timely, and, if what has been remarked by other observers be true, it touched one of the infirmities of Canadian youth. The Canadian boy has a fair average of virtues. He is probably neither better nor worse than other boys; but in a country described by an eminent publicist as "rough, raw and democratic," juvenile graces of behavior will always stand in need of cultivation. It is well to see ourselves as others see us and not to be over-sensitive of the criticism. Dr. Newman Hall, the famous preacher of Surrey Chapel, who labored among the working classes and the slums of London, once said that Canadians could learn something of respect for their elders from the poorest lads in his parish. The gallery witticisms of a university convocation are too often the acme of rudeness, although probably not so intended. The President of Princeton College was so "roughed" on one of these occasions in Toronto that he was forced to bring his address to a close. The late Premier, Mr. Hardy, was similarly treated. Lord and Lady Aberdeen, most kindly critics of anything Canadian, more than once hinted that youthful respect for age and authority in this country might be very much improved. "Courtesy and a consideration for the feelings of others is one of the best tests of a gentleman," was the fit rebuke of a Toronto college professor to his ill-mannered, unruly class. Obedience is on the same plane, and it was impressed on the cadets by Earl Dundonald. "They must remember," he said, "that no man ever became great in commanding others who did not first learn to obey. The man who could not obey could never command." And he might have added that the courteous youth is never slow to obey in either civil or military life.

In his "Recollections of an ex-French Master in England," Max O'Rell says: "I have often been asked the question, 'Are English boys better or worse than French ones?' Well, I believe the genus boy to be pretty much the same all the world over. Their characteristics do not show in the same way, because educational systems are different. They are both inclined to bestow their affection and respect on the man who is possessed of moral and intellectual power; it is in their nature to love and respect what is powerful, lofty and good. Boys are what masters make them."

The clever Frenchman, who delighted many an audience with his shrewd observations on men and manners, knew what he was writing about. The courteous master makes the courteous boy.—Toronto News.

Canada's Army Boots.

The Boot and Shoe Trades Journal, a periodical devoted to the shoe trade in England, in its last issue, contains the following interesting comment on English and colonial army boots. It will be seen that Canada is making an enviable showing in this particular:

"It would seem as if the Indian Army authorities were bent on discarding the English-made army boot altogether. From a cutting which has been sent us from Montreal we learn that orders have been placed with the Slater Shoe Company, of Montreal, for repeats of footwear similar to that with which Strathcona's Horse and the Canadian Mounted Rifles were equipped during the late South African war. It is stated that these goods stood so well the test imposed upon them that many a man wore one pair of boots throughout the campaign, and sold his second, or reserve pair to the less fortunate Tommies shod in the invincible and unyielding ammunition boot of the English Army. The boot is cut from chrome tan calf, machine welted and machine stitched aloft to the heel. A correspondent, who has carefully examined it, says the upper is delightfully soft and pliable, yet so tough that even spear grass does not cut it. More than can be said of the uppers of the War Office pattern. The boot is similar to that worn by the American army in China, and which English officers in the Indian army declare to be perfect for marching purposes. The same reason is given for the native preference for the Cawnpore boot. It is not claimed that it is half as well made as ours, or that the material is as good, but the fact remains that it is easier in wear and is generally liked. Evidence of this kind is so constant that we wonder how much longer it is to be ignored, or when Pall Mall will be up-to-date, and give English makers a chance of supplying a light machine-welted army boot. Not, we fear, until the whole place has been swept and garnished by men who really understand their business."

Britain's Postal Banks.

The fact is odd that the post office savings banks of Great Britain are technically insolvent. Their deposits at the end of the year were $700,000,000, their assets only about $670,000,000.

Nobody worries about a little thing like that; the Government is responsible. Of course the discrepancy rose from the high prices the department was forced to pay for national bonds before the Boer war. The lowering of the rate of interest allowed is an obvious cure.

The postal banks were authorized in 1861, and nearly ten millions were deposited the first year. Some later developments are curious. By the "slip" system a sum so small as 2 cents can be deposited. Deposits can drawn by telegraph. School savings banks are recognized, but are not very successful owing to the superior attractions of sweets as a medium of investment.

A feature of the postal banks is that through their agency depositors can buy small fractional portions of Government bonds.

"OLD BOYS" AT TORONTO.

Visions of Beauty for "Auld Lang Syne" in the Queen City.

Toronto, July 2.—Toronto enjoyed her double celebration of Dominion Day and her home-comer guests will not soon forget the occasion. Combined with ideal weather was the renewal of numerous friendships after a quarter of a century.

Every United States guest, and their name was legion from all States in the Union, was decorated as rapidly as he shook the train dust from his clothes. Several hundred registered at the committee rooms, but thousands went direct to the homes of friends.

The decorations were completed during the morning hours. Inspiring in the sun light, 'neath the glitter of thousands of electric lights the scene was simply entrancing. The Parliament Buildings were a dream in the evening. "For Auld Lang Syne" was displayed in big letters of fire under the royal crest and shield bearing the magic word, "Welcome." The City Hall and other public buildings were equally attractive in their dress of scarlet and gold, and hundreds of flags.

In the evening a public reception was held at the Parliament Buildings, and Mayor Urquhart and Premier Ross did the honors.

Fishermen Strike.

Vancouver, B. C., July 2.—The British Columbia Fishermen's Union has issued an official announcement calling all union fishermen off the Fraser River and establishing a strikers' patrol. The canners were preparing for packing July 1, when the season opens. They have contracts with Japanese and non-union whites.

The large capabilities of this store's Smallwares and Notion Section are more fully realized by the public and ourselves the week we devote bi-annually to quick smallwares selling.

Notwithstanding the full knowledge we have of the contents compactly stored away in this department, we confess we hardly realize the immense assortment that there exists, until we take during this Special Notion Week about four times as much display space as we can ordinarily afford—and then feel cramped.

Since the commencement of our Notion Sale this department has turned over an immense amount of "Little Stuff" (Neckwear, Novelties, etc.,) but notwithstanding the amount of stuff that has been sold the assortments have been kept up—sufficient to make it exceedingly interesting for those attending this money-saving sale of "Small Things" which continues

TILL SATURDAY NIGHT ONLY.

REMEMBER that you have only two days more to take advantage of the extraordinary values mentioned on our price bill.

235 WERE KILLED.

Heartrending Scenes at the Mouth of the Mine's Level.

Hanna, Wyo., July 2.—According to the best information obtainable yesterday morning, 235 men out of 282 who were in the mine were killed in the explosion here Tuesday. The majority of the victims are Finlanders and negroes.

A small army of rescuers, spurred on by the frantic appeal of wives, mothers and children who gathered at the mine, worked with desperate energy all night. They tell of pitiful scenes in the mine. Some of the survivors were driven insane and fought furiously against rescue. Dazed, listless survivors were found sitting on cars or lying on the floor, careless of whether they lived or died.

Near the seventeenth level twenty bodies were found strewn over a pile of debris which the men had striven to surmount before they were overcome by the deadly fumes. Some were scared and blackened by flames. The eleven rescuers who penetrated thus far were too weak to bring out a body. For hours the scene at the mouth of the level was heartrending. Mothers, wives, sweethearts and children huddled together, weeping and wringing their hands. The most frantic pushed to the edge of the gap and tried to force a way into the slope.

An expert who went almost to the seventeenth level says the mine cannot possibly be cleared for a month. It is feared that men in the lower levels were torn to pieces by the explosion, which hurled great timbers high over the town and 1,700 feet beyond the mouth of the slope. The fire bosses, who had reported all safe before working time Tuesday, met death while making a second inspection.

STEPPED IN FRONT OF EXPRESS.

Bothwell, July 2.—A young girl, 15 years of age, named Myrtle Lumley, was struck by No. 15 Grand Trunk International Limited at 9 o'clock last evening and instantly killed, near Bothwell Station. Woo Way, a laundryman, who lives at 501 East Queen street, was drowned off Centre Island yesterday afternoon. Together with Wung Fang, from the same address, he started out on the bay in a canoe, both standing up and paddling. Before they had gone far the boat upset, and both men, neither of whom could swim, were plunged into the water. The body was later recovered.

Toronto Boy Drowned.

Toronto, July 2.—Harry Revell, a lad of 14, was drowned while in swimming Tuesday afternoon at the foot of Dufferin street. Herbert Wilcox and Albert Innis, who were on the dock at the time, saw a number of others come rushing down to the lake side, and saw Revell, who was warm and perspiring, hurriedly peel off his clothes so as to be in first. Diving into the cold water he was taken with a severe cramp, and before the other boys, who were yet scarcely undressed could realize his predicament, he was beyond recovery.

Drowned at Mud Turtle Lake.

Tweed, July 2.—A sad drowning accident occurred at Mud Turtle Lake. Henry Whiteman, one of Gilmour's river drivers, fell from a log into an eddy and though his companion made every effort to rescue him, was unable to do so on account of the rapid current. The body was not recovered until the next day, when it was taken to Marmora and thence by the C.P.R. to his home in Cloyne. Deceased was a bright young fellow, only 18 years of age.

The Government tug Antelope will drag the locality for the body.

In the spring of 1898 he visited Toronto and his organization played there.

13,000 Miners Quit Work.

Birmingham, Ala., July 2.—Thirteen thousand union miners in this district suspended work yesterday, the old wage contract having expired Tuesday night and a new contract not having been agreed upon. The suspension will maintain until a new wage agreement is reached.

DISASTER AT HANNA

Aftermath of the Great Explosion in Wyoming on Tuesday.

235 OF THE MINERS KILLED.

Some of the Injured Men Fought Against Rescue and Others Were Crazed by Their Experiences—Some Were Seared and Blackened by the Flames—Heartrending Scenes at the Mouth of the Level.

Hanna, Wyo., July 2.—Probably the worst disaster in the history of Wyoming occurred here Tuesday when a terrible explosion of fire damp in Union Pacific Mine No. 4 shut off the means of escape of 200 men, who were working in the pit. The fire, which started immediately, defied all efforts of the rescuers, and there is slight hope of saving any of the men. Twenty-eight bodies of those working near the mouth of the mine have been brought out, all of them horribly mangled and some still showing slight evidences of life.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company, which owns the mines, has a large force working to reach the imprisoned men. The flames seemed to be abating, and there was hope of getting most of the bodies out by yesterday. So tense is the excitement that no one seems able to say how the disaster occurred. The supposition is that a careless miner allowed his lamp to come in contact with fire damp.

None of the Ministers except the American representative would agree to payment in silver. They said that in the event of non-compliance the powers contemplated seizing the salt gabelle or re-occupying the native city of Tien Tsin.

SONS OF ENGLAND AT JUBILEE POINT.

Their Excursion Yesterday a Pleasing Event.

Sixteenth Annual Outing Largely Patronized—Dancing and Sports Indulged in.

The meteorological forecast on the morning of Dominion Day was not encouraging for a pleasure trip down the river, and it was predicted that the Sons of England excursion to Jubilee Point would most likely be "put out of business." But the Sons of Old Albion were not daunted. Meterological forecasts are never permitted to interfere with this popular trip, and no condition about "wind and weather permitting," ever appears on their bills.

This was their sixteenth annual excursion, and at eight o'clock the steamer City of Peterborough, (Captain Lane,) was as usual filling up quickly with the Sons and Daughters of England, and their friends. Shortly after the scheduled time the commodious steamer pulled out from her wharf. As the morning was still overcast, and many were not likely to arrive on time, the Water Lily was detailed to remain and pick up the stragglers. About 8.30 the Water Lily followed, and when near Hales' Bridge, caught up to the City of Peterborough and transferred the rest of the party on board the big boat. All told the City of Peterborough had then on board about two hundred excursionists, and as the two steamers came together and parted, the interesting scene was made additionally lively by salvos of cheers and salutes such as English throats know how to give. The weather cleared and a breeze sprang up, making the sail a delightfully refreshing one. Jubilee Point was reached at 11 o'clock, Capt. Lane and his engineer receiving a hearty volley for their excellent performance.

As soon as the party and their provisions were landed the picnic tables and grounds were covered with refreshment baskets, and English appetites enjoyed an outdoor meal with lively relish. Dan Foley of the Jubilee House had also provided meals for the occasion, his dining room being filled three times, nearly one hundred meals being served. The bill of fare included fried fish, roast beef, roast lamb, green peas and potatoes, early vegetables, olives, pickles, catsup, apple and lemon pie, tea and coffee, milk, cheese, biscuits, etc. You should have heard the way the guests praised Mrs. Foley, her cooks, and her interesting waiters.

As soon as dinner was over the Sports Committee rang the bell for the long programme of sports to commence. At the same time the dancers were lining up in the big pavillion under the direction of Mr. Geo. Lacheur, who filled the position of Master of Ceremonies with first rate precision. Mr. Ferguson's orchestra furnished enlivening music all day. The dancing was also the leading feature on the boat.

A complete programme of the sporting events with prize winners will be published in to-morrow's issue.

At 4.30 the excursionists started on the return trip, and after a delightful sail arrived home at eight o'clock, as promised, the party singing God Save the King as the steamer arrived at the wharf.

The satisfaction of having the washing done early in the day, and well done, belongs to every user of Sunlight Soap. 10B

REV. J. P. WILSON'S ADDRESS TO NURSES.

Thoughtful Words of Reverend Gentleman to Graduates.

The following is an extended report of the admirable address given by Rev. J. P. Wilson at the graduating exercises of the Nicholls Hospital Training School for Nurses, on Monday night:—

Young ladies, of the graduating class, I assure you that I am pleased to be with you on this very interesting occasion. It is my honour to deliver a message to you at a critical period in your life. You have grown up from childhood to girlhood, and to womanhood, and you have chosen a calling and are about to enter upon it.

The day of graduation is often considered the day of emancipation from study, and the discipline, which subjects time, pleasure and liberty, to the attainment of knowledge. While the acquisition of a degree, or a diploma, marks the end of a formal instruction, graduation day is really a commencement day of new lessons, new duties and new responsibilities. The graduate of any college must still be a student. She leaves the class room on graduation day, as the little ones leaves the nursery, with some knowledge of their own powers, and a little training of their activities; but increasing developments must thereafter attend every step. So far, young ladies, you have spent several years in diligent study, and zealous ministration to the sick, and maimed and afflicted; this day brings to you a diploma certifying to the completion of a formal curriculum, and clearly discloses a period commencing new obligations and requiring more extensive study.

THREE ESSENTIALS.

It occurs to me that the activities of a trained nurse have a threefold relationship:

1. To herself, to be true.
2. To be patient, to be faithful.
3. To her physician to be obedient.

Yours, indeed, is a noble calling, and only high-souled, courageous women could undertake it. I do not at all wonder that your sisters have been called "The white wings of the sick room." It is your exalted duty to "soothe when hope itself has fled, and cheer with angel's smile the sufferer's bed." Yours is the sweet privilege to pour the oil of gladness into mortal wounds, to ameliorate pain, to bring joy and happiness to broken spirits, and to win precious lives from death, and restore them to health and loved ones.

And you are so sorely needed in this great world of suffering and pain. The strongest need you. I have seen the eyes of the sufferers follow you as you go up and down the corridors. It must be an inspiration to you, when you hear the call of the great world of pain "Come over and help us," calling for the courage, and the hope and strength you can give them.

"I, who would be a temple's strength,
Lie by the roadside, rough, unspent;
I think but for the daisies sweet,
That come and nestle at my feet,
My heart of stone would break—would break."

So the Great Rock cried out, and so strong manhood cries in hours of pain.

TO BE TRUE TO THEIR CALLING.

To be true to your noble calling, you must be first true to yourselves. You must remain ever diligent students of books, of human nature, of disease. What a field is open before you! Of course, you may no longer recite lessons, nor listen to lectures; yet you must always be earnest students. To treat learning with disdain, believing that you have already exhausted her vast resources, will be to exhibit intolerable pride in your little possession of truth, or to be supremely indifferent to all the advancements in science as relates to your profession, is not to be true to yourselves. You must fit yourself to be as efficient as possible. You must determine to hold your own in the midst of a world of progress. The coming woman is fondly looked forward to—what shall she? Nothing grander can she be than a womanly woman. Appelles hunted over Greece for many years, studying the fairest points of beautiful women, getting here and eye, there a nose, here a grace, and there a turn of beauty, for his famous picture of a perfect woman, which enchanted the world. The coming woman must be more than beautiful; but beautiful in her piety, her wisom, and her helpfulness. Make the most of yourselves. Jean Paul Richter said, "I have made as much out of myself as could be made out of the stuff, and no man could require more."

You have a noble calling and you must seek to adorn it. You must be the most womanly woman of the age. It seems to me none can do this work so well.

QUALITIES CONTRASTED.

Physically woman may be inferior to men. He has a broader chest, a larger, firmer, muscular system. It is not mere fashion that gives the severer duty to the right arm—it is better supplied with blood than the left—it is no mere accident that, as a general rule, both in savage and civilized life, assigues the ruder and more labourious duties to man. It is an ordinance of nature that man and not woman should wield the axe, scale the heights, sail the seas and lay new foundations. Is woman intellectually equal to man? We hardly dare put the question. Woman has ranked side by side with men of proudest name—Sappho, "violet crowned, pure, sweetly smiling Sappho," for grace and elegance, for genius and culture, had no superior in her age. She was regarded by he countrymen as an imperial being, and dignified with the title of the "tenth muse." Corinna of Thebes in five successive contests bore off the palms from Pindar; but time would fail to tell of the Deborahs, Marys, Elizabeths, Victorias, Francis Willards, Clara Bartons, Countesses and Mesdames and Misses who have rivalled poets, excelled Statesmen, uttered oracles, mastered mathematics, subdued kingdoms, swayed sceptres, and routed armies. Such cases show woman man's peer, and what woman can be and do when true to herself. Her best productions, like Cleopatra's needle, are of fine material, graceful form, beautiful proportions and full of meaning. Man's noblest works are like the pyraminds of Egypt amazing by their strength and solidity.

WOMEN'S ESPECIAL ADAPTATION.

In this work you are eminently fitted to shine. Woman's moral sensibility, eviness, superior delicacy, her moral impulses more powerful Pity, gentleness and compassion are among her marked characteristics. It is fabled that among the heavenly hierarchy and Seraphim, angels of love, rank higher than the Cherubim—angels of light. You are in your proper place in this ministry. Be true to yourselves by making the most of yourselves.

You receive to-night your medals and diplomas and the right to wear the dress of a trained nurse of our hospitals, guard them as sacred things. Remember the noble women who have won the right to wear them before you. Never sully the chaste garb of a hospital nurse. Keep it holy. Be faithful to your patients, who place their lives in your hands. You seem to me not only aids to the physicians, but dispensatrices of those hygienic principles that are so important to the well being of the individual. Nursing in its general acceptance does not consist solely in the administration of medicines and food; but includes so many intricate problems that all the study and attention you can give to your profession will never be more than the duty you owe to those who have confided their lives to your care.

DUTIES TOWARDS PATIENTS.

The physician prescribes and gives his recommendations. The surgeon performs his operation successfully, and calls attention to all the material details that must be attended to, to secure the life of the patient. But what of all this if the trained nurse fails in her obligations to study and obey. You cannot accept the responsibility of priceless lives with indifference. You must be so faithful to your duty and to your patient that the name trained nurses have acquired for ability, integrity and *devotion to duty will never be ques*tioned. A friend of mine married a new wife, he had in his home a lad of six years. When his new mother was introduced he examined her critically for a few moments in silence, then he asked, "Are you a trained nurse?" She answered in negative,—he retorted, "I am sorry. I wish you were. You would come handy in this house."

It seems to me so much depends on the nurses' faithfulness to her patients, even unto death. Be gentle, sweet tempered and hopeful; be expert and active in combatting disease, knowing oterntimes human life depends on loving care as well as zeal and activity.

Then be obedient to the physician—of course (I remind myself that I am a layman, yet I have seen a good deal of hospital life. Next to a soldier "yours, not to reason why." One great essential is strict unquestioning obedience to the physician in attendance. It is only fair to him and to your patient and to yourself.

The temptation to criticize is very common, but not to you, nor to soldiers on the fire line. I remember from what I can draw from conversation with physicians that no one appreciates more than the physician the great tension of mind demanded of a trained nurse.

IN PRIVATE FAMILIES.

It seems that the task of nursing in a private house is one of the most difficult, when doctors are not always near. In the hospital you follow the plan of sharply defined rules—you live in subjection to authorities who oversee every line of work, and your moral obligations are lighter because of the participation of others. But, plying your avocation in a private family, though under the direction of a doctor, you are thrown more upon your own resources, and your responsibility increases. What prudence and self control are required! The secrets of a life time may be discovered, while you live and labour with the distressed family. These you must guard even to your death. The nurse may have eyes to see, but she should not see; she may have ears to hear, but they should not hear. Curiosity she must banish, as unworthy and demeaning. She will meet the condemnation of her own consolence, and the distrust of the world, if she pries into the moral defects of her patient or his his family, and repeats these inconsistencies, or the frivolities of a private nature, which her intercourse may unwillingly discover. Do not frighten the family by the story of microbes, remembering that some of them, despite their name, are necessary agents of our economy.

So you must do your duty bravely; guard your integrity earnestly; so that the world will be richer for your presence in it. If such be your life, age will increase your worth and sweeten your tone like a Cremona violin. Mankind will bless you for your noble deeds and unselfish service.

GOD AND HUMANITY.

But it will not always be an easy thing to live up to a high standard of what we deem an ideal trained nurse. How difficult it will be in some instances to accept bravely the situation placed before you. to be humble, when every fibre of your being is ready to revolt, to be watchful and alert, when eyes are heavy with sleep. How onerous to be prodigal with hope, when despair is in the heart—when people for whom you are laying down the best of your life are indifferent, and cold and unappreciative. It needs heroism, and you will ever be heroic if you keep in mind you have a calling, and that its great principle of action is charity, and devotion to God and humanity. You may have noticed that I have used the word "calling" frequently in this paper. A calling implies a careful consideration of our gifts and limitations, a calling is therefore a looking within. It implies a careful consideration of the needs about us; it is therefore a looking without. It is a careful consideration of our relation to God; it is therefore a looking above. Let us look at these for a few moments, in order that you may be encouraged and strengthened. It has been said "an astronomer who is an athiest is an astronomer gone mad," a nurse who is an athiest, is no nurse at all—only a hollow mockery of one. I shall take it for granted that you are all Christian women. Carlyle said in substance, that he who touched a human body, touched God. I have no doubt it has often been in your mind that your field of labour had something in it hardly to be found elsewhere in the world; that you are not merely to attend the ordinary rounds of the sick room, and ordinary routine duties, keep records, give medicines and bring an ailing body back to health, but your work having the peculiar nature of a calling holds in it the possibilities of a far higher nature of your primary responsibility to God. For His sake you are working, remembering that "inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren ye ye have done it unto Me."

A gentleman met a nurse on his way to a patient at early dawn and inquired whither she was bound. "To the small-pox Hospital," was her answer. The gentleman said, "I would not go there for $1,000." "Nor would I go there for $1,000," she replied. She had an idea of a higher service To this work you are called. You may not heal, but you may comfort and bless all, and I believe young ladies, that only this motive can sustain you in all the trials and difficulties which lie before you; only this can glorify the common, and oftentimes distasteful services you will be called upon to perform; for in this service there are no little acts, for everything done for the King is great and noble and dignified. It is sweet to remember, that even a cup of cold water given in the name of a disciple shall be rewarded—"but whatsoever good thing any man doeth, the same shall he receive of the Lord, whether he be bond or free." I could wish, as the nurses go their rounds, they could look upon their services more as a ministry. If they could always bear in mind, "It's for the King."

FINAL WORDS.

I have been speaking of the ethical side of your work. It includes its relationship to God as a service and not to man. You will find the true measure of your lives and your service in the life of Him, who, though He was God, yet thought it not unworthy of Him to become man—God incarnate, the giver of a new life to those who believe in Him. A life, which under the nurture of heaven, springs up into a glad service spontaneously and bears those fruits which are pleasing to God. It is He, who in infinite love, bore our infirmities and took our sicknesses upon Him, who is the true inspiration of a great life, and I cannot conceive of a nurse doing her duties aright who has not recourse every day to the inspired record of this life, and who does not constantly lean upon this as her one source of strength and support. "As the Father hath sent me, so send I you."

Young women go on your God given mission of mercy—bind up the broken hearted, heal the sick, and remember that your opportunity is not to the suffering body alone but to the spirit as well.

His Last Hope Realized.

(From the Sentinel, Gebo, Mont.)

In the first opening of Oklahoma to settlers in 1889, the editor of this paper was among the many seekers after fortune who made the big race one fine day in April. During his travelling about and afterwards his camping upon his claim, he encountered much bad water, which, together with the severe heat, gave him a very severe diarrhoea which it seemed almost impossible to check, and along in June the case became so bad he expected to die. One day one of his neighbours brought him one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as a last hope. A big dose was given him while he was rolling about on the ground in great agony, and in a few minutes the dose was repeated. The good effect of the medicine was soon noticed and within an hour the patient was taking his first sound sleep for a fortnight. That one little bottle worked a complete cure and he cannot help but feel grateful. The season for bowel disorders being at hand suggests this item. For sale by all druggists.

No man will hesitate to speak well of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets after once trying them. They always produce a pleasant movement of the bowels, improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion. For sale by all druggists.

DR. DEWART'S SUCCESSOR

In Honourary Presidency of Peterborough Old Boys' Association.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the association on June 24, it was unanimously agreed to elect Rev. J. C. Speer, D. D., to the vacancy in the list of the Hon. Presidents by the death of Rev. Dr. Dewart. Dr. Speer will be duly elected by the Association at the regular meeting on July 6th. He was born and brought up at South Dummer, is a graduate of McGill, Montreal, and considered one of the most gifted, energetic and eloquent preachers of the Toronto Methodist Conference. He is a great favourite among Peterborough Old Boys who know him, and as he is likely to be given a prominent place in the platform work of the Home-Coming, we shall all hope to have the pleasure of hearing one whom our "Boys" delight to honour.

'TWAS A PICNIC CAKE.

Mr. B. J. Gough, the Lindsay Clothier, Won it at Downeyville.

Mr. B. J. Gough, the clothier, was the winner of a five storey cake at the recent Downeyville picnic, and he very generously donated a large portion of his prize to his staff. The boys voted to keep it on the premises and since then in their spare moments they have been living high in more respects than one, the dainty being secreted in the upper flat of the building. It is there no longer. Yesterday it was discovered that a youthful member of the staff, whose plump appearance of late had aroused suspicion—had been in the habit of secreting himself at the noon hour, and when the others had gone he would slip upstairs and gorge himself with the delicious cake, which was fast disappearing under his onslaughts. A court martial was held but as the bereaved ones could not agree upon an adequate punishment, and Mr. Gough, who had sampled the cake repeatedly, set up the plea of extenuating circumstances in favour of the culprit, and he was dismissed with a severe reprimand. The staff thereupon finished the cake on the spot and wound up by passing a resolution declaring that the Emily young lady who made the delicious creation is a peerless housekeeper, and a prize any man might be proud to win.—Lindsay Post.

FEROCIOUS TRAMPS.

Beat and Mutilated a Deaf Mute Near Fern Glen.

Parry Sound, July 2.—A letter received from George Copeland, J.P., of Sprucedale, addressed to Crown Attorney Haight, tells of a fiendish and horrible assault made upon a deaf and dumb mute, and which, it is feared, will result fatally.

The outrage occurred near Fern Glen, a few miles south of Sprucedale, and not far from the Canada Atlantic Railway, in this district. The victim, named Nolan, 20 years of age, was out bringing in the cows, and was set upon by two tramps, who were occupying a vacant house in the vicinity. After beating him severely, they mutilated him with a knife in such a manner that the doctors entertain no hope of his recovery. No arrests as yet have been made, the men having made off supposedly in the direction of Parry Sound.

The following description of the men is furnished: One a tall, thin man, with short beard and heavy black moustache, the other a short, stout-built man, with a black hat, brown guernsey and plaid trousers of large pattern.

Must Categorically Refuse Interference by Any Outside Powers.

Washington, July 2.—The Russian Government most positively and absolutely denies the report that it has offered any official explanation to the American Government regarding the Kisheneff incident, and declares that it has never been addressed by the American Government upon the subject. The Russian Government must categorically refuse to receive from any power any petitions, representations or communications relative to its internal affairs.

St. Petersburg, July 2.—The Czar has sanctioned the formation of a new police force to maintain order and assure security in the rural districts of forty-six provinces of European Russia. The sum of $5,250,000 has been appropriated to cover the cost.

LORD STRATHCONA.

Tells Britain That Canada Will Soon Provide All Its Breadstuffs.

London, July 2.—A banquet in honor of Dominion Day was given at the Hotel Cecil last night, Lord Strathcona, High Commissioner for Canada, presiding.

The Earl of Jersey proposed the toast of the "Dominion."

Lord Strathcona, in responding, said, in a short time Canada alone would provide every pound of breadstuffs required at home.

Canada was glad to give unsolicited preference to the Mother Country, and did not fear an inquiry into fiscal conditions.

Crazy on Religion.

Napanee, July 2.—There is no change in the condition of the murderer Butts. He talks on religion all the time, and when alone prays incessantly. Parties who know Butts say he was never very bright, but showed no signs of insanity until recently. Religious meetings were held in the neighborhood recently, and he attended these, and immediately after he started out into the fields praying and preaching. Butts has been quiet since his incarceration, but the sheriff deemed it advisable to put on a night watch to prevent any unforeseen act He eats and sleeps about as in his usual state.

A GOVERNMENT ROAD

That Has Been Decided Upon by the Cabinet at Ottawa.

GRAND TRUNK CO. CONCURS.

Provided They Get a Lease for a Number of Years and Financial Assistance for Western Portion of the Line—Question of Running Rights Not Yet Determined—A Guarantee of Bonds.

Ottawa, July 2.—The Cabinet were in session all day yesterday considering the form of aid to be granted to the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, but adjourned without reaching a decision. The anticipated announcement will, therefore, not be made to-day. It will not, however, be much longer deferred. Members of Parliament who enjoy the confidence of the Government say that the building of a Government line to Winnipeg has been determined upon, and that the Grand Trunk Company have concurred in the proposition, provided they get a lease for a number of years, and financial assistance for the western portion of the line. The aid spoken of is a guarantee of bonds from Edmonton to the coast, varying in amount according to the difficulties of construction, but averaging about $30,000 a mile. This, it is stated, is the proposition which was discussed in Council yesterday. The report is, however, that a snag was struck when it came to fixing the conditions upon which running rights should be granted to other companies. This, it is said, prevented the settlement of the matter as anticipated, and the expectation is that Mr. Hays will be in Ottawa again to-day to discuss the latest turn which affairs have taken.

The Governor-General has signed the order in Council appointing Mr. H. J. Cloran to the Senate, vice the late Senator O'Brien. He will be sworn in when the upper House re-assembles.

Last night's storm put the electrical apparatus of the House of Commons out of business. All the lights of the House of Commons were suddenly extinguished, and caused some awkward predicaments. Members of the House of Commons who were around had to find their way about by the aid of candles, and the press representatives had to write their despatches by the same antiquated method. It seems a pity that in such an institution gas should not be available as a substitute in case of emergency.

DISCUSSIONS IN PARLIAMENT.

No Information as to Grand Trunk Pacific, says Mr. Fielding—Mr. Blair's Railway Commission Bill Discussed.

Ottawa, July 2.—In the House of Commons on Tuesday, Mr. Kemp asked what foundation there was for the report that the Government had decided to guarantee the bonds of the Grand Trunk Pacific with a clause in the agreement giving the Government power to purchase the road at the end of 30 years.

Mr Fielding, who was leading the House, replied, "I am afraid I shall have to ask my hon. friend to be content with the assurance that when any such arrangements are made they will be communicated to Parliament in a proper manner and at the earliest possible moment."

The Senate bill incorporating the Citizens' Bank of Canada was read a first time.

On clause 275 of Mr. Blair's railway Commission bill, the Minister of Railways said that he would draft an amendment to meet the wishes of the commercial travelers.

During discussion on the tariff clauses, Mr. Blair said that there was, first, a general tariff which the railway company submitted to the Board of Railway Commissioners, and if sanctioned by the board it became effective and was published. There was the maximum tariff. Then there was a special tariff which a company might make as regards any special class of goods, which had to be submitted to the board and published when it became effective. There was a third class, to be called a competitive tariff, designed to encourage competition in rates, and with this object the company were allowed to make the rates as low as they liked without publishing them; only a copy had to be sent to the board in order that it might take care that there was no discrimination involved.

The Marine estimates were then taken up, and Col. Thompson suggested, in a long speech, that the pay of militiamen should be increased to $1 per day. The camps were, he said, woefully small this year, and good Canadians could not be got for 50 cents a day. Others followed in the debate, and complaint was made that the Minister of Militia was not present.

Mr. Fielding said the absence of the Minister of Militia was unavoidable. He said if the facts were as stated it was necessary that Parliament should be acquainted with them.

In the supplementary estimates the Minister of Militia and the Minister of Finance promised that provision would be made to improve the Canadian militia.

Belanger Trial Put Off.

Montreal, July 1.—The trial of Theophile Belanger, charged with the murder of ex-Mayor Seguin of St. Eustache will not take place in September as anticipated, but will occur at the regular term in February. Meantime the prisoner is enjoying good health. The prisoner, Belanger, is gaining weight daily, altho he chafts somewhat at the confinement. He has been kept in solitary confinement at the request of his own counsel ever since the preliminary inquiry in the case.

Cling to Free Trade.

London, July 2.—At a meeting of 50 free trade Unionist members of Parliament in the committee room of the House of Commons yesterday afternoon a resolution favoring an inquiry into Colonial Secretary Chamberlain's preferential tariff proposals was adopted, but it was also declared that if they resulted in any departure from free trade it would be disastrous to the country.

Hamilton in Darkness.

Hamilton, July 2. — Lightning struck the sub-station of the Hamilton Electric Light and Cataract Power Company last evening about 9 o'clock, and burned out a switchboard. The whole city was left in darkness for about twenty minutes, and the street cars were stalled. The streets were swept by a perfect hurricane.

Manitoba Elections July 20.

Winnipeg, July 2.—Premier Roblin, speaking at Lamolta, announced that the provincial elections would come off on July 20, nominations one week earlier. He contradicted the report that Lieutenant-Governor McMillan had refused to grant a dissolution and that the elections would be held over till August.

The Evidence You Value.

By word of mouth from friend to friend Dr. Chase's Ointment has received more unsolicited recommendation than probably any medicine you can mention. The fact that it is an absolute cure for piles has put it in a class all by itself as a preparation of inestimable value and people recommend it knowing that it is a certain cure.

CLIFFORD'S INN SOLD.

The Oldest London Court of Chancery—An Interesting History.

The London Express says: Clifford's Inn, the oldest Inn of Chancery, which lies between Chancery lane and Fetter lane, was sold by auction at the Mart, Tokenhouse yard, on the afternoon of May 15. A place so rich in historical and other associations, and occupying a position so near the Strand, was expected to excite some competition among buyers, the value of the site having been estimated at from £3 to £4 a foot. As a matter of fact, there was only one bid made—by Mr. William Willett, builder, of Sloane street. The auctioneer suggested £150,000 as a start, but Mr. Willett offered £100,000, and after a long pause the property was knocked down to him. The price paid works out at £2 10s. a foot, and it is understood that the old buildings will be replaced by modern structures. Some fine oak carving and panelling in one of the suites was reserved from the sale, which was made on behalf of the fourteen surviving members of the Society of Clifford's Inn. Clifford's Inn was originally a town-house of the Lords Clifford, to whom it was given by Edward II. in 1310. It only remained in the family until 1344, when a daughter-in-law of Lord Robert de Clifford bequeathed it to "students of law" for a rent of £10 a year. It was noted at one time as the residence of all the six attorneys of the Marshalsea Court, where debtors and defaulters were tried and imprisoned. Of literary men who have made the inn their home, George Dyer, Lamb's friend, whom he so charmingly depicted in the "Essays of Elia," and Coke, the great jurist, are probably the most famous. In the hall of Clifford's Inn Sir Matthew Hale and seventeen other Judges sat after the great fire of 1666 to adjudicate upon the claims of landlords and tenants of burned houses.

The Second in Command.

Rear-Admiral Edmund S. Poe, M. V.O., has been appointed second in command of the home fleet, in succession to Rear-Admiral Atkinson Willes. According to a London newspaper he is best remembered in connection with the death of Prince Henry of Battenberg, when it fell to this officer to bring home His Royal Highness' body from the west coast of Africa. He was appointed a member of the fourth class of the Royal Victorian Order by Queen Victoria as a mark of Her Majesty's appreciation of the special service he rendered in this connection. Admiral Poe afterwards served as A.D.C. to Queen Victoria, and was in attendance on the occasion of Her Majesty's funeral, and lately he was in command of the cruiser squadron. He is not only a most experienced and capable officer in command of a squadron, but has had a brilliant career as a naval student. He was born in 1849, entered the navy in 1862, and was serving in H. M. S. Bombay when she was destroyed by fire off Montevideo in 1864. He received the Royal Humane Society's medal for saving life in 1875, and the clasp in the following year.

Mr. Cutcliffe Hyne.

As the creator of Kettle, McTodd, Thompson, and the rest of his gallery of clear-cut figures in fiction, says M.A.P., Mr. Cutcliffe Hyne is well known to readers all over the world. But it may be news to many of them that he is also an ardent naturalist, and a successful big game shot. On the walls of his house near Bradford I saw the other day (writes my "Librarian") trophies of Norwegian elk and reindeer, moufflon and wild boar, porcupine and red deer, roebuck, walrus, alligator and polar bear. He has shot widely in the States, and has killed buffalo and other game in the Congo Free State—a tolerable record for a busy literary man. One of the chapters of Kettle, K. C. B., was written one night in the parts of Morocco it deals with; it was so written because Mr. Hyne found that his men were up to mischief. All the Kettle tales are founded on actual experience, either of the writer or from first-hand report.

A Dearth of Poets at Oxford.

This year the Newdigate prize for English verse was not awarded, an event which has not happened for fifty-four years. In 1849 the subject was 'Caesar's Invasion of Britain," a theme which beggared the poetic talent of an entire university, though many copies of verses were sent in. This year the subject was "Charles I. at Oxford," a subject which, one would think, was well adapted to poetical treatment and, moreover, especially suited to the genius of the spot. The English verse prizes at the universities have been awarded to an extraordinary number of men who afterward attained distinction. The Newdigate prize, which was founded in 1806, has been won by John Ruskin, Matthew Arnold, Bishop Heber, Sir Edwin Arnold, Dean Milman, R. S. Hawker, John Addington Symonds, Mr. W. H. Mallock and a number of other distinguished men.—Westminster Gazette.

A Benevolent Hen.

In The Illustrated Sportings News a writer says: A naturalist friend of mine tells this story: "I recently saw a curious thing in my poultry yard. The cat was playing with a live mouse which she had caught, when a broody hen, taken off her nest, was put into the yard. She stretched herself and had a good shake, then she caught sight of the cat. With outspread wings the hen dashed at poor puss, knocked her over, tweaked the mouse from her mouth, and then attacked her with the utmost fury. The cat was so frightened and demoralized by this sudden and unexpected attack that she bolted, and meanwhile the mouse had made its escape. Whether it was maternal instinct which prompted the hen to rescue Brer Mouse or whether it was antipathy to the cat is doubtful, but I favor the first suggestion."

Equine Hysteria.

"So glad you've come, doctor! This is my husband."

"Suffering from hysteria, eh? That's a curious noise he makes. Sounds like neighing."

"It is neighing, doctor. You see, he insists upon mixing his breakfast foods and this morning he got in too much oats."—Houston Post.

Peterborough Singer's Success.

Miss Helen Davies has returned home from Toronto, having graduated with honours as Associate of the Toronto Conservatory of Music. The following extracts are from Tuesday's papers:—

Globe—"The commencement exercises of the Toronto Conservatory of Music which took place last evening in the splendid concert hall of the Conservatory were in many respects the most successful in the history of that prosperous institution. The programme was rendered entirely by 'highest honour' graduates of the year. * * * * Miss Helen Davies sang in excellent taste, 'Hear Ye, Israel,' (Elijah) which showed her rich, dramatic voice to advantage."

Mail and Empire — "Of the vocal pupils Miss Helen Davies showed remarkable talent in her singing of 'Hear Ye Israel' from Mendelshon's Elijah. Her upper notes especially were sweet and pure, and her enunciation perfect."

LOYAL CANADIANS HONOUR NATAL DAY

Dominion Day Celebration was Highly Successful.

QUEEN'S OWN BAND WAS HERE

Afternoon Programme in the Driving Park of a High Order—Evening Concert in Hockey Rink.

Once again the anniversary of our natal day has been celebrated, and no one can say that the citizens of Peterborough are unpatriotic who saw the thousands that thronged the streets morning, afternoon and night, participating in the celebration which the public spirited citizens went to so much trouble to provide. Not only were the townspeople out in force, but from the surrounding country and villages the inhabitants came to enjoy the day's programme, and honour the country's birthday. The weather, which during the preceding evening, had been anything but promising, was perfect, the weather man evidently repenting his actions on former celebration occasions.

The event of the morning was the great parade, and, true to its promise, the committee presented to the admiring public a spectacle the like of which has never been witnessed in Peterborough. Shortly after ten o'clock the parade, as announced, left the new hockey rink on Brock street, and, headed by the magnificent band of the Queen's Own of Toronto, proceeded along the route as announced in the Examiner. The zoological features of the parade were much enjoyed by the thousands of spectators who lined the streets, and made a decided hit. Wild prancing horses, ferocious bears and lions, giraffes, with abnormally long necks, elephants, camels and, most wonderful of all, an immense sea serpent. The tall fair young lady and the fat man were also in evidence. Just at the time when the festivities were at their height, an improvised patrol wagon, manned by burlesque policemen, dashed up and arrested the bear and attendant on a charge of obstructing the main throughfare.

A particularly amusing feature was the Kriss Kringe Circus Band. It is true they created noise, but no one has been found yet who will venture to make the assertion that the noise produced was music. A large dromendary which had just been captured in the Sahara wilds (?) with an Arab driver was a conspicuous feature. The fire team hitched tandem to a gaily decorated dump cart occupied a prominent place in the parade.

AT THE DRIVING PARK.

In the afternoon at the Driving Park a splendid programme of sporting events was given. The afternoon programme was under the auspices of the Peterborough Turf Club, and the attendance speaks well for the reputation which the Club has for providing entertainments that are popular. The grand stand was completely filled and many hundreds were unable to gain admission to it, and enjoyed the events from other vantage points. The rain of the previous night had made the track heavy, and as a consequence the races that were pulled off, were not characterized by the fact that any records were lowered, although considering the condition of the track a most satisfactory speed was attained.

The first event was a one mile bicycle race, the starters being H. Young, S. Mitchell and E. Langille, they finished in the order named, the time being 3,05. Mr. Langille broke his wheel early in the race and had to finish on a borrowed one, so that the result of the race may or may not be a correct indication of the riding ability of the men. Added to the heavy track condition a strong wind was blowing, making it extremely hard riding.

The second event, and the one which undoubtedly was the cause of the most amusement, was that of "catching the greasy pig." An energetic little porker was liberated from a box, liberally greased and a hot chase immediately ensued, joined in by forty or fifty contestants. After a hot race in the course of which the pursued attempted some hitherto unknown dodging in his efforts to evade his pursuers, he was at last captured by Mr. John Murphy.

There were four starters in the 2.50 class trot or pace race, viz.—"Fred K." owned by Mr. Geo. Powell, Peterborough, "Keep-a-bell," the property of Dr. Johnson, Peterborough, "Wilfrid G." from the stable of Mr. Calder, Lakefield, and Mr. Elmhurst's "Little Diamond." This race was run in three half-mile heats, resulting as follows:—

Fred K	1	1	1
Keep-a-bell	2	2	2
Wilfrid G	3	4	3
Little Diamond	4	3	4

Time,—1.17, 1.15, and 1.18 respectively.

The next racing event was the Gentlemen's Road Race, this also being held in three half-mile heats, the entries being Brooks and Munro, of Peterborough, and Fitzgerald, of Lakefield. The first heat was very close, Munro winning by but half a length. In the second Munro broke, the heat going to Brooks. The result and time follows:—

Munro	1	2	1
Brooks	2	1	3
Fitzgerald	3	3	2

Time 1.24 1-2, 1.23 1-2, and 1.26.

The prize for this race won by Munro was valued at $25.00.

The next was one not originally on the programme, but it was a most interesting one and the winner was heartily applauded. It was a 50 yards fat man's race, the only entries being John Murphy and M. Tooley. As they stepped up to the starting line, bets were freely offered on Mr. Murphy, with no takers, but the result made Mr. Tooley the winner by a head. Time, 5.75.

Another one mile bicycle race was held, with Hugh Macdonald, of Toronto, and Arthur Wood, of Peterborough, starting, Macdonald winning in 2.56.

The last event on the programme, and one in which great interest was displayed was a tug-of-war for a handsome silver cup, the value of which is $25.00. Two teams of eight men each, entered, viz.— "Quakers" and "Cordage," those on the "Quaker" team being John Murphy, Jas. Murphy, D. McGrath, T. Grant, J. McCauley, J. Kearns, S. Newall, J. Newall, with George Prentice captain, while the "Cordage" men were, R. Borrow, George Powell, R. Jules, G. Herchabie, W. Gilbo, W. Bryan, W. Jackson, M. Wilson and J. Irwin, captain. The "Quakers" had a trifle the heavier team, and their additional weight told, as they were successful, a tribute to the muscle-making merit of Quaker Oats. The Cordage team showed, however, great grit and after the first slight advantage was gained held their opponents steadily and showed good staying powers. The decision was hardly satisfactory to the Cordage team, and the Quakers agreed to repeat the trial at the concert in the evening at the Hockey Rink.

Interspersing the racing and other events on the afternoon programme, the band of the Queen's Own Rifles of Toronto, rendered a choice programme, which was thoroughly enjoyed.

The afternoon's programme for which the Turf Club was responsible, was a thoroughly enjoyable one, and any future racing meets held under the same auspices will, no doubt, receive generous support, as the fact of their being under Turf Club management will be a guarantee of their excellence.

EVENING CONCERT WAS MUCH ENJOYED.

The concert in the evening held in the Hockey Rink was a fitting climax to a most successful day's entertainment. It was under the management of the General Programme Committee, and that the audience, which almost filled the galleries of that structure appreciated the efforts of the Committee to provide a pleasing programme, was attested to by the fact that the rendition of every number provoked the warmest of applause.

After two splendid selections by the Queen's Own Band, Little Alice Ramsay and Mr. Jimmie Gardiner, of Toronto, gave an exhibition of Scotch national dancing, each being dressed becomingly in Highland costume. The dancing of these young artists was a most enjoyable feature of the evening's entertainment, and brought back fond memories to those who once trod the "Tanks and Braes" o' Scotland. After two additional selections by the band the disputed tug-of-war was held again, the personnel of the two teams being the same as in the afternoon, with Mr. Layfield as judge. It was a great exhibition of strength. The Quakers, however, were again winners and are now the proud possessers of the silver cup. After a Sailor's Hornpipe by Jimmie Gardiner, in which, as before he received a most enthusiastic reception, the presentation of prizes to the winners of the bicycle races was made by Mr. F. R. J. MacPherson. They were as follows:—

H. Young—Elgin watch, value $12.00.

S. Mitchell—Silver lamp, value $4.00.

G. Langille—Box cigars.

S. H. MacDonald—silver cup, value $10.00.

Arthur Wood—Lamp.

A trombone quartette by Bandsmen Radcliffe, Menlish, Plant and Duncan followed. This was a number which was highly appreciated.

An interesting feature was a wrestling bout between Mr. Gauthier, and E. Hurtubise both of Peterborough, in three rounds of 5 minutes each. The wrestlers were very evenly matched and during the first round neither was credited with a fall. In the second round Hurtubise secured a fall and in the third just before time was called one was credited to Gauthier.

Following this came the re-appearance of the popular little dancers, this time in Irish costumes and Irish dances, and their exhibition of steps characteristic of the Emerald Isle, made the hit of the evening. Their pleasing manner added to the cleverness of their dancing places them in immediate favour with an audience.

After another band selection, the evening's programme was brought to a close, and another anniversary of our Dominion's birth had gone into history. The members of the different committees are to be congratulated on the success which has attended their efforts. Mr. Robert Fair and Mr. Robt. Layfield have been in and Mr. Robert Fair have been indefatigable workers in arranging the details, and they deserve the thanks of all citizens for their patriotic and unselfish labours.

Mr. R. E. Wood ex-chairman of the General Committee, has also worked industriously for the success of the day.

The attention which a number of public spirited citizens have given to the celebration is deserving of the highest commendation. Some of the busiest merchants gave their time and money cheerfully to the project, and only by their untiring efforts was the day a success. In addition to those whose names are mentioned above, Messrs, Kenner, Lount, McPherson, Campbell, Brooks, Rountree, Archie Moore, R Munro, D. Hughes-Charles, A. Elliott, J. O'Shea, J. Clancy, Stephen Hill, and M. Tooley industriously and contributed in no small degree to the success of the day. The Examiner desires to give credit to all who contributed to the success of the celebration and should there be others in addition to those mentioned, it cheerfully accords them honour, as no discrimination is intended. Thanks are also due to the Mayor for calling a special citizen's meeting and presiding at it, and also for the interest which he has manifested in the celebration. Although many of the business men were in hearty sympathy with the demonstration and supported it, a more general co-operation would have been desirable, and it is hoped that next year the matter will be taken in hand earlier and the entire business element will combine to make the celebration an even greater success. When the short time which has been spent in arranging this demonstration is considered, it is a remarkable success, a tribute to the energy displayed by the promoters.

NOTES.

Yesterday was the second time this season that a circus paraded on Peterborough streets.

Mr. D. Hughes-Charles judged the sporting events in the afternoon and his decisions were unquestioned.

The Queen's Own Band in the parade wore the Canadian karkie uniform.

The intervals between the different events in the afternoon was rather long, but "every lassie had a laddie," so the waiting was good.

A number of boys during the evening concert evidently forgot that the audience came to hear the programme. Their conduct was at times such as to make it impossible to hear the selections being given.

Mr. H MacDonald rode under the Brittania Club colours.

DOMINION DAY IN DOURO.

Rev. Father Keilty's Successful King Edward Picnic

Appropriate Addresses by Hon. John Costigan, Hon. J R. Stratton and Others.

Rev. Father Keilty's annual picnic in connection with St. Joseph's church Douro, proved a very fitting celebration of Dominion Day. It was royal in character, as His Majesty King Edward's friendly attitude to Ireland was very loyally and appreciatively recognized during the day.

The attendance at the picnic was not as large as usual, owing to the threatening weather and strong counter attractions in town, but a feature of it was the large number from Ennismore, Hastings, Keene and other districts in the vicinity.

Rev. Father Keilty was, of course, present, and the other clergy present were V. Rev. Father Brown, V. G., Douro; Rev. Father McColl, rector of St. Peter's Cathedral; Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, Ennismore; Rev. Father McGuire, Hastings; Rev. Father D. O'Connell, St. Joseph's hospital, Peterborough. Hon. John Costigan, M. P., Victoria, New Brunswick, formerly Minister of Inland Revenue; Hon. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., Provincial Secretary, and other prominent Peterborough citizens were present.

The usual picnic features were in evidence, including a well-patronized dancing pavilion, with music supplied by the Ennismore orchestra. The weather was beautiful and the people present seemed to enjoy themselves greatly. The good ladies of Douro spread bountiful tables under the whispering umbrage of lordly beech and maple, and the abundance and good quality of the viands testified not only to the liberality of the good wives of the people, but to the good quality of the soil of Douro, and the excellent culinary abilities of the wives and daughters of the township.

THE SPEAKING.

Pro tempore the diligent dancers reluctantly resigned their amusement, and the music stand was turned over to the orators of the day. Rev. Father Keilty presided in the capacity of chairman, and in opening the proceedings paid a grateful and warm tribute to King Edward, whose friendship for Ireland had been so practically demonstrated that the dawning of the day of Home Rule for Ireland was auspiciously breaking. In this connection very warm tributes were also paid to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. John Costigan and Hon. J. R. Stratton.

The first speaker was Hon. Mr. Costigan, who, in opening, referred to the remarks of the chairman. He congratulated the Irish people of Canada upon the bright prospects of Home Rule. The results of recent days had brought vindication to the Home Rule party. The coercion policy of successive British governments had created a new Ireland out of Ireland itself — peopled by expatriated Irishmen, which had been a great factor in bringing about the results that had been achieved. Mr. Costigan said he was not an advocate of separation, but of a contented and happy Ireland within the Empire. The great difficulty of the past had not been so much a failure to recognize the wrongs of Ireland, as a practicable solution. But thanks to king Edward, a solution had been found. (Applause.) The first step had been the settlement of the land question—the Land Bill, which the speaker considered an accomplished fact, paved the way for Home Rule. The Orange element of the north of Ireland was in favour of the Land Bill and many of them were in favour of Home Rule, and it was asserted that the success of Home Rule was assured without the firing of a gun, (applause,) and assured in such a way as to consolidate the British Empire. The speaker closed in a very pleasant address with a kindly reference to Rev. Father Keilty, amidst hearty applause.

Hon. Mr. Stratton was most cordially received. After a few pleasant references to his cordial relations with the people of Douro, Mr. Stratton said that he had always been an advocate of Home Rule for Ireland and, he jocularly added, that he had very good reason to uphold the principle of home rule, for he had been under home rule for nearly a quarter of a century—he had been married for that length of time, (daughter and applause,) and if Ireland should have the same pleasant experience from Home Rule as he had had, it was amply justified. (applause.) After paying a hearty tribute to Hon. Mr. Costigan, Mr. Stratton went on to point out how Canada had prospered under the practical form of Home Rule it enjoyed — to indicate the advances made during the 36 years of Confederation. A few scattered provinces in 1867 had grown into a consolidated empire, embracing all the British possessions on this continent, and stretching from sea to sea. He quoted figures to show the great material progress of Canada, the growth of population, the increase in trade, and in so convincing a way as to evoke hearty applause, and to show that Canadians had reason to be proud of their great country. In closing Mr. Stratton referred to his relations to the exciting events of the past few months. While he had at no time any fear that the results that had come would not come, he was naturally pleased with so complete a vindication and exoneration, and he was best pleased with the confidence his friends had shown in him.

Further congratulatory addresses were made by Rev. Father McColl, Rev. Father McGuire, Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, Mr. J. J. Crowe, license inspector, Dummer, and Mr. John Campbell, Douro.

At the conclusion of the speaking very hearty cheers were given for the King, Hon. Mr. Costigan, Hon. Mr. Stratton and Rev. Father Keilty, the latter of whom has great reason to be pleased with both the moral and material outcome of the King Edward picnic.

Mr. and Mrs. Fitzgerald left on the 5.10 C.P.R. express to spend a short time in Toronto, Niagara and other western cities. On their return they will reside in town. Mr. Fitzgerald is employed in the Canadian General Electric Co.'s works, and is a young man very highly respected in town. AUBURN AT THE LAKES.

Enjoyable Excursion on Dominion Day

One of the happiest outings of the holiday was the Auburn Excursion to Stony Lake by the steamer Majestic, about 200 participating in it. The excursionists left in the morning by G.T.R. for the landing, accompanied by a portion of the Salvation Army Band, which was engaged to provide music for the day. A stop was made at McCracken's Landing for dinner, after which an impromptu programme of races was held, in which many took part, and all enjoyed. Continuing up the lakes, Burleigh, Julian Landing and Juniper Island were touched in turn, the beauties of each being absorbed by the excursionists. The return sail was one of special enjoyment, as the beautiful scenery could be better appreciated in the approaching evening shades. The party arrived home in excellent spirits and in good time, the event having proved successful from every standpoint.

EXPLANATORY.

Mr. Fred McGrath Received no Challenge to Run for Schneider Cup.

In a letter appearing in the Examiner's sporting columns on Monday, June 29th, signed by D. Belland, the statement appears that Mr. Fred McGrath had invited the writer to challenge the latter to run for the Schneider Challenge Cup. The Examiner has Mr. McGrath's authority for stating that such a challenge was, as stated, never issued by Belland for one reason—the latter was not eligible to run for the sup, not having been long enough in town. The discreditable insinuation that McGrath suggested Belland "throwing the race" falls to the ground. All who know Fred McGrath know he is incapable of thinking of such a thing, let alone doing it. In the interests of fair play and clean sport this statement is made.

Do not fail to visit the Turnbull Company stock adjusting sale, commencing on Saturday, July 4th, when prices in many lines will be cut in two. 2d

JOHN WESLEY'S RELATIONS TO THE CHURCH

A Methodist Layman Discusses the Subject.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Sir,—It is very satisfactory to Methodist people to hear men of the Anglican church claiming John Wesley, as did the Rev. J. C. Davidson last Sunday, saying that "John Wesley lived and died a loyal member and clergyman of the Church of England, and that he was one of the most devout inspired men of his day."

Tardy justice is better than none—but is it not a pity that the Church of England in Wesley's day had not grace enough to recognize the merits of this man. When the Wesleys in their young manhood were the centre of a club of young men who sought to save their souls by much prayer, study of the word, fasting and benevolent works, they were sneered at, and dubbed Methodists. Their then religious life was of the high Church order of the present day. Afterwards when the Wesleys in their intense searching after God got a fuller revelation of him, and had their sonship acknowledged and received the witness of the spirit, in their burning love and zeal they went out, like Paul, to tell the story of Salvation through faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. Then they were buffeted, stoned, pelted with filth and anathematized, the Parsons frequently led the bull-baiting, and the Bishops approved. The Anglican pulpits were denied to the teacher of Paul's doctrine, the converts were refused the privilege of the communion table; they were driven out of the fold into which the good Shepherd (Wesley) would have led them.

The Church of the land closed its doors to them, what else was there for them than to develop into an independent worshipping body—a church

The leader went out of the army and denied the orders and authority of Bishops, and acted directly contrary to them, he took his people with him, and they made an independent army—an army of the living God—but not acknowledging the authority of the Bishops of the old army—how can it be said that John Wesley lived and died "a loyal member and clergyman of the Church of England?" Especially in view of these further facts? He preached where he pleased, notwithstanding the protests and orders of Bishops. He declared himself an episcopos or Bishop, and ordained his own preachers.

Charles Wesley and Lord Mansfield, Lord Chief Justice of the King's Bench, both maintained that John Wesley separated from the Church of England when he ordained preachers to administer the sacraments apart from the Church.

As to "Apostolic Succession" Wesley said "For the uninterrupted succession I know to be a fable which no man ever did or can prove."

Wesley organized congregations and ministered to them himself, and by his prechers during "Church hours," contrary to Church law.

He had his preachers licensed under the Act of the Protection of Dissenting Ministers." This was an Act for exempting their Majesty's Protestant subjects dissenting from the Church of England from certain penalties."

The Methodist Societies never had any connection with the Church of England.

Mr Wesley, to the Episcopal rebuke, said he was a priest of the Church Universal—that the world was his parish.

Mr. Wesley alone was responsible for the separation of his people.

He deeded all church property taken by him for his people to the conference to hold for his people.

He obtained an Act of Parliament by which all the rights and privileges of the Methodist body in England were secured to his church, and after passing the Act he said: "It is a foundation likely to stand as long as the sun and moon endure.

Mr. Davidson's generous hope that the Methodist body would soon come back, is kindly—but if Mr. Wesley never left the church then his people must be in the church, and if not in it I fear their entrance would be like the entrance of new wine into old skins—they would burst. What would the little Anglican Church of America do with the great Methodist Church of America?

The Episcopal Church is disintegrating in itself, and not at all likely to absorb the largest Protestant denominations in the world.

Good will and kindliness between the different religious bodies is praiseworthy and desirable, and is the tendency of the day; and it is hoped it may be further developed that they may dwell together in all charity.

I write not in a spirit of controversy—all kindly expressions like Mr. Davidson's are grateful; but there is no reason in this enlightened day for blindly ignoring facts that the best historians and authorities admit—and which are proved in the ordinary way. The greatest proof of Christ is Christianity, the greatest proof of John Wesley being out of the Anglican Church is Methodism.

IN STRAWBERRY TIME.

Various Dainty Concoctions and Good Biscuit Dough Shortcakes.

The making of dainty desserts is an easy thing in strawberry time. Table Talk tells of some tempting arrangements, as follows:

Served Unhulled.—If of large size strawberries can be served after the French fashion, arranging on each plate ten or a dozen round a tiny cup containing powdered sugar. The berries are washed, but stems and hulls are left on, and they are eaten with the fingers.

Strawberry Float.—What is called a float needs a pint of mashed berries. The whites of four eggs are whipped until frothy, one-half of a cupful of powdered sugar is added and the whipping continued until very stiff. The crushed berries are then beaten in and the frothy mixture served heaped in glasses. It should not stand more than half an hour.

Strawberry Dumplings.—A rich biscuit dough is the basis for strawberry dumplings, three or four berries in each, while to the usual hard sauce as many crushed berries are beaten in as can be used without danger of separation.

Strawberry Popovers. — Popovers when carefully split as soon as taken from the oven, filled with a spoonful of the crushed fruit and served with the hard sauce make an easy and delicious dessert.

White Pudding With Strawberries.—A pudding made with cornstarch or gelatin can be molded in an oval form lined with lady fingers. When turned out it is prettily garnished with whole strawberries.

Strawberry Sponge.—A strawberry sponge calls for one-half of a box of gelatin soaked in one-half of a cupful of cold water, then dissolved in a hot sirup made by boiling together for one minute one cupful of water and one cupful of sugar; when cold one cupful of strawberry juice is added, and when quite thick the whipped whites of four eggs; all are then beaten together until thick and spongy.

Strawberry Shortcake.—Make a rich baking powder biscuit crust; bake in cakes cut out with a tumbler. When done, split, butter and close again, keeping hot until served. Open the cakes and fill with mashed and sweetened berries at the table as you serve them.

A JUNE WEDDING FAD.

One of the Brides Resuscitates Some Old Fashioned Notions.

According to the New Idea Magazine, a June bride of the present season will introduce a "fad," if so it can be called. She will wear her veil and carry her bouquet as her great-grandmother did. Her gown will be of white silk mull over satin, with flounce upon flounce to just above the knees, and then plain, outlining the figure. The bodice will be simple and high necked, but with voluminous lace and chiffon frills and puffs, according to the newest ideas. The veil is the "fad" and the bouquet the accessory. The veil of tulle will be worn much shorter than has been the fashion for many long years and will be doubled over the edges about half a yard apart and caught or fastened on the hair by a brooch, pin, tiara or aigret. The edges of the veil will be sewed with long, trailing branches of lilies of the valley, with their green stems, making a pretty and graceful fringe. Their effect on the white will be very attractive. The bride's bouquet will be lilies of the valley, and to carry out the old fashioned idea she has insisted upon having an old fashioned bouquet with a paper fringe! When she appears at her wedding with a bouquet of lilies of the valley fringed with pale green and white crape paper society will wonder where she got the idea. The fringe, as she walks up the aisle, will look like lovely petals and leaves hanging from the lilies. The green must be over white, and the hangings must be long and gracefully arranged.

LUMBERMAN TELLS HIS EXPERIENCE

How Dodd's Kidney Pills Quickly Cured His Lame Back.

William N. Baskin, of Norwood, Gives Good Advice and Others are Following it With Splendid Results.

Norwood, Ont., June 29. — (pSecial) —William N. Baskin, the well-known lumberman and railroad contractor of this place, tells of an experience with Dodd's Kidney Pills that is bound to be of interest to the public generally.

"For two years," says Mr Baskin, "I was laid up with lame back and kidney disease. I would at times become weak and have to lay off work. People who knew me as lumberman and contractor on the C.P.R. and Parry Sound Railways knew how sick I was.

"Reading of wonderful cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills led me to try them. I used three boxes and am completely cured. I can say now I have not had any pains since I used Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Others who have followed Mr. Baskin's advice and tried Dodd's Kidney Pills, report similar results. No form of Kidney Disease can stand before them.

Feline Femininity.

WOMAN'S WORLD

MISS FLOY V. GILMORE.

A Bright Indiana Girl Who Has Marked Legal Ability.

The career of Miss Floy V. Gilmore shows how a woman who is determined to succeed can accomplish her aim and win a place and a name for herself even though she invades the fields of labor that are supposed to be talents of man.

Miss Gilmore is the assistant attorney general for the government of the United States in the Philippine Islands, and she is the first woman ever appointed to such an important position. Miss Gilmore is the daughter of A. M. Gilmore of Elwood, Ind., and is twenty-four years old. She was graduated from the University of Michigan and was admitted to practice at the Indiana bar a few years ago.

Miss Gilmore owes her distinction entirely to her ability and ambition. She was clerk and secretary to E. Finley Johnson when he was professor of law at the University of Michigan. While thus employed she devoted her spare time to the study of law and was eventually rewarded with a diploma. Professor Johnson was appointed a judge in the Philippines in 1901 when the judiciary was first established there, and Miss Gilmore went with him. She took the civil service examination and was appointed a stenographer in the office of the attorney general.

Her marked legal ability attracted the attention of Governor Taft, who appointed her assistant attorney general. The appointment was unanimously confirmed by the Philippine commission and by the war department. Miss Gilmore's salary as stenographer was $1,400 a year, which is doubled under her new position.

How Being Jilted Benefits a Girl.

A normal woman should not be soured by being jilted. She would only be a little wiser, a little better able to judge between the true and the false afterward. She would not be so ready to trust all men, but would have just as much faith in the one man as ever should she love again, for faith and hope and love are the natural heritage of the normal woman. These qualities are as much a part of her as life itself.

There are girls, of course, whose natures never recover from the shock of being jilted.

The wise girl, however, recognizes that it is better to be jilted before marriage than neglected afterward. She may love him dearly and yet willingly give him up on hearing that his heart has changed toward her. Probably the worst sorrow a girl can know would be hers, with the knowledge that his heart has gone from her to another. But even then if she truly loves she would not feel bitter toward him. She would lose her childlike, girlish trust which led her to believe all men good and noble; she would be better able to distinguish between the false and the true as a consequence, and if she loved again after time had healed the wound it would be in the same blind, unreasoning, trusting way if she was the normal woman.—New York American.

For the Nervous Woman.

"Too nervous to sit still a minute," and off she goes, talking, gesticulating and moving about in a distracting manner, with apparently no other object in it but to move—move and keep forever moving.

That this is true of very many girls and women we all know. Now, if these same restless ones would get an object to sit still for they would find how greatly beneficial it was, and the incessant wearing away of flesh and nerves would be very much lessened.

One nervous woman, realizing this, gave two hours every day to posing for a friend who was an illustrator. And she made a good model too. It was, apparently, just as easy for her to sit completely still as it was to keep constantly on the move. At the end of two hours, with, of course, rests every twenty minutes, the value of the work as a nerve cure was immediately felt in a sense of rest, repose and power. While every one who is nervous cannot find the opportunity to pose for one professionally engaged in drawing or even for a student, she might "hold a pose" quietly in her own room for several twenty minute lengths and get nearly as good results.

Care of Gilt Frames.

When gilded frames of paintings are dull in appearance owing simply to ingrained dust or have been tarnished by injurious vapors that have left the gold intact they may be restored to brilliance by applying a weak solution of salts of tartar in water with a cotton wool ball and then syringing the surface with cold water. If regilding is necessary this also can be undertaken with very little trouble. After rubbing the surface of the frame with fine sandpaper a coat of shellac varnish (shellac dissolved in alcohol) is to be

Could scarcely get up or down without help.

Had a severe pain in the small of the back.

Was treated in the Hotel Dieu, Kingston, but not cured.

Kidney trouble was the trouble.

Doan's Kidney Pills

Cured Mr. George Graves, Pitts Ferry, Ont., of a very bad case of kidney trouble.

He tells about the cure in the following words: "I cannot recommend Doan's Kidney Pills too highly. I never took anything that did me so much good. I had a severe pain in the small of my back and could scarcely get up or down without help. I could hardly urinate, but when I did the pain was terrible. I was in the Hotel Dieu, Kingston, last winter and when I came out I was some better but not cured. It was then I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised. Since taking them I have been completely cured and have not had any trouble with my kidneys since."

Doan's Kidney Pills, 50 cts. per box or 3 for $1.25, all dealers or applied with a brush, followed by a coat of japanner's gold size. When the size has become tacky—that is, receives but a slight impression from the finger—the gold leaf, previously cut in suitable sizes, is taken up and laid on with a cotton wool ball, each piece being made to overlap slightly the adjoining pieces. The gilding is then gently pressed with cotton wool. The surplus gold having been swept off with a silk handkerchief, a coat of shellac varnish is given. Two layers of gold leaf are better than one. For this the first layer is treated with gold size. The same process may be applied to the gilding of any wood surfaces.

The Skirt.

Hygienically speaking, the skirt as now prevailing stands guilty, or, rather, should hang condemned, of many sins. It fetters free movement, impedes progress, interferes with active exercise, produces needless fatigue, predisposes to accidents, limits the use of the hand, troubles the mind, is in constant danger of entanglements, collects dust, dirt and bacilli galore and is oftentimes unduly expensive. Workers find it heavy, hampering, harmful, and, as all must admit, it readily becomes filthy and unhealthy. We have no wish to suggest banishment of the skirt; but, since the participation of women in sports and physical exercises of various kinds has clearly demonstrated the possibility of combining hygienic requirements with artistic effects, we venture to advocate a more general adoption of rational skirts. But on the subject of skirts woman is mistress of the situation.—Hospital.

Leather Trappings.

A clever woman with considerable artistic ability is making the most of the fad for leather trappings and more particularly the fancy for using calfskin in its natural state as a covering for small tables, footstools, taborets, portfolios, book racks, wall pockets, music stands and similar articles in different kinds of wood. She designs all her pieces of fancy furniture, using the wood in its natural state and polished or stained any desired tint. Brass headed tacks or dull finished nails are used, according to the preference of the purchaser, and this young woman has built up a profitable business, which she carries on in her own home, using her parlors as sale and exhibition rooms.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Wash Silk Waists.

The best way to clean a wash silk waist is to wash it in a suds made of benzine or gasoline and a white soap. After the garment is clean it should be thoroughly rinsed in fresh benzine. No pressing will be needed as a result of the washing, but if the silk is wrinkled it should be ironed with a warm flatiron after it is dry. A hot flatiron must not of course be put on goods wet with such fluid. The rinsing liquid may be saved for another occasion, providing it is allowed to settle and is then drained from the sediment. Delicate fabrics may be cleaned in this way.

Julia Ward Howe.

"We waited eighty years for our American national anthem," said Senator Hoar. "At last God inspired an illustrious and noble woman to utter in undying verse the thought which we hope is forever to animate the soldiers of the republic. Julia Ward Howe cannot yet vote in America, but her words will be an inspiration to the youth of America on many a hard fought field for liberty many a century after her successors will vote."

Delicious Luncheon Dish.

Put two cupfuls of cold mutton chopped in quarter inch cubes on the stove with a cupful of cold gravy, a spoonful of minced onion and another of "kitchen bouquet." While the mixture is being brought to a boil arrange round the edge of the platter a ring of plain boiled rice. Into the center of the ring pour the steaming mixture and garnish with parsley.

In Hammock Time.

Within her hammock Phyllis slept
When youthful Strephon came;
With noiseless feet to her he crept
And softly called her name.

Her drooping lashes flew apart;
Her eyes in fright oped wide.
"Oh, my! You scared me so my heart
Was in my mouth!" she cried.

"Oh, surely not! That cannot be;
You could not get at all
A jewel quite so big," said he,
"Into a place so small."

MY FIELD OF DANDELIONS.

I have a lovely pasture field—
'Tis cupled 'mong a field of Zion's;
'Tis glorified, for it doth yield
A host unnumbered—Dandelions.
Angry March went blundering thro' it;
April loud went tunndering thro' it;
Then came May a-wondering thro' it—
Wondered, 'twas so cold and bare;
Then she dropped of green her cap full;
Spread she then of gold a lap full—
Beauty leaped to glory there!

Oh, for anthems! what a topic!
See the splendid brocade shine!
There is not a pasture tropic
Half so glorified as mine.
Wilding March went racing thro' it;
April storms went chasing thro' it;
Then came May a-pacing thro' it
With a wealth of joy untold,
Filled my field with gold and green;
Such a glory has not been—
Filled my field with green and gold.

Ye roses are aristocrats,
The lilies are of high degree;
But, oh! my darling democrats
They fill my field with joy for me.
Sorrowful March went sweeping thro' it;
April wet went weeping thro' it;
Then came May a-creeping thro' it,
Trailing laces fold on fold,
Planned by artists patient, subtle—
Lo! an angel held the shuttle,
And her yarn was green and gold.

The rose is for the high-born few,
For lilies every queen insists;
But I invite my love to view
My field of golden socialists.
Angry March went thrashing thro' it;
April loud went crashing thro' it;
Then came May a-flashing thro' it,
While the shining shuttles flew.
See my darling's little feet
Pacing up my golden street
'Neath yon vaulted arch of blue!

The poor are ever with you—yes,
The Dandelions, too, unfurled;
And both have got their rights, I guess;
My pasture field is like the world.
Stormy March went prancing thro' it;
April swift went glancing thro' it;
Then came May a-dancing thro' it,
Filled my field with green and gold;
Filled my field with gold and green—
Such a glory has not been.
Lo! my field of green and gold!

To Broil Mushrooms.

To broil mushrooms is simple. Remove as much of the stem as is necessary to facilitate the broiling and put the mushrooms in a double wire broiler over the fire with the gill sides down. Broil two minutes; turn and broil the other side for two minutes more. Unless very large, five minutes should serve to broil them sufficiently. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, place them on toast and add a little butter, which will melt, of course, and mingle with the hot juice. Mushrooms are usually served on toast in order to catch the delicious juice that exudes from them as soon as they are heated.

A Little Way in Cooking Bacon.

Some of the best cooked bacon I ever saw was served daily among other breakfast dishes. The rashers were cut with mathematical precision and laid in a large baking tin, overlapping each other, so that each strip of lean was on the fat of the rasher underneath. The tin was then placed in the oven and left till the meat was cooked. The bacon never varied in appearance, the lean being beautifully tender and the fat cooked through, but not chippy. Every stranger always asked how the bacon was cooked and why it never looked done too little or too much.

Too Much Bile in the Blood.

Stomach Troubles, Biliousness and Headache the Result of Torpid Liver.

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS.

The action of the liver is important in two ways. It filters from the blood the poisonous impurities which cause biliousness, headache and stomach troubles. These, in turn become bile in the liver, and are passed into the intestines as a cathartic to keep the bowels regular and active. By acting directly on the liver Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills cure torpid, sluggish liver and all ailments arising therefrom.

Mr. Rogers Clancy, farmer, Chepstowe, Bruce county, Ont., states: "I have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and would say that there is no medicine that equals them as a cure for stomach troubles, biliousness, torpid liver and headache. I was troubled a great deal with these ailments before using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and they have proven wonderfully successful in my case.

"I would not think of being without a box of these pills in the house, and whenever I feel any symptoms of these disorders I take one of these pills, and they set me all right again. I can strongly recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for the troubles mentioned above."

Mr. John Baker, Deseronto, Ont., states, "I have used Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills and can truthfully say that they are perfect in their work. I was subject to pains in my sides and back. At times I had to lay off work and feared that I would never get rid of the ailment, which was causing my sufferings. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills were recommended to me, and I found them to be exactly suited to my case. Since using them I have never had a return of my old troubles."

NOT JUST AS GOOD

Did you ever inquire at a store for certain articles and get for a reply "We have something just as good"? Did it ever occur to you that "Something just as good" is something the dealer has been able to buy much cheaper than the articles you inquire for? This is true in drugs, fabrics, groceries, hardware, and in fact every line, including silver-plated ware. If you inquire for 1847 Rogers Bros.' Knives, Forks or Spoons, don't accept any bogus Rogers' stamp because your dealer tells you it's just as good.

A Hold Up

By ROSS FRAME

Copyright, 1903, by T. C. McClure

The Overland Limited was speeding east across New Mexico toward the Texas boundary line. The fine alkali dust of the high plains sifted through every crevice in the car, smarting and irritating the throats and noses of passengers. Miss Mary Appleton was one of the few who had not grumbled at the dust, heat, lack of mirages or slowness of the service. Presumably her time was too fully occupied. The Mayne children, her three nephews, demanded her complete attention.

When Major Mayne of the United States army was ordered to the Philippines, his wife elected to go with him. The children were easily disposed of by their little butterfly of a mother. "We'll send them east. I'll telegraph Mary to come out and take them back. It will be a nice trip for her, poor thing!"

So the "poor thing," who was Mrs. Mayne's elder half sister, the Cinderella of the household, age reversed, left her invalid stepmother behind and journeyed to San Francisco for her charges.

"We'll try and make it pleasant for you while you are with us," Mrs. Mayne had cooed to her upon her arrival, but the irresponsible little lady had left all packing and house clearing arrangements until the last minute, and it took all of Mary's time and sound sense to evolve order out of confusion. Finally all the boxes were corded, the major and his wife off to the transport, and Miss Appleton, with her three rebellious charges, seated in the train for their long ride to the Atlantic coast.

One section had been provided for her and the three boys, Bobbie, Tom and Grover, lads of twelve, nine and six. They were hearty, healthy young animals, who regarded the commands of their gentle, mild tempered aunt in the light of a perpetual joke. The Pullman was crowded, and their fellow traveler looked with manifest disfavor upon the noisy, ill behaved boys.

Their section was nearest the drawing room, and Miss Appleton occasionally caught glimpses of the tall, stern looking man with iron gray hair. He seemed to be always busy, either reading or writing, and her tender conscience prompted the hope that he might be too much absorbed in his work to be disturbed by the proximity of her nephews. She had noticed his critical, disapproving glances at her flock in the dining car, and once she detected a smile on his face when she had made ineffectual efforts to curb them.

It was the fourth day of the journey and a particularly hard one. Bob and Tom had joined forces and teased Grover, who was quick tempered, into such a fury of passion that he had sobbed himself asleep on his aunt's knee. She sat in a cramped, uncomfortable position, holding the little tear stained face against her shoulder.

The man in the drawing room looked at her for a moment, then stepped out and said quietly: "Let me take your little boy. He can rest very comfortably on my sofa." Suiting the action to the words, he carried the sleeping child to the couch and set the door ajar.

Miss Appleton's lips trembled, and it was with difficulty that she kept back the tears. It was almost the first kindly words spoken in those hard and disagreeable days. There had been admonitions in regard to the boys being left behind at stations and tanks or breaking their necks from windows and platforms. There had been many complaints in respect to their noise and requests that they be kept strictly to their own seats, but this was the first kindly interest manifested. The weary, nervous woman looked out steadily over the uninviting landscape so that the tears that hung heavy on her lashes might remain undetected.

The occupant of the drawing room missed nothing of what was going on. His heart gave an unaccustomed throb as he remembered the mute gratitude expressed by her dark eyes when he carried off the sleeping boy. It was a strange and by no means unpleasant sensation.

Bob and Tom sat in a virtuous armed truce. Bob's black eyes snapped as he related to Tom in subdued tones the "Adventures of Snake Eyed Sol, the Terror of the Western Plains." "If we could only get off this blamed train, we would be sure to find lots of Indians and gold and wild horses. We'd have a great time. But there's no use in trying. Aunt Mary has the porter on to us." The boy looked decidedly wicked as he thought of his lost opportunities. The man within caught the look and a vision of the aunt's sweet face at the same time. "If I had the management of you, my lad, I would bring you up with a round turn," he thought.

Miss Appleton smothered a sigh and leaned back on the luxurious cushions. Her few days of more intimate acquaintance with Master Bob had made her fully aware of the consequences likely to follow from an interruption of the narrative. The comparative peace and repose were provocative of sleep. She was awakened from a doze by a brisk official voice demanding, "Your papers, please?"

"Do you mean our tickets?"

"No, madam. I have nothing to do with the tickets. I want your quarantine passports. We are near the Texas boundary line."

"But—but we have no papers excepting our tickets. We have no passports."

"Very sorry, madam; very sorry, but you'll have to get off before you come to the Texas boundary."

"Get off—why?" she gasped.

"Orders, madam. The state of Texas orders that no passengers from San Francisco cross the boundary line without a quarantine passport. You're right from there, and you've surely heard of the report that bubonic plague is in Chinatown."

"I heard nothing of it," she rejoined.

"Well, that may be. However, I am here to see that the Texas quarantine laws are obeyed." The conductor came up and joined in the conversation. "It's a great pity that you didn't look after this when you bought your tickets. The railway officials in San Francisco would have issued your certificate. It's a wonder that they didn't speak to you about it."

Mrs. Mayne had bought the tickets, and Mary remembered with a sinking heart that her sister had carelessly tossed aside a package of papers when she took the tickets from the envelope.

The conductor went on. "This bubonic plague scare is a confounded nuisance to the traveling public. There is one way out of it; you can make oath that you have not been in Chinatown or the precincts within fifteen days."

"We can easily do that."

It is the unexpected that happens, and Bob's opportunity had come. "I was in Chinatown last week with Mike," he said loudly.

Miss Appleton looked at him in amazement. Mike was the major's old and trusted servant, the last person to take the boy into a place of danger. The story was incredible.

Bob looked unblushingly at his aunt. To Bob at that moment there were things better than truth. The officer looked down sternly at the little shrinking woman. "You'll have to be ready to get off at the next siding. You'll find a box car there. The local freight will pick you up later and take you to Deming. There you will find out what it is best to do."

The sympathetic excitement of their fellow passengers was subdued by the thought of relief from the troublesome boys and by nervous fear of journeying with a plague suspect. The friendly gentleman lent a hand in strapping valises and in gathering up the various impedimenta of an overland journey. There was evidently on his part no intention of questioning the wisdom of the laws of Texas.

Miss Appleton's patience received its crowning stroke when she mounted her trunk as a step and was dragged by a not overclean employee into the box car. She had hardly until then realized the significance of their movements. She had but a confused idea of the goodbys of their fellow passengers generally, but the sympathetic tones of the friendly man persisted in her mind.

Bob scrambled up beside her and announced his freedom in a hilarious whoop. It was adding insult to injury, and, as much to her own amazement as to Bob's, she seized the offender by the shoulders and shook him soundly. The crestfallen appearance of their ringleader as he sulked on a box in the corner of the car, a new, stern aunt who certainly held the whip hand, and strong desires for something to eat were conditions not conducive to free and easy romance in the desert. It was a very weary and subdued trio of boys that the local freight brought into Deming.

Miss Appleton's apprehensions that the whole party would be subject to an unpleasant quarantine were speedily removed. Before she had recovered from the surprise at the courtesy shown them by the railway officials, their fellow traveler of the Overland stepped from the caboose of the freight.

"I telegraphed to see that you were properly looked after, and I have come to see that it is done," he said with a smile. "I know this place very well, as I happen to be in the railroad business myself. You will be very comfortable here for a few days, until you get your passports."

Much to Miss Appleton's relief he assumed, with a matter of fact air, the entire management of their affairs. He did the telegraphing, the planning and the thousand and one duties demanded by their quarantine hold up. Once she ventured an apologetic remonstrance about taking up his time, but he had answered gayly that he was "off on a holiday," and that he was enjoying it immensely (which was strictly true).

Bob was the only unhappy member of the party. Pride forbade an acknowledgment of his falsehood, and he grimly accepted his punishment. He tasted the way of the transgressor in a lonely quarantine, and also realized the power of the government of Texas to punish not only visitors to Chinatown, but also those who inadvertently stray in the paths of Ananias.

A number of cablegrams were awaiting the Maynes on their arrival at Manila. Mrs. Mayne nearly fainted with astonishment at the contents of one which her husband read aloud:

"Mary married yesterday to Robert Read, general manager Great Western railroad."

Tortured with Pain.

Too Weak to Work.

ULCERS, BOILS AND PIMPLES ALL OVER HER BODY

Such was the condition of Mrs. Samuel Deitz, Zurich, Ont.

She happily found relief from her terrible suffering by using Burdock Blood Bitters.

A remedy without a rival for the cure of all diseases and troubles arising from bad blood. A record extending over a quarter of a century and thousands of testimonials will prove this. Mrs. Deitz writes: "Too weak to work, tortured with the pain of ulcers, boils and pimples all over my body, especially on my face. I had almost made up my mind to give up trying to have them cured. I was ashamed to have any person come to see me, my face was in such a terrible state. I tried everything I could think of but got worse and worse. I was then led to try Burdock Blood Bitters and was surprised at the wonderful change the first bottle made. Altogether I took seven bottles and am now completely cured and am in perfect health again. I feel that B.B.B. saved my life."

GIRL WOMEN.

The general standard of measurement for womanhood is "grown-up-ness." When a girl is emancipated from school and arrives at the dignity of trailing skirts and elaborate hair dressing she is looked upon as a young woman. But nature knows nothing of such standards. When the womanly function is established womanhood is attained according to her standards, and there is need of womanly care and caution. It is girlish ignorance or neglect at this critical time which often results in long years of after misery.

Mothers who perceive the evidences of functional derangement in young girls should promptly have them begin the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, tranquilizes the nerves and tones up the whole system.

"My troubles started during my girlhood," writes Miss Flora I. Greer, of 107 Howe Street, Akron, O., "but did not prove serious until 1893. From that time I did not see a well day. I suffered at every monthly period with terrible headache, irritation of the spine and pains in my heels. I had soreness through my hips and ovaries all the time and constant backache. One doctor would tell me one thing ailed me, another would say something altogether different but they only relieved me. I then wrote you and followed your advice. I took five bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, four of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and five vials of 'Pellets.' Have not had a single symptom of my old trouble so far. Can sleep good, work hard, and eat solid and substantial food without distress."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cleanse the bowels and stimulate the sluggish liver.

"Orders Mary married yesterday to Robert Read, general manager Great Western railroad."

Fortified Rectories.

In an article on "Historical Houses" in the House a writer calls attention to a curious relic of the days when the Northumbrian pastor was compelled to live in a fortified house if he wished to preserve his worldly goods from the plundering bands of moss troopers who were continually crossing the Scottish border and raiding the homesteads of defenseless villagers. One of the best examples of these fortified rectories, originally built in the fourteenth century, still exists in Rothbury. It is described in a list of forlets in 1542 as a "toure and a little barmekin, being the man'con of the p'sonage of Rothbury." It has walls eleven feet thick at the base and six feet at the top. It has turrets at the corners and a chamber with a stone floor, in o which the rectors drove their cattle at night or on approach of the raiders.

"Since Hung."

Speaking at a recent meeting of the Selborne Society, Lord Avebury said the efforts of the society were yearly obtaining more success, especially in the protection of birds. It had even been proposed that no man should marry a woman who wore feathers in her hat. Much had also been done toward planting trees in the streets of our towns. Where the society had hitherto most failed was in the protection of plants, due to the unthinking wantonness of small children.

Sir John Cockburn, who spoke next, quoted a description of spring which he had read in the newspapers: "One cannot say spring has arrived until a man can put his foot upon six daisies." Such a man, he said, deserved never to enjoy another spring.

Sir George Keckwich also gave some amusing instances of vandalism, among them the following: One day he found "S. Hughes" cut upon a favorite peach tree. A few months later he found added, "Since hung." —Manchester Guardian.

General William Booth.

The London Chronicle says General Booth, whose energies appear to grow with his years, has just left for Switzerland, where he is to address a series of meetings. It seems only the other day that he returned from a long tour in America, but in the interval he has been to Belgium. He still limps a little as a result of the accident he had in New York, but otherwise he is in vigorous health. He contrives to get through his days of toil and travel on a diet which many men would regard as fasting. Always a very frugal trencherman, he has in recent years become practically a vegetarian. He would probably say that harder work and better work can be done on a cup of tea and bread and butter than on the most luxurious faring. This simplicity permeates the Salvation Army, every member of which is also, of course, a total abstainer.

BLIND CHILDREN.

Laughing, the blind boys
Run round their college lawn,
Playing such games of buff
Over its dappled grass.

See the blind frolicsome
Girls in blue jumpers
Turning their skipping ropes.

How full and rich a world
Theirs to inhabit in—
Sweet scent of grass and bloom,
Playmates' glad symphony,
Cool touch of western wind,
Sunshine's divine caress.

How should they know or feel
They are in darkness?

But, oh, the miracle!
If a Redeemer came,
Laid finger on their eyes—
One touch, and what a world,
New-born in loveliness!

Spaces of green and sky,
Hills of white cloud adrift,
Ivy-grown college walls,
Shining loved faces.

What a dark world—who knows?—
Ours to inhabit in!
One touch, and what a strange
Glory might burst on us,
What a hid universe!
Do we sport carelessly,
Blindly upon the verge
Of an Apocalypse?

—I. Zangwill.

How to Cure "Milk Crust."

This is a disease often seen in infants and young children. It is due to an inflammation of the little sebaceous glands of the skin. It is most often seen on the scalp, and when present the hair should be cut as short as possible before treatment is begun. The crusts should be first softened with warm olive oil, or vaseline may be left on the scalp overnight, then the crusts washed off with warm water and castile soap. An ointment made of either vaseline or cold cream and 2 per cent of resorcin should then be applied. This should be spread on linen and kept in place by means of a thin cap. Every day wash off the ointment with warm olive oil and apply fresh salve. Do not use water oftener than once a week. — Ladies' Home Journal.

Washing Soda.

Washing soda costs about a cent a pound, and it will remove almost any dirt. It will also remove the skin from one's hands and the paint and varnish from woodwork, so it should be used with discretion. One of the best uses of washing soda is in cleaning pots and dishes which macaroni, etc., have been cooked in. The usual way of scraping with a knife is bad, because it ruins the utensils. Put in hot water and a lump of washing soda and let boil for a few minutes. The adhering substance may then be easily removed.

Sales to noon, 128,500.

Messrs. McMillan & Maguire have received the following:—

Toronto, July 2nd, 1.15 p. m.—Traders have come to the conclusion that whenever they assist in putting prices up they are sandbagged with stock by the people manipulating the market, and they joined the sellers this morning and prices experienced a recession. Crop advices are good. Grain and cotton declined. The street is full of tips that U. S. S., and A. C. P., are going higher, but the good news was used to sell on. Speculators should do likewise, to take profits on all good bulges. B. R. T. was put up on great traffic, but the system is poorly handled and damage piles up in phenomenal manner. Rumors are out of patching up of Gould-Pennsylvania quarrel. Money is easy, and is expected to so continue for coming two months. We look for a good trading market, but stocks should be bought on good breaks only.

LACROSSE.

On Tuesday at noon word was received by letter by T. J. Begley, secretary of the T.A.S. lacrosse club, informing him that Oshawa would not be on hand for the scheduled game on July 1st, and that they were considering the question of dropping out of the C.L.A. This was a disappointment to the local club, that was keenly felt, and telephone messages flew thick and fast to Oshawa telling them to bring a team, even if it was their senior aggregation. Port Hope was also communicated with and good inducements offered that club, but they had a game in their own town. At 11.30 on Tuesday evening Oshawa wired its final answer, which was to the effect that it could not get a team together. Then the Athletics were consulted, but satisfactory arrangements could not be made with that organization. On the morning of July 1st Lindsay was communicated with, and Secretary Keith of the Lindsay club, did all in his power to try and rally the team of that town together, but without success. Mr. Keith stated that Lindsay would have accommodated the locals with a game had they known earlier about Oshawa's default. The locals did not lose hope until about 11 o'clock yesterday, and word was sent around that the game was off. Notwithstanding this however a large crowd wended its way to the Murray street grounds in the afternoon, only to be disappointed.

The default of Oshawa at such a late hour was decidedly shabby, to say the least, and the matter will be dealt with by the judiciary of the C.L.A.

Sir,—Referring to the letter in Monday's Examiner signed by D. Belland, in which the undersigned is referred to as the "half mile champion," I would like to say that I have never posed as a half mile champion, but I can run five miles a little and will meet Mr. Belland in either a 5 or 10 mile race during the latter part of July, after having satisfied myself of his amateur standing by the C.A.A. rules.

ST. JOSEPH'S HOSPITAL.

Interesting Letter From Rev. Father McColl -Grand Work of Hospital.

The Examiner has received the following letter from Rev. Father McColl, in reference to the work of St. Joseph's Hospital:—

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Peterborough, June 25th, '03.

Dear Sir,—For some time previous to last year St. Peter's Parish held, annually, a picnic, for the purpose of paying off the indebtedness of St. Joseph's Hospital, and assisting in its maintainance. Last year this manner of procuring money for these purposes was discontinued and an appeal was made to the generosity of the people instead.

The most generous manner in which this appeal, made in the cause of charity, was responded to, left no doubt that the hospital was highly appreciated by all classes in the community, and showed that the people were most anxious to assist that institution by their annual contributions, and that the aid of a pic-nic was no longer necessary for that purpose.

For this reason I again take the liberty of asking your assistance in carrying on this most commendable and charitable work.

The hospital is maintained in the most efficient condition. Its doors are open to the sick of all denominations. Since its establishment hundreds of poor patients, of the town, have been received within its walls and given all the care and attention that the necessities of their cases demanded. A ward of the hospital is set aside for the care of contagious diseases, and the danger to the community, arising from this source, is to a large extent diminished. By its great work of charity it has taken care of the poor and alleviated the suffering of the destitute sick and has undoubtedly saved the lives of many of our citizens.

There is a very considerable debt on the Hospital and the revenue is barely sufficient to defray the expenses of its maintainance. The burden of supporting this institution rests mainly with the congregation of St. Peter's Parish. The Sisters of St. Joseph's Community, who are in charge of the hospital, voluntarily devote their lives to this charitable work, and an appeal is now made to the people, in whose midst this work is being done, for their co-operation.

Your assistance is asked for a most deserving charity, one situated in our own midst looking after our own poor, and sick, and which largely relieves our citizens from a financial burden, that would otherwise rest on their shoulders.

I feel confident the work that is being done by the hospital will receive your commendation and that you will aid it by your contribution.

A list of the contributors will be printed and distributed on the second Monday in July next.

Thanking you in advance for your contribution, I am, sincerely yours,

W. J. McCOLL,
Rector of St. Peter's Cathedral.

BRITISH TRAINING SHIP.

Experience of an Hour on Board the President—Equipment of the Ship—A Treat in Drilling.

Yesterday (writes a representative of The London News under date of May 26) I took an omnibus from Fleet Street to the West India Docks for the purpose of looking over the new Royal Naval Reserve drill ship, the President, late Gannet. I found her moored to the wharf at the extreme end of the South Dock. Sending my card on board, I was courteously invited by Lieut. Morrison, the officer in charge, to cross the gangway and have a look around for myself.

The new drill ship was hardly fit for the reception of visitors, as she is not yet out of the hands of those who are fitting her up for her new duties, and it was therefore an act of great courtesy on the part of Lieut. Morrison to allow a journalist to set foot on her decks, for your seaman does not love a landsman near his craft when all is not spick and span. Before I went aboard I had a ramble along the wharf, and this gave me ample opportunity to note not only the new drill ship, but the old one, which was moored close up. The contrast in make and shape was very great. The old ship, built some time in 1827, looked more like a clumsy tub than a smart ship of war, yet in her day she was supposed to be a perfect model of all that a warship should be. The new drill ship was built in 1879, partly of wood and partly of iron. She is known to naval men as a composite vessel, and at the time of her launching was supposed to be a masterpiece. But compared with one of the latest products of our dockyards she looks like a nightmare of the deep, comparing badly in appearance with the latter-day products of His Majesty's navy. One might as well compare an ancient Queen Bess musket with a modern Mauser.

The new President (she has taken the name of the ship she supersedes) has been fitted up with all the latest guns. These look strangely light and handy in comparison with the general clumsiness of her make and shape. Her armament is not for use against an enemy, but for drilling purposes only, and the hour I spent on board plainly demonstrated that this is to be no mere hotbed for fillers, but a home for workers. She is a three-decker, comfortably housed in, and upon all her decks the business of her calling was being carried out in a thorough and workmanlike manner. Old salts from the Naval Reserve, with seamy, battered faces, were moving around with mere youngsters who had only just joined. I stood alongside and saw half a dozen young fellows sign on, and saw them a little later come forward with their new uniforms, but it takes something more than a uniform to make a man-o'-war's-man.

On one deck an officer was drilling a number of smart-looking fellows in the use and handling of revolvers. It was a treat to hear him give his orders. No bullying, no browbeating, no bluster; yet every word fell from his lips crisp and clear. He spoke like a man who knew his business and meant the others to know theirs before he had done with them. On another deck an officer in charge of a squad of men was instructing them in the use of a gun similar in every detail to that used by the Naval Brigade at the Agricultural Hall during the tournament, a sprinking of old "salts" mingling with the new fellows. The ship is fitted with two 4-inch, two 4.7, two 5, and two 6 inch guns. Two Maxims and one five-barreled Nordenfeldt, besides the gun first mentioned, rifles, bayonet, and all the usual small arms are on hand. The discipline is perfect; the appointments are good, and the officers are men who have for the most part worked their way upward step by step by sheer merit. Judging from the manner the young fellows were hanging around the wharf waiting to get an opportunity to glean information from the newly joined men, it seemed safe to argue that the President is in for a successful career, and it will be a pity if this is not the case, as the young men in the vicinity of the West India Docks will gain far more in manners, appearance, physique, and morals than by following the usual life of the place.

Tales of Tennyson.

Tennyson's niece, Agnes Weld, in her recently published reminiscences of the poet, tells the story of the manner in which the laureate once "saved a life." A silly young German versifier wrote to him, saying that if he did not receive a letter from the English master for whom he professed intense admiration, and that by a certain date, he would kill himself. "Sit down at once, Agnes," said Tennyson to his niece, "and write a kind letter to the poor beast," and he is said to have been distressed in mind until he learned that the autograph-seeker still ornamented the earth.

After he acquired his peerage the poet was doubly worried over his shortsightedness. "Now that I am Lord Tennyson," he said, "you must be sure and tell me of any one meeting us in the road whom I ought to salute. Because they might feel more hurt than before, if I took no notice of them."

Stories for Warm Weather.

I found a distinguished lawyer of my acquaintance chuckling in his club the other day over the following. The maid-servant of a kinswoman of his had been sent by her mistress to see "Dante" at Drury Lane. When she returned she was asked how she enjoyed herself. "Oh, mum," she said, "it was so 'orrid to see such a lot of nice gentlemen all 'ot in 'ell!"

This recalls the story of Sir Henry Irving's zealous stage manager in olden days, who, during the rehearsals of "Faust," reproved his supers for being too light-hearted in Hades. "Gentlemen," he thundered, "kindly remember that you are not on Hampstead Heath, but in ——!" —From M.A.P.

THE GIRL SPRINTED.

Warned That Big Quantity of Dynamite Would Blow Up.

ESCAPED DEATH BY 300 YARDS

Gorge Railway Building Goes Skyward—Blown Up by Dynamite—Miss Lydia Upper's Exciting Experience at Niagara Falls — The Building Completely Wrecked — The Losses Aggregate $11,000.

Niagara Falls, Ont., July 3.—The Electric Railway station and promenade, on the American side of the river below the bank, was blown up by dynamite about 7.45 last evening. Fire was discovered in the switch-room by the only person on the premises, a young lady attendant in the bazaar named Miss Lydia Upper, who was waiting for a car to take her home. The girl promptly rang up the main office at the falls and notified them that the station was on fire. The answer came back: "Get out of the place and run up the track as far as you can, or you will be blown up."

The girl grabbed her hat and jumped on to the track, running like a deer towards the falls. When she was about 300 yards up the track a most terrific explosion took place, the flames having reached several hundred weight of dynamite stored by the Gorge Railroad under the building. The shock of the explosion was heard for miles around.

The loss to the building and promenade will be $9,000; Nichols, fancy goods, loses $1,500, and Arthur Buckley, photographer, $200. Miss Upper belongs to Thorold, Ont., and was clerk in the fancy goods store and lives with a sister at Niagara Falls, N. Y.

Notions and Small Wares

The large capabilities of this store's Smallwares and Notion Section are more fully realized by the public and ourselves the week we devote Bi-annually to quick smallwares selling.

Notwithstanding the full knowledge we have of the contents compactly stored away in this department, we confess we hardly realize the immense assortment that there exists, until we take during this Special Notion Week about four times as much display space as we can ordinarity afford—and then feel cramped.

Since the commencement of our Notion Sale this department has turned over an immense amount of "Little Stuff" (Neckwear, Novelties, etc.,) but notwithstanding the amount of stuff that has been sold the assortments have been kept up—sufficient to make it exceedingly interesting for those attending this money-saving sale of "Small Things" which continues

UNCONSCIOUS FROM GAS.

Two Meaford Lacrosse Players Have Narrow Escape in Owen Sound.

Owen Sound, July 3.—Shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday morning the odor of gas was noticed in the corridor of the Seldon House and the doors of room 19 were thrown open.

On the bed lay Lewis and J. Cummings, two lacrosse players, from Meaford, in an unconscious condition. Dr. G. W. Daw was summoned and after working over the young men for three hours had them both out of danger.

The Meaford lacrosse team played here Wednesday, and having missed their steamer registered at the Seldon House. The young men did not know how to use the gas and with both the door and fanlight closed blew out the light and retired.

One of the lacrosse players in an adjoining room smelt the gas and investigated, a fact that probably saved the lives of his companions. They were able to return home yesterday.

MAY EXPLODE AGAIN.

The Situation at Hanna, Wyo., Is Decidedly Grave.

Hanna, Wyo., July 3.—The startling information is received from an experienced miner who penetrated the mine where an explosion occurred Tuesday, that the workings below the seventeenth level are a mass of flames, leaving little hope of rescuing the entombed miners in that section. Efforts are now confined to preventing the flames from reaching the seventeenth and other levels above. Added to the horrors of the fire, which undoubtedly destroyed the underground workings, is the danger of another explosion, which may occur at any time. The situation is decidedly grave.

MONCTON TO WINNIPEG.

Government Railway That Will be Leased for Fifty Years to G.T.P.

RIGHTS TO OTHER RAILWAYS.

May Run on Terms to Be Fixed by Mutual Agreement—For the Western Section a Guarantee of Bonds Will Be Given—Work Is to Be at Once Rushed Forward—Material to Be Canadian.

Ottawa, July 3.—The main features of the Government's policy in connection with the proposed transcontinental railway line have practically been determined, and it is expected that within a few days a contract with the Grand Trunk Company will be signed. The Government undertake to construct a line from Moncton to Winnipeg via Quebec, and lease it to the Grand Trunk Pacific Company for fifty years. For the first five years the company will pay no rental to the Government. For the second five years they will pay the net surplus of receipts over working expenses. For the remaining forty years they agree to pay 3 per cent. on the cost of construction.

The Western Section Guaranteed.

The Government will guarantee the bonds for the stretch of line which the company themselves are to construct. In the case of the prairie section the guarantee will be 75 per cent. of the actual cost of construction, but is not to exceed $13,000 a mile. The Government have arbitrarily fixed 500 miles as the length of the mountain section, and for this distance the guarantee will also be 75 per cent. of the actual cost up to a maximum of $30,000 a mile.

The rates to be charged are to be subject to the control of the Governor in Council of the Railway Commission, but on the Government section of the line the rates are not to be cut down to a figure that will prevent the company from paying the annual rental.

Running Rights Provided For.

Other railway companies are to be granted running rights over the Winnipeg-Moncton section. This is to be a matter of mutual agreement, and in the event of failure to arrive at a friendly understanding, the Government will prescribe the terms, subject, of course, to the rights which the Grand Trunk Pacific possess as lessees and operators of the line.

Materials Used to Be Canadian.

In view of tge Government constructing the eastern section of the railway, the Grand Trunk Pacific Company have reduced their capital from $75,000,000 to $45,000,000. The company, as an evidence of good faith, will despoit $5,000,000 in the Bank of Montreal in cash or approved securities. As far as possible the materials used in the construction are to be of Canadian manufacture. The Government have made a point of stipulating that, wherever it could be done, the articles that enter into construction should be bought in Canada, and the company readily agreed to this. A majority of the directors must be resident in Canada. Mr. C. M. Hays is to be President of the company, and Mr. Wainwright Vice-President. Among the directors will be one of the Rothschilds—probably Lord Rothschild, the head of the great financial house—Lord Welby, Sir Charles Rivers Wilson and Mr. Arthur Smithers

To Rush the Work Forward.

Mr. Hays and his associates are in earnest in the desire to begin construction and push the work to completion as rapidly as possible. An enormous force of men will be put on, and the work begun simultaneously at fifteen different points between the Atlantic and Pacific. Construction will be under control of a commission appointed by the Government, so far as the Moncton-Winnipeg section is concerned. The most modern appliances will be used, and an effort will be made to complete the line within from three to three and a half years. The Grand Trunk Pacific Company are to equip the line with rolling stock, and they undertake that there will be no deficiencies in that regard.

Sixty Survey Parties Out.

The company have sixty survey parties out at present, of whom ten are working between Lake Abittibi and Quebec. The surpeyors report the existence of a clay belt north of the north shore of Lake Superior. There is a similar soil for some distance eastward from Lake Abittibi towards Quebec.

LYNCHING AS A REMEDY.

Fires Set in a Prohibition Town—Attempt to Burn Newspaper.

Indianapolis, July 3.—Winslow, in Pike County, a town of 1,000 inhabitants, is in a state of excitement over the attempted burning of several houses, including the office of The Dispatch, a weekly newspaper. Four weeks ago the temperance people invoked the blanket remonstrance law, and all the saloons were closed. The saloon element retaliated by attacking the temperance leaders in the street, and threats were made of burning the town. Four fires, all of incendiary origin, occurred in one night, and on last Saturday night three other houses were fired, one of them being The Dispatch Office.

The incendiaries are known, but the evidence is not sufficient to convict them, and open threats of lynching are made. A committee of 50 citizens have been selected and guards are on duty every night.

Law Powerless—Advocates Murder.

The Dispatch yesterday says:

"A little more evidence, and a necktie party will be held and a telephone pole will bear a disgraceful decoration. This method is the only one that will suffice to stop such lawlessness, and were are in favor of putting into practice just such a law. There is no use to try to handle such scoundrels through the courts, for courts are a farce and full of corruption and deceit. It has been threatened that this paper would be destroyed, and we make this kind of a promise, that when it is the parties who have made the threats will attend a third-rate funeral and be the chief attraction thereat."

A Great Land Deal.

Toronto, July 3.—A deal of great magnitude is the purchase of the entire land grant of the Canadian Northern Railway. This transaction has been put through by the Saskatchewan Valley & Manitoba Land Company, and it is believed to be not only the most important, but the most extensive land deal entered into in this country in recent history. The new company is composed of men well known in American and Canadian business circles and by the terms of the purchase from the Canadian Northern Railway, come into possession of more then 1,500,000 acres of the best wheat land in western Canada.

HAVELOCK HYMENEALS.

Church of St. John the Evangelist the Scene of a Pretty Wedding.

Dr. Williamson and Miss Norma Tandy the Principals.

A very pretty church wedding, and one in which great interest has been taken, was solemnized at Havelock on Tuesday evening. The principals in the happy affair were Dr. A. R. B. Williamson, of Kingston, and Miss Norma Tandy, daughter of the late William Tandy, some time Principal of the old Kingston High School

The ceremony took place in the church of St. John the Evangelist, of which the Rev. W. R Tandy, M.A., brother of the bride, is Incumbent; and Mr. Tandy it was who officiated, assisted by the Rev'd E. A. Langfeldt, M. A., Rector of Ashburnham.

It was a choral wedding and the church was filled to the doors with the church people and other friends, the invited guests occupying the front pews. The sacred edifice was beautifully decorated, the colour scheme being green and white, and the words that joined two lives were spoken under a floral bell, hung at the entrance to the chancel. "The voice that breathed o'er Eden" was sung as the procession entered the church. The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. Herbert Tandy, B.A., of Queen's Medical College, looked lovely in a costume of ivory duchesse satin, embroidered in pearls, with bridal veil adorned with orange blossoms. She wore a tiny gold heart filled with white heather—a souvenir of a sojourn of the groom in Scotland—and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. There were two charming bridesmaids, Miss Florence Williamson, of Kingston, sister of the groom, and Miss Elsie Tandy, sister of the bride. They wore white organdie over taffeta, and picture hats with plumes, and carried shower bouquets of pink roses.

Little Miss Gladys Bibby, of Kingston, was flower girl. She wore white organdie with real lace, and carried a basket of pink rose buds.

The bride's mother was in black silk, with embroidered chiffon trimmings.

The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Geo. H. Williamson, of the Kingston Whig's editorial staff.

The ushers were Mr. R. A. Williams, local manager of the Sovereign Bank, and Mr. E. M. Williams.

The beautiful service of the Church was reverently said, the Deus being sung to an Anglican chant. The recessional hymn was that beginning "Oh Perfect Love, all human love transcending," and during the closing verses the church bell rang out a music of its own from the belfry.

A recherche breakfast was served at the Parsonage, which had been tastefully decorated for the occasion. The entrance hall was festooned with smilax, the drawing room adorned with roses and ferns, which were massed with striking effect upon the mantel and in the recesses of the bay windows. The dining room, too, was in festive dress. The centre-piece of the table was of red roses, and there were white carnations at either end. Small ferns and pansies were strewn upon the cloth, which was daintily festooned with smilax. There were toasts and speeches and songs, and at midnight the whole company went to the station with the bride and groom, who left, amid cheers and showers of rice and good wishes, for the Saguenay and Lower St. Lawrence.

The bride's going-away gown was of gold cloth with hat to match of forget-me-nots and Spanish lace.

Among the guests present were Mr. Rechab Tandy, principal of the vocal department Toronto Conservatory Music, and Miss Louise Tandy; Mr. Chas. Tandy Chapman, Ingersoll; Mrs. Waddington Chapman, Miss Chapman and Miss Bibby, of Kingston; Mr. and Mrs. R. A Williams, Dr. Holdcroft, of Havelock, and others.

A bewildering array of gifts and a small sheaf of telegrams were evidence of the wide-spread interest in the happy event, and an unexpected, but none the less pleasing token of local good-will, was the serenade of the Havelock Citizens' Band on the lawn during the breakfast.

The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl pendant; to the bridesmaids, gold pendants with opal centres.

Dr. Williamson, the groom, is one of brilliant graduates of Queen's University, Kingston, having taken his M. A. degree there with double first-class honours, and, four years later, his M. D. C. M., with the gold medal in medicine and the House Surgency of the Kingston General Hospital, where he was in residence for a year. Proceeding to England he took the coveted degrees of Member Royal College of Surgeons, England, and licentiate Royal College of Physicians, London. He is now practicing in Kingston, where he holds a position on the teaching staff of Queen's Medical College. He is also a Lieutenant in the Field Hospital, Army Service corps.

The bride is equally well-known and popular in social and musical circles. She holds the degree of Bachelor of Music, with gold medal in church organ, and is at present organist of St. James' church, Kingston, the choir of which sent a beautiful gift as a token of their esteem.

Hosts of friends unite in congratulation and good wishes.

PROCEEDINGS IN PARLIAMENT.

The Canadian Northern Railway Bill Finally Read and Passed.

Ottawa, July 3.—Consideration of the Toronto and Hamilton railway bill has again been postponed. The bill will not again come before the House until Wednesday next.

Hon. Mr. Sutherland brought down a return showing that from 1890 to 1902 $1,201,844 had been expended on Toronto harbor.

A bill was introduced by Mr. Fitzpatrick amending the Penitentiaries Act. The change contemplated lies in a consolidation of the statutes and a revision of the salary schedules, which Mr. Fitzpatrick says will mean a saving of $7,500 a year.

Mr. Monk asked if the Government was prepared to make a statement regarding the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. The Premier replied that the Government was not yet in a position to take the House into its confidence.

Railway Bill Passed.

The Canadian Northern Railway Bill was again taken up in the House, and after several amendments had been made the bill, as amended, was reported to the House, read a third time and passed.

The House then went into Committee of Supply and passed most of the items of the supplementaries for public works, and adjourned shortly after midnight.

Old Probs Will Move.

Ottawa, July 3.—Mr. Prefontaine, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, gave an audience yesterday afternoon to the heads of Toronto University. The upshot of the conference is that when the new Dominion Observatory at the central experimental farm is completed the principal officers of the meteorological department now stationed at Toronto will be removed to Ottawa; the university authorities will get the present site of the existing observatory building, and in place of the weather prognostications going out from Toronto, they will be sent out from Ottawa. The magnetic observatory at Agincourt, near Toronto, will be maintained, and there will also be established in connection with Toronto University a local observatory for the use of the students, such as now exists in connection with McGill.

The Homecomers.

Toronto, July 3.—Yesterday was "Old Boys" day at the Homecomers' Festival here, and many organizations marched in line, with distinctive flags and badges, by counties to the University quadrangle, where they were welcomed by Mayor Urquhart and Premier Ross. In the evening there was a grand naval fireworks demonstration on the bay and island. Altogether the day was a very pleasant one to both visitors and visited.

Edward Newell, a New York homecomer, was robbed of $100 on Dominion Day while in a crowd. A Toronto cop nearby when appealed to said: "That's got nothing to do with me."

Reserve Force.

The healthy body has a certain amount of strength reserved in case of emergency, attack by disease or unusual physical exhaustion, without this power of resistance a person is an easy prey to every ill that comes along. By enriching the blood and creating new nerve cells, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food keeps the health at high water mark and fills the body with the vigour and vitality that overcomes and defies disease.

M'DOUGALL CASE ADJOURNED.

Crown Counsel Says Defence Does Not Want Client Tried.

Toronto, July 3.—When Judge Winchester yesterday announced himself ready for the trial of Alfred McDougall, his counsel, E. A. Du Vernet played another card for the defence by stating that Judge Winchester had no jurisdiction to try the case, that Judge Morgan had no right to refer the matter to another judge, but should sit on the case himself, being now fully seized of all the facts. Affidavits were read from Drs. W. J. Wilson and John Ferguson relating that McDougall was in a very critical state, and excitement would cause death. H. H. Dewart, for the Crown, replying to Mr. Du Vernet, said: "I take it that my learned friend does not desire his client to be tried at all." Judge Winchester said that the prisoner, having elected trial by judge, is amenable for trial before any county judge. The Crown asked for a further adjournment to have doctors examine McDougall as to whether he can ever be tried or not, and the case will be called again next Wednesday.

St. Joseph's Hospital.

The letter in yesterday's Examiner signed by Rev. Father McColl, referring to the work of the St. Joseph's Hospital, is worthy of serious consideration. There can be no room for a difference of opinion as to the good work accomplished by this institution. The sick of all denominations are admitted and the same unremitting care given to each patient. It is an institution that is worthy of hearty support. The Hospital management is to be commended for the means which it is adopting to obtain the necessary funds with which to continue the good work.

SUDDEN DEATH OF MR. G. W. HALL.

A Well Known Citizen Passes Away Unexpectedly.

An Attack of Apoplexy Does the Fatal Work.

This morning the intelligence of the sudden death of Mr. George W. Hall, a well-known and life-long resident of the town, was heard with surprise and regret. Last evening Mr. Hall was moving about the streets in his usual good health and spirits, and retired, without having complained of any illness. At about four o'clock this morning the family was awakened by sounds of moaning made by Mr. Hall, who was sleeping alone. He was found unconscious, and breathing stertorously. Medical assistance was at once summoned and the illness was pronounced apoplexy. In spite of the most strenuous efforts to give relief, Mr. Hall remained unconscious to the time of his death, which took place at eight o'clock this morning.

The deceased gentleman was 52 years of age, and was born, and has lived, all his life in Peterborough. He was a son of the late Wm. Hall, who conducted a saddlery business in Peterborough many years ago. Mr. Hall learned the tinsmithing business with Mr. Jas. Stevenson, when the latter was in that business here. Mr. Hall for some time conducted a biscuit and confectionery manufactory, but his establishment, which was situated in the Morgan buildings, on Water street, was destroyed by fire in 1883, and was not re-opened. Since that time Mr. Hall has been variously employed. He also conducted a grocery business on his own premises, corner of Aylmer and Simcoe streets.

Mr. Hall was a member of the Masonic Order, Peterborough Lodge, No. 155. He was also an enthusiastic and prominent member of the Orange Society, a member of L.O.L. No. 80, and also of the Royal Black Knights. He has been an active Orangeman since eighteen years of age.

He will be well remembered by thousands in this district as a prominent figure in Orange parades on July 12th—generally mounted upon a white horse—in fact it is stated that he had already engaged a white horse for the coming Twelfth of July.

Mr. Hall leaves behind him a widow and six children, five sons and one daughter. The sons are William Everett of St. Catharines, and the others reside in town. Miss Florence Hall, his only daughter, is a vocalist of unusual prominence and promise.

He has one brother, Mr. Jos. A. K. Hall, of Spokane, Wash. Mr. Hall was an attendant at the Charlotte street Methodist church, and in politics a staunch Conservative.

Funeral under Masonic auspices from the family residence, corner of Simcoe and Aylmer streets, on Sunday afternoon at three o'clock.

Mr. Morley Robinson, and family, of Marysville, Kansas, after an absence of twenty-five years, are in town, the guests of Mrs. Robinson's aunt, Mrs. W. M. Fair.

Dr. H. A. Galloway, of Toronto, who is occupying a Lodge on Eagle Mount, is an enthusiastic fisher. On Wednesday, the first of July, accompanied by two friends from Peterborough, the doctor paddled over to Love-Sick Lake, and on the trip thirteen fine maskinonge were caught. It is a poor day for fishing when Dr. Galloway gets left.

Master Harold Sharp, who is a guest of Dr. H. A. Galloway at Eagle Mount, Stony Lake, caught a fine maskinonge which weighed 19 1-2 lbs., on Wednesday evening. The fish was caught not far from Mr. Nugent's cottage. Harold, who as the young son of Mr. S. J. Sharp, steamship agent of the C.P.R., 61 Brunswick avenue, Toronto, is justly proud of the result of his first attempt at fishing. He intends having the fish mounted, as a memento of his visit to Stony Lake.

A Successful Salesman.

Master Herbie Johnson, who for some time has been the successful representative in Peterborough of the Curtis Publishing Company, selling the Saturday Evening Post, has just received a notice from them to the effect that he is one of three young men in Ontario who may compete for a special prize, which is nothing less than a free trip to the St. Louis World's Fair with all expenses, including $15.00 a week for board, paid. Master Herbie is an energetic salesman and it is indeed an honour and a tribute to his salesmanship qualities that he has been able to make himself eligible to compete for this desirable prize.

57TH REGIMENT'S ANNUAL OUTING.

Dominion Day Was Spent in Picton.

PLEASANT TRIP TO GLENORA

The Men Spent a Highly Delightful Time—Mayor Boulter's Address and Notes on the Trip.

The 57th Regiment arrived in Picton at 3.15 o'clock on Dominion Day and it is felt that every officer, non-commissioned officer and man spent a delightful time and enjoyed themselves as soldiers only can.

The regiment left its armouries at 8.30 o'clock and marched to the G.T.R. station, accompanied by both bands, on the eve of Dominion Day. Great numbers of persons witnessed the departure of the men, who turned out to the strength of about 250. The staff was composed of:—Major Dennistoun, Paymaster; Major Hayes, Captain V. Eastwood, Quartermaster; Surgeon-Major Halliday and Major A. Stevenson, Acting Adjutant. Lt.-Col. J. W. Miller was in command with Major Stevenson as second in charge. Lt.-Col. Rogers was also present.

Shortly before the train started out of the station, rain commenced to descend, this ended in a downpour which lasted until about six o'clock Wednesday morning.

On arrival at Picton the battalion was formed and marched to the agricultural grounds where they were quartered in a grandstand. The officers and band had separate tents.

Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather and the very early hour of the day the regiment was welcomed to Picton by His Worship Mayor Boulter and other gentlemen.

THE PARADE.

At seven o'clock in the morning the men were marched in companies to the different hotels where they had their meals, the companies changing hotels in order that all might get served alike. At 1.30 o'clock in the afternoon the men paraded the town which was very beautifully decorated with flags and bunting. Streamers were stretched across the street bearing mottoes as "Welcome, 57th Thrice Welcome," "God Bless and Protect Our Soldier Boys," and many other similar ones.

The officers present were:—
No. 1 Company, Captain Cluxton and Lieut. Wilson.
No. 2 Company, Captain Clegg.
No. 3 Company, Captain Mills and Lieut. Dr. Ames.
No. 4 Company, Captain Hounsell and Lieut. Smith.
No. 5 Company, Captain Bennett.
No. 6 Company, Lieuts. F. Clarke and R. Watt.
No. 7 Company, Lieut. McWilliams.
No. 8 Company, Lieut. McPherson.
Chaplain Rev. J. C. Davidson was also in attendance.

After the 57th Regiment came the Deseronto band, while the rear was brought up by 28 old and hardy veterans. The town was filled with numbers of strangers, in fact one of the local newspapers stated that ten thousand persons witnessed the parade, while the population of the town is under 4,000.

After the parade the men were drawn up on the grounds, the Peterborough boys cheering wildly as the aged veterans took up their position on the left wing.

Rev. J. C. Davidson then delivered a stirring speech which had a decidedly noticeable effect. He exhorted the men not to dishonour the prestige of the King's uniform, the 57th Regiment and the town of Peterborough.

Mayor Boulter, who also spoke, referred to the honour it was to Picton to have such a soldierly regiment visit there. He repeatedly expressed a hope that the 57th would again visit them.

The men were then dismissed for the rest of the day.

THE BALL.

In the evening a ball was given in the Crystal Palace, at which Col. Rogers, Col. Miller and the officers of the visiting regiment were present.

The ball room was brilliantly decorated for the occasion, and the event was a very delightful one. It is estimated that there must have been nearly two hundred persons present.

On Thursday the men were allowed the whole day off. In the morning they either paraded the streets in groups, or else went out driving at the expense of some good humoured citizen of the town, while in the afternoon they were taken for a trip down the Bay to Glenora. Mr. A. W. Hepburn courteously placed his steam yacht at the disposal of the officers.

Many of the men visited the wonderful "Lake on the Mountain," the surface of which is said to be 175 feet above the foot of the hill. They returned about four o'clock.

In the evening at seven o'clock the visit was brought to a close with an informal reception given on the grounds by Colonel Miller and the officers of the 57th Regiment to the Mayor, officers of the 16th Regiment and other leading citizens.

THE MAYOR'S ADDRESS.

The Mayor took the opportunity to read the following address:

To Lieut.-Col. J. W. Miller, Commanding the 57th Bat. Light Infantry, Peterborough, Ont.

Officers and Men, Gentlemen,—It affords me a very great deal of pleasure to welcome you on this the occasion of your second visit to Picton as a regiment—on behalf of the citizens, I speak for them as a unit. I desire to say to you that we feel keenly, and justly appreciate the fine compliment you have paid us by selecting our town as the one spot you would graciously honour with your presence in this holiday of your regiment known throughout Canada in the front rank of our Canadian Militia regiments, and throughout the civilized world as forming an integral part of that body of men who so recently lifted the Maple Leaf on high to soar above the lofts of fame and shine forth in glory on the battle fields of South Africa; branding our brave boys heroes in the eyes of nations and forcing recognition of brave deeds in that history,—making epoch of evolution, when the Lion's cub jumped at one bound into the forefront of greatness, to sparkle as the first star in the British Crown, pure and priceless an aid to empire building.

I sincerely trust your visit will be rife with pleasurable incidents, which will mark some bright spot in the memories of each, to which you will be able in the years to come to look back to this time; and lifting the veil of the almost forgotten past renew acquaintance in memory with the citizens of Picton, who are delighted and thrice glad to make you welcome.

I have the honour to be Sirs,
Your Obedient Servant,
WELLINGTON BOULTER,
Mayor Town of Picton.

Picton, July 1st, 1903.

He then addressed a few personal remarks of appreciation on the behaviour of the Regiment, which he termed as being exceptionally good, and spoke of the entire absence of drunkenness and bad language. He also stated that the Chief of Police was well satisfied with the conduct of the men, and in conclusion remarked on the enlivening time which Picton people had spent during the visit of the Regiment.

Lt.-Colonel Miller replied on behalf of the Regiment, and after thanking the Mayor for his complimentary address and the hospitality he had extended towards the Regiment, spoke of the service which the militia was to the country. He spoke of the faith he had in the men under his command, which faith he was pleased to say, was stronger than ever. His stirring speech was followed by some remarks from the district officer commanding, who spoke on the appearance of the Regiment as being second to none in the District. He also dwelt upon the pleasure it gave him to annually inspect the men.

Capt. Carter, of the 16th Regiment, Mr. Young, and Canon Loucks, also added a few complimentary remarks.

Major Dennistoun, in a few words, referred particularly to the warm hospitality which had been extended to the Regiment as a unit, and the success of the arrangements. He stated that of course the officers had spent a highly enjoyable time, but what pleased them most was the knowledge that the men had had quite as enjoyable a time.

The local M.P.P. also added a few remarks of a very complimentary nature, while Rev. J. C. Davidson contributed a song.

Before "Auld Lang Syne" and "God Save the King" were sung, and the subsequent breaking up of the reception, the company was photographed.

The regiment marched to the station in column of sections, and were bidden adieu by a very large number of people.

The entire battalion it is felt, had a really delightful time, and many expressions of regret that the visit had not been longer, were heard on all sides. Description cannot suit itself in words to demonstrate the hospitality of the Picton people, whose inimitable arrangements were highly successful in every detail. One might with confidence say, that although the men have been on several trips, this last one to Picton, has perhaps been the most enjoyable of all.

NOTES.

An historic feature of the town is a very anoient and majestic tree, which to any one who has visited the old country, with its ancestral trees, will suggest pleasant reminiscences.

Owing to the exhibition given yesterday it is rumoured that the 57th is thinking of arranging a fire brigade corps as well as a comic concert company.

The colours, owing to their extreme war worn condition, were carried furled, a rather unusual thing.

The band must be complimented on the success they met with when they serenaded the Mayor of Picton.

The officers held a court martial on their car coming home. The prisoner, owing to the excellent manner in which Capt. Hayes defended, was honourably acquitted. Justice is blind—so was the prisoner.

Due credit must be given to the Regimental Band, which, under the leadership of Mr. Gliddon, scored a complete success, and pleasantly surprised the Picton people.

Sergt.-Major Brittain is to be complimented on the fine appearance of the men, who, when on and off duty, conducted themselves like soldiers should.

The press representatives, especially of the Examiner, are indebted to the officers for their bounteous hospitality.

OBITUARY.

Death of Mr. Wm. Spenceley.

The death occurred this morning at his residence, 845 Water street, of Mr. William Spenceley, after an illness of only about three weeks, the cause of his death being inflammation of the veins. The late Mr. Spenceley, who was 66 years of age, came to this country when about 6 years old, and has resided in Peterborough ever since. He was a man highly respected by all who knew him, and was a member of the Sons of England, which body will conduct the funeral services to-morrow at 4 o'clock to Little Lake Cemetery.

THEY STILL COME.

Capitalists who Propose Establishing Large Industries Here.

A special meeting of the Committee of the whole Council was held last night to meet representative capitalists from the United States who are contemplating establishing extensive industries in some Canadian city where conditions are most favourable. They spent some little time here visiting the most suitable sites, and making inquiries as to power, shipping facilities, etc., and expressed themselves as being much pleased with the appearance of Peterboroguh and considered it admirably suited for the line of industries which they propose to operate. They left town giving the Council the impression that they would be heard from again in the near future, and the aldermen express themselves as being confident that the result of the visit of these gentlemen will be the establishment of important manufacturing industries here.

Disgraceful Conduct.

It is to be regretted that young men, who are expected to act with a certain degree of manliness, sometimes so far forget themselves as to commit acts which would be severely punished even in the case of a child, and which in young men are entirely inexcusable. The other evening a gentleman and his wife were sitting quietly in the Little Lake cemetery, when they noticed themselves being made the target at which stones were being thrown, and upon looking for the offenders were surprised to find that instead of it being the work of small boys, two young men who, in years at least, have reached manhood, were the perpetrators. Not only were the stones being thrown at the lady and gentleman, but the monuments were also being defaced in the same manner. This is an offence which should be severely dealt with, and if it is repeated, the authorities will doubtless be communicated with.

ST. LUKE'S SOCIAL.

Ladies of Women's Auxiliary Provide Most Enjoyable Entertainment.

After having been postponed, owing to unfavourable weather conditions, the garden party and lawn social given by the Women's Auxiliary of St. Luke's church, was held last night at the beautiful grounds and residence of Mrs. W. J. Scott, Water street, and notwithstanding the fact that it followed so closely upon a holiday, the evening's entertainment was a pronounced success. The grounds were very prettily decorated and illuminated with Chinese lanterns and coloured electric lights, the wiring for which was done by Messrs. Alexander & Miller.

The members of the Auxiliary were assisted in the work of providing entertainment for those present by a number of charming young ladies of the congregation, whose pleasing manner and the alacrity with which they supplied the wants of the visitors, added materially to the enjoyment of the evening.

No formal programme was attempted, but the ladies of the auxiliary, by their genial smiles and hospitable manner, succeeded in giving everyone a pleasant evening.

The auxiliary is to be congratulated on the success of the social, and it is gratifying to know that the financial side was entirely satisfactory.

THE LATEST NEWS OF LOCAL SPORT.

LACROSSE.

Word was received this afternoon from Port Hope to the effect that it would be impossible for a team to come up from that town to battle with T.A.S. Saturday, and intimating that Port Hope would likely withdraw from Junior C.L.A. The locals went to the expense of advertising the game, and cannot understand the action of the Port Hope lacrossists.

• • • •

The management of the T. A. S. Lacrosse Club met last evening and decided to arrange a series of weekly games with teams in the district. Accordingly arrangements were completed for a game to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock with the strong Ontarios of Port Hope, on the Murray street grounds. This will be an interesting game and one that will draw a big crowd of lacrosse enthusiasts. The return game will be played in Port Hope next Wednesday. Games will also be arranged with Hastings, Beaverton, Orillia and the Toronto Junction Shamrocks, who will likely be down during the Peterborough Old Boys' celebration. Lindsay will in all probability be accommodated with a home game on July 11th and will play the return game here the following week. The struggle with Port Hope to-morrow will be the opening of the series of games under arrangement and the locals hope to provide their supporters and friends with a good quality of lacrosse.

• • • •

Brantford at Montreal proved to be rather a harder proposition than the Shamrocks had figured on, and the opinion seems to be fairly general that the western bunch will turn the tables to-morrow when the game will be played under C.L.A. rules.

TENNIS.

A number of Peterborough tennis players visited Toronto Dominion Day and spent a most enjoyable time. The following is the Toronto Star's report of it:—

A very enjoyable time was spent at the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club yesterday, when a match between ten ladies and gentlemen of the Peterborough Club and a home team was played, under the friendliest and pleasantest auspices. Quite a large crowd congregated at the pretty courts during the day and watched the different events with great interest. One very exciting one between Mr. Severs and Mrs. Burgess vs. Miss Taylor, of Toronto, who kindly consented to play for Peterborough, and Mr. Kerr, occupied the hour immediately before dinner, and, the sides being pretty evenly matched made it difficult for those watching it to leave before the finish, which resulted in favour of the Victorias. In fact the home club won ten out of the fourteen events, but no doubt profitted to a certain extent by the fact that the visitors had arisen very early and travelled a distance which hardly put them in the best condition on such a hot day for the game. Tea was served by the ladies of the club at five o'clock, and about sixty persons were present, among whom were Mrs. Alfred Jones, Mrs. Glackmeyer, Mr. and Mrs. Burgess, Mrs. Walter Stikeman, Mrs. Arthur Sprague, Miss Florence Sprague, the Misses Clarkson Jones, the Misses Neville Parker, Miss Proctor, Mrs. Beatty, Miss Alice Cooke, Miss Florence Baird, Miss Louise Henderson, of Montreal, Miss Frances Colly-Foster, Miss Hazel Hedley, Mr. Playter, Mr. Morley Whitehead, Mr. Harry Millan, Miss Morrison, Mr. Walter Sadler, Mr. Severs, and others. The Peterborough team was represented by Miss A. Hall, Miss Aileen Rogers, Miss M. Rogers, Miss Pearl Lundy and Miss Taylor of Toronto; Mr. F. D. Kerr, Mr. Hal. Burnham, Mr. Bonnell, Mr. Bruce White, and Mr. Frank Bradburn. — Toronto Star, (Thursday, July 2nd.)

Mr. Burnham and Mr. Bonnell won their matches in the singles as did also Miss Taylor in the ladies' singles. Mr. Kerr and Mr. White winning in their match in the men's doubles. Many of the other games were closely contested. Mr. Bradburn and Miss M. Rogers playing a very plucky game in the mixed doubles.

The Peterborough players cannot say too much in praise of the kindness and courtesy shewn by the Victoria Club members.

LAWN BOWLING.

The Dominion Lawn Bowling Tournament will be held on the R.C.Y. Club grounds, Toronto Island, on Monday next, 6th July. Peterborough Club has entered one rink.

BASEBALL.

The St. Paul's-George street game scheduled for to-night, has been postponed on account of the St. Paul's excursion, and will be played on Monday at 7 o'clock.

• • • •

Mr. Jos. Wright will umpire the game.

• • • •

The Lindsay players did not take kindly to their defeat on Monday, as the following clipping from the Post shows:—"Some of the hoodlums, assisted by the small boys, who could only see the merits of the Peterborough bunch, fearing a defeat of their favourites, became rather anxious and commenced their dirty work. They crowded in on the diamond, and despite the efforts of a special constable they would not keep back, but kept up a continual flow of insulting language. Not being satisfied with that, they proved far more obnoxious by hurling tin cans, pieces of wood and small stones at the Lindsay players. Mr. Cinnamon, who, by the way, did some coaching, was hooted at shamefully, and he says small stones were hurled at him by spectators on the fence. Mr. Stinson, at first base, was the victim of the tin cans. But to make matters all the worse, the Lindsayites had to face a very partial umpire. He called strikes on Lindsay players before they had a chance to get to the bat, and gave the red and grey the worst end of the deal all through. When the Excelsiors and Auburns visited Lindsay they were treated like gentlemen at the hands of the Lindsay spectators, but we regret to say our boys can't say that of Peterborough people.

• • • •

The scheduled game for to-morrow afternoon in the City League between Auburns and Pullmans, has been postponed indefinitely.

TURF.

Peterborough horses are just a little faster than the ordinary. The Globe reports a meet in Stratford, in which George Powell's horse won first money.

Stratford, July 2. — The concluding day races of the local meet furnished as much, if not more, excitement than either of the previous days. In the 2.29 pace, after the second heat, the driver of Miss May was changed, it being alleged by some of the spectators that she was not driven out, and the third heat saw a fast race, Miss May forcing Sphinx B. under the wire in 2.15 1-4. This, the judge declared, was the best time ever on a track in Canada in a 2.29 event. In this heat Miss May fell, but was pulled up and finished the heat. The attendance was good and the card throughout a most interesting one. Summary:

6. In the case of a tie the above rules govern.
7. The above rules may be modified at the discretion of the officers of the above club.

The cup which was won by the Quakers on Dominion Day, was one sent in mistake from Toronto. It has been returned and will be replaced by one equally beautiful.

BOXING.

The Oriental Hotel will announce the result of the Root-Gardner fight by rounds to-morrow afternoon.

SPRINTING.

Mr. D. Belland, with a supporter, visited the Examiner office this morning, and in reference to the challenge issued by Mr. Corbett, in yesterday's Examiner, said that he would run Corbett five miles for a side bet of $200, which his supporter will deposit with any responsible person.

He will meet Mr. Corbett at the Examiner office on Saturday afternoon at two o'clock, to sign articles. He also stated that he would run 100 yards with Fred McGrath, giving him seven yards handicap.

CANOEING.

PETERBOROUGH AT ORILLIA.

The Trent Valley Canoe Club was represented at the Orillia regatta on Wednesday by Messrs. B. Stock and N. Bell, who were successful in winning four prizes.

The T.V.C.C. boys did well considering what they were up against, the Orillia club had 30 men entered—all crack paddlers, and the T.V.C. boys are to be congratulated on their fine showing.

The Peterborough boys cannot speak too highly of the Orillia paddlers, who are genuine sports and they certainly used our boys white.

The following is a list of the events:—

The first race entered was the men's tandem in which 16 canoes took part. Stock and Bell taking 3rd place.

Men's singles, in which 10 canoes entered, resulted in a very fast race in which N. Bell took 2nd place. Time for 1-4 mile was 1.25. He was beaten by only half a canoe length.

The T.V. boys took part in the war canoe race, and did their share in bringing the Orillia canoe to the front. This was a very exciting race, as there was 32 paddlers in the two canoes.

Three paddle—Stock, Bell, and Curran, (Orillia,) took part, taking 3rd place.

Four paddle—Bell, Stock and two Orillia men entered, finishing 3rd.

Upset, Double—Bell and E. Green, (Orillia,) entered, and were successful in landing the 2nd prize. This was a splendid exhibition, showing fast paddling and quick methods of bailing canoe. As there was a large number of entries, the boys did well.

Hurry Scurry—a race paddled with the hands, in which Bell and three Orillia paddlers took third place.

Flip—the last race, in which eight canoes entered, Bell took 2nd place, showing his skill in upsetting and righting his canoe.

The boys came home feeling quite proud, as the Orillia paddlers are the best in the land, and expect a large representation from Orillia to their regatta.

The prizes will be exhibited when received.

FOOTBALL.

The first of a series of home and home games to decide the championship in the Midland Football Association League, will be played at the oval to-night with Y.M.C.A. I. and Havelock as the opposing teams. This will be the most interesting game of the season. Havelock has won a majority of the games played in the Eastern section against teams from Warsaw, Cordova and Norwood, while the home team is the champion of the Western section, having defeated Bridgenorth, Omemee, Bethany and Millbrook.

Havelock has a strong team and the game to-night is bound to be hotly contested, and while the Y.M.C.A. feel confident as to the outcome, they recognize that this will be the heaviest proposition of the season.

Y. M. C. A. AND FOOTBALL.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—The Bridgenorth team was defeated by a much heavier team, the Y. M. C. A. I, and Peterborough loudly boasts of its victory. It was certainly no credit to them to do so, since it was a city of 14,000 against a village of 200; long-trained university men who play for the health and exercise gained thereby, against workingmen who play football as an evening diversion after their day's work, and who are only in their second year at the game. The city men are the finished gymnasium product, whereas the villagers are simply the raw material. The Y. M. C. A. is the headquarters of the Midland Football Association, and it is regarded as quite proper that it should be, but last Saturday night the true character of the team representing them was clearly shown. Y. M. C. A. means Young Men's Christian Association, with emphasis on the "Christian," yet here are some of the actions of the senior team:—

1. The ball used in last Saturday's game was to be an absolutely new ball, not chosen by either team. The "Y's" bought a new ball of their own choosing, brought it to Bridgnorth and practiced with it for half an hour and refused to allow a Bridgenorth player to kick it until the game commenced.

2. The referee was a man of their own choice and was prejudiced against Bridgenorth, since he had played in the "Y" II against them on May 23rd.

3. The "Y" team has framed a little rule of their own, concerning the manner in which a throw-in should be taken. According to their rule, the heels cannot be raised from the ground when in the act of throwing the ball in from the side line. This rule cannot be found in the rule book, and is used to get free kicks.

4. At the meeting of the representatives of the different clubs in the League it was distinctly understood that the two teams from the Y. M. C. A. were to be entirely separate, and no player was to be allowed to play in both teams. Last Saturday two of the Second team played with the first.

5. Bridgenorth cannot boast of its Christianity, yet its morality seems equal to that of their opponents, as was evidenced by the rather free use of slang and profane language by some members of the Peterborough team.

6. A Peterborough man handled the ball and the Bridgenorth men stopped playing and as a result a goal was scored on them. Scores of people (some from the Y.M.C.A.) testified that Bridgenorth was entitled to a free kick, but the player would not admit that he had violated the rules although he was perfectly aware of the fact.

Y.M.C.A. men are not all alike, as Mr. Might, goal umpire, and Mr. Shortel, lineman, acquitted themselves gallantly, and Mr. Ayres, Sec.-Treas. of the M.F.A. has tried to deal out justice to all concerned.

It was well known before the season opened that the Y.M.C.A. could place in the field a team capable of winning the championship and the cup, but they have every chance to do so, because of the large number from which they can choose players. The Y.M.C.A. encourages legitimate sport and its gymnasium keeps up the spirit and the vim during the winter months when the country places are literally "dead."

The writer is not at all trying to depreciate the Y.M.C.A., but simply, to call attention to some of the doings of the football team, which has been sufficiently praised by the local press. The Bridgenorth team has received little credit, although it is the winner of Group II., and put up a good fight against the champions and the referee.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for allowing me this share of your valuable space, I remain as a GOOD WITNESS.

CUSTOMS RECEIPTS.

Satisfactory Increase for Fiscal Year Ending June 30th.

The customs receipts for Peterborough office for the fiscal year ending June 30th were $213,626.24, as compared with $147,393.49 for the previous year, showing an increase of $66,232.75. This increase illustrates the growing importance of Peterborough as a business centre and is an indication of the prosperity of the community of which Peterborough is the head.

There are few places of the size of Peterborough in Canada, which can produce such a satisfactory volume of customs business.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Auburn football team journeyed to Havelock Wednesday to play the local football team of that village, and as Auburn had a number of baseball players with them, the Havelock baseball team wanted a game. Auburn boys picked up a team and played them. Havelock proved easy, the Auburns winning by a score of 21 to 11. Meagher and Belleghem formed the battery for Auburn. After some sports and a tug-of-war had been run off in which Auburn also won, the football teams lined up. The Auburn boys were pretty tired after their other games and of course did not play the game they would have done had they gone out when they were fresh, nevertheless it was a good game, neither teams scoring in the first half, but in the last half Havelock seemed to be the fresher and after twenty-five minutes of play Havelock scored, the last five minutes Auburn woke up and had Havelock boys working hard when the referee blew his whistle for full time. Score, Havelock 1; Auburn, 0.

Remarkable Life History of Mr. Nat Boyd, Member for Marquette.

Nat. Boyd, the tall, well-favored, broad-shouldered rancher, who represents Marquette in the House of Commons, has had a remarkable life history, says The Toronto News. Twenty-odd years ago he was a telegraph operator in the House of Commons at Ottawa. He was known as one of the fastest "senders" in the Great Northwesten Telegraph Company's Parliamentary office. Many a hundred thousand words of news has he sent over the wire, and his future in the company's employ was assured.

But Boyd was not one of those homekeeping youths, who, we are assured, have "ever homely wits." He was determined not to remain a telegraph operator all his life. Not even the exalted position of manager in some country town had any attraction for him. He had been saving for some time, and had accumulated a good-sized bank account—for a youngster—when one day he announced to the manager that he intended to leave the company's staff. The manager, somewhat nettled at what he believed to be bad judgment, accepted the resignation, and in a few days Nat Boyd walked out of the Parliament Buildings.

The next time he entered thereinto he was the member-elect for the constituency of Marquette. Boyd, after leaving the telegraph company, wasted no time in Ontario. He had heard many stories of the potential richness of Manitoba as a stock-raising country, and he headed steaight for Winnipeg. There he formed a partnership with a young chap about his own age, and together they took up two square miles of land. At first cattle raising was their chief business, but ere long Boyd decided that there was more money in the horse business. His judgment has been vindicated, for to-day he has probably the greatest horse ranch in the West. He will have nothing but the best of sires and dams on his place, and he has fought and will continue to fight the the Government on its policy of allowing the importation of weedy and almost useless bronchos. Boyd believes that the horse business can be made second only to the wheat growing industries in Manitoba. He holds that there is plenty of room for a score of businesses as large as his; but he foresees nothing but disaster if the quality of the Manitoba horse is debased by the American bronchos.

Usually a very reserved man, Boyd waxes wroth when he discusses the question of duty on horses. He says that the question is by no means a partizan one. Some short-sighted farmers, he allows, are anxious to get the cheapest horse possible, even though he will not do two-thirds the work of the better bred animal. But these farmers are few in number. The average Manitoban, he says, is with him in demanding the erection of a customs barrier that shall exclude the "skates." Boyd announces that he is going to continue his fight until he wins. And Boyd usually wins. Libera members from the West are with him in the campaign. Boyd is the sort of man who will have the greatest chance of making an impression on Mr. Fielding, who has much more respect for common-sense argument than he has for mere eloquence.

THAT LANGUID FEELING

Is Not the Weather—It Means That You Want Toning Up—Try Dodd's Kidney Pills and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

These are the days of lassitude, the days when people have that languid feeling, when they would be satisfied to throw work and ambition to the winds, to sacrifice everything to the desire to rest.

You blame it on the weather.

It's not the weather, it's the condition of your system. It's all clogged up—you're run down. Your appetite is bad and your circulation is worse. If you want to feel bright and fresh, try a combined treatment of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and Kidney Pills. They will put an edge on your appetite, start your blood circulating and make you ready to enjoy your holidays. They've done it for others. Mrs. John A. Lawrence, of Maple Grove, N.S., has tried them. She says:—

"I have used six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and six boxes of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, and I have not enjoyed as good health for years."

Others will tell you the same. Try it.

Shipping Cinnamon.

Cinnamon is so extraordinarily sensitive that great care has to be taken with regard to its surroundings on board ship, as a bale of very fine cinnamon will lose much of its delicate aroma if packed among bales of coarser bark. Various expedients have been tried to remedy this. The Portuguese and Dutch isolated the bales by packing them in coconnut fiber or in cattle hides, but it is found that the only real safeguard is to pack bags of pepper between the bales.—"Two Happy Years In Ceylon."

BOWSER PLANTS SOME SEEDS

He Experiments In the Interest of Farmers and Gardeners

[Copyright, 1903, by C. B. Lewis.]

WHEN Mrs. Bowser discouraged Mr. Bowser from becoming a farmer, as related a short time since, she looked upon the agricultural question as settled for a year to come, but her hopes were to be dashed. He reached home the other afternoon with a package under his arm, and when she expressed her surprise at his coming home at that hour he explained:

"I thought I would do a little work in the back yard. I'm going to spade up part of it and do a little garden work."

"But it's no place for a garden," she protested.

"It's good enough for what I want. I'm going to experiment with a few seeds."

"How experiment? Why do you waste your time and money over fads?"

"Fads! Fads! Please don't apply that word to me. No man is clearer

HE PUT IN TWO GOOD HOURS WITH A SPADE

of fads than I am. I experiment now and then, but if Sir Isaac Newton, Franklin and Fulton hadn't done the same thing where would the world be today? Just now I'm going to experiment in the interest of farmers and gardeners. It may cost me a dollar and be worth millions to the country."

"And what is it?" she asked, knowing that he would carry it out anyway.

"Well, the question has arisen as to whether certain seeds planted by day or by night thrive the best. It is also a question as to the date of the month, whether it is odd or even. Strangely enough, no one has gone at it and settled the dispute."

"And it has been left for you?"

"Seemingly so. At any rate I'm going to try to. If planting certain seeds at night will hasten the growth by a week, as some claim, the world ought to know it. Again, if day planting is the best, our farmers should be posted. Take the matter of cucumbers, for instance. The crop last year amounted to 9,000,000 bushels. If it had been a week earlier it would have made a difference of tens of thousands of dollars to the farmers. You may call this a fad, but I tell you that it's a matter of worldwide importance, and the man who solves it is certain to be looked upon as a great philanthropist."

Mr. Bowser said no more, and he got into an old suit of clothes and put in two good hours with spade and rake in the back yard. He lost about three pounds of fat in doing it, but his ambition increased by a bushel and a half. Just before he was called in to dinner, the cook, who had been watching him and shaking her head in a solemn way, went upstairs to Mrs. Bowser and asked:

"Is he digging for dynamite, ma'am?"

"Oh, no! He's only going to plant a few seeds."

"And will there be a tornado or anything?"

"No."

"Because, ma'am, if anything is going to bust up or cave in I want to be out of the way before it happens. I'm the sole support of my mother, and she couldn't get along without my wages."

She was assured that everything was all right, and Mr. Bowser ate such a dinner as would have made a farmer's hired man decide that life was worth the living. His garden beds were all ready and he was only waiting for night to make his experiment.

"I shall plant cucumber, squash, melon and pumpkin seeds tonight," he explained to Mrs. Bowser, "and tomorrow try the same by daylight. This is an even day of the month, while tomorrow will be odd. It won't take over a fortnight to settle the question, and the results will be at once communicated to the agricultural department. Perhaps I may make a third experiment to see if the moon really influences vegetation. It is claimed by the farmers of some countries that it does."

"You'll have a lame back for a week and that'll be about all you'll have to report on," replied Mrs. Bowser as she surveyed the various seeds.

"And you'd probably rejoice if I had a lame back for a year. Some wives encourage their husbands to ambition, but you sit down on every aim I have and seek to squelch it. By John, but if I'd only married the right sort of woman I might have been in the White House by this time."

The trouble did not go further. She turned away and he took his seeds and hied him to his garden to wait for the shades of night. They were not long in arriving, and it was with a feeling in his soul that the agricultural world was about to be turned topsy turvy that his planted his various seeds and tagged the spots with date and hour. Then he sauntered up and down for half an hour among the clothespins, fruit cans and beer bottles to communicate with nature and went in. He had done all he could. If there were no cucumbers, squashes, melons and pumpkins to be picked on the morrow it would not be his fault. He had shown his interest and his willingness, and no man could do more.

He had scarcely entered the house when the full moon rose up slowly from the direction of Primrose alley. She was hired by the year and had no reason to hustle. The cats of the neighborhood rose up with the moon. Two or three of them had witnessed Mr. Bowser's planting as they skulked along the top of the fences, and the news that he had started several oyster beds was carried along the block. The felines assembled in knots and groups and sections, and while they spat and cuffed at each other they likewise came to an understanding on this subject of agriculture.

Mr. Bowser sat reading and smoking after his arduous labors when there was a long drawn yowl from the throats of fifty cats and a rush and a scramble.

"Good heavens, but what's that?" he exclaimed as he rose up and half expected to see the walls tumble in.

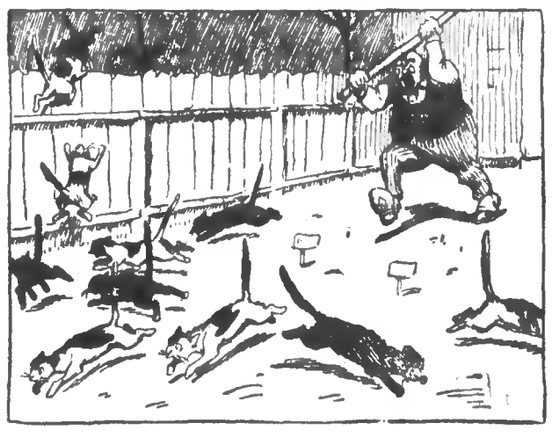
"Cats," quietly observed Mrs. Bowser.

"Cats? Where?"

"In the back yard, experimenting in agriculture."

Mr. Bowser rushed downstairs and out of doors coatless and hatless, and the sight that confronted him made his heart stand still.

Half a hundred cats were tumbling over his garden beds. They were of all sizes and colors, one eyed, squint eyed and bobtailed, but all ambitious. They had scratched up his seeds and leveled his beds and wrought desolation.



WITH A CLOTHES PROP IN HIS GRASP HE RUSHED UP TO THEM TO SLAY.

With a clothes prop in his grasp he rushed up to them to slay, but they vanished like the morning dew and mocked him as they went. By and by he laid down the prop and re-entered the house and stood before Mrs. Bowser. His face was flushed, his ears worked and his eyes glared, and he balanced on his toes as he tried to give utterance to his feelings.

"Yes, I am to blame for it," she said, "and your lawyer will see my lawyer in the morning and arrange for the divorce."

The Toothbrush.

If a new toothbrush is soaked for ten minutes or more in cold water and then thoroughly dried before using the bristles are much less likely to come out. All brushes which are wet daily should be dried as far as possible in the air and sun. The toothbrush should be frequently renewed. It is not possible to keep one long and have it fit for the mouth. The very conditions of its use make it wise to change it often. Therefore let the rule be cheap toothbrushes and many of them in a year.

PLENTY TO TALK ABOUT.

High up on the side of Cumberland mountain a traveler found a cabin in such a lonely place that he wondered how the old mountaineer and his wife entertained each other.

"Do you and your wife see many people here?"

"Scarcely ever see anybody, suh," was his reply.

"Then you have to depend entirely upon yourselves for society?"

"That's it, suh."

"And what do you find to talk about?" the visitor continued, having noticed that neither was inclined to conversation.

"What do we find, Martha?" he appealed to her.

"Heaps, I reckon," she said. "When breakfast is ready in the morning I says to you to sot down to co'n coffee and hoecake."

"Yes."

"When it's noon and you are hanging about I says that hoecake and co'n coffee is ready."

"Yes."

"And when it's candlelight I sort of jerks my head, and you hitches up to sorghum and hoecake and wants to know why we don't have bacon. Ain't that talk enough, stranger?"

"But there are the evenings," said the traveler.

"Yes, thar's the evenings, of co'se, and I says I reckon it will be a fine day tomorrer, and Jeb he reckons the same thing, and we wind up the clock and go to bed. Oh, I don't reckon we are suffering to death for the want of somebody to gab to."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Cause For Thanks.

When Colonel "Joe" Rickey was quite a young man he had occasion to employ a lawyer to collect a bill against a business man with whom he had had a number of dealings. As he had never before retained counsel he went to the lawyer his father had always employed and placed the claim in his hands. The lawyer collected the amount, $276, and notified young Rickey to call for the money. In due time he called, and, after waiting for some time, was shown into the private office.

"Good morning, Joseph," said the lawyer. "I'm glad to see you are so prompt in attending to business. I have your money for you."

Then ensued a general conversation for a few minutes, in which the lawyer said among other things: "Joseph, I knew your father well and for many years, and I knew your grandfather well and for almost as many years. They were fine men."

"Yes, sir," replied Rickey, "but as I am in a hurry, sir, I would like to get my money and go."

"All right, Joseph. I will charge you even money. I will take $200 for my fee, and give you the $76," said the lawyer as he handed the money over.

"Very well, sir," said Rickey, "and I am thankful you did not know my great-grandfather too."

The Gentleman.

The gentleman is a man of truth, lord of his own actions and expressing that lordship in his behavior, not in any manner dependent and servile either on persons or opinions or possessions. Beyond this fact of truth and real force the word denotes good nature and benevolence, manhood first and then gentleness.—Emerson.

Nervous Dyspepsia

Indigestion, Headache and Dizzy Spells the Result of Exhausted Nerves—Lasting Cure Effected by

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

A certain amount of nervous energy is necessary to stimulate the digestive organs in their work. When the nerves are weakened and exhausted and nerve force lacking, or when nervous energy is consumed in excessive mental labour or over-exertion of other organs, digestion is impaired, and headaches and dizzy spells come on.

This is why so many brain-workers, business and professional men and women, and others complain of indigestion, sleeplessness and accompanying ills. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food permanently cures each and every ailment resulting from weak blood and exhausted nerves. It is the most satisfactory treatment obtainable for nervous dyspepsia and indigestion.

Mrs. M. A. Sharp, 346 Dublin street, Peterborough, Ont., states:—"For some years I was troubled with indigestion, which developed into nervous dyspepsia, and besides suffering from nervousness, strange dizzy spells would come over me. Hearing of the good results obtained from Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, I decided to try it. After a pretty thorough test of this medicine, I can say that I never used anything that did me so much good. It seemed to be the very treatment that I needed, and as a result of its use, I am quite restored to health."

By noting your increase in weight while using this great food cure, you can prove for a certainty that it is adding new, firm flesh and tissue to the body. Through the medium of the blood and nerves, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food sends new vigour and energy to every organ of the human system, and overcomes disease. 50 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

MR. WILLIAM (BUNTY) SMITH

By G. W. Ogden

Copyright, 1902, by T. C. McClure

To designate Smith from Smith, both being named William, the people of Tow Head Junction resorted to the primitive expedient of rechristening them according to their distinct physical characteristics. William Smith, the widower, was tall, so they gave him the name of Shanghai; William Smith, the bachelor, was short, and for twenty years they had spoken to and of him as Bunty. Neither enjoyed a middle name, and neither was resourceful enough to supply a distinguishing initial. The postmaster at Tow Head Junction never knew whether a letter was for Shanghai or for Bunty. He could generally place postal cards in the proper box by studying their contents.

Bunty, by reason of lack of experience, had matrimonial aspirations. Shanghai, who lived at the other end of the village street, was resting in full enjoyment of the respite death had given him from a somewhat overstrenuous term in the yoke. When he tired of his own cooking, he went and stayed with his married daughter a week. Bunty had been seriously considering the Widow Dunnigen for three years. He had gone over the ground and knew she was ready to become a member of his household upon invitation. Just as he had made up his mind to make his formal proposal he received a matrimonial paper through the mail. At least he got it out of the post office, and it was addressed to William Smith. The sender may have intended it for Shanghai.

That paper opened a new perspective to Bunty. He never dreamed that the matrimonial market offered such possibilities. It became plain to him that he had been fooling away his time with the Widow Dunnigen, faded, somewhat wrinkled and owning but twenty-five acres of bottom land. Here were ladies—the paper spoke of them always as "ladies"—who appeared willing to marry anybody, and some of them had $25,000 in cash. Bunty opened correspondence. To make sure his letters would not fall into the hands of Shanghai, he directed the ladies to address them thus: "William (Bunty) Smith."

William (Bunty) Smith soon began to receive no fewer than two letters from each mail. The superscription was so unmistakably feminine that the postmaster mentioned it to the loungers. They twitted Bunty and told him he would prejudice his chances with the Widow Dunnigen if he persisted in his trifling with ladies' hearts by mail. Bunty laughed. He could marry the Widow Dunnigen any day, he thought. What he was after was bigger fish. He finally sifted the choice down to two. According to their uncontroverted statements one was a widow with $12,000 in mining stock, the other a maiden lady of means. Her mysterious reserve on the question of means led Bunty to believe she must at least own a bank, possibly a railroad. To these ladies he sent his photograph, taken ten years previously, when he attended the Grand Army encampment. He also gave them to understand that he was able to support a wife as a wife should be supported and that he did not so much value means as a faithful heart and a face free from wrinkles.

Bunty made progress. He arranged with the two women to meet him on a certain day in the city, twenty miles from Tow Head Junction, one at the union station at one hour, the other at the post office at another. One was to wear a pink, the other a white rose. Bunty marked himself apart from all mankind by tying a red ribbon in his lapel buttonhole. He did not go to the post office that morning, but took the 9:10 train for the city. When Shanghai went after his mail the postmaster handed him a letter. "Ain't for Bunty, I reckon," he said, "as it's addressed jist William." Shanghai opened the letter and read:

Dear William—Looking at the map, I see Tow Head Junction is very near the city. I find the first train from the city reaches Tow Head Junction fifteen minutes before the train you will leave on gets there, so I have decided to go to Tow Head. Meet me on the station platform. I will wear a pink. CAROLINE.

"Must be for Bunty," Shanghai reflected as he set out to look him up. Jim Daniels said he saw Bunty at the depot and that he heard him ask for a ticket to the city. Before Shanghai got there the 9:10 came, but the train from the city had not arrived. At the depot they said it was thirty minutes late.

Bunty was to meet Caroline at the union station in the city at 10 o'clock. Caroline was the maiden lady with means. He had named 1 o'clock as the hour for seeing the widow who held the mining stock at the post office. The widow also consulted time tables and maps. She found that she could get a train to Tow Head Junction that would put her down there at 8:55 and that she could return to the city at noon. She decided to run out and look the place over. So when the train from the city which should have arrived at Tow Head before Bunty left stopped two women got off. One wore a pink pinned to her bosom, the other a white rose. The one adorned by the rose was fat, short, broad faced and masculine.

The tall woman scanned the men on the station platform. There was not a gleam of red ribbon on any of them.

"Is Mr. William Smith here?" she asked the agent.

"That tall gentleman over there," he answered, pointing out Shanghai, who, having missed Bunty, had forgotten the letter and Caroline. The fat woman, who was standing near, with hands on her hips and a valise between her feet, critically surveying the peaceful, dusty landscape whereon Tow Head was a dot, heard the query and answer. She picked up her grip and headed for Shanghai. The tall one reached him first.

"Is this Mr. William Smith?" she said.

Shanghai bowed. "That's my name," he replied.

"Well," said the tall one. "I am Caroline."

The fat one approached. "Is this Smith—William Smith?" was her stern query.

"The same, madam," Shanghai answered, somewhat confused at the attention.

"I am Maudie," she explained.

Light dawned on Shanghai. "Ladies," said he, "I am William Smith, but not your William. He is known as Bunty. I am Shanghai."

Confusion followed. The women accused each other of treachery and Shanghai of deceit. They drew a crowd.

"If you will walk up the road with me, I may be able to explain," Shanghai suggested. They went. Half an hour later the fat one returned. She told the agent she had been tricked and deceived by William, otherwise Bunty, Smith and that she would not live in a hole like Tow Head for all the Smiths in the world. Shanghai and the tall one came along later. They all took the 11:05 train for the city.

Bunty kept his tryst faithfully and returned, downcast and disappointed, to Tow Head on the 6:15. He did not see Shanghai and his female companion until they stepped from the train at home. Then Shanghai took a letter from his pocket and handed it to Bunty. "She forgot to put the 'Bunty' on the envelope this time," he said, "an' so she found me 'stead o' you. Now she's my wife."

Bunty looked at the letter. "Car'line," said he. Then he studied Caroline's face. "Well, Shanghai," he said, "you're welcome to her."

Bunty called on the Widow Dunnigen early that evening. He sighed contentedly as he settled down in a rocker on her front porch. How much better were the simple pleasures of life, after all, than the race for conquest and riches!

"Guess we might as well git married, Betty," he remarked conclusively.

Betty laughed. "You're too late, Bunty," she said. "I promised Jake Laster two weeks ago while you was a-courtin' them other women by mail."

Bad Roads in Alberta.

Mr. A. W. Crysler's letter from Leduc, Alberta, on the condition of Western raids, is in keeping with many complaints which have appeared in the newspapers of the Territories. A route which has received especially severe criticism is the wagon road from Edmonton to Athabasca Landing. This is a very important line of communication, for over it passes the immense amount of freight needed in the great district of Athabasca, as well as a weekly mail and a considerable messenger service. "Even in the present state of the road," writes a correspondent of The Edmonton Bulletin, "between 20 and 25 freight outfits are now trying to pull through it, some of them being as long as 10 and 12 days on the road trying to reach the Landing." The principal need seems to be the following of a systematic plan in road-making.

Good Roads Progress.

No less than 120 townships, or 20 per cent. of the total number of settled townships in Ontario, have commuted statute labor. This fact is announced in the seventh annual report of the Commissioner of Highways, Mr. A. W Campbell. A list of the townships which have taken this forward step and made provision for a systematic road improvement is given, together with interesting reports on their actual experience from most of them. The report is a most comprehensive one, and gives an encouraging account of the outlook for better roads. A large number of illustrations are used, giving point to a vast amount of information, specifications, and plans, which will make the report of value in every corner of Ontario.

Out of Plumb.

When the wall is out of plumb the building is more or less unsafe, and the higher the wall is carried out of the perpendicular the greater the danger of collapse. It's about so with the health; it is out of plumb when the digestion is impaired, when there is a dull, sluggish feeling, with nervousness, irritability and sleeplessness. Every day that these symptoms are neglected increases the liability to physical collapse.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It purifies the blood and cures nervousness, irritability and sleeplessness by curing the diseases in which they originate.

"For three years I suffered untold agony," writes Mrs. H. R. White, of Stanstead, Stanstead Co., Quebec. "I would have spells of trembling and being sick at my stomach, pain in right side all the time; then it would work up into my stomach and—such distress it is impossible to describe. I wrote to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, stating my case to them, and they very promptly answered and told me what to do. I took eight bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and five vials of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Thanks to Dr. Pierce and his medicine I am a well woman to-day. Dr. Pierce's medicines also cured my mother of liver complaint from which she has been a sufferer for fifteen years. We highly recommend these medicines to all suffering people."

The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, containing 1008 pages, is given away. Send 31 one-cent stamps for expense of customs and mailing only, for the book in paper covers, or 50 stamps for the volume bound in cloth. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

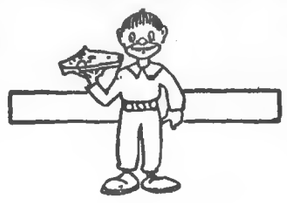
THE JOY THAT WAS

I WISH I were a child again
And free from worldly cares,
To gallop free and wild again,
Unmindful of the snares;
I wish that I might try again
To see if I could hold
A piece of mother's pie again
Upside down as of old,
And, starting at the pointed place,
Just let it sozzle through my face.



I wish that I could fare again
Far from the roar and whir
And be a boy out there again
To softly plead with her,
And when she cut the pie again
And handed me a wedge
I'd heave a heartfelt sigh again
And, with the business edge
Inserted in the proper place,
Just let it sozzle through my face.
—S. E. Kiser in Chicago Record-Herald

WHY The Standard Mines and Milling Company

Capital $1,000,000 Ten Cent Shares

Is the Best Mining Investment on the Market To-day.

It's mines are in three great mining camps in Idaho, Thunder Mountain and Trinity County, California. It has vast bodies of ore already above ground and extensive workings under ground, thus enough insight for its three plants for years. It has one-third of the stock in another company that has the biggest and richest reef of ore (all above ground) in the world. All it has to do is to wait for dividends on this stock. It has a capable honest and reliable Management. The price of stock is very low for the present, virtually ground floor.

QUOTATIONS ON THE WALL STREET MARKET

The Quotations of the Leading Stocks —Market Letters.

To-day was one of the slowest days on record in the Wall Street market, the sales till noon being only 99,800. There were no special features outside of the big drop in Hocking Valley. The market, as a whole had a downward tendency, but there was a lack of interest in the entire list.

During the last half hour the market rallied somewhat and some of the highest prices of the day were recorded.

Sales to noon, 99,800.

No Chicago market to-day.

Messrs. McMillan & Maguire have received the following:—

Toronto, July 3rd, 1903.—It has turned out that some of the recent selling has been for those involved in the underwriting schemes and have been called upon for the cash. The iron and steel news is somewhat better except in Alabama District where strike troubles may redound to the benefit of the U.S.S. Crop news continues favourable. A.C.P. is weak on decline in copper in London, but it is claimed that prices on the other side are manipulated. There is a better prospect of settlement of building strike in New York. The bank statement was worse than was expected but it is not expected to cut much figure and it reflects movements in connection with the July disbursements. A boom in the market will not be permitted but we look for a good trading market with frequent fluctuations presenting opportunities to scalp.

McMILLAN & MAGUIRE.

News too Good to Keep.

Persons who have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are usually so well pleased with the benefits derived that they tell the good news to their neighbours. There is no medicine which so promptly awakens the action of the liver, invigorates the kidneys and regulates the bowels as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and for this reason they are unapproached as a family medicine. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers.

OUR NEW LIQUOR STORE.

The workmen are putting the finishing touches on our new liquor store, which has been separated from our grocery store and fitted up according to law. The public can now be specially served with the choicest brands of pure liquors, wines and ales, all in good condition. Orders will receive careful attention. Summer supplies forwarded to any point desired, town or country—THE HENRY COMPANY, opposite Opera House, George street.

NEW BAND INSTRUMENTS.

A Fund Being Started to Provide the Salvation Army With Much Needed Instruments.

Among the musical organizations of which Peterborough has many, there is not one that is deserving of greater credit than the Salvation Army Band. This aggregation of musicians provides a great amount of pleasure to our citizens. For many weeks the people have listened with no little degree of pleasure to the music given freely by the band and now they will be provided with an opportunity to lend a helping hand. It is desirable that the organization should have good instruments, and the realization of a sum of $500 will be the object of a special effort to be put forth by the Army during the next few weeks.

Some information will probably be of interest. Recently nine bandsmen from England and one from Ottawa were added to the ranks, and the band now contains some thirty members. Saving a couple, all of the instruments are old, and have little tone merit, being therefore of great hindrance to the players which materially weakens the effect of the band's playing. The members receive no pay, they play over two hundred times a year, and that for no selfish purpose, but rather in missionary spirit, which seeks to uplift fallen humanity. Some own their instruments, and each has to buy his own uniform. These and other facts well known should appeal to the co-operative spirit of the good people of Peterborough.

The scheme is for $500, and various means have been adopted for securing it. Some of the members are collecting on the pass-book system, and it is proposed to play on the street corners every Saturday night for a certain period, or to give a concert every Thursday night either in the barracks or on the street corners. One lady is starting an autograph quilt scheme, a small sum being charged to have your name written there, and some will use dime banks. The record of the band is one to be proud of, for it has risen to be one of the largest and best in the Army in Canada to-day. Bandmaster J. M. Green has expended his efforts most successfully in its upbuilding. He now thinks that the citizens should help, and his contention is reasonable. As soon as the scheme is working, he states that progress will be reported upon.

With the old instruments it is proposed to form a junior band, from the young boys that attend the S. A. Sunday School. Bandmaster Northcott, late of Reading, England, will have charge of this work.

As there are several newcomers to town, each band member will have a collecting book authorizing him or her to collect for the $500 instrument fund, and signed by J. Mendall Green, bandmaster.

Coupons are now appearing in the local press, which furnish a convenient way to forward subscriptions to this most worthy object.

TO SISTER GENEVIEVE

The following lines were composed on the death of Sister Genevieve, whose lamented demise occurred at Sault St. Marie, a short time ago:—

Oh friend of the old days, thy quiet life
Spent rapturously, within convent walls
Where naught is known of the world's greed or strife,
Where scarce a shadow of the world's sin falls,
Seemeth to me like to the holy hymn
The nuns, pure hearted, sing at vesper hour
When in the chapel, as the light grows dim
They tell of the Blest Light's eternal power.
Ah, like a hymn my life can never be Little of holiness can there be found
Save reverend thoughts that wander after thee
And memories of days by strong chains bound,
Yet will I rest content if, like a song,
My life may help some weary child along.

Left Her Editor In Tears.

Little Miss Vera's ideas of the susceptibility of the editorial heart are somewhat exaggerated. She has been deeply impressed of late by the erratic movements of a mature friend who prepares manuscript for newspapers and so has come to be something of a writer herself. Over page after page she scrawls undecipherable sentences in her unsteady, primary department hand, and when the stories are finished she submits them in person to an imaginary editor whom she has dubbed "Mr. Bunting."

One day last week she told her friend that she had written a new story.

"What is it about?" asked the friend.

"Oh," was the reply, "I can't tell. It is too sad to talk about."

The friend asked no further questions, and presently Vera volunteered additional information. "I took it downtown and showed it to Mr. Bunting today," she said.

"Yes?" said her friend. "What did he say about it?"

"He didn't say anything," was the reply, "but he just cried as if his heart would break."—New York Press.

ROWLEY IS JAILED.

Defaulting St. Thomas Bank Manager Committed to a Cell.

DEFENCE WANTED ONE MONTH

But the Crown Attorney Held Out and Rowley Appeared in Court and Was Sent Down Without Pleading Without Bail—Will, However, Elect To-Day as to Manner of Trial —Atlas Loan Co.

St. Thomas, July 3.—Quite a good-sized crowd gathered at the police courtroom in the City Hall yesterday morning, expecting to hear the preliminary examination of George Rowley, the defaulting bank manager. At 10.30 when the case was reached, W. L. Wickett produced a medical certificate from Dr. Luton stating that his client was too weak to undergo a severe examinntion. Crown Attorney Donahue, on behalf of the prosecution, claimed that something more definite should be shown why the accused man did not appear in court, and suggested that the physician be called to testify as to Rowley's health. Mr. Wickett hereupon asked that the hearing be enlarged for one month.

Mr. Donahue, however, prevailed upon the magistrate, and the physician attending Rowley took the stand. He told His Worship that his patient was much better, and could probably appear in court, but by no means able to undergo an examination. It was decided to adjourn the court for one hour, as the certificate given by the medical man was issued Wednesday, and the police magistrate held the opinion that his patient for the day, and if at all his fiatient for the day, and if at all safe to have him appear.

Upon resumption of the court at 11 o'clock Rowley, accompanied by his physician, was present. The accused man looked much better than on his previous appearance before the magistrate, but the mental strain he has been under for some weeks is plainly visible. The doctor again took the witness box and testified to the effect that he found Mr. Rowley was somewhat better, but after a careful examination he concluded it would not be wise to subject him to a rigid examination. Mr. Wickett then asked the magistrate for an enlargement of one month. Mr. Donahue objected to bail being allowed, saying that complaints had already been made that they had been too lenient in the bail matter. After a consultation with his client, Mr. Wickett waived the rights of a preliminary, and the prisoner was committed to jail to await his trial without being asked to plead.

The ex-banker, who two weeks ago was high up in financial, commercial and social circles, was then driven to the county jail and now occupies a place in a felon's cell. Counsel for defence immediately applied to Judge Hughes for bail, but the latter's official connection with the liquidators of the Elgin Loan Co. prevented his granting the request. Judge Ermatinger was then approached. At first he was agreeable to the application, but because of the vigorous protest entered by Mr. Donahue the judge finally decided not to consent to allow the request.

Mr. Rowley has decided to appear before the junior judge to-day to elect as to how he will be tried.

A meeting of Atlas Loan shareholders took place in the City Hall last evening. About fifty were present. R. Home Smith was present to explain matters and answer questions, and ex-Mayor Chant, Dr. Luton and J. Kilpatrick were chosen as an advisory committee.

True Gratitude.

At Wichita a woman passing along the street with an armful of packages dropped her purse, containing $750. A gentleman found the purse and returned it to her. "Oh, how grateful I am!" she exclaimed. And then she impulsively opened one of her packages and said "Won't you have a cookie?".

Lord Rosebery Laughs.

London, July 3.—Lord Rosebery, in the House of Lords yesterday afternoon renewed the debate on the preferential tariff propositions, making a further request for information regarding the Cabinet's plans. Died With Broken Back.

Belleville, July 3.—James Howatson, formerly of this city, died at Anaconda, Montana, on Tuesday. Deceased's case was a wonderful one, he having met with an accident six months ago, by which his backbone was crushed and his spinal cord nearly severed. The doctors removed two pieces of his backbone, and he lived all this time.

TWO BILLS PASSED.

Government Measures Disposed of in the House of Commons.

THE GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC.

Mr. Haggart Told That the Government Is Not Responsible For The Globe's Despatch Giving the Terms, But It May Be a Good Guess—Pure Butter Bill One of the Passed.

Ottawa, July 4.—Before the Speaker left the chair in the House yesterday, in order to take up the estimates in Committee of Supply, Hon. John Haggart made an effort to bring up the question of aid to the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, but was ruled out of order. But Mr. Haggart was not to be baulked, and as soon as Dr. Macdonald had taken the chair in Committee of Supply he moved that the committee rise, report progress, and ask leave to sit again. He read in full the despatch which appeared in The Globe, and asked whether there was any truth in the statement.

Sir Frederick Borden, the senior member of the Cabinet present replied:—I may say to the hon. gentleman that the Government is in no way responsible for this report, or for any reports of this kind which are being published in the newspapers. A great many guesses undoubtedly are being made, and possibly it may turn out that some of the guesses are correct. (Hear, hear.) But no authoritative statement has been given out by the Government, and none will be given probably for a few days.

The Postoffice Act.

In committee on the bill to amend the Postoffice Act, Sir William Mulock said the re-adjustment of salaries for railway mail clerks would mean an increase of thirty or forty thousand dollars per annum. Maximum salaries are not increased. In connection with grade examinations, he said that instead of clerks undergoing a general examination they may be examined in the particular branch of the service for which they are engaged. The revised rates for newspapers could only be considered as a reduction. "It is a concession," said Sir William, "of between $50,000 and $75,000 a year."

Some discussion by members followed, and the committee rose and reported progress. The bill was then read a third time and passed.

Process Butter Bill.

A protest was heard from the West yesterday when the bill prohibiting the sale or manufacture of process butter was considered in committee in the House. Mr. Fisher desidered to make some small amendments and for that purpose the bill was referred back.

Mr. McCreary protested against the bill on behalf of a Winnipeg concern which manufactures process butter and in the interests of western farmers whose butter is purchased by the Winnipeg firm.

Mr. Fisher replied that the situation as described by the member for Selkirk simply showed the danger to Canada's dairying interests involved in the manufacture of process butter. The profits, he said, would go to the Winnipeg firm, not to the farmers of Manitoba, and he refused to allow the bill to stand for a year, as requested by Mr. McCreary.

This decision Mr. Brock approved. Canada's dairying interests should not, he said, be threatened for the benefit of people who make butter that is not fit to eat.

The bill, with several important amendments, was then read a third time.

The Collingwood Dock.

The drydock subsidy bill was passed after Mr. Fielding had exhibited a plan of the Collingwood dock showing it to be an entirely new work. The dock, he said, would cost $400,000. Upon this the Government subsidy will be $12,000 per annum for the next 20 years.

In Committee of Supply Sir Richard Cartwright explained that the item of $109,500 for direct steamship service between Canada and South Africa, would be divided among the Allans, the Elder Dempster and the Furness with the company's giving a monthly service. The cost of the service is $30,000 a year.

On the item of $28,388 for the Australian steamship service the Minister explained that this sum was required in addition to the regular subsidy, owing to the increase demanded by the steamship company.

Canada's share under the new conditions would be £40,000 per annum, the British and Australian Governments contributing more largely than Canada.

THE PORTE'S DENIAL

Of Concentration of Troops Appears to Be Untrue.

BULGARIA HAS BEEN WARNED

May Lose European Powers' Support If It Precipitates a Conflict of Arms With Turkey—Possibility of Hostilities Is Being Canvassed at Pera by Diplomats—Encounter May Occur Any Time.

Sofia, July 3.—A semi-official statement was issued to-day saying: "Contrary to the denials of the Porte the concentration continues on the Bulgarian frontier of strong detachments of Turkish infantry, cavalry and artillery. The endeavors of Turkey to deny these authenticated facts, while simultaneously reinforcing the detachments, which cannot be necessary in fighting revolutionists, tends to show that Turkey is intentionally concealing the true object of these military measures, and is misleading Europe by circulating false reports regarding Bulgaria, and her intentions."

Outbreak Is Near.

London, July 3.—The Vienna correspondent of The Daily Telegraph, says in well informed circles in the Austrian capital the view is gaining ground that the outbreak of a war between Turkey and Bulgaria is nearer than is generally supposed. A despatch received there from Constantinople asserts that the possibility of hostilities is being canvassed in diplomatic circles at Pera, and it is feared that an encounter may occur at any moment.

Bulgaria Keeps Quiet.

Vienna, July 3.—On receiving the Bulgarian note on Wednesday protesting against the massing of Turkish troops on the Bulgarian frontier and accusing Turkey of seeking an international conflict Count Goluchowsky, the Austrian Chancellor, stated emphatically that the powers would never allow Turkey to attack Bulgaria, but warned Bulgaria that should she provoke hostilities she would lose the sympathy and support of all European powers. A similar intimation has been conveyed to Bulgaria from St. Petersburg.

Ready For War.

Tien Tsin, July 4.—M. Lessar, the Russian Minister to China, proceeded Thursday to Port Arthur. The Japanese political agent here declares that the report to the effect that his Government had recalled all the officers of the Japanese reserves who are on leave of absence in North China, is unfounded. He adds that though Japan is prepared for war she has no idea of paralyzing trade by recalling the Japanese who are in civil employment in China.

WOOD PULP INDUSTRY IN CANADA.

(Brantford Expositor.)

The Dominion Statistical Year Book for 1902 gives some valuable information relative to an industry which is bound to assume constantly increasing proportions in Canada, viz., the manufacture of wood pulp.

This industry for the calendar year 1902 was carried on by 35 mills, which had an output of 240,989 tons. Of this quantity 155,210 tons were mechanical pulp, 76,735 sulphite, and 9,044 soda. The corresponding quantities for 1901 were: mechanical, 169,360 tons, sulphite, 841,500 tons, and soda, 10,740 tons. This shows a decrease of 23,511 tons in 1902.

The growth of the industry is considerable. In the census of 1881 there five establishments, with an output of $1,057,811.

Of the product of Canadian mills the customs returns show that during the calendar year 1902, the export amounted to $2,511,664, leaving $1,871,518 for home use. In a general way, therefore, we export about 57 per cent. of our production. Of the $2,511,664 worth exported by Canada in 1902, Great Britain took $976,192, the United States, $1,518,139 and other countries, $17,333.

The market for this product in the United Kingdom is large. In the calendar year 1902 the requirements of Great Britain were of the value of $11,671,367, of which seven elevenths were chemical pulp and our export in 1902 to Great Britain was about 3 1-2 per cent. of her needs.

There is an immense market available in Great Britain for Canadian pulpwood, if we can but get control of it, but as yet we have not made very rapid progress. In 1895 we exported to Great Britain to the value of $45,601, and in 1900 the business had grown to $1,199,317. In the latter year, however, the total imports were $13,739,907, of which Norway supplied $6,439,111 worth and Sweden, $4,039,338. From the United States pulpwood was purchased to the extent of but $269,599.

Notwithstanding the requirement of the Ontario Government that all pulpwood cut on crown lands in this province should be manufactured into pulp in the province, the exports of Canadian pulpwood to the United States grew from $57,197 in 1890 to $1,194,593 in 1902. This is due to the fact that the other provinces have not as yet followed our example, and that the Ontario regulation has only a restricted application.

There are now eight pulpwood concessions in existence in Ontario, and about one half of these are being operated. Doubtless the reason more rapid progress has not been made is that this industry requires a capital of anywhere from $275,000, to $1,500,000, and hence necessitates a considerable amount of time to complete financial arrangements.

RESPECTING MUNICIPAL RIGHTS

Provision to Prevent Invasion by Corporations.

The Minister of Railways has made provision in the bill creating a railway commission that the board shall not grant leave to any railway company to traverse the streets of any incorporated city or town until the company shall have first obtained the consent of the municipality. This recognition of the right of incorporated municipalities to control the use of streets which they have created is eminently proper, and the Quebec legislature would be doing no more than its duty if it were to similarly extend recognition to the principle. The municipal thoroughfares are part of the stock-in-trade of every power, light, telephone and street railway company that seeks to do business within the limits of any city or town. Without the use of the streets these companies would be unable to do business. It follows, or should follow, if our legislators were just and wise, that the use should be conditional on satisfactory arrangements being made with the municipality.—Montreal Herald.

TWO WAYS OF TAXING.

An Object Lesson in the Taxation of Railway Property.

In connection with the foolish, not to say almost criminal, prodigality with which successive governments have given bonuses to all and sundry, especially railway and bridge promoters, a Toronto contemporary points out that that half of the St. Clair tunnel which is in the state of Michigan has been assessed for the present year by the board of state tax commissioners for $1,800,000, and the tax for 1903 that has been levied upon this assessment is $24,840. On the other hand, the tax on the half of the tunnel which lies in Ontario is only $753. The railway fare over the Grand Trunk railway on the Michigan side of the river is two cents a mile; on the Ontario side it is three cents a mile. For the 2.23 miles of the St. Clair frontier tunnel built in Canada the Grand Trunk railway received a subsidy of $375,000, but received no public aid for the portion which is in United States territory. This is a little story of a kind that has been infinitely repeated, and it carries its own moral.—Montreal Witness.

SICKLY BABIES.

Weak, sickly babies are a great trial to mothers. They need constant care both night and day and soon wear the mother out. Baby's little stomach is the cause of most of the trouble; it is very weak, and, in consequence very easily upset. Baby's Own Tablets will cure all baby troubles. They are mildly laxative and give prompt relief. Concerning them Mrs. R. J. Balfour, Omemee, Ont., says: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for stomach troubles and constipation from which my little girl suffered and they entirely cured her. They produced sound, refreshing sleep, and I regard them as indispensible in any home where there are little ones."

Mothers from all parts of Canada write in favour of Baby's Own Tablets, proving the claim that they are the very best medicine for all the minor ills of infants and young children. Guaranteed to contain no opiate. Price 25 cents a box at all druggists or direct from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

INDIAN CONFERENCE.

Mississaguas and Chippewa Tribes in Session at Mud Lake.

A special conference of the Indians of the Mississaugua and Chippewa tribes was held at Mud Lake Reserve a short time ago, when the question of taking steps to obtain from the government certain lands which they claim belong to the tribes mentioned was considered. The following resolution was introduced and unanimously adopted:—

It was moved by Mr. William Beatty of the Rama Reserve and seconded by Councillor Johnson Paudash of Rice Lake, that the six, viz, Rama, Christian Island, Georgina Island, Mud Lake, Rice Lake, and Scugog, in a special conference assembled on the Mud Lake Indian Reserve, are informed and have had certain newspaper clippings from the News-Letter and Packet, purporting to have emanated from one Mr. Hamwood, barrister, of Orillia, that he had been employed by the different bands interested in the claims for the Northern Hunting Grounds, to prosecute the claim against the government. We now wish to inform the public that such report is misleading and that said Mr. Hamwood has never been employed or instructed by any of the above named bands to act in any capacity for them and at this conference held on the 23rd and 24th day of June, 1903, by an unanimous vote of the conference, Mr. M. C. Clury of Toronto, was appointed as general agent and W. H. Hunter, Esq., barrister, of Toronto, as solicitor to negotiate with the Government of Canada for a settlement of our rights in the Northern Hunting Grounds and unceded territory and that Mr. McClury and Mr. Hunter have been so notified and instructed."

THE LATEST NEWS OF LOCAL SPORT.

Havelock and Y. M. C. A. Play a Tie Game at the Oval.

St. Andrew's Defeated Charlotte Street in Baseball League—Other Sporting Items.

FOOTBALL.

After winning every game played this season the Y.M.C.A. played a tie with Havelock in the finals of Midland Association League last night at the Oval. A splendid attempt was made by the locals to score a second goal during the last minute's play, but the effort was futile, and the game ended by no means satisfactorily to either team, after an hour's play with one goal having been scored by each team. It was not a particularly good game of football, and although the Havelock players were clearly outclassed, the locals did not play up to their usual form, due doubtless to a lack of recent practice, and also to the fact that some of the players were not in a first-class condition, having spent two nights travelling on the trip to Picton.

Some good individual plays were made, but the combination feature was to a large extent conspicuous by its absence. During the last few minutes of play the "Ys" were getting into work, and only by bunching the whole of their team at the goal was Havelock able to avert defeat.

The first goal was scored after 4 minutes play by Shortell after a nice piece of individual playing. This ended the scoring in the first half, although some nicely placed kicks were cleverly stopped by Rose, the goal-keeper for the visitors. MacPherson after a fine rush made a kick, the ball just going over the rope.

For some unaccountable reason although the play was confined almost entirely to the Havelock end, to score seemed impossible. Crough, who by the way played a great game, working his check to a finish, made a splendid kick on goal, which by hard luck and Rose's quick work was not turned into a score.

The Havelock players have among their number some exceptionally good players ,and at times played some pretty combination. Bullard and Andrews were a tower of strength to the visitors, while Lancaster also played his position in good style.

MacPherson, for the locals, played his usually brilliant game.

Shortly before the end of the first half, Shortell made a kick on goal which Rose failed to connect with, but the referee, at the solicitations of the Havelock players, called it an off-side play and thus shut the locals out of a score which should have been theirs.

The first half closed with one goal to the credit of the locals and the cipher represented the score of the visitors.

After starting play again Lancaster scored for Havelock in two minutes. After that the ball went to the other end of the field and McFadden had a rest for the balance of the play. The tactics of the visitors from this period were changed and a purely defence game was played. Corner kicks were freely indulged in, and anything which would kill time was welcome. Should a play be made which had the faintest appearance of a foul instantly up would go the arms of the visitors and a chorus of "Foul, Foul," was sung.

The play was becoming warm now and Rose had his work laid out for him. MacPherson time and again brought the ball from centre through the ranks of the husky villagers only to be stopped by Rose. Simpson and Lee also distinguished themselves by some brilliant playing, and it was only by the hardest kind of luck that a large score was not piled up against Havelock. The individual playing of the "Ys" was much superior to that of the visitors, and when they get down to practice and get their combination at work Havelock should be an easy proposition for them. Andrews, for the visitors played a star game at back. He is the captain and keeps his men working. Bullard, too, is a valuable asset of the team, while Rose in goal played a phenomenal game. He is a veritable stone wall.

The referee was Geo. Quackenbush, of Warkworth, and he either was not familiar with the game or in a dream, as it was about the worst attempt at refereeing ever seen on the local grounds. His decisions usually managed to be to the advantage of the Havelock team though.

The return game will be played in Havelock and will decide the championship of the League. The line-up of the teams was as follows:—

BASEBALL.

ST. ANDREW'S VS. CHARLOTTE.

St. Andrew's team leads in the first round of games scheduled in the Guild League, winning last night the second half of their game with Charlotte street. Starting the play with a score of 13-8 in their favour, St. Andrew's succeeded in adding ten runs, while Charlotte street could only bring in four, making the score at the finish 23—12.

Last night's game was a good exhibition of baseball, some clever work being done by both teams. Peace and Thornton for St. Andrew's played a great game, some excellent work being credited to them. Peace made a home run, securing two men.

One particularly good play was made by Kelly in left field. Harmer cracked one over the fence, which looked easy for a home run. Kelly scaled the fence and made a fine throw-in to Peace, who was at the time playing short, throwing the runner out at home.

Tovey at second for Charlotte street, made a good catch of a fly that looked safe for a two bagger.

The St. Andrew's team is a winning bunch. They both bat and field well and if they continue to play the game at the pace set, will be easy winners of the trophy, which the League has decided to give to the champions. Each team has subscribed $2.50, making th value of the trophy $10. The line up was as follows:—

St. Andrew's—Kelly, Mc...e, Peace, Thornton, Harmer, Sorsoleil, Fuller, Sanderson, Tovey, Dormer.

Charlotte street — Squires p and 3b; Thornton 1b; Harmer 3b and p; Sorsoleil c; Fuller ss; Carr lf; Sanderson rf; Tovey 2b; Dormer cf; umpire, J. Wright.

The standing of the teams in the League now is as follows:—

	Won.	Lost.	Tied.	To play
St. Andrew's... 3	3	0	0	0
Charlotte... 1	1	0	1
George... 1	1	0	1
St. Paul's... 0	1	0	2

George and St. Paul's will play off the tie game on Monday night at 7 o'clock.

NOTES.

St. Andrew's would like to arrange a game with the Y.M.C.A. or the Shamrock teams.

Mr. Wright proved such an efficient umpire that in some quarters it is considered probable that he will be placed on the list of official umpires of the League.

SPRINTING.

Mr. D. Belland, accompanied by Mr. Martyn, called at the Examiner office, at two o'clock this afternoon, stating that he was to have met Mr. Corbett to arrange a race between them and deposit a forfeit. Mr. Corbett did not put in an appearance.

On the M.A.A.A. grounds, Montreal, on Thursday evening, G. B. Peck ran 100 yards from the scratch in 10 1-5.

• • • •

To the Sporting Editor,—

Dear Sir,—In reference to Mr. Belland in last evening's Examiner, allow me to say that his ideas of amateurism are very vague, indeed, when he offers to run me for two hundred dollars. Quoting from C.A.A.A. rules, definition of an amateur is a person who does not compete for a money consideration. I am simply in the game for the love of good clean sport and the exercise to be derived therefrom, and I have not any wealthy backers to keep me afoot.

As Mr. Belland claims by this card he is the champion sprinter of Canada for 1903, I would advise him to get out and win the honour first, as I attended the championship meet held in Montreal last year, and Mr. Belland's name did not appear on the list of entries, but instead it was Mr. Walsh, of the New York A. C. who won the hundred yards dash and also the two hundred and twenty yards and Mr. Harry Moulton, also of the N.Y.A.C., won the quarter mile and as the championships are held in Toronto this year, I would advise Mr. D. Belland to compete and if he were successful, possibly some of the Peterborough locals might condescend to run him from scratch.

Thanking you kindly for the space afforded me in your valuable paper, I remain

Yours Truly,
T. J. CORBETT.

MISCELLANEOUS.

It appears that Port Hope has a few cheap sports, too. The Guide, in commenting on the Dominion Day celebration, says:

"We regret to learn, however, that the demonstration was not a success financially, but this was entirely due to the large number of persons who climbed the fences. It is high time that such mean work was stopped and the committee should use every effort to have the guilty ones punished."

When the little town on the lake succeeds Peterborough should send for the prescription.

Invitation to Singers.

The first rehearsal of the Great "Creation" Oratorio will be held in the Y.M.C.A. Hall on Tuesday evening, July 7th. All the choir singers and singers who are not identified with any choir, also all music teachers and music lovers are invited to be present to meet Mr. Wodell, of Boston, who will conduct the festival rehearsals. It is not necessary to be a member of the chorus to accept this invitation. G. W. Mulligan, chorus registrar.

A Great Loss.

A young girl, aged 14 or 15 years, who is employed in a George street store, met with a serious loss to her this morning. She is without relatives in town and has been saving money to make a visit to her little brother and sister. This morning she lost her little store of money on the street between 544 George street and Gardiner's confectionery, George street. This money was chiefly in bills, enclosed in a wrist purse. Any person finding the lost money, will, beyond the honesty of the action, be doing an act of great kindness by restoring the purse to its owner. While the actual money loss may not be very great, it represents the poor little girl's all, besides representing a visit and reunion with her orphaned brother and sister.

Mr. J. H. Hendry now Manager of the Canada Woolen Mills, Carleton Place.

From the Carleton Place Herald is gleaned something interesting in reference to a former well known resident, Mr. James H. Hendry, formerly connected with the Auburn Woollen Mills. Mr. Hendry is at present manager of the Canadian Woollen Mills at Carleton Place, and the Herald thus refers to him:—

"Mr. Hendry is a graduate of the the City and Guild's Institute of London, Eng., and has held many responsible positions. He was for some time instructor of the South of Scotland Technical Institute, Hawick, Scotland, and was the recipient for three years in succession of the valuable prizes which were offered in open competition to the United Kingdom for the best set of designs in worsted and woollen goods, for man's and ladies' wear. He was also the recipient of the prize offered a few years ago for the best set of designs limited to eight harness, open to the United States and Canada. Mr. Hendry is also the author of Essays on the Selection and Preparation of Wool, Selecting Wool for Fine Goods, Carding and Spinning, Binding of Weaves for Backed Goods, and Construction of Backs, Fabrics, Designing, etc. He has been here now for almost a year, and his year's work is now beginning to tell in the output of the mills here. Mr. Hendry does his own designing, and has to superintend the whole business of the two mills, and his task is no sinecure."

SUPPOSED DISCOVERY NEAR WARSAW.

Indications of the Presence of Petroleum or Coal Oil.

Mr. David Forsythe, who resides in the neighbourhood of Warsaw, accidentally discovered the presence of what he firmly believes to be oil gas on his premises. The following seems to verify his supposition:

"From the Provincial Assay Office, Belleville, Ont.:

"The bottle full of damp gravel, etc., shows soft graphitic slate in fine pieces; white quartz in fine grains, reddish and bluish granitic rock matter, a little amber mica in flakes and a little magnetic iron ore magnetite. Sand has strong odour and taste of petroleum, which is also present in quantities. Probable value — If sand is from a boring it proves the presence of petroleum or coal oil in the immediate vicinity, which may possibly be struck by further borings.

"J. W. WELLS,
"Chemist in charge.

Mr. Forsythe wrote to Jas. Peat Sons of Petrolea, Ont., the well known contractors, for the drilling of oil, gas, salt and artesian wells re the prices for drilling a well 1000 feet deep. In reply they stated, "We have read your letter with great interest and would say that, if you say, the gas you struck has every indication of being oil gas and not surface gas, your chances of getting oil or a very fine gas well, which would be a very profitable strike, are very good. To our knowledge, there have been no wells drilled in your vicinity to any depth, so one cannot say exactly what you would get."

Mr. Forsythe started a subscription list to get money for the proposed well and raised $70 in a remarkably short time.

GENERALLY SPEAKING

FREE POSTAL DELIVERY seems to be a live question, though there doesn't seem to be unanimity of sentiment as to its desirability. While it would be a great convenience to many, yet in proposing to "swap" decidedly necessary improvements in the post office building for free delivery, there are many who question the value of the exchange. There is no doubt that Peterborough is taking on rapidly the characteristics of a city. This circumstance is being impressed more and more every day, and it is, therefore, on the face of it, quite proper that it should be favoured with the facilities, similar to that represented by free postal delivery. At the same time it is well to hasten gently. Peterborough has always shown admirable self-repression in some things. We have refused to be stampeded by the glamour of the name, "city." While the have undoubtedly reached city standing to a greater degree than many of the so-called cities, we have felt that it was undesirable to assume additional responsibilities and burdens which would receive scant compensation in the sentimental advantage of having the name of "city." Free postal delivery would be a great convenience to many residing at a considerable distance from the post office, but it is argued that the amount of correspondence received is comparatively small, and that such residents — some members of the family—want to "come down town," every day, and that the post office would be included in their calls. On the other hand it is argued that free postal delivery would not be free postal delivery to the business men of the town, the class that has very large correspondence, and the class that would be most largely affected, beneficially or otherwise, by the adoption of the system. The doubling of the postage on local or drop letters would, with many concerns, represent a large additional expense — an expense which, it is contended would not be met by the additional convenience from free delivery. Most large business houses are convenient to the post office, while our large manufacturing concerns have a system of communication with the post office, which serves their purpose well, and the cost is less than the cost of doubled postage on local correspondence.

HAMLET FELT the wisdom of rather bearing the ills we have than flying to others which we know not of. It is felt by many that we had better keep our present system than to exchange it for something which would be of doubtful advantage—that it would be better to improve our present post office building and service than aim at a free postal delivery. The existing post office building is not by any means up to the mark, improvements which must be obviously necessary to the most casual observer being required to get good service. Visitors to Picton on Dominion Day report that that little town has a much better, more modern and more convenient post office than ours. This should not be, not that the beautiful town of Picton should not have a correspondingly handsome post office, but Peterborough should have better buildings than we now possess. We should have buildings worthy of our commercial and revenue producing importance. For the fiscal year 1900-1, the total postal revenue of Picton was $6,695.58, while the postal revenue of Peterborough for the same period was more than three times as great—it was $21,427.86.

NOT ONLY should we have a better post office building and accommodation, but we should have a far better service. The blame for ineffective and slow service is not to be placed upon the staff, which is too small to do the work demanded in the time demanded. The essence of good postal service is speed and promptitude. We spend millions and propose spending more millions for fast Atlantic mail service. In these days of keen commercial competition and business activity a few hours delay in the delivery of important letters affect the success of large business transactions. Would it not be better, therefor, to improve the facilities we possess? A few hundreds spent in strengthening our post office staff and improving the delivery service at the post office would, in the opinion of large numbers of persons, be preferable to spending a correspondingly amount on free postal delivery. "Generally Speaking" does not suggest these considerations in a dogmatic spirit, but merely throws out hints, which may prove profitable subjects of reflection.

SPEAKING of Peterborough becoming a city, it will be a surprise to many that the town is likely to suffer before long a marked decrease of population. The process of depopulation has already begun. The summer migration has set in and from this time forth hundreds of our people will be off to the delightful summer resorts that environ the town in pleasant proximity. This suggests that the drowning season has set in also, and it may not be amiss to ask, to beg, to beseech, those who go on the water to be careful, for carelessness—criminal carelessness in many cases, is the cause of fatal accidents. No man should go into a canoe who is not a first-rate swimmer, and even then he should take no risks, and above all he should never take women or children with him. This the Wo... applying Chees... the "fool that rocks a boat." He is a representative of a large family and a criminal of the deepest dye. He has been the cause of numberless fatal drowning accidents. The utmost precaution, the greatest care should be taken and exercised by those who go upon the water either in a canoe or skiff. Either is safe in competent hands, but inexperienced persons should avoid them, and effective swimming lessons should always be the preliminary to canoeing.

A DANGEROUS railway crossing is that over Reid street, at the works of the William Hamilton Company. A day or two ago a minister was passing along Reid street. Upon a siding a box car obstructed the view to the east of the line. The noise from the boiler shop near at hand prevented an approaching train being heard. The train was backing out of the station at a rapid rate of speed. No whistle was sounded, and the reverend gentleman, unconscious of his danger, was literally within a step of instant death, when a timely shout of warning from a Works employee, saved a life. Without this the next step would have been a step into the next world. This narrow escape, which is but one of many reported, should lead the authorities to take some action to remove the danger, or at least minimize it. Gates at the crossing would be the most effective way, for from the relation of the high buildings to the crossing, it is impossible for either vehicles or pedestrians becoming aware of approaching trains. In default of gates, a flagman would be a reasonable substitute. In any event something should be done at once. It is not necessary to defer action till somebody is killed—there is sufficient warrant in the case of the gentleman mentioned, for he was so near a violent death that he shudders yet at the thought of his startlingly "close call." One thing that adds to the danger of the crossing is the high speed at which heavy, out-going trains northward bound, have to make in leaving the station in order to overcome the stiff grade which begins west of Reid street. This high speed seems necessary and unavoidable, but it only makes necessary and unavoidable the provision of adequate protection of the public. The expense of maintaining railway gates is a small price to pay for saving human lives, and a coroner's jury's mild censure of a railway corporation, is a vain compensation for the bereaved family robbed of a father or mother by a fatal accident, which is bound to occur some day at the Reid street crossing, unless some preventive action is taken.

BRAVO, 57TH! We are proud of the Rangers as soldiers; we are proud of the officers; but prouder of the rank and file. They had a "good time" at Picton, were treated with royal hospitality, and did ample credit to that hospitality. If medals were given for sobriety, steadiness, and soldierly bearing, every man of the 250 who went to Picton, bar two, deserve one. The boys showed that a body of soldiers can enjoy a holiday without muddling themselves with beer or strong drink. A Picton bank manager relates that, desiring to show the boys some attention, he invited three squads, of nine or ten men each, in for refreshments, and not one of the number ordered strong drink. As a consequence, there was no need for a guard room, and while the boys had lots of fun, yet it was clean, innocent sport. They showed that they could behave like boys and still be gentlemen in their bearing. If a good name is better than riches, the 57th boys come back from Picton wealthy. "Generally Speaking" begs the privilege of patting the boys on the back. They gave both themselves and the town a good name in Picton, and Peterborough is prouder of them than ever, and the next time "Generally Speaking" speaks it will be to advocate a new stand of colours for the Regiment — a corps that will never disgrace its colours, either in fight or fun, richly deserve new ones.

BAND CONCERT

Attended by Large Crowds Last Evening.

Despite their visit to Picton, the 57th Regimental Band played in the Victoria Park last evening, it being their first performance in the new bandstand, the site of which is more appropriate for its needs than was its predecessor. Under the skilful leadership of Mr. Gliddon the band played many beautiful selections in a manner which evoked considerable applause. Description cannot frame itself in words to explain the manner in which they played. It is the general opinion that the 57th band played better than the Queen's Own Rifles Band on Dominion Day. THE RIGHT TO LABOR IN JOY.

Out on the roads they have gathered, a hundred thousand men,
To ask for a hold on life as sure as the hold of the wolf in his den.
Their need lies close to the quick of life as the earth lies close to the stones;
It is as meat to the slender rib, as marrow to the bone.

They ask but the leave to labor, to toil in the endless night
For a little salt to savor their bread, for houses water-tight
They ask but the right to labor, and to live by the strength of their hands—
They who have bodies like knotted oaks and patience like sea sands.

And the right of a man to labor, and his right to labor in joy—
Not all your laws can blot that right, nor the gates of hell destroy.
For it came with the making of man, and was kneaded into his bones,
And it will stand at the last of things on the dust of crumbled thrones.

—Edwin Markham.

THE LATE DR. DEWART.

A Good Story of His Youthful Determination and Zeal.

A good story of the determination and zeal of that great, brave and good man, the late Dr. Dewart, is told by Mr. Buchanan, says The Toronto Sunday World. Dr. Dewart, when he was young, was little less than a "bushwhacker," or lumberman, and as that class are usually under straightened circumstances, he was not exceptionally well to do. He was working near Peterboro, when he made up his mind that he was going to attend the Grammar School, in Toronto, and study to be a Methodist minister. But his pocket was so empty of the coinage of the realm that he had to walk all the way. He went through Bowmanville and had a breakfast there, the kind wife of the innkeeper refusing to accept any money from him as he had told her of the reason that he wished to go to Toronto and the condition of his pocketbook, if he had any. Later in his life he always remembered this kind lady when he went to Bowmanville. As he neared the outskirts of the city he was very tired and despondent and sat down on a stone to rest his weary limbs. A man came riding by and questioned him as to his destination, purpose of going there, and, in fact, all about himself in general. Dr. Dewart, then young Dewart, answered the questions readily enough, and the horseman told him that when he arrived in town to seek him out, and stay with him until he was better situated to cope with the necessities of life, and gave him his card. Dewart was very much surprised to see the name of Egerton Ryerson, M.D. He wished to speak to the illustrious promoter of education then, but he had ridden away; but he remained one of the firmest friends of the prospective Methodist as long as he lived.

LUMBERMAN TELLS HIS EXPERIENCE

How Dodd's Kidney Pills Quickly Cured His Lame Back.

William N. Baskin, of Norwood, Gives Good Advice and Others are Following it With Splendid Results.

Norwood, Ont., June 29. — (pSecial) —William N. Baskin, the well-known lumberman and railroad contractor of this place, tells of an experience with Dodd's Kidney Pills that is found to be of interest to the public generally.

"For two years," says Mr. Baskin, "I was laid up with lame back and kidney disease. I would at times become weak and have to lay off work. People who knew me as lumberman and contractor on the C.P.R. and Parry Sound Railways knew how sick I was.

"Reading of wonderful cures by 'Dodd's Kidney Pills led me to try them. I used three boxes and am completely cured. I can say now I have not had any pains since I used Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Others who have followed Mr. Baskin's advice and tried Dodd's Kidney Pills, report similar results. No form of Kidney Disease can stand before them.

A Brilliant Student.

In the interval before the gowned procession appeared at the convocation proceedings of Toronto University the other day, two ladies were overheard discussing things in general. They found on the program a list of names of those on whom degrees were to be conferred, and immediately sought familiar names.

After a time one exclaimed, "I wonder who this man 'Honoris Causa' is? He seems to have been an awfully clever fellow. He has his name in nearly every class there is."

"That's so," returned the other. "Seems to be a foreign name, too. I would like to see him."

And the two ladies spent the ... of the room trying ... Dr. ... Pleasant Pellets.

THE OLD TIMERS.

Some Contemporaries of the Late Sir Oliver Mowat—Was Their Day Better Than the Present?

The old order changes, giving place to new, says The Toronto World. Only a few years ago there were to be found on the bench and in the Governments of Canada and the provinces, men who had been active and prominent before confederation, and even before the union. One of Sir Oliver Mowat's contemporaries on the bench, William Henry Draper, was Chief Justice of Ontario until November, 1877. He was a famous lawyer sixty years ago; got his Queen's Counsel title in 1842, and was so gently persuasive with juries that he won the sobriquet of "Sweet William." He was member for Toronto in the Legislature of Upper Canada in 1836; served as an aide-de-camp to the Governor during the rebellion, and became Solicitor-General in 1837. After the union he figured as the chief adviser of Governor Metcalfe while he was vainly contending against responsible Government.

Another old-timer was Chief Justice Hagarty, whose tall figure was well-known to frequenters of the courts a few years ago. During the conflict between Metcalfe and his advisers he was a gay young Tory lawyer, and he composed a parody on the "True, Old English Gentleman," in honor of Metcalfe, who was nick-named "Old Square Toes." They were composed impromptu at a public dinner, while the fight was in progress. A couple of verses are given by Dent:

One verse the songster has forgot—he has another claim;
One brave old square-toed gentleman, he of the stainless name;
For Indian laurels grace his brow, Jamaica loves him, too,
And Canada will fight for him 'gainst all the Baldwin crew—
The fine old square-toed gentleman, all of the present time.

So let our loyal shouts go forth, let traitors hear and quail,
And British hearts will beat for joy on every hill and vale;
And though the Baldwin clan may howl, though loud th' hyaenas roar,
We'll rally round old square-toes, and give him one cheer more,
The fine old square-toed gentleman, all of the present time.

Not many years ago the Premier of Canada, and his right and left men, Tupper and Tilley, were all old-time men who had taken an active part in the politics of Canada. Nova Scotia and New Brunswick before the union. One of them, Sir Charles Tupper, was Premier as late as 1896, and is still a hale and hearty man. Until recently our dominating ideas were those of pre-confederation statesmen. In Ontario Sandfield Macdonald, one of the heads of the old Canadian Governments, was Premier of Ontario after Confederation, and was succeeded, after a short interval by Oliver Mowat, whose official life began in the Brown-Dorion Government of 1858. Though Canada was a small country in those days, and though there was a good deal that was petty and tricky in its politics, it brought forth some strong men. We are hardly yet able to adopt a condescending tone toward Macdonald, Tilley and Tupper, Brown and Dorion, Holton and Mowat; there is indeed almost a temptation to fall into the opposite mood, and say "The former times were better than these." But it may be that we have not yet got the right perspective.

From Viscount Wolseley.

The following letter from Lord Wolseley is in response to an invitation to attend the Toronto Home Comers' Festival.

"Hampton Court Palace, Middlesex,
"June 6th, 1903.

"Sir,—I have the honor to acknowledge your kind and most flattering letter of the 12th of May last, and to thank the Toronto Board of Trade for their very hospitable and tempting invitation. I wish I could accept it, for apart from the pleasure it would have given me to have been present at your coming 'Old Home Gathering,' I long to visit Canada. It is a country in which I spent my happiest years, and to whose history and to whose people I always feel drawn to closely.

"But, alas, I could not leave home this year; I am hard at work upon two volumes of memoirs, which I want to have ready soon for publication and until I have seen them through the press I must not quit England.

"Again thanking you and the Board of Trade of Toronto for their extremely kind thought of me, I have the honor to be, your obedient servant, Wolseley."

Coal From Japan.

The Frank disaster and the labor troubles at Fernie and on Vancouver Island have had an extraordinary result. The Canadian Pacific recently placed an order for 10,000 tons of coal in Japan. Shipments were to be continued until the beginning of the present month. This coal was required principally for the company's Pacific steamers, and for the railway to Revelstoke, from which point easterly coal from Canmore and other points is used. It was understood that, in the event of the labor and other troubles continuing, more Japanese coal would be bought. Apprehension is expressed by the Provincial press lest the singular spectacle be seen of a Province so rich in coal importing that article from Japan.

A Commercial Traveler's Yarn.

Early in the spring, when the weather was in its most changeable state, a Toronto firm sent out a commercial traveler. He wrote in to the firm on Monday night: "Raining all day. Impossible to get around, and no business." Tuesday he wrote in: "Cold, driving sleet to-day. Miserable weather, and nothing doing." On Wednesday he wrote: "Heavy snowstorm. Everything blocked up, and no use trying to get around."

Then he got a wire from the firm: "Come on home. We can get our weather reports cheaper from the Observatory."

HOME DECORATION.

THE SPOT WHERE THE GOOD THINGS OF LIFE ARE DISPENSED.

A Cheerful and Well Appointed Dining Room—Furniture For Solid Comfort — An Attractive China Closet—A Bit of Wall Decoration.

"There are many dining rooms, even in the homes of the well to do, from which one may be excused for wishing to escape as soon as possible, so bare, gloomy and uninviting are they. The traditional furnishing of a dining room was with mahogany. This wood is too rare and expensive for common use at the present day, but oak is a noble substitute, and though not so rich a wood in appearance it has the merit of helping to make a room light and cheerful." So writes a Country Gentleman correspondent, who gives the following hints on making the dining room an attractive place:

If possible, let the table, chairs and sideboard be of the same wood and of the same general treatment as to design, etc., whatever be the wood that is used, and let these three articles have an appearance of solidity, for therein lie good taste and elegance.

The flimsy, highly ornamented furniture that is to be seen so commonly at the present day can hardly find its way into homes where taste and beauty are appreciated and understood.

There is a vast amount of comfort in such a chair as is figured herewith—capacious seat, arms on which to rest one's own arms, and leather back, seat and arm rests. There is solid comfort in eating while occupying such chairs, and a sense of luxury.

A china closet opening both from the kitchen and from the dining room is highly to be commended on the score of economy of labor, but where this is not practicable, and where the closet must stand by itself in one of the walls of the dining room, the design in the first illustration may prove suggestive, even if all its features are not followed. The top shelf is not inclosed except by a low latticework in front, and forms an excellent resting place for pieces of fine china, particularly such as will lend some color to the room. Additional color may also be secured by using a curtain of "old blue" over the middle compartment of the closet.

The woodwork of this china closet that is exposed to view, including the fronts of the drawers, should be of the same material as the wood of which the table, chairs and sideboard are made. The rail at the bottom of the middle compartment may be of brass or of the dull black iron that is used so much at present, and so artistically, for decorative purposes.

The bit of wall decoration shown is available where a wide chair rail is used upon the walls. The little shelf thus formed may be used for a short distance along a wall or between two windows for the display of rare and handsome bits of china, these pieces being protected by a handsome brass rail in front. Such bits of decoration serve to break up what might otherwise be somewhat bare wall spaces, and if in good taste are to be preferred to pictures, which are less suitable for dining room decoration than for any other room in the house.

THAT LANGUID FEELING

Is Not the Weather—It Means That You Want Toning Up—Try Dodd's Kidney Pills and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

These are the days of lassitude, the days when people have that languid feeling, when they would be satisfied to throw work and ambition to the winds, to sacrifice everything to the desire to rest.

You blame it on the weather.

It's not the weather, it's the condition of your system. It's all clogged up—you're run down. Your appetite is bad and your circulation is worse. If you want to feel bright and fresh, try a combined treatment of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and Kidney Pills. They will put an edge on your appetite, start your blood circulating and make you ready to enjoy your holidays. They've done it for others. Mrs. John A. Lawrence, of Maple Grove, N.S., has tried them. She says:—

"I have used six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and six boxes of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, and I have not enjoyed as good health for years."

Others will tell you the same. Try it.

The Face That Kills.

According to paragraphs that appear from time to time in the papers, sometimes backed up by more or less elaborate statistics, heart disease and paralysis are increasingly prevalent and fatal. It is not to be wondered at. This is a strenuous age, so strenuous that men are hurried along with its rapid current at so terrific a speed and with such constant application to work that body and mind are taxed beyond their powers of endurance. Our grandfathers, nay, even our fathers knew nothing of the stress of life as we feel it; who are engaged in its dire struggle to-day. No wonder that often the rupture of an engorged blood-vessel in the brain, or the failure of a sorely taxed valve in the heart, suddenly puts a stop to it all, and the man who thought that business must be attended to, no matter at how great a cost of hurry and wear and tear, finds some day that business has to go on without him. There are physical sins as well as spiritual sins, and many men ruin their bodies, who would not dream of doing damage to their souls. The plea of necessity is not a valid one either, for no man is compelled to sin against either his body or his soul. And yet, as we said just now, in this strenuous age it is no wonder that heart disease and paralysis are on the increase. Men rush—and drop. Other men rush past them a little farther—and drop in their turn. It would be better to slacken the pace, and hold out longer. We should get more done, and do it better. — Christian Guardian.

The Man Who Succeeds.

He was making all haste to reach Quebec, and hated to stop over night in Montreal. The palatial steamer of the Richelieu Navigation Company left her wharf at 7 o'clock p.m., the very hour at which his train from Ottawa reached Montreal. How could he possibly make the connection? At Prescott he sent a telegram to the captain of the steamer—"Hold boat for me ten minutes. No fail." Upon reaching the railroad station he jumped into a cab and drove like mad to the wharf, reaching it nine minutes after 7. The steamer was waiting. The captain seeing a man dashing up the gang-plank, ordered the lines cast off and advanced to the side of the vessel with outstretched hand to greet him. "In good time, sir," he said, deferentially, as the boat sailed away. "Ample, thank you." The best stateroom was assigned to the stranger, who acted as if he owned the line. Without a word he went ashore in Quebec next morning. The captain has since learned that he is only a commercial traveler instead of, as supposed, a director of the company. River pilots often twit him about the "masterly bluff that he didn't call."

Nervous Dyspepsia

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

A certain amount of nervous energy is necessary to stimulate the digestive organs in their work. When the nerves are weakened and exhausted and nerve force lacking, or when nervous energy is consumed in excessive mental labour or over-exertion of other organs, digestion is impaired, and headaches and dizzy spells come on.

This is why so many brain-workers, business and professional men and women, and others complain of indigestion, sleeplessness and accompanying ills. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food permanently cures each and every ailment resulting from weak blood and exhausted nerves. It is the most satisfactory treatment obtainable for nervous dyspepsia and indigestion.

Mrs. M. A. Sharp, 346 Dublin street, Peterborough, Ont., states:—"For some years I was troubled with indigestion, which developed into nervous dyspepsia, and besides suffering from nervousness, strange dizzy spells would come over me. Hearing of the good results obtained from Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, I decided to try it. After a pretty thorough test of this medicine, I can say that I never used anything that did me so much good. It seemed to be the very treatment that I needed, and as a result of its use, I am quite restored to health."

By noting your increase in weight while using this great food cure, you can prove for a certainty that it is adding new, firm flesh and tissue to the body. Through the medium of the blood and nerves, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food sends new vigour and energy to every organ of the human system, and overcomes disease. 50 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

A FREN' OF ME FREN'S FREN'

By J. LEICESTER HOLME

Copyright, 1903, By T. C. McClure

"Well, Kitty," said young Mr. Billy Dunn to his better half, "I'm up against it for fair. There ain't a thing in sight, an' that's a fact."

"Ah, now," replied Kitty in an encouraging tone, "don't go to sayin' that, Billy. Sure there must be a-plenty o' jobs for such a fine man as you are yourself. An' our good clothes still lastin' an' you lookin' so well too. Sure, now, go down to Steve O'Connell an' ast him. He'll know a man or two, that's what."

"Now I'll tell you, Billy," said Steve O'Connell ten minutes later, leaning comfortably across his little bar, "I don't know. You see, it's just after election, an' everything's full up to the gunnel. But now I'll tell you honest, Billy. I'll do somethin' for you. I'll introduce you to the man that 'll introduce you to the man that 'll introduce you to the man that's cap'n o' the precinct, an' there's one chanst in a hunderd that there'll be somethin' doin'."

The side door opened, and the tip of a helmet was thrust into the room. "By George!" exclaimed the bartender. "Here's the man himself. Say, Mulligan," he called. The helmet advanced into the saloon with Mulligan under it. "Say, Mulligan, you know Mr. Dunn. No? Well, make yourself acquainted with him. Mr. Dunn, Mr. Mulligan. Mr. Mulligan, Mr. Dunn. Mulligan," he continued, "Billy wants to get a job out o' your office. What 'll you have? He wants to get a job, an' could you oblige me as a fren', Mulligan, by puttin' my fren' Billy Dunn next to the wardman?"

"An' I'll take great pleasure," said Mulligan, smacking his lips, "in introducin' to any wardman any friend o' me friend Steve O'Connell. An' that's really elegant whisky you have on tap, Mr. O'Connell, so it is."

"Captain," said the wardman a day or two later as he ushered in a well dressed man, "this is Billy Dunn, pretty well known around here and a great friend of a friend of mine. He wants a job, anything you know to tide over for awhile. If you can do anything for him, cap, why, I'm standing back of him, you know."

"Mr. Dunn," remarked the captain after the wardman had left, "I'll tell you just how it is. You know this is just after election, and everybody wants everything in sight. There ain't a thing I've got that there ain't a dozen fellows trying to hold it down. I'll tell you what I'll do, though. I'll give you a signed knockdown to the chief, and if he can do anything, why, there you are. That's the best I can do."

He wrote a short letter of introduction, and, being pleased with the appearance of the applicant, he made it a bit stronger than usual.

"Blame it all!" exclaimed the chief of police as Dunn stood before him at headquarters the next day. "Kelly knows blame well there's no use sending you fellows up to me. Every blame position in my power to give is full, and Kelly knows it." He glanced up from the letter. The appearance of his visitor somewhat mollified him. "Mr. Dunn," he continued, "I'm sorry, blame sorry, to disappoint a personal friend of the captain's, but you know there's a limit to offices and to patience too. But here, since you're a personal friend of Kelly's, there's one thing I can do. I've got some influence with the mayor, and I understand he's got some small jobs left. I'll write a note, and you take it to the mayor, with this note of Kelly's, and I'll call him up on the phone and tell him you're coming. I'm always ready to oblige a friend of the captain's if I can."

Dunn took the note and started for the mayor. He ran the gantlet and stood in line to wait his turn.

"Mr. Mayor," he said as the mayor read the note and looked up with the air of a man who knows what's coming and doesn't want to hear it—"Mr. Mayor, I don't want a job."

"You—don't—want—a—job!" gasped the mayor. "Not a job? The chief sent you here, and you don't want a job?

"Mr.—er—Dunn," resumed the mayor impressively, "I have seen over 500 men today. I have kept count," he continued, pointing to a piece of paper, "and you are the first of all the men who don't want a job. And you a friend of the chief's! Well, tell me, what, in heaven's name, what do you want? I am ready, willing and able to do anything for the man who doesn't want a job!"

"I want," said Dunn, "a letter of introduction to the governor, whom, singularly enough," he added apologetically, "singularly enough, I have never met."

"Here, Mr. Dunn," replied the mayor, "you keep those letters. I don't want them. And for the rest, I'll accommodate you with the greatest of pleasure—any friend of the chief's. Go over to that young lady in the corner and dictate such a letter as you want and I'll sign it. Well, well; a friend of the chief's and doesn't want a job! Now, what can I do for you," continued the mayor to the next man in the line, resuming his accustomed air of weariness. And the next man wanted a job.

Two days later Mr. William Dunn sat closeted with the governor.

"Here are three letters," explained Mr. Dunn—"one from Captain Kelly, one from the chief and one from the mayor. I won't trouble you with the two first." He laid the mayor's letter down in front of the governor and flashed the signatures upon the other two letters before him. The governor merely glanced at them and then perused the letter of the mayor. It was a strong letter of recommendation. Mr. Dunn had taken care of that.

"Don't believe I've got a thing for you, Mr. Dunn," said the governor, "but I'll see." He pushed a button.

"Sturgis," he said to a man who appeared, "this is Mr. Dunn, a personal friend of Captain Kelly and the chief up the state and of Mayor Clayton. They want to place him, and I want to know what we've got on hand."

"Well," returned Sturgis doubtfully, "I don't know. There's only one place left, and I don't know whether that will suit any friend of the mayor. I doubt it. Still"—

"What is it?" inquired the governor.

"It's the head of that new record department, that's all."

"Well, that's a fact, Mr. Dunn," interposed the governor, "I don't know whether it would suit you, but it's all we've got, and if you want it"—

Dunn leaned forward in his chair. "What does it pay, Mr. Sturgis?" he inquired.

"Well, that's just it," returned Sturgis. "It only pays $3,000 regular salary, but"—

"Three thousand!" gasped Mr. Billy Dunn.

"Yes," returned Sturgis apologetically. "I thought you wouldn't want it, although there are lots of men that do. Still, Mr. Dunn, what with postage and sealing wax and—and things, why, you ought to get at least $5,000 out of it, one way and another, during the year. What do you think? It's the best we can do."

Mr. Dunn rose from his chair and walked over to the window. "Well," he replied finally, in a doubtful tone of voice, "I'll take it, after all."

The governor looked pleased. He leaned over and whispered to Sturgis: "This makes me solid now with those up state fellows, and you can write Dobbins and tell him that he can't have the job. I didn't want him to get it anyway. So it's all right all around."

"Well now, Mr. Dunn," said the governor as his visitor rose, "you can start in when you get ready, any time. And when you go back remember me to the mayor and Kelly and the chief. They're good fellows, all of them. Goodby, sir."

"Kitty," exclaimed the Hon. Billy Dunn a few hours later, as he finished his recital of what had happened, "this is my new motto. I made it up myself."

"Let's hear it!" exclaimed Kitty expectantly.

The Hon. Billy Dunn drew himself up to his full height.

"It's 'Always seek an introduction when in doubt,'" he said. "It's the latest move in the game of politics, it is."

MUNYON'S WITNESS.

George Barbeau's Sufferings Were Terrible—Knees Were as Red as Blood—Now Cured.

"I had the first twinges of Rheumatism last fall. I first noticed it in my knee, and finally it went all through my body, and my knees were swollen up like bladders, and red, as if filled with blood. I could not touch my knees for the frightful pain it caused me, and I was laid up in bed for six weeks. I had the best physicians in the city, and tried everything I could think of, with but little benefit. My business was seriously neglected, and sometimes at night I would suffer so much that I was almost distracted. I secured two vials of Munyon's Rheumatism Cure, and they made such a change in my condition that I decided to go on with them. The swelling soon went down in my feet, so much so that my wife could put on my shoes for me. I have now taken four bottles; the swellings have all gone, and I can attend business regularly. I take a dose of pills once in a while, simply as a preventative. The pains have all gone and have not returned since I first started taking them."—Mr. George Barbeau, 13 Nicholas street, Ottawa.

If you are sick, if you have indigestion, if you are nervous, if your liver or blood is out of order, if you have any kidney disease, if you have piles, or any ailment, ask your druggist for "Munyon's Guide to Health," it is free and will tell you how to cure yourself for 25c. SILENCE!

The instinct of modesty natural to every woman is often a great hindrance to the cure of womanly diseases. Women shrink from the personal questions of the local physician which seem indelicate. The thought of examination is abhorrent to them, and so they endure in silence a condition of disease which surely progresses from bad to worse.

It has been Dr. Pierce's privilege to cure a great many women who have found a refuge for modesty in his offer of free consultation by letter. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Doctor R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness.

"Having used Dr Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery' during the past year," writes Mrs. Mattie Long, of Pfouts Valley, Perry Co., Pa., "I can truthfully recommend these medicines for all female weaknesses. I have used several bottles of Favorite Prescription, which I consider a great blessing to weak women. I was so nervous and discouraged that I hardly knew what to do. Your kind advice for home treatment helped me wonderfully. Thanks to Dr. Pierce."

AN OLD STORY.

Pardon the Repetition, For It Holds Priceless Truth.

So much is being written nowadays about the nefariousness of worry that one grows accustomed to, and accordingly heedless of, the many warnings. No greater truth, however, has been promulgated in any age or among any people. For all classes of workers the mottoes "Won't Worry" and "Don't Fear" have incalculable value, but for the housewife, the real woman of affairs, these mottoes are a veritable treasure trove.

How often have I seen women sitting at their sewing or busied over dishes or dusting with knit brows and troubled gaze! Why? They were worrying. And the result was a headache and afterward a lot of unsightly wrinkles!

"Perhaps mother's worries are well grounded," you say. Yes, on the face of it that statement seems reasonable. Perhaps she is worrying about John's lack of application at school, or if he be a youth of older growth she is worrying over his "wild oats." Poor mother! And yet did ever a worry bring a cure? Isn't it, after all, the mother who has firm and cheerful faith in her boys and girls who finds in after years that she didn't neglect them when she refused to sit down and worry over them?

Whenever we let in the seeds of worry we also admit the companion seeds of distrust. A modern writer says "fear is a highway robber and worry is a sneak thief," and no sage of old ever gave utterance to a greater truth.

Just sit down, my dear housewife, and make a mental list of the things that have worried you for the past seven days! You will be amazed, if not appalled, at the list. And when you consider that every one of those worries and fears has stolen from your supply of vitality and good health you will wonder that you have lived through it, and perhaps, bless your dear heart, begin to worry over that.

The best cure for the worry habit is cheerful, optimistic concentration on whatever work you are doing.—Farm and Fireside.

WHY The Standard Mines and Milling Company

Capital $1,000,000 Ten Cent Shares

Is the Best Mining Investment on the Market To-day

It's mines are in three great mining camps in Idaho, Thunder Mountain and Trinity County, California. It has vast bodies of ore already above ground and extensive workings under ground, thus enough insight for its three plants for years. It has one-third of the stock in another company that has the biggest and richest reef of ore (all above ground) in the world. All it has to do is to wait for dividends on this stock. It has a capable honest and reliable Management. The price of stock is very low for the present, virtually ground floor.

Chonohitula Cold Reef Mining Co. owns

THE MINER'S DREAM.

(A mine above ground in California) and is selling a limited number of shares at Ground Floor Price and is paying 12 per cent. dividends, and going to par.

INDIAN RIVER NEWS.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

On Monday evening, the 29th of June a small picnic was held at the river in honour of Miss Clydesdale, our school teacher, who is home for her holidays. Tea was served in the park, and three boats were in attendance during the evening. A very pleasant time was spent by all.

Rev. Mr. Kelly will preach to the Orangemen at Warsaw on July 12, not the 21st, as published last week.

Several members of Keene Lodge A.F. & A.M., went to Havelock on Sunday to attend divine service. Among them were Messrs. Duff and Fife and Dr. Shaw.

Ex-Premier Dunsmuir Wins.

Ladysmith, B.C., July 4.— The great strike of Dunsmuir's coal mines ended Thursday night when a secret ballot resulted in 168 voting to return to work and 117 to continue the strike. Dunsmuir wins every point in the struggle, which lasted four months and cost in wages half a million dollars. The miners renounce the Western Federation of Miners.

OCCUPATION OF MANCHURIA.

Demand of Britain and Japan That Russia Must Evacuate That Chinese Province —Terms of the Joint Note.

Odessa, July 3.—According to advices received by the St. Petersburg newspaper Svett from Japan, the British and Japanese Ministers at Pekin have presented a note to the Chinese government in the following terms:

First, Russia's occupation of Manchuria threatens the maintenance of peace in the Far East, and injures the interests of England and Japan.

Second, if the departure of the Russians from Manchuria is indefinitely postponed, England and Japan must proceed to protect their interests.

Third, China must demand from Russia the immediate evacuation of Manchuria.

Fourth, Great Britain and Japan acknowledge no treaty between Russia and China, which does not bind Russia to evacuate Manchuria.

Fifth. If, after the evacuation of Manchuria, a treaty between China and Russia with respect to the civil administration of Manchuria is deemed necessary, such treaty can only be concluded with the approval of Great Britain and Japan.

Sixth, a reply to this note is demanded within five days.

Prince Ching, president of the Foreign Boards, adds The Svet, has counselled the Empress Dowager to accept the Anglo-Japanese demands, and has also requested United States Minister Conger to give them his support.

AS IT AFFECTS CANADA.

New England Cattle Are Excluded From Britain by Order.

London, July 4.—A new order of the Board of Agriculture was gazetted yesterday, revising previous orders, and prohibiting the landing in Great Britain of any hogs from the United States, besides prohibiting the importation of cattle from New England. The order goes into effect Aug. 1.

As It Affects Canada.

Toronto, July 4.—According to William Harris, the new order as it regards hogs will have no effect on the Canadian market.

The prohibition of cattle from the New England States is a surprise. It is a result of the non-success of the measures for stamping out the dreaded foot and mouth disease. In so far as the order effects Canadian dealers in cattle, it is a warning to be extremely careful that the disease is kept out of Canadian cattle, as it shows the strict feeling of the British Government in dealing with the question.

Will Not Force Federation.

Johannesburg, South Africa, July 4. — The International Conference opened here yesterday, Lord Milner in his inaugural address said that the financial situation was reassuring. Though rapid expansion was improbable in the near future, steady progress was certain. He disclaimed any intention of forcing federation, but he remarked it would come, though he did not expect it for some time.

SHARP PRACTICE.

Clandestine Manoeuvre by Toronto Street Railway to Extend Railway to City Limits—Mayor Urquhart Stops It.

Toronto, July 4.—An attempt was made by the Toronto Railway Company last night to extend their Avenue road line to the city limits, without having first secured an agreement with the city. The work was stopped by the Mayor, who was backed up by a posse of able-bodied police. The Mayor described the company's move as "the most diabolical steal ever perpetrated in the city."

The Street Railway Company has an agreement with the Township of York, and once over the boundary line there would be nothing to prevent a connection with the Metropolitan or any other railway company. The Metropolitan Company could get an entrance to the city without having to make an agreement with the city. There has been a great deal of manoeuvring on the part of the railways during the past couple of years, and city and company have been watching each other's moves with suspicion. This latest attempt to affect a junction will not allay these suspicions.

The Mayor and Assistant City Solicitor Chisholm secured an order from Mr. Justice Maclaren, at 2.20 this morning restraining the company from going on with the work until Tuesday next, when a motion will be argued at Osgoode Hall to continue the injunction permanently.

FIRE FRIGHTS 200 MINERS.

Panic in the Joggins' Colliery Near Amherst, N.S.

Halifax, July 4.—Two hundred miners at the Joggins' Colliery near Amherst, N.S., had a narrow escape from death by suffocation yesterday. A canvas screen covering in the pit caught fire about noon, and the mine was quickly filled with dense volumes of smoke. At first it was feared the men would be suffocated, but all were able to get out. Several, however, were overcome, and had to be carried to the shaft. Immediately on the alarm being given the men rushed frantically to the hoisting shaft, as it was feared an explosion would occur. Great excitement prevailed in the town, as ten men were at first reported killed. But little damage was done, and last night the fire was reported out.

"God Save Ireland."

Dublin, July 4.—A special meeting of the corporation of Dublin yesterday called to consider the proposal to present an address to King Edward on his approaching visit to Ireland, was broken up by an uproar in the public galleries. Lord Mayor Harrington, finding he could not quell the disturbance, abruptly left the chair and adjourned the meeting. The people in the gallery then sang "God Save Ireland," and cheered for Ireland until removed by the officials.

He May Die.

Tilbury, July 4.—While returning home from Fletcher yesterday afternoon, John Richardson of Tilbury East, met with a serious accident near here. His horse became frightened, running away and completely demolishing his rig. Mr. Richardson was thrown out on his head and shoulders. The physicians report him as doing favorably, but on account of his advanced age they fear he may not stand the shock.

May Be Murder.

Hamilton, July 4.—Richard Smith, a Burlington teamster, is in a very critical condition. It is alleged that Herman Forsyth, a youth 17 or 18 years of age, who is employed at Glover's basket factory, in that village, stole up behind him and struck him two blows on the head with a heavy hammer. County Constable Henderson is doing his best to locate the boy.

Hold-Up at St. Kitts.

St. Catharines, July 4.—William Calcott was held up by two men on Geneva street Thursday night and relieved of his watch. He was knocked insensible by his assailants, and several stitches were required to bring the gaping flesh together. The police arrested James McGlade and Cornelius Nagle in connection with the affair, and they were identified by the victim.

The Evidence You Value.

By word of mouth from friend to friend Dr. Chase's Ointment has received more unsolicited recommendation than probably any medicine you can mention. The fact that it is an absolute cure for piles has put it in a class all by itself as a preparation of inestimable value and people recommend it knowing that it is a certain cure.

THE WATER TRIBUTE

Many Young Lives Are Cut Off by Drowning.

SWIMMING SEASON VICTIMS.

Fatal Accidents in the Water at West Selkirk, Man., Muskoka, Barrie, Innisfil, Bobcaygeon and Sydney, N. S.—Two London Boys Rescued by the Prompt Action of Mr. Alfred Drewe.

Barrie, July 6.—The body of Lorne, the six-year-old son of W. McMann, who strayed away from home Friday noon, was found in the bay close to the shore.

Herbert Corbett a Victim.

Another drowning accident occurred on the fourth line, Innisfil, the victim of which was Herbert Corbett, aged 22. He and his uncle, Peter Greensides, started together to swim across a small pond on their arm. The uncle drew ahead and on reaching the other shore, only a few yards away, could see nothing of his companion. Search was made and the body found about the middle of the pond. Death is supposed to have been due to heart failure, as Corbett was a good swimmer.

One at Bobcaygeon.

Bobcaygeon, July 6. — A sad drowning accident occurred here about 6.30 Saturday evening. Georgie Gallagher, six years of age, while playing along the canal bank fell in and was drowned.

A Double Rescue.

London, July 6.—Alfred Drewe rescued two youths from drowning who had gone in swimming at the point known as "The Vally," at the foot of Maitland street. The boys could not swim and got out of their depth. Drewe, without taking off his clothes, rescued first one and then the other. The last one he found lying at the bottom of the river and was with great difficulty rescued and resuscitated.

A Swimmer's Fatal Cramp.

Port Carling, July 6.—A drowning accident occurred here Friday night, by which Mr. W. H. Moore, aged 31, of this place, lost his life. He had been in bathing in Thompson's Lake, a small lake just back of his residence, and was paddling around the lake in a boat with his wife. When near the shore he jumped into the water, saying he would swim ashore. Appearing to be in distress, his wife handed him a paddle, but he must have taken a cramp, for he was not able to help himself. He sank at once and did not come up again. The body was recovered Saturday morning and taken to Saintfield, Ont., for burial. Mr. Moore came here from Toronto this spring and rented a farm.

Squall Upset Skiff.

Sydney, July 6.—By the upsetting of a skiff in Sydney harbor yesterday afternoon Miss Louise Cluhan, aged 22 years, was drowned. She was out sailing with a young man named Hansen, when a squall struck the little craft and capsized it. Hansen was rescued in an exhausted condition, he having nearly lost his life trying to save his companion.

Young Scotchman Drowned.

West Selkirk, July 6.—John McDonald, a young stonemason, who had recently arrived from Scotland, was drowned while bathing in the Red River here yesterday.

NEGRO ARRESTED.

Negro Tramp Arrested at Havelock on Suspition.

On Saturday, the village constable at Havelock, arrested on suspicion a strapping negro tramp and lodged him in the county jail here. He answers fairly accurately to the description given of the tramp who is suspected of having perpetrated the dastardly murder of Glory Whalen at Collingwood, and the officials feel that there is a probability of the crime being traced to the prisoner, who is now being detained here.

EXTENDING DOUBLE TRACK ON GRAND TRUNK.

The Grand Trunk have given out a contract for the construction of another section of their main line on the Middle Division between Sarnia Tunnel and Hamilton, the successful contractors being Messrs. Ross & McCrae, who have done much railway building in Canada. The contract embraces that portion of the main line lying between Sarnia Tunnel and Kingscourt Junction—a distance of 22 miles, and the work will be continued eastward through Strathroy, London, Ingersoll and Woodstock.

The work of completing the second track on the Western Division between Port Huron and Chicago is progressing very favourably, and the total distance between Montreal and Chicago over the main line will be completed within a comparatively short time. There are only some 65 miles to be finished on the Western Division, and but a few miles between Toronto and Port Hope, and the line between Toronto and Niagara Falls is completed.

WOODMEN OF WORLD AT MURRAY STREET CHURCH

Impressive Sermon Preached to Fraternity by Rev. J. Bastow

Speaker Exhorted Members to set Affections on Things Above—Some Statistics Referring to Work of the Order.

The local brethren of the Woodmen of the World attended Divine service at the Murray street Baptist church last evening, when the pastor, Rev. J. Bastow, preached to them, from the text found in Matthew 6; 19, 22 and 21:—"Lay not up for yourselves treasures on earth, etc." and the sermon was one admirably suited to the occasion.

Mr. Bastow said, "We gladly welcome the members of the Canadian Order of Woodmen of the World to our sanctuary, and our service this evening. The spirit and aims that binds you together as a benevolent, fraternal and insurance organization is such as we can greatly approve of. We congratulate you upon the success which has attended the work of your organization. During the 10 years of your existence your record is one of which you have good reason to be proud. You have paid $322,636.00 to the widows and orphans of your brethren who have joined the great majority. You have erected monuments over their tombs and at the same time have accumulated a surplus of $70,000.00 which, I am informed is the largest that any other fraternal society of the same age has accumulated. Then, too, you have made liberal provision for operating in a larger scale in the future than you have in the past. We wish you abundant success, and hope you may have God's guidance and blessing. Follow the plan laid down in the Bible for the management of your society and you will have gratifying success as a body and as individuals and you will be a blessing to those whom you may influence."

Speaking on the text Mr. Bastow said that the subject had three divisions; the first verse was a prohibition—"Lay not up for yourselves treasures on earth." This does not however, prohibit foresight, nor provision for the future. It is the characteristics of human nature that as we advance in civilization and education we prepare for the future.

This prohibition means do not set your affections supremely on getting money and material good. Our affections should be centred first on the other life and that will regulate the earthly side of life.

He said he had no reason to think that the Woodmen of the World were in danger of placing material good first in their lives, but when any man becomes strongly attached to club life Christ gets little attention in that man's life. There is a strong tendancy in this age to develop along this line. The lesson for all is that the legitimate use of societies is that they may promote a stronger affection for the family and for the church.

The second verse is a command, and tells us where we should lay up our treasures—in Heaven. The shortness of life here is apparent to all, but we should remember that "It is not all of life to live, nor all of death to die."

In the strict sense we never die. We live forever either in happiness or misery. Therefore we should prepare for the other life. The happiness we experience here is nothing compared to that which will be ours in the future. Any material wealth which may be accumulated here will have to be left behind, and only our Godly character may be taken with us so that it should be cultivated.

The third verse, which gives the reason why our treasures should be above, says that where our treasure is there will our hearts be also. Christ mentions the heart, because all depends on the desires which spring from it. A man can be told by his inclinations. He closed with a strong appeal to all present to emulate the example of Christ and live the life which He lived.

POPE'S CONDITION IMPROVED.

His Holiness Rests Easier Because of Stimulants Administered.

(Special to the Examiner.)

Rome, July 6th. — A bulletin issued this morning, states that there is a slight improvement in the Pope's condition. His Holiness passed the night almost without sleep but he is not so uneasy as he was yesterday. The Pope has been benefitted by the injection of digitalis and camphor, and the condition of his chest is normal. There is a slight cough, with some catarrhal emissions. Sufficient nourishment has been taken. The pulse is still weak but not intermittent, and the temperature therefore is below normal.

CANADA'S PRIDE.

New Innovation on Grand Trunk's Famous "International Limited."

The dining room of the Cafe Parlour Car leaving Montreal this morning on the "International Limited" from Bonaventure Station was visited by a number of people to inspect a new innovation that the Grand Trunk are experimenting with in the way of an artistic curtain for the windows. This morning, for the first time, the curtains that have been formerly used were taken out and substituted by a new curtain made of pantasote, with an insertion of white silk in the centre, on which was printed in half-tone process a view of a scene on the Grand Trunk Railway System. This process of printing was so executed that it gave the appearance of a transparency, and the picture could be seen both from the inside and exterior of the car. Among the subjects that were used was noticed the celebrated picture of "Rabbits Bay — Lake of Bays" in the "Highlands of Ontario," and one which has been so favourably compared to Loch Lomond, in Scotland. Another view was the Grand Trunk Double-Track Steel-Arch Bridge across Niagara's Gorge, and a view taken among the New England Hills. This device in railroad equipment is entirely new, and the value of the curtains as an artistic adjunct to a railway car will be demonstrated in the next few days.

The Free Library Service, which was installed in the Cafe Parlour Cars on the Grand Trunk through trains, has been a source of much favourable comment by the travelling public, and the pictures have been made good use of, not only by the passengers who are non-subscribers to the Booklover's Library, but a great convenience and accommodation to the subscribers, who are allowed the privilege of exchanging their books on the Grand Trunk trains.

The "International Limited" left this morning with her usual large number of passengers.

FATAL WATERSPOUT

50 to 75 Persons Perish Through a Cloudburst.

DAM AT THE LAKE BREAKS.

Terrible Loss of Life at Greensburg, Pa.—Pleasure Seekers Loth to Leave Their Shelter—Street Car Barns and Crowded Waiting Rooms Demolished—Street Car Swept Into the Street.

Greensburg, Pa., July 6.—A waterspout of immense proportions struck in the vicinity of Oakland Park, at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and created a flood that caused great loss of life and property. It is known that at least twenty persons lost their lives, and rumors place the number of dead at more than 100, but up to a late hour last night only three or four bodies have been recovered, having been washed to the banks of the little creek that runs parallel with the park.

The names of those known and believed to have been drowned are: Miss Gertrude Keefer, aged 19, of Jeanette. Edward O'Brien, of Latrobe. Joseph Overly of Indianapolis, Ind. Lucy Crum of Jeanette, Council Light, wife and two children of Greensburg.

At 3 o'clock rain began to fall in torrents in the vicinity of the park, and spread over a territory covering probably ten miles. Half an hour later the cloudburst occurred. The waters in the lake north of Oakford Park began to rise, and Manager James McGrath, believing there was danger of a final break in the great walls of the dam, hurried among the crowds of pleasure seekers who had gathered under the roofs of the eating stands, the dancing pavilion and other buildings, warned them to run to the hills.

The gathering flood meant the breaking of the wall that held five acres of water. Soon after the building had been cleared the waters swept over the wall of the dam and in a moment a tower of water was racing over the entire length of 400 feet of the dam. The rain continued to fall in torrents, and it was not long before a great section of the wall gave away with a crash. The flood beat down the ravine with a roar that was heard for two miles.

The electric storm had rendered the power south of this place useless, and the motorman was unable to move the car. The flood struck the waiting-room containing probably a dozen people. A number of them struggled to a point of safety, but it is believed that at least ten persons were drowned. The street car was caught and swept into the creek. Among those who were washed into the flood was C. M. McClain of Greensburg, Edward O'Brien and Joseph Overly and Misses Keefer and Crum.

Dashed Against Rocks.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 6.—A telephone message from Jeanette, received at midnight, says that 50 to 75 men, women and children perished by the cloudburst at Oakford Park yesterday. The majority were drowned or swept to death against the rocks in Brush Creek, but a number were electrocuted. At least 800 persons were at the park seeking relief from the heat.

HER FATHER'S FATE.

Little Three-Year-Old Girl's Story Against Her Mother.

Ottawa, July 6.—Mrs. Lalonde and a man named Desrosiers were arrested by the Ottawa police in consequence of queer reports in circulation. The woman and her husband formerly lived on St. John's Island in the Georgian Bay, and Desrosiers was a boarder with them, taking out in board a debt that Lalonde owed him. The Lalondes had a three-year-old child, and the little one is alleged to have stated that while crossing to the mainland her father was thrown overboard and drowned. The police were unable to obtain any further evidence to justify them in detaining Mrs. Lalonde and Desrosiers, but are looking into the matter.

REGATTA AT STURGEON.

Interesting Event to Take Place on July 11th.

On Saturday, July 11th, the residents of Lindsay and Sturgeon Point are to hold at Sturgeon Point what promises to be one of the most successful regattas held on the Kawartha Lakes in many years. A cordial invitation has been extended by the committee to all local canoeists and others interested to participate in this regatta. All the events are open, and it is hoped that a large number of the local paddlers compete.

The events consist of skiff and dinghy sailing races, gasoline and steam launch races, and paddling races for singles, tandems and fours, upset race and tilting, and last, but not least, a war canoe race, in which a number of entries are already assured. The Toronto Canoe Club have entered two crews for this event, Orillia has promised one, and it is hoped that Barrie and the Argonauts, of Toronto, will enter their crews. A royal battle is assured between some of these crews, as last year Orillia succeeded in defeating the crack Toronto crew.

Arrangements have been completed to provide luncheon and supper on the grounds for visitors. Close connection will be made between trains and boats. The Toronto Canoe Club is running an excursion from Toronto and will take up with them about 200 members and friends.

We hope that a large number of our local canoeists will enter in the various events and uphold the honors of our town.

Argonauts Win at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, July 6.—The annual people's regatta was held Saturday on the national course on the Schuylkill River. There was a swift current, due to recent rains, and the time was generally fast. Only one record, however, was broken, the honor going to the Argonaut Rowing Club of Toronto, which won the senior eight in 7m. 30 1-5s. The previous record was 7m. 39s, held by the Vesper Club's Paris crew.

The Evidence You Value.

By word of mouth from friend to friend Dr. Chase's Ointment has received more unsolicited recommendation than probably any medicine you can mention. The fact that it is an absolute cure for piles has put it in a class all by itself as a preparation of inestimable value and people recommend it knowing that it is a certain cure.

Peterborough Boy's Success.

Mr. A. P. Earle, a son of Mr. Barton Earle, of Peterborough, has been offered and accepted the position of actuary of the Reliance Life Insurance Company, of Pittsburg, Pa. Mr. Earle is one of the youngest insurance men in the business, having passed the examinations necessary to membership in the Institute of Actuaries when but 18 years old. The Bulletin says of him:—"He is now in his 23rd year, and if he continues to rise as he has done, a brilliant future is assured him." On Mr. Earle's departure from Toronto his friends in the North American Life Company presented him with a handsome diamond set locket, and an embossed address. The Examiner congratulates one of Peterborough's sons on his success. He graduated from the Collegiate Institute here.

An invitation is extended to those not members of the association to attend this meeting. The desire of the association is to discuss this question in an impartial spirit and their object in calling the meeting is to give all an opportunity of expressing an opinion.

GIGANTIC PICNIC OF CEREAL EMPLOYEES.

A Most Enjoyable Event at Jubilee Point on Saturday.

Utmost Harmony Prevailed Throughout the Day—Splendid Programme of Sports Held.

Of all the excursions that have been held running out of Peterborough, that of the American Cereal Company's employees on Saturday, to Jubilee Point, was, viewing it from every standpoint, one of the most successful. A remarkable tribute to the spirit of fairness—even liberality—which actuates the company in its dealings with the employees, is the fact that even in this day when strife between the forces represented by capital and labour, is the rule, and becoming almost a normal condition, not an employee of the American Cereal Company can be found who will say he or she is not being dealt liberally with.

The spirit of harmony which exists between the different departments of this large industrial establishment was the striking characteristic of the excursion and picnic on Saturday, and to any employer who wants to know what the effect on his workmen will be of fair dealing, the education to be gained by being a witness of the conduct of the "Quaker" employees Saturday, would be worth a good deal. Despite the fact that a bar was open, not one of the 400 excursionists was intoxicated; not only that, but as far as the Examiner representative heard, not a profane word was uttered, in fact the exemplary conduct of the excursionists as well as the feeling of harmony which prevailed was most remarkable.

In the programme of sports which occupied the afternoon, each event had a great many entries, and the decisions given by the judges were unquestioned, each accepting victory or defeat with equal cheerfulness, and the impression received by one whose business it is to observe things, was that the employees of the American Cereal Company are ladies and gentlemen.

At half past seven the staunch steamer City of Peterborough left her dock with over 300 excursionists, everyone of whom was bent upon getting the most pleasure possible out of the outing, which the generosity of the Cereal Company had provided. To the strains of music produced by the 57th Regiment Band, which accompanied the crowd, the boat glided down the river, the banks of which were bedecked in nature's beautiful garb of green.

"The smile that won't come off," was on everyone's countenance, and those who were not on the upper deck enjoying the music of the band, were on the lower one tripping the light fantastic with the fair maids of "Quaker" and "Banner" fame. After a most pleasant three hours' sail the boat arrived at Jubilee, followed shortly after by her sister steamer, Water Lily," with about 100 passengers.

Tables, which upon the arrival of the visitors, looked bare and uninviting, were rapidly covered with veritable "feasts for the gods," and soon everyone was busy satisfying the appetites which the breath of the pines produced.

After this the programme of sports was run off, and in the management of this, the system to which no doubt is largely due the success of the operations of the company, was manifest, not a hitch occurred in the whole arrangement, and everything passed off with the utmost good feeling being displayed. The committee having charge of the games was composed of Messrs. J. A. and S. W. Laird and W. H. Cavanah, and every member of it worked like Trojans all afternoon, and all may well feel proud of the success of their labours.

The first event was a tug of war between the heads of departments and the Quakers, the prize being a box of fifty cigars donated by Mr. T. J. Grant. The "Heads" made a valiant attempt to bring the Quakers to defeat, but were twice beaten by the stalwarts. This was followed by a ladies' tug of war between young ladies representing the Banner finishers, and the Quaker finishers for a five pound box of candy presented by Mr. W. H. Dibben, the Quakers being successful. The following young ladies composed the teams:

Quakers — Misses J. Deliard, L. Guerin, M. McWha, L. Barter, M. Sullivan, A. Hall, Ada Hall, O. Hall.

Banner — Misses M. Hennessey, B. Matchett, M. Geary, J. McNern, M. Clark, F. Stephenson, T. Toges, A. Horsfield.

A waggishly inclined member of the out-pulled "Banner" octette, demurely suggested that their defeat was doubtless due to the "Quakers" having so much "Hall" on their team.

The balance of the programme was as follows:—

Young Ladies' Race, (under 15 years)—1st, Miss Gertie George, 2 lb. box candy; 2nd, Miss Katie McNicholl, 1lb. box of candy. Both presented by Mr. S. W. Laird.

Young Ladies' Race (open to all)—1st, Miss Gertie George, pair kid gloves, presented by Miss L. Deannard; 2nd, Miss I. Kylie, 2 lb. box candy, by Mr. J. A. Laird; 3rd, Miss Emily Miller, 1 lb. box candy, by Mr. W. H. Cavanah.

Married Men's Race (100 yards)—George P. Edwards, 1 case of Quaker Oats, presented by Mr. T. H. G. Denne.

Young Men's Race (100 yards)—1st, Mr. W. H. Cavanah, box of 50 cigars, by Mr. R. Wegmiller; 2nd, B. Simpson, box 25 cigars, by Mr. W. H. Cavanah.

Men's Sack Race—W. Welsh, box of 50 cigars, presented by Mr. G. P. Edwards.

Ladies' Sack Race—1st, Miss Emily Miller, 3 lb. box candy, by Mr. S. W. Laird; 2nd, Miss Lizzie Kelly, 1 lb. box candy, by Mr. W. H. Cavanah.

Boys' Race (12 to 15 years)—1st, John Johnson, baseball and bat; 2nd, Fred Heaslip, catching glove, both presented by Mr. G. Prentice.

Boys' Race (under 12 years)—1st, J. MacDonald, boy's watch; 2nd, Frank Halpany, catching glove; 3rd, Alex. MacDonald, baseball; 4th V. O'Connell, baseball and bat, all the above being given by Mr. A. Miller.

Young Ladies' Race (under 12 years)—1st, Myrtle Wolfe, 2 lb. box candy; 2nd, Myrtle O'Toole, 1 lb. box candy, the above prizes were the gifts of Mr. J. A. Laird; 3rd, Ola Mulligan, 1 lb. box candy; 4th, Lizzie Grady, 1 lb. box candy, these being donated by Mr. S. W. Laird.

An interesting contest was that in throwing the 16 lb. hammer, the prizes for which were boxes of cigars donated by Mr. A. P. MacDonald. The first prize was won by Mr. W. H. Cavanah at 50 ft. 5 in., and the second by Mr. T. J. Grant at 49 ft. 8 in.

Then followed putting 16 lb. shot, the prizes being as before, boxes of cigars, also presented bu Mr. MacDonald. In this Mr. Cavanah was again successful, his record being 29 ft. 9 in., with Mr. W. Walsh second at 27th ft. 4 in.

A 7-innings baseball game was then played between teams representing the Packers and Packing Department and the Mill. This game was replete with many brilliant plays, including fast doubles, triples and quadruples, the result being a win for the Packers and Packing Department by a score of 15—3.

This is the only game on record where there was no abuse given the umpire, consequently there have already been numerous applications received for the position of umpire for next year. The teams lined up as follows:—

P. and P. D.—Ray Kirn, 3b; K. Simpson, 1b; H. Fitzgerald, c; B. Simpson, 2b; R. Walker, rf; S. W. Laird, ss; W. H. Cavanah, p; R. Duncan, lf; H. Long, cf.

The Mill—Judge, 2b; Doris, 3b; Clancy, lf; Edwards, 1b; Crowley, c; McKeown, p; Grey, ss; Welsh, rf; Perdue, cf.

A football match between the Quakers and Heads of Departments resulted in a win for the former by a score of 3—0, after a game of 40 minutes duration. During the afternoon the 57th Regiment Band gave a select concert which added materially to the pleasure. They also provided music in the dancing pavillion, which was well patronized by those who enjoyed that form of amusement.

After another delicious repast had been partaken of the boats were again boarded and after a most enjoyable evening sail the parties arrived home about 9 o'clock, and the Quakers' Picnic of 1903 in all except delightful memories was at an end.

That the employees appreciate the interest in their welfare which the Company manifests was made evident by the many expressions which were heard during the day, and by the desire shown by everyone to make the day a success, which it most decidedly was. The Examiner wishes to express its appreciation of the handsome manner in which the representatives of the press were treated, both by the Company and the employees. The Committees to whom credit for the gigantic success of the day is due are as follows:—

Chairman—Mr. A. P. MacDonald.

Judges Games and Sports—Mr. O. C. Kirn. Mr. T. H. G. Denne, Mr. W. H. Dibben, Mr. J. H. Larmouth, Mr. R. Stuart.

Arrangements — Messrs. M. J. Kirn, R. Wegemiller, F. C. Walker, G. P. Edwards, G. Prentice, T. J. Grant, J. A. Laird, W. H. Cavanah, S. W. Laird, A. Miller.

Games and Sports—Messrs. J. A. Laird, W. H. Cavanah, S. W. Laird.

The employees wish the Examiner to express their thanks to the company and the members of the different committees for the entertainment provided.

ANNIVERSARY OF ST. LUKE'S CHURCH.

Rev. Dr. Symonds Preached Eloquent Sermons.

Brief Historical Sketch of the Parish—28 Years Under Various Rectors.

Yesterday the 27th anniversary of St. Luke's church was celebrated, and the celebration was in every way highly successful. Rev. Dr. Symonds, the former greatly respected rector, preached at both services to large congregations. The parish of St. Luke's was formed in 1876 chiefly through the exertions of the late Rev. Mark Burnham, B.A. The first service was held on July 9th, the late Bishop of Toronto, Right Rev. Dr. Bethune, officiating in the morning, and the first incumbent, Rev. W. C. Bradshaw, preached his first sermon in the evening. The first confirmation was administered to 34 candidates, on October 15th of the same year. Soon the little school house was found inadequate and a new church was decided upon, it being built, and opened on September 23, 1877, and freed from all debt in May, 1878.

The membership continued to increase, and in 1885, the school room was taken down, and a larger one built, the corner stone being laid by John Burnham, Esq., on October 22, 1885.

During this time, the Rector, Rev. W. C. Bradshaw, was suffering from ill-health and Rev. George Warren, B.A., was engaged temporarily, and afterwards Rev. J. W. McCleary. in 1890 Rev. Mr. Bradshaw was obliged to tender his resignation, which was reluctantly accepted. Rev. J. W. McCleary was offered the position of Rector and accepted, officiating until 1892, when he, too, had to resign by reason of ill health. It was at this juncture that Rev. H. Symonds, M.A., began his rectorship. He guided the parishioners in things spiritual with marked success until 1901, when he was offered the position of headmaster of Trinity College School, Port Hope, which he accepted. Rev. E. A. Langfeldt was asked to accept the vacant rectorship, which he did, and has since continued to administer to the congregation of St. Luke's with increasing success, and the future prospects of the parish under his care are exceedingly bright.

A large congregation greeted Rev. Dr. Symonds yesterday morning. The service was conducted by Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, while the late headmaster of Trinity College School, Port Hope, delivered a feeling address, touching his departure from this district. The reverend gentleman stated it was with mingled feelings that he was about to speak a few simple words from the pulpit which he had occupied for some years. He remarked that it was just two years ago that he said good bye as the rector of St. Luke's, and little did he think then of the new work which he was destined to undertake. He said that in the future he did not expect to put in years more happy, or nearly as happy as those 10 years which he spent as the rector to the congregation which he was now addressing. Continuing, Rev. Dr. Symonds stated that although he was going farther away than Port Hope he hoped to frequently re-visit Ashburnham. The preacher touched upon the very great pleasure it was to him to be greeted by so many smiles and hearty handshakes, which, he was assured, clearly showed that all were pleased to see him back again.

Changing his subject, Rev. Dr. Symonds said that life is not easy, and that all of us are often much discouraged and cast down, but he remarked, we should all be happy when we realize the difficulties which we might have had to encounter, and the trials we might have had to endure, all of which, he stated, could be overcome by faith. He said that he hoped to again be welcomed by many smiling faces, happy through faith in God, and in conclusion, urged that as the lockmaster opens the gates and allows the water to rush in, so should all of us open our hearts and allow them to be filled with faith in the one Supreme Power. The service was brought to a close in the usual manner.

THE EVENING SERVICE.

The anniversary services were continued in the evening, when Rev. Dr. Symonds was again the preacher. The church was well filled and all were delighted with the eloquent sermon which the Rev. Dr. preached from the text, "Jesus Christ, the same yesterday, to-day and forever.

Speaking of the anniversary occasion, he said that all of us are painfully aware that we live in a world of change. Everywhere the fact is impressed upon us. Those who remembered the building and opening of the church, of which the anniversary is now being celebrated, on looking back can recall many faces and forms which were then conspicuous, but which have since been lost to their friends, and there is a feeling of pain at the changes which have occurred within the church. Many of those who at the opening were full of energy, high spirits and happiness, have gone, and the new faces barely compensate for their loss.

It is with mingled feelings that the celebration is participated in. All are pleased at the evidences of success which are seen; the larger and more beautiful church, the enlarged congregation, and the bright prospects for the future of the church, but there have been changes, and change involves pain. Pain is found everywhere; true, to some it is more acute than to others, but nearly all can say, "Oh, for the touch of a vanished hand and the sound of a voice that is still." And although changes are not always pleasant, we should not rebell against what is a part of our life, because it is a necessary element in our constitution that we should change. There is something in our natures, however, in spite of the universal changing, which is permanent, and that characteristic is the feeling of our own infinity. Man, who is never content, and never the same, is by an indescribable bond, linked to God, in whom there is no change, no decay, no parting, and looks forward to the future when there will be no broken friendships. In this world where the law of change is so universal, one may well ask "Is religion also subject to the law of change?" If it is, will not Christianity also change? There are some who say that Religion will soon be done away with, and something else will take its place. The arguments used by those who hold this opinion are not new. They are the same old arguments, clothed perhaps in a new form. It is true that religion does change, but the change is in form, not in the essence. In spite of the assertions that Christianity is decaying, there has never been an age when there was more serious, or more elevated views of religion, the result of which has been the institution of such societies as Christian Endeavours, Guilds and Brotherhoods, composed, not of the clergy, but of the individual members of the churches. Another result is the interest displayed in Foreign Missions. This age is exceptionally religious.

Men say that as all things change religion must also change. A change is involved, but not destruction. The change is one of improvement, not of retrograde. The fact that all history points to religion as a necessary constituent of manhood is sufficient proof that it will not be destroyed.

Then, again, the question was asked "How can we be sure that Christianity is the last and best of all systems?" One answer is that Christianity is the flower of Judaism. The Jews had a genius for religion, as the Grecians had a genius for art.

We need not expect any higher form of religion, because we cannot conceive of any higher ideal of God than that revealed in His Word. In the Bible is found the best imaginable conception of the truest relations of man to man, so that no one can conceive of a more perfect religion. Many have honest doubts about certain religious creeds or beliefs, but all such may in the brightest light of science hold fast to the belief in God, in man as brothers, and in the blessedness of those who love God, in the New Heaven.

"Religion," he said, 'is the permanent need of the heart, and Christianity is the supplying of that need."

The changes which come in religion are due to the fact that man is variously constituted. But the change is always to deeper and truer conception of Christianity. But though man may change, God always remains the same. The reason why the Holy Spirit was sent was because Christ did not believe that at any time would all men be fully in the truth, but he intended that they should be always growing into a deeper and stronger religious belief. New thought and new ideas should not be the cause of disquietude, because they contribute to a better knowledge of Christ. The world, although it is improving, is yet far from being perfect. It is imperfect in deed, in in faith and in knowledge.

Speaking of the satisfactory growth of St. Luke's, he said they should never be content to stand still, but should continue to grow in those graces which are the test of the genuineness of faith. For 28 years they had been changing, but the change had been in their faith becoming more strong and calm, and their knowledge more perfect.

Dr. Symonds closed a most impressive sermon by exhorting all to continue to advance all the lines indicated until they should see him face to face, who is "the same yesterday, to-day and forever." Dr. Symonds' discourses were much enjoyed by his former parishioners, who are pleased to learn of the success which is attending his efforts in the ministry.

The choir, under the leadership of Mr. Armstrong, rendered special music, and in the evening Mr. Jos. Legg sang delightfully "Abide with Me."

FATAL ACCIDENT ON GRAND TRUNK

By Which Engineer McAuliffe Lost His Life.

Fireman Porter, of Millbrook, Severely Injured—Boiler Explosion the Cause.

A distressing accident occurred on the G.T.R. near Stirling about two o'clock on Sunday morning, by which Robert C. McAuliffe of Peterborough lost his life, and his mate, Porter, of Millbrook, was severely injured, and is at present lying at St. Joseph's Hospital in an unconscious condition.

Mr. McAuliffe was engineer on a freight running from Lindsay to Belleville, and when near Stirling the crown sheet of the boiler, it is said, blew out, allowing the steam to escape, scalding the engineman and fireman to such an extent that the engineer afterwards succumbed to his injuries.

It will probably never be known just what was the cause of the accident. The deceased engineer was a thoroughly competent man, having been running a locomotive for 10 years, and was a strictly sober employee, and one who was regarded as particularly reliable. He and the fireman were brought to Peterborough, arriving here about 8 o'clock Sunday morning, and were taken to the St. Joseph's Hospital, where Mr. McAuliffe died last evening about 7 o'clock.

He was the only son of the late Florence McAuliffe, and was a young man highly thought of by his associates.

The funeral will take place from the family residence, corner Charlotte and Louis streets, Tuesday at nine a.m., to St. Peter's Cathedral and to the Roman Catholic Cemetery. The late Mr. McAuliffe was a member of the Catholic Order of Foresters, and the members will probably attend the funeral in a body.

The fireman, Porter, is at present doing as well as can be expected and hopes are entertained for his recovery.

SICK TWO YEARS BUT WAS CURED

Dodd's Kidney Pills Credited With Another Victory Over Lumbago.

John Ball, a Quebec Bricklayer, Tells how his Troubles Vanished When he Tried the Great Canadian Kidney Remedy.

Quebec, July 5th, (Special.) — One more remarkable cure has been marked up to the credit of Dodd's Kidney Pills in this city. John Ball, bricklayer, of 57 Little Champlain street, is the man cured. Interviewed regarding the matter he said:

"I have been troubled with lumbago for two years and have not been able to do any work. I was also suffering from urinary troubles and had to get up at night so much that my rest was spoiled.

"I bought one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills and after using them began to see and feel a change. I have used three boxes and I am now cured."

Similar cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills are reported so frequently that it seems safe to say that Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure any form of Kidney Complaint or any disease caused by disordered kidneys.

Lavatory Pipes.

Lavatory pipes are easily cleansed of soap and slime. Place a good handful of salt in the bottom of the basin overnight. The salt will gradually dissolve, and the first flush of water in the morning will clear the pipe.

HOT WEATHER STYLES.

Washing Frocks Will Have a Fine Time of It This Season.

The summer has had its busy finger in many departments of dress. In waists finely tucked thin linens in pale colors, with bretelles, insertions and trimmings of torchon, delicate, but strong enough to stand careful laundry work, will be popular, and from crepe de chine to the finest chiffon and French muslin the range of blouses is wide enough to please any one. The pretty waist illustrated is in palest blue chiffon, pouched back and front, tucked and gauged, latticed with blue velvet ribbon and trimmed with guipure motifs.

Cottons and linens for waists and entire costumes are elaborated by a dozen devices, the favorite being silk cord, with pendent tassels and yokes of the finest and softest embroidered lawn.

The long shoulder seam is applied to many of the new foulard and voile day dresses, and when worn with full, long skirts this is to be much commended, the effect being crowned with the hat, also of the drooping order, cavalier in shape perhaps, with a long plume at one side.

Bodices are only slightly pouched, the high waistbands are a novel feature, and the sack bolero, the tippet, or the pelerine—call it what you will, and there is variety enough to embrace any number of names—threatens to be the distinct outdoor garment for summer.

Below the waist for a few inches the skirt is tucked, gathered or plaited, so that it outlines the figure, then it flows in graceful fullness, and there is an astonishing amount of width employed in the thin materials, which will be the dominant ones for the summer.

Silk muslins, chiffons, canvas and voile are to be worn in browns, dark blues and blacks made up over white, and also in very light colors, white leading the way.

It is in sleeves that the new modes have most strongly asserted themselves. The long one for evening wear has come to stay, and, provided that it is diaphanous enough, it has many charms. Low bodices are mostly cut off the shoulders, but held up in place by a band, or, what is far newer, lace or thin material which incloses the point of the shoulder. With high bodices the shoulders slope and the sleeves are close fitting at the top.

Washing frocks will have a good time of it this year, for washing materials are so delightful that few can resist their charms; not that the washing material always acts up to its reputation when it is face to face with the washtub, but this is a minor detail. Why think of remote possibilities?

Lawns, batistes, coarse linens and tussores are in the first flight of fashion, but embroidered they must be with spots large or small, or sprigs of flowers. Linen embroideries, filet guipures, or the daintiest of ribbons of gauze-like persuasion, go to their adornment, than which no one could desire anything better.

With the bolero, the last word has been said as to the make of bodice; it is here, there and everywhere in one form or another. Usually we find it as a very short plaited sack, revealing a plisse blouse underneath, but this is made all trim at the waist by a high directoire belt.

The waistband is one of the most important items in the tout ensemble, and quite time it was for it to reassert itself, after a period of depression, during which it was overshadowed by the pouch.

Egg blue in soft cloth is quite fashionable, and with these cloth dresses there are many little sacks which are unlined and made to slip on and off quite easily. They are exceptionally pretty over a blouse bodice. Light green is another favorite color in soft woolens.

The Fad For Linen.

Linen gowns are promised as fashionable wear this season for hot weather. They are embroidered in relief with coarse white thread and trimmed with lace. The three godet flounces are a favorite style for the skirts extending from waist to hem. Irish crochet is another fitting accompaniment. Linens will wash, so this point has to be considered in arranging the make of these gowns, and no style should be chosen that would be spoiled by ironing. Some of the thinner makes have the skirt corded with coarse cord horizontally, and it is so arranged that the cords can be drawn straight for the cleansing process and rucked when rearranged by the simple plan of not cutting the cords.

Nervous Dyspepsia

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

A certain amount of nervous energy is necessary to stimulate the digestive organs in their work. When the nerves are weakened and exhausted and nerve force lacking, or when nervous energy is consumed in excessive mental labour or over-exertion of other organs, digestion is impaired, and headaches and dizzy spells come on.

This is why so many brain-workers, business and professional men and women, and others complain of indigestion, sleeplessness and accompanying ills. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food permanently cures each and every ailment resulting from weak blood and exhausted nerves. It is the most satisfactory treatment obtainable for nervous dyspepsia and indigestion.

Mrs. M. A. Sharp, 346 Dublin street, Peterborough, Ont., states:—"For some years I was troubled with indigestion, which developed into nervous dyspepsia, and besides suffering from nervousness, strange dizzy spells would come over me. Hearing of the good results obtained from Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, I decided to try it. After a pretty thorough test of this medicine, I can say that I never used anything that did me so much good. It seemed to be the very treatment that I needed, and as a result of its use, I am quite restored to health."

By noting your increase in weight while using this great food cure, you can prove for a certainty that it is adding new, firm flesh and tissue to the body. Through the medium of the blood and nerves, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food sends new vigour and energy to every organ of the human system, and overcomes disease. 50 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

To protect you against imitations the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box. 3

PATENTS IN CANADA

SOME QUEER INVENTORS AND THE PATENTS THEY ASK FOR.

The "Ezekiel Flying Machine," for Which the Idea Was Got From the Prophet's Book—Three or Four Flying Machine Applications Yearly in Canada—Roller Boats Also a Popular Scheme.

The Canadian Commissioner of Patents, under the present system, has no easy job of it, says Day by Day in The Toronto News. One day, not so very long ago, the patent office received an application for a patent on the "Ezekiel flying machine." The applicant proved to be a minister of the Gospel, and he explained to the examiner that the book of Ezekiel was not merely prophecy, but contained a full and accurate recipe for aerial flight. This he had worked out with India ink drawings and diagrams, which he was positive would settle the case. The examiner answered that he had no doubt it would, but meanwhile the applicant would be required to subscribe to the customary oath. The minister seized the paper with avidity, but laid it down sadly when he found that he was required to swear that he was the original discoverer of the invention. As he could not afford to discredit his favorite book of Scripture, he withdrew his letter of application and sketches.

Inventors' Secrecy.

Three or four times a year have the officials in the Patent Office to receive applications for patents on flying machines. The secrecy with which so many inventors surround their experiments is usually due not alone to the desire to be sensational, but quite as much to the fact that they cannot get a patent on their inventions, and thus protect them against ruinous imitation. The Patent Act requires that an invention be really an invention, i.e., that it be new and useful. To be of use, it would seem a flying machine must be able to fly. In the case of any ordinary mechanism, it suffices to make a series of drawings to file with the specification, the principles involved being so familiar that any one skilled in the art to which the device belongs could produce a specimen from the patterns and descriptions, and would know in advance that it would work. Not so with the flying machine, which has so far defied the brightest wits that have been trained on it. There never was an inventor of a flying machine who did not "know" that it would work. But, on the other hand, there is at Ottawa no model that has ever borne out its claims.

Roller Boats Roll Not.

The same way with the roller boats. Tens of thousands of dollars have been spent on the effort to make the boat "roll." And roll it did—usually in a totally unexpected direction. There have been half a dozen inventors of roller boats, at least one of whom has spent his entire fortune in striving after the seemingly impossible. The flying machine presents even more difficulties. When the application for permission to submit plans and specifications is made, the Patent Office blandly and patiently answers that, by all means, the gentleman may send in his descriptions of the flying machine. Of course, the Patent Office believes that the gentleman is going to score a failure, but that is not the business of the Patent Office. If the gentleman—as has been done once or twice—asserts that he has a full-sized machine that will fly, he is asked to bring forward the testimony of persons who have seen it fly.

Maxim's Machine.

Probably the man who has made, next to Santos Dumont, the best effort at solving the problem of human flight, is Sir Hiram Maxim, the gun inventor. He built a huge aeroplane, which was propelled by a powerful steam engine, and which ran between upper and lower rails. It demonstrated the ability of a self-propelled aeroplane to elevate itself, but was not regarded as a successful flying machine, because it could not run long enough. The engine required so much water that it could not carry the weight of fuel necessary for sustained flight. Sir Hiram Maxim never allowed his machine to soar away from the rails that held it in subjection for fear it would run out of fuel and come to earth with a crash, for no means had been discovered to keep it in control. The fuel difficulty may, of course, be settled by the use of gasoline. Still, the way out is not yet clear.

Flying Machine Toys.

There have been invented a good many small affairs which will go into the air and stay there a while. They will not carry human passengers, and they are really toys. As toys alone have they received the sanction of the Patent Office. Anybody can get a patent on an invension of this kind if only it will perform gyrations in the air. Dirigible balloons are not treated by the Patent Office as machines for mechanical flight, for the balloon is an old device and all that can be new is the steering apparatus, which, owing to the way the field has been covered, is usually rejected on the ground of a lack of novelty without any serious examination of its broader claims. The English and American inventor always seeks to have his inventions patented at Ottawa, as well as at London and Washington, and the Canadian Patent Office usually follows the English or American precedents in adjudicating on the applications of the flying machine men. The experts at Ottawa are still unconvinced that a flying machine, despite Santos Dumont's exhibitions, will "work." Until a balloon can maintain a speed of twenty-five miles an hour and be subject to human direction, they assert that it gives no assurance of ability to keep on its course in a wind of any strength, and is, therefore, not to be set down among the possibilities. Gas bags are no part of flight; flight is the result of motion alone.

Imitations

of Dodd's Kidney Pills are legion. The box is imitated, the outside coating and shape of the pills are imitated and the name—Dodd's Kidney Pills is imitated. Imitations are dangerous. The original is safe. Dodd's Kidney Pills have a reputation. Imitators have none or they wouldn't imitate. So they trade on the reputation of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Do not be deceived. There is only one DODD'S. Dodd's is the original. Dodd's is the name to be careful about—

HANDICAPPED.

The man who started to run a race in chains and fetters would be visibly handicapped. No one would expect him to succeed. The man who runs the race of life when his digestive and nutritive organs are diseased is equally handicapped. In the one case his strength is overweighted, in the other it is undermined. Success demands above all else a sound stomach.

Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. When this is done food is perfectly digested and assimilated and the body receives strength in the only way in which strength can be given—by the nutrition derived from digested and assimilated food.

"The praise I would like to give your 'Golden Medical Discovery' I cannot utter in words or describe with pen," writes James B. Ambrose, Esq., of 1203½ Mifflin Street, Huntingdon, Pa. "I was taken with what our physicians here said was indigestion. I doctored with the best around here and found no relief. I wrote to you and you sent me a question blank to fill out, and I did so, and you then advised me to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took three bottles and I felt so good that I stopped, being cured. I have no symptoms of gastric trouble or indigestion now."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good."

Munyon Works Wonders

Mr. Robinson's Legs and Feet Swollen so Badly He Could Hardly Get His Shoes on Cured Now Permanently.

"I have had Rheumatism for two years, principally in the legs, and the disease was aggravated by my work, which necessitated standing up all day. It was exceedingly painful to me, and I suffered a great deal. I tried dozens of remedies, but nothing seemed to do me any permanent good. About six weeks ago, when I was in Montreal, I was particularly badly affected; my legs and feet were swollen up so that I could hardly put my shoes on, and it was just at this time that the great test of Munyon's Rheumatism Cure was being made. I secured a trial vial, and it was really wonderful the relief I obtained. The swelling is all gone, and I have not suffered a bit since; I believe I am cured."—J. B. Robinson, 55 Clarence, Ottawa.

If you are sick, if you have indigestion, if you are nervous, if your liver or blood is out of order, if you have any kidney disease, if you have piles, or any ailment, ask your druggist for "Munyon's Guide to Health," it is free and will tell you how to cure yourself for 25c. BROTHER OF CRIMEAN HERO.

ember of Distinguished Nova Scotia Family Passes Away.

The part played by a son of Nova Scotia in the Great Crimea struggle is recalled by the death at Gay's River, Colchester County, Nova Scotia, on Saturday, June 13, of G. H. O. Parker, a brother of Capt. Parker, the hero of Alma. The Welsford-Parker Monument, which stands in Old St. Paul's burial ground, was erected to commemorate the gallant deeds of Major Welsford and Capt. Parker. The former was killed at Sebastopol and the latter who was a captain in the famous 77th Regiment, was killed at Alma. He fell while leading his men to victory in that decisive struggle. Capt. Parker was the first to scale the walls, but was shot down when victory was almost in sight. He was a great favorite in Halifax, where his regiment was stationed before the Crimea, was several times mentioned in despatches and would have had rapid promotion had he lived.

Capt. Parker's brother, the subject of this sketch, was also in the Imperial service having served in the Royal Navy for many years. About forty years ago he retired from the navy and located at Gay's River, where he had since lived a quiet life. The Parker family has been represented in the army and navy for over a hundred years, and was one of the oldest in Nova Scotia. Hon. Benjamin Green, who was a prominent Nova Scotian of the old days, and was once acting Lieut.-Governor, was grandfather of the deceased.

G. H. O. Parker was twice married. His first wife was a Miss Dunlap of a well known Truro family. Three children were born of this union, viz: Mrs. William C. Noble, Boston; Wm. O. N. Parker, connected with the White House Clothing Co. of St. Catharines, Ont.; and Arthur Hyde Somerset Parker of St. Lambert's, Montreal. The deceased's second wife was a Miss Brehm of Dartsmouth. She died only recently and was buried in Camp Hill Cemetery. Since his wife's death Mr. Parker commenced to fail and passed away on Saturday, June 16. He was 80 years of age.

A Moose in the City Streets.

During the recent dry spell a nimble, powerful, anxious-eyed cow moose made its appearance in the streets of St. John, N.B., and The Daily Telegraph says that it attracted much attention.

The animal had evidently been driven toward the city by the forest fires. It made its appearance on Fort Howe about 8 o'clock, and, being startled by humans there, dashed down Millidge street, across Paradise row and along Mill street to the I.C.R. terminus, where it took to the water.

Everybody in sight gulped down his astonishment and attempted to intercept it. Small boats by the dozen put out, and one of them caught up to the moose when it was just off Long Wharf. The men cast a line around the animal's head and managed to row the captive into the slip. It was here the real fight commenced. The moose resented every effort to bring it to land. It struggled in one direction after another, and it kicked. It was brought under control only when additional lines were attached to it, and each hauled by scores of men and boys. Once on the land, the moose resorted to front and rear kicking; every method, honorable or unscrupulous, was employed in its attempt to break away, but eventually it was thrown and securely tied.

It was placed on a sloven and hauled to one of the sheds on Smythe street, where it spent the night.

FASHION'S ECHOES.

An attempt is being made to use decided colors for riding—silver gray, dark brown veering to chocolate, and deep blues after the delft order. These are made up like a frock coat, with pointed revers and velvet collars.

Dresden china colorings in mercerised organdies are delightful.

This promises to be the "whitest" season on record.

The up to date cotton frock is the smart thing of the summer.

Clerical collars are now worn with a soft ribbon or silk tie that fastens in a bow at the back, leaving the lace or embroidered tabs to hang straight down the front.

Again it is told that mitts are to have great vogue.

Peau de cygne, either in white or colors, makes a good wearing waist.

Mercerized cotton pongee is one of the new fabrics.

Very fetching is the all white hat.

Shirt waist costumes are among the favorite modes.

Instep length is the shortest skirt length.

Modern Medicine.

Cod-liver oil is good. Purified petroleum is better. Angier's Emulsion is made of odorless and tasteless petroleum, glycerine and hypophosphites. It does all,—and more,—than cod-liver oil and similar preparations. It is pleasant to take, and agreeable to the stomach. 7a

An Historic Celebration.

At Welland, on the evening of the 3rd June, 1903, Mr. Isaac P. Willson, who has for many years occupied the position of Registrar of the Surrogate Court and Clerk of the County Court of Welland, tendered at his residence, Strathavon, a banquet to about one hundred invited guests, in commemoration of his grandfather, Isaac Willson, who was a United Empire Loyalist, crossing the Niagara River one hundred and twenty years ago and settling in Canada. Mr. Willson, upon rising to respond to the toast of "Our Host," was given a most hearty and enthusiastic reception. Mr. Willson, who is a fine and interesting speaker, gave a most interesting speech, touching upon his ancestors coming to this country, and of the toils and hardships endured. The results assisting in building up Canada. It took his grandfather thirteen weeks to bring his family from New Jersey to the Niagara River. They then had to build rafts to cross to Canada. Upon arriving here they settled in Pelham Township, their descendants having resided in this district ever since. Mr. Willson gave many interesting reminiscences of his earlier life and hardships endured until the country was improved and prosperity was brought out of their labors.

B.C.'s Minister of Mines.

Hon. R. F. Green, the Minister of Mines in British Columbia's new Government, served in the Northwest rebellion, being in the pursuit of Big Bear. Mr. Green was born in Peterboro', and, after a short residence in the States, removed to Winnipeg in 1882. After the rebellion he became a resident of Revelstoke, B.C., where he is still in business. He has been in the Legislature since 1898, and is not ranked as a hard and fast partisan in Dominion affairs.

Best Sale of Lands.

A sale of lands held for school purposes took place during May in Regina. About 50,000 acres were sold, and the average price realized was $9.52 an acre. The highest prices realized were paid by farmers who bought lands adjacent to their property. This is described as the best land sale ever held in the Canadian West, and it is hoped that high watermark is not yet reached.

WHY The Standard Mines and Milling Company

Capital $1,000,000 Ten Cent Shares

Is the Best Mining Investment on the Market To-day.

It's mines are in three great mining camps in Idaho, Thunder Mountain and Trinity County, California. It has vast bodies of ore already above ground and extensive workings under ground, thus enough insight for its three plants for years. It has one-third of the stock in another company that has the biggest and richest reef of ore (all above ground) in the world. All it has to do is to wait for dividends on this stock. It has a capable honest and reliable Management. The price of stock is very low for the present, virtually ground floor.

Chonohiluia Cold Reef Mining Co. owns
THE MINER'S DREAM.

(A mine above ground in California) and is selling a limited number of shares at Ground Floor Price and is paying 12 per cent. dividends, and going to par.

MERCHANTS' & TRADERS' OIL CO.

OIL FIELDS in old tested territory, producing most of the high-grade petroleum of the world.

HOLDINGS in five separate fields in Ohio and Western Virginia.

TERRITORY already acquired will require at least five years to drill, that insures a lifetime of production.

EVERY BARREL of oil now brings $1.50 in our tanks at the wells.

Full particulars of the above stocks and special rates on one thousand shares and over, can be obtained on application to

Messrs. McMillan & Maguire at noon received the following despatch from Toronto:—

The feebleness of the market continued over the holiday and prices came lower from London and opened easier here. A little more favourable sentiment is developing in the street, however, on account of better reports of the pig iron market, a hopeful view of the corn crop and the settlement of labour troubles, especially in N. Y. city. Keene is reported as saying that the crops will turn out all right and will cause a better market. However, this may be, we do not think there will be anything of a bull market for some time to come and we advise the sale of all stocks on all good rallies.

SPRINTING.

To the Sporting Editor:

Dear Sir,—In reference to Mr. Corbett's letter in Saturday's Examiner, I would like to say a few words. Corbett says that on the M.A.A.A. grounds G. B. Peck ran one hundred yards in 10 1-5 seconds. That is not bad, and he also says that my name did not appear in the list of starters of the M. A. A. A. games last year. I would inform him that I have beaten all those 10 1-5 second men. Now, I want no more paper talk. If he or Froddie do not want to run against me, let them get some one who is not suffering from stage fright. If Mr. Corbett is really anxious for that five mile race that he talks so much about (although I do not pretend to be a long distance runner), I will run him for a gold watch, value $100, but I do not want any tin jewelry. I will run any man in Canada, with a one yard handicap, bar none. Thanking you for space in your valuable paper.

ECHOES FROM THE CHURCHES

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.

Rev. Mr. Potter preached an especially interesting sermon in St. Andrew's last night, the subject being, "Why was it necessary for Christ to Die?"

The musical service also was of a high order. Miss Miller's rendition of Calvary was much enjoyed.

ALL SAINTS' CHURCH

Rev. A. S. Madill, B.A., of Toronto, preached in All Saints' yesterday morning. He is collecting on behalf of the Bible and Prayer Book Society.

Mr. Joseph Legg sang "The Two Cities" very nicely during the offertory.

The Sunday school will be held in the mornings during July and August.

The annual picnic will be held to Jubilee to-morrow.

GEORGE STREET METHODIST.

Last night in the George street Methodist church, Rev. J. P. Wilson preached a most instructive and interesting sermon on David and Goliath. The choir under Mr. Mulligan's leadership rendered very efficiently the anthem "Adeste Fideles, Mr. Mulligan and Mr. Miller taking the duet. Mr. Mulligan also sang, "Fear not, O ye Israel." In the morning the choir sang "Scattering Sunbeams," the duet being sung by Miss Parnell and Miss Hill, and "Awake, Awake."

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH.

The Sunday school will meet at 9.45 a.m. from now until the end of August.

Referring to the summer exodus Rev. J. C. Davison remarked that during a season when so many members of the congregation were away, the attendance of those remaining in town was doubly appreciated. The services and sermons would be kept as short as possible.

Announcements were made yesterday in regard to the Sunday school excursion next Thursday, the 9th inst. Parents should accompany their children, for whose safety the school would assume no responsibility. The boat will leave at 9 a.m. and return about 8 p.m. The young men are interesting themselves and the excursion promises to be a pleasurable one.

Rev. A. S. Madill preached at the evening service.

Positively Mr. Remschel's vapour baths will cure your rheumatism; get one on free trial and be convinced.

COUNTY LAWYERS' ANNUAL OUTING.

Very Pleasant Trip to Idyl Wyld.

Steamer "Water Lilly" was Engaged—Over Half a Hundred Persons Were Present.

A trip of unusual pleasure was that of the County Bar excursion to Idyl-Wild, which took place yesterday afternoon per steamer Water Lily. The day was an ideal one for such an event, the river breeze cooling what would otherwise have been an extremely hot day.

The Water Lily left the Peterborough wharf at exactly 1.15 o'clock, with nearly sixty passengers on board, made up of lawyers and invited guests. There were on board: His Honour Judge Weller, and Messrs D W Dumble, Police Magistrate; Geo. Edmison, County Police Magistrate; F J A Hall, Deputy Sheriff, H LeBrun, W F Johnston, E H D Hall, Town Solicitor; L M Hayes, D O'Connell, A P Poussette, K C, J W Bennett, J Green, J Moloney, W Bunton, Dr Bradd, P Campbell, B Morrow, H T and R C Strickland, R B Rogers, F J Bartlett, J Crane, D Hughes-Charles, J Jay, J J Lundy, Col H C Rogers, R Roger, W H Hill, F J Bell, C Stapleton, A H Stratton, Geo Hatton, R Fair, Hugh Waddell, W F Nelson, A Elliott, H Nesbitt, W Rudkins, E Mosley, R Salisbury, C McGill, W H Bradburn, R F McWilliams, A L Davis, W K Hall, A J Clarke and Dr Coughlin. Other county lawyers present were: Messrs. W H Ghent, Norwood; O A Langley, Lakefield,, and W Steers, Sheriff McClellan, G H Hopkins, J Weldon, D A Anderson, and C D Barr, Lindsay.

When nearing Idyl Wild the Water Lily met the City of Peterborough returning with St. Luke's Sunday school excursionists. The two boats stopped, and exchanged greetings for a few minutes. The steamer reached her destination at half past four o'clock. Everyone disembarked and had an enjoyable meal. Time was somewhat limited as the Lindsay train left Peterborough at 9 o'clock, so that the time spent on the beautiful island was necessarily short. However, it can be said that everyone made the best of the time, and highly enjoyed themselves. The steamer blew its first warning note of departure at 5.30 o'clock, and had cast her moorings and commenced her return journey at 5.45 p.m.

Although the wind had gained considerable strength the evening was not in the least chilly, and the return passage up the river was even more pleasant than had been the trip down.

When nearing Peterborough a light was discerned ahead and by the time the locks were reached the lawyers' boat came up with the steamer "City of Peterborough," although the latter had an hour and a half's start on the return journey. As the "City" had to go through the locks first several, mostly the Lindsay lawyers, disembarked and walked to town where they arrived in time to catch their train home. The "Water Lily" reached her berth at 9.15 o'clock, doing the homeward trip against both wind and stream in three and a half hours—a no mean rate. As has been previously stated the outing was a marked success, thanks to the persevering efforts of Mr. John Green, who was the manager of the details of the well arranged outing, steward of the mysteries and Ganymede in general and particular of the Bar excursion.

Annual Inspection of the 57th Regiment - Battalion Inspection Wednesday.

Last evening Lieut.-Colonel Hemming, District Staff Adjutant, of the 3rd and 4th Military Districts, inspected Nos. 1, 2, 3, and 4 Companies of the 57th Regiment.

Each company was put through a rigid examination, more especially in rifle and firing exercises. Not only were the men thoroughly examined but the officers had also to put their commands through their drill, while the non-coms. had also to drill their individual sections.

After each company had been inspected, Colonel Hemming addressed a few remarks to the members, pointing out the chief mistakes. He found fault particularly with the firing exercises, as many men did not fix sights or take satisfactory aim. He remarked that the officer drilling should give some fixed object to fire at, and not "at the guns in front" and "at the ground line." He stated that some fixed object, like a door, should be given, and not such commands as the above, firstly, as there were no guns in front, and, secondly, as the men did not know where the ground line in the drill shed was. He was very pleased with the work of the four companies, more especially No. 4 which he highly complimented.

This evening Colonel Hemming will inspect the remaining companies, Nos. 5, 6, 7 and 8, while the battalion will be inspected on Wednesday night in review order.

The Examiner would like to suggest that the above remarks of Col. Hemming, inspecting officer, be taken to heart by the officers and men of the companies to be inspected to-night.

Another Town Boy's Success.

The Examiner notes with pleasure the success of one of our town boys in the person of Dr. T. J. C. Tindle. Dr. Tindle, who is a son of Mrs. M. T. Jory, Murray street, was for some time in the office of Messrs. Cox & Davis, but left Peterborough five years ago to prepare himself for the study of medicine. After spending a year at Albert College, Belleville, he succeeded in passing his matriculation examination and obtaining junior leaving standing. He then proceeded to Trinity Medical College, Toronto, to enter upon the studies of his chosen profession, and while there passed with honours each examination that presented itself. In June he received the degrees—M. D. C. M. F. T. M. C., with honours in nearly every subject. Then again in the list of successful candidates where names appear as having passed the intermediate examinations of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, of Ontario, (otherwise known as the Ontario Council.) the name of Dr. Tindle re-appears. In addition to this Ontario License he has taken the examination of the State Board of Michigan, which allows him to practice in several other States of the Union. Dr. Tindle expects to leave for the West early this fall and doubtless will meet with the same success with which his college course has been attended.

THE PONTIFF'S CONDITION.

His Holiness Passed a Very Peaceful Night.

(Special to the Examiner.)

Rome, July 7th. — The official bulletin issued at six o'clock stated that the Pope rested peacefully during the night and took some nourishment; An operation for puncturing the pleura will be performed on the Pope at 11 o'clock.

Rome, July 7th, 8.45 p.m.—The following bulletin has just been issued: "The test puncture of the pleura has been made and eight hundred grammes of liquid have been taken off. An examination showed that some mucous was rattling in the lung, which was originally affected. The Pope underwent the operation with courage. His general condition is now better and he is resting."

ONTARIO IMMIGRATION.

A Large Income of English, Scotch and Irish Farm Labourers.

Mr. Thos. Southworth, Provincial Director of Colonozation, who was in town yesterday, reports that the number of immigrants arriving in Ontario this year is in excess of any season for many years. The bulk of these are farm labourers, though there are a good many mechanics. In regard to the latter the Bureau of Colonization takes no responsibility as to finding them situations, but all farm labourers are assured of situations, being sent at once to farmers. The number of applications for labourers put on file by farmers is 4,000 or 5,000, and of these between 2,000 and 3,000 have been met. The immigrants are, as a rule, of the best class of English, Irish and Scotch, though there are a few Germans and Scandinavians, both also desirable citizens. Among the immigrants are many with considerable means. Some of these are placed with our best Ontario farmers, with the idea of getting familiar with Ontario farming conditions. It is probable that many of these will purchase improved farms in Ontario.

SEMI-OFFICIAL.

Bulgarian Evinces Disposition to Slight Admonitions of Powers.

Vienna, July 7.—According to the Austrian foreign office's semi-official reports received here indications are that the situation between Bulgaria and Turkey has become serious. Bulgaria appears unwilling to consider the admonitions of great powers, to maintain peace, notwithstanding the note sent to Sofia July 4, in which Bulgaria was warned that Austria and Turkey were absolutely in accord and that the Bulgarian complaints against Turkey were considered to be much exaggerated.

DOURO.

The close of the school in School Section No. 4, Douro, was signalized by a pleasant little ceremony. Mr. G. S. Buck, who has been the popular and efficient teacher for three and a half years, is retiring to continue his studies at Toronto University.

In recognition of this fact and to mark their respect and esteem for their retiring teacher, the pupils presented Mr. Buck with an address and a gold wat chain. The address was read by Master M. Kennedy, and the presentation was made by Miss Agnes Sullivan. Mr. Buck made a suitable and feeling reply. Many of the parents of the pupils were present to testify their approval of the action of the pupils, whose kindly remembrance of their late teacher is richly deserved by the recipient.

The community was shocked by the sudden death of a highly respected resident, Mr. John McManus, who was found dead in his bed last Monday morning. Mr. McManus had been in his usual good health on Sunday. He attended mass at St. Joseph's church. On his return home Sunday evening he spent some time in reading and retired to his room, which he occupied alone, at the usual hour in apparently good health. Not coming down in the morning according to his custom, his room was visited and he was found in bed quite dead. There was no evidence of any kind of struggle previous to the sudden visitation of death. Mr. McManus, who was about 65 years of age, was one of the wealthiest and most respected residents of the township. He leaves behind him to mourn his sudden death a widow and six sons, one of whom is attending the Peterborough Business College. The funeral which took place on Wednesday morning, was very largely attended. Rev. Father Kelly during the requiem mass paid a high tribute to the worth of deceased.

Your druggist will refund you your money if you are not satisfied after using Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is everywhere admitted to be the most successful remedy in use for bowel complaints and the only one that never fails. It is pleasant, safe and reliable.

THE COUNCIL HAD A SHORT SESSION.

Communications Were Received and Council Then Adjourned.

Many Societies ask Exemption From Taxes—Murray Street Grand Stand Subject of Much Correspondence.

The regular meeting of the Peterborough town council was held last night in the council chamber, with Mayor Roger in the chair, and the following members present: Ald. Best, Corkery, Clinkscale, Finnie, Batten, Rush, Morrison, Edgcumbe.

The following communications were received and dealt with as follows:

From J. W. Garvin, Managing Director of the Peterborough Sugar Company, Limited, asking that a by-law be passed authorizing the G.T.R. to cross Lansdowne street, to make a connection with the Sugar Company's property.—Received.

From the Canadian Order of Foresters asking for an exemption of taxes on their lodge rooms on George street and Simcoe streets. — Referred to the Court of Revision.

From the Sons of England Benefit Society applying for exemption of taxes on their lodge rooms on Hunter street.—Referred to the Court of Revision.

From property owners petitioning for granolithic sidewalk outside the trees on the north side of Chamberlain street, from Alfred street to the C.P.R. track.—Referred to the Board of Works.

From J. A. Morgan, M.D., secretary of the Central Ontario Medical Association, urging the establishment of an isolation hospital for the town and county of Peterborough — Received.

From Thos. McKee and W. Aldridge, asking to be allowed to assess the same wards as they did last year. —Received.

From the Peterborough Board of Trade, stating that the members of the Board were of the opinion that if the people of the town desire a free postal delivery it should be given them, if the Government will grant it, and the Council of the Board of Trade recommends that the Town Council proceed to ascertain the feeling of the ratepayers in this respect.—Received.

From Thos. Dale, asking for the construction of a crossing in the neighbourhood of 56 George street. —Referred to the Board of Works.

From Rev. Dr. O'Brien, on behalf of St. Peter's Total Abstinence Society, stating that the society were proceeding to build a grand stand on the grounds of the Separate school, and that by the kind benevolence of the town council the work has been allowed to proceed to the present stage. On July 1st, at the instance of Mr. J. D. Collins, Mr. R. M. Dennistoun requested them to cease work on the stand, owing to an alleged infraction of the Building Bylaw. The society feels that it has not violated the spirit of the law, and doubts if it has even infringed upon the letter of it. If the latter had been the case it was requested that such amendments be made as would permit the completion of the grand stand, for the following reasons:—The stand was on the extreme northerly limit of the area covered by the bylaw, and in such cases exceptions have been made. The stand was absolutely isolated, and represented between $500 and $600 put up in good faith. The property owners on McDonel street who are complaining, are without the fire limits, and incur worse danger in their own yards; the town had no convenient athletic grounds and healthy and legitimate sports had been practically dead for this reason. It was the intention to always keep the stand in proper condition. Other cities allowed such plans for public convenience. It was the opinion of the writer that the building bylaw was never intended to cover such structures. The society was not acting through selfish or greedy motives. The firm hope was expressed that the council's spirit of enterprise would favour such amendment as would permit the stand to remain.—Received.

From Dennistoun, Peck, Kerr & Stevenson, saying that they have been instructed by Mr. J. D. Collins and other residents on McDonnel street to point out that the building of a grand stand in the Separate School grounds is a violation of the Building By-law, also that the building of the said grand stand will be the means of depreciating in value the property opposite which it is erected as well as considerably subject said property to destruction by fire.—Received.

From property owners and residents on McDonnel street respectfully protesting against the erection of a grand stand in the Separate School grounds as they consider it not only an eye-sore, but a positive nuisance to their property, also that they understand the persons erecting the said stand were notified by the Building Inspector to discontinue work on it, notwithstanding which it is their intention to apply to the Council for permission to carry out their plans in contravention of the Building By-law, and petitioners ask that the request be not granted.—Received.

W. G. Morrow complained that the sidewalks on Brock street near the Toronto Loan & Savings Company's property has been torn up and left in a disgraceful condition and requested that the walk be repaired at once.—Referred to Board of Works.

From S. R. Armstrong, Secretary of local Board of Health, enclosing a copy of a report presented to this Board by Dr. Bryce, Provincial Secretary Board of Health, showing the necessity of prompt action in the adoption of a Plumbers Bylaw, and the appointment of a Sanitary Inspector qualified to take charge of the work of plumbing inspection.—Received.

H. Carveth, J. E. Brown, J. D. Baptie and Walter Evans applied for the appointment to the position of assessor, should Mr. John Kincaid be unable to act owing to his late accident.—All of which were received.

From the Otonabee Power Company as follows:—"Some time ago we put in a tender to supply the town of Peterborough with electric light for municipal purposes. We beg to state that our offer has not been withdrawn but is still open for the town to accept, and will not be withdrawn by us until we send you notice in writing to that effect. If you desire to have the offer made in a more binding form we are prepared to put in our tender in that way. We are also prepared to put in the most modern and up-to-date lamps for street lighting purposes that are on the market. We believe that the town is taking steps to accept a tender for lighting purposes that will cost the town in the neighbourhood of $1,800.00 per year more than our Company is willing to supply light for. We think that we have been misinformed and that our tender will receive your favourable consideration and that the Council will see their way clear to accept it."—Received.

From John Gillespie and George Milne, applying for a sidewalk outside the trees on the south side of Sherbrooke street from the bridge alongside of their residences. — Referred to Board of Works.

From the Y.W.C.A. applying for the remission of $5 paid by the Association for an eating house. This has been done for some years past.—Referred to License Committee.

From the Peterborough Light and Power Company, applying for permission to erect poles and string wires on Bonacord street from Park street to the Monaghan Road.—Referred to Board of Works and Town Engineer.

The Knights of the Macabees' wrote, asking for remission of taxes on their Lodge room on Water street. Referred to Court of Revision.

From different property owners, asking for a granolithic sidewalk outside the tree line on the west side of Reid street between King and Sherbrooke streets.—Referred to the Board of Works.

Robt. Howard applied for remission of dog tax, which was referred to the Court of Revision.

Mr. W. J. Green, tax collector, presented his report as follows:—

The report was received.

Ald. Morrison then moved that the Council adjourn to go into the Committee of the Whole to discuss the street railway question, and that the Council meet again at the call of the chair. This was carried and the Council adjourned, meeting immediately as Committee of the Whole.

CORDOVA.

(From our own Correspondent.)

At the annual convention of the Sunday school Association of Belmont, held at Victoria on June 24th, Cordova was well represented, more than half of those present being from this village. Owing to the unfavourable weather enough delegates from other places did not arrive to hold the morning session, and all the business was crowded into the afternoon. Rev. W .E. Haseard of Toronto, gave an interesting and instructive address on "The Up-to-Date Sunday School," and Mr. J. A. Jackson, B.A., also of Toronto, the secretary of the Provincial Sunday school Association, conducted a round table conference, at which questions of particular moment to Sunday school workers were discussed. Cordova was selected as the next place of meeting, and the following officers elected:

President—E. Fennell, Havelock.

Vice-President — M. R. Anderson, Cordova.

Sec.-Treasurer—Geo. Childs, Havelock.

Delegate to County Convention — Miss M. Seeney, Cordova.

Executive — Ministers of churches and superintendents of Sunday schools in the township.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lillico, who for the past ten months have been residents of Cordova, are returning this week to their former home in Peterborough. They have made a host of friends here who will much regret their departure. Mrs. Lillico, who is a talented vocalist, will be especially missed in musical circles.

The Belmont Gold Mine Company is just completing a new tank house which is located nearly No. 1 shaft. The building is over 60 feet in length and is to contain two water tanks placed one above the other, and having a combined capacity of 30,000 gallons. The upper tank will be for the purpose of supplying the sorting floor at No. 1 shaft house, and from the lower one pipes will be laid to furnish the village with water.

The Cordova Presbyterian church was filled with a large and appreciative audience last Sunday evening. The service was one of sacred song and the choir of the church is to be congratulated on the excellent rendering of the different numbers. Deserving of special mention were the solos by Mrs. Wm. Thompson, Mrs. Wm. Lillico, Miss K. Pitts and Mr. J. A. Lamb, and a beautiful interpretation of "Nearer My God to Thee" by the male quartette, Messrs. Hardy, Clark, Anderson and Lamb.

Rev. T. W. Goodwill preached a brief but pithy sermon emphasizing the value of music in religious services and its influence in winning souls for Christ, taking for his text the 4th verse of the 137th Psalm, "How shall we sing the Lord's song in a strange land?" At the conclusion of the service it was announced by Mr. R. Anderson, clerk of the Session, that the Board of Managers and Session had decided to proceed with the erection of a manse and that a subscription list would be opened at once to provide the additional funds required.

Wednesday was the commencement of the long vacation at the public school and for the next six weeks the scholars will enjoy freedom and immunity from mental tasks. The two teachers, Miss Weir and Miss Edwards, have gone holidaying, the former to her home at Lakehurst and the latter to Toronto.

Havelock juniors and the Cordova Boys' Brigade played football on the Cordova grounds on Monday evening. The game resulted 1—0 in the favour of Havelock

Mr. G. H. Graham, engineer of the stamp mill of the Belmont Gold Mine is spending a brief holiday in Toronto.

Miss Ethel Warren of Marmora, and Miss Dean Robson, of Blairton, were visiting in Cordova last Saturday.

Supporters of the Government will learn the details of the arrangement for the proposed transcontinental line, and will be at liberty to express their opinions upon it. The occasion has not been equalled in importance since the present Government were first summoned to administer the affairs of Canada.

The presence of Sir Thomas Shaughnessy and Mr. Dan. Mann in the corridors last night was taken as an indication of the interest manifested by railway men in the present situation.

Future Covenants Difficulty.

The desire has been expressed that the Grand Trunk Pacific should covenant to deliver the line from Moncton to Winnipeg over to the Government at the end of fifty years. The difficulty is, however, to make any covenant which will be binding upon those who may be Grand Trunk Pacific shareholders in 1953. Mr. C. M. Hays will not be here then, nor any of the present officials of the company. The same difficulty would be met if the Government of to-day undertook to bind those who may be administering the affairs of Canada fifty years hence. A disposition is manifested to require from the Grand Trunk Pacific Company a higher payment per annum than 3, per cent. on the cost of constructing the line connecting the Maritime Provinces with Winnipeg.

The company, on the other hand, think the condition at present proposed is sufficiently onerous, in view of the fact that a large part of the line will pass through a wilderness, much of which will never yield traffic, or, at any rate, none of a profitable character. It is held that if the company are to realize any profits at all it will be on the through traffic created in the northwest, and not on any business which may develop east of Lake Abittibi. The 3 per cent. per annum payment by the Grand Trunk Pacific will be sufficient to meet the interest charge which the Government must meet from year to year after raising money to build the line, and at the end of the fifty years they will be in possession of the line.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

Four Millions of Dollars Passed of Postoffice Department Estimates—Private Bills First Order of the Day.

Ottawa, July 7.—Private bills were the first order before the House yesterday.

When the third reading of the bill respecting the Century Insurance Company was moved, objection was taken to the clause returning the amount of capital necessary to be paid into the company before it can commence business from 25 to 10 per cent. The bill was held over, so that further information may be obtained.

Mr. John Costigan vigorously opposed the act incorporating the Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia Railway Company, but after some discussion, consideration of the bill was deferred, and the committee rose and reported progress.

When the bill incorporating the Brandon, Saskatchewan and Hudson Bay Railway Company came before the House, Mr. Henderson of Halton moved an amendment prohibiting the company from entering into an agreement for the sale or lease of its lines to other companies until such lines should be constructed and under operation. The amendment was defeated on a vote of 29 to 19. The third reading of the bill was carried on division.

Information From Ministers.

Replying to Mr. Bell, Hon. Mr. Sifton stated that E. C. Senkler, Gold Commissioner of the Yukon, had granted free representation to A. N. C. Treadgold and his associates. The Gold Commissioner gave as his authority orders in council passed last year, but the department disagreed with his interpretation and ordered him to collect representation fees. Hon. Mr. Sifton could not say what representations upon these claims have been paid since the date of the original concession, but $3,726 was paid upon claims held by the company last year.

Mr. Taylor was informed by the Minister of Finance that the Public Accounts do not show federal payments to Sir John Boyd outside of his salary as a judge since 1896. Sir John Boyd was appointed arbitrator by the Ontario Government to adjust accounts between the provinces and the Dominion, but the records show only the amount paid by the Dominion in the common fund.

The Minister of Customs stated in reply to Mr. Bennett that C. H. Ross of Barrie and A. C. Thompson of Angus were the sureties of J. G. Grant, Barrie, who defaulted for $1,130. The defalcation was in connection with customs duties collected by Grant prior to 1894.

The Postoffice Estimates.

The House took up the estimates of the Postoffice Department, and, after a discussion which lasted five hours, the first item was passed at 1 o'clock.

The postoffice items passed during the evening were: Salaries and allowances, $1,373,366; mail service, $2,322,580; miscellaneous, $275,000.

The House adjourned at 1.20 a.m.

To Use Needed Money.

Ottawa, July 7.—To obtain money that is urgently needed for the public service, Mr. Fielding moved a resolution authorizing the expenditure of one-fifth of the estimates for the current year. Mr. Borden raised no objections other than to secure assurances that the Opposition's right to criticize any of these items should not be impaired by the passage of the resolution. The resolution was passed.

Money For Lead.

Victoria, B. C., July 7.—A special from Ottawa says the Dominion Government has given notice of regulations authorizing the payment of half a million dollars a year for five years by way of bounties to the lead producers of British Columbia.

Can't Find a Guard.

Ottawa, July 7.—Messrs. Holt and Robertson, who conducted an investigation into the most suitable form of cattle guards, will report that they have been unable to find any guard that will turn cattle from a railway track, and at the same time can be used efficiently and without danger to trains.

A MOB FIRED UPON.

Seven Men Killed and Fourteen Injured in the Riots at Evansville, Ind.—A Soldiers' Fusilade.

Evansville, Ind., July 7.—Following four days of rioting and general lawlessness this city last night saw the most terrible of its experiences with rioters. Seven persons are dead and 14 are known to be injured, including five soldiers and two deputies. It is believed the number of dead will be doubled when returns are in. The dead: Herbert Schiffin, a painter; Hazel Allman, 15 years old; John Barrett; August Jordan, 19, musician; Edward Rule, laborer; two unidentified men.

At 10.30 o'clock the members of Company A, 1st Regiment, Indiana National Guard, after a day of guarding the county jail, and 100 deputy sheriffs, under Sheriff Kratz, fired point blank into a mob of 1,000 surrounding the Vanderburg County Jail, and attempting its capture. From morning until the hour of last night's firing, the crowd surged about the jail calling the soldiers vile names, assailing them with stones and berating the deputy sheriffs.

At 9 o'clock last night the mob gradually became more excited, its manifestations of uneasiness more frequent, and at 10 o'clock it was seen that nothing could prevent an assault on the jail. At 10.30 the rioters pressed slowly forward, and innocent onlookers followed. Slowly they forced the militia men back toward the jail. The leaders, with a bicycle in their front as a shield to the bayonets, stormed the jail entrance. Captain Blum of the National Guard ordered a charge on the rioters. The crowd was forced back, the soldiers using their bayonets and butts of their guns. Suddenly a victim fell. Stones and boulders began to fly through the air. A soldier was struck with a rock and fell. A rioter was knocked down with a gun butt and a shot followed. This started a fusilade from the defenders.

Indianapolis, July 7. — Governor Durbin will probably declare martial law at Evansville at once.

His Last Hope Realized.

(From the Sentinel, Gebo, Mont.)

In the first opening of Oklahoma to settlers in 1889, the editor of this paper was among the many seekers after fortune who made the big race one fine day in April. During his travelling about and afterwards his camping upon his claim, he encountered much bad water, which, together with the severe heat, gave him a very severe diarrhoea which it seemed almost impossible to check, and along in June the case became so bad he expected to die. One day one of his neighbours brought him one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as a last hope. A big dose was given him while he was rolling about on the ground in great agony, and in a few minutes the dose was repeated. The good effect of the medicine was soon noticed and within an hour the patient was taking his first sound sleep for a fortnight. That one little bottle worked a complete cure and he cannot help but feel grateful. The season for bowel disorders being at hand suggests this item. For sale by all druggists.

No man will hesitate to speak well of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets after once trying them. They always produce a pleasant movement of the bowels, improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion. For sale by all druggists.

NINE CATTLE STABLES BURNED.

Serious Blow to the Winnipeg Industrial —Loss $10,000.

Winnipeg, July 6.—Nine large cattle stables at the Winnipeg Industrial Exhibition grounds were completely destroyed by fire last evening, causing an enormous conflagration, which threatened to spread to the other buildings. It was fortunately checked. The loss is $10,000, covered by insurance. The fire is a serious blow to the Exhibition directors, as the Fair is only two weeks distant.

War Fleet Off China.

Pekin, July 6.—The presence of more warships in the Gulf of Pechili than ever before seen, even during the Boxer troubles of 1900, has not increased the war talk, notwithstanding the conference held at Port Arthur yesterday by Gen Kouropatkin, the Russian Minister of War, with M. Lessar, the Russian Minister to China. Of the warships now in the Gulf there are fifty Russian vessels, including a new fleet under Admiral Stalkenberg. There are about twenty American war vessels under Rear Admiral Evans, and the English and Japanese have fully 500 warships along the coast to China.

One of Dr. Chase's oldest patients in Canada is Mr. G. W. Parish of Sturgeon Bay, Simcoe Co., Ont, whom he cured of kidney disease in 1867 by means of his now celebrated Kidney-Liver Pills. Mr. Parish writes that he does not think there is any medicine half so good and that he always keeps Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills in the house as a family medicine.

RAMPANT RACE RIOTS.

Evansville, Ind., in the Hands of a Bloodthirsty Mob.

Evansville, Ind., July 6.—At one o'clock this morning this city is in the hands of a mob. Troops have been ordered out by the Governor to protect the jail, which is surrounded by 2,000 men. Two negroes have been killed in the race riot, which is rampant.

Three business men have just been fired on, and are now organizing and arming a party to exterminate the negroes.

The race riot last night was the immediate outcome of the shooting of Patrolman Massey Friday night by Lee Brown, a negro.

3.30 a.m.—The mob has broken into the jail. The mob swarmed into the jail and begun a search for the murderer. A mob of 200 white men heavily armed is now marching through the streets of the city, where negroes would likely be found. Shots are heard constantly.

THE FATAL RAILWAY FROG.

A Shocking Accident in the Grand Trunk Yards at Windsor.

Winsor, July 6.—Charles Hodgins, a switchman in the Grand Trunk yards here, met death in a horrible form last night. He had just given a signal to the engineer of one of the yard engines to back down when his foot was caught in an open frog directly in front of the engine. There was no one near at the time, and, on account of escaping steam, the engineer failed to hear his cries to stop. The wheels passed entirely over his body, which was ground literally into a pulp. Hodgins was 23 years of age, and unmarried. Coroner Bell, who was called, has empanelled a jury and will hold an inquest this evening.

The Evidence You Value.

By word of mouth from friend to friend Dr. Chase's Ointment has received more unsolicited recommendation than probably any medicine you can mention. The fact that it is an absolute cure for piles has put it in a class all by itself as a preparation of inestimable value and people recommend it knowing that it is a certain cure.

COMMITTEE OF WHOLE TALK STREET RAILWAY.

Representatives of Peterborough Radial Railway Company Present.

A Settlement Looked for—Only Minor Matters Undecided—Probability of Work Being Started in Near Future.

The Committee of the Whole Council met last night in the Clerk's office, with Mayor Roger in the chair, and the following Aldermen present: Messrs. Edgcumbe, Morrison, Rush, McWilliams, O'Connell, Finnie, Best, Clinkscale and Corkery.

The meeting was held for the purpose of discussing with Mr. Stuart and Mr. Richards of the Cereal Company, and their solicitor, Mr. Dennistoun, the terms of the street railway franchise, which the company is applying for.

Mr. Dennistoun read the Franchise which it was proposed to grant the American Cereal Company to operate a street railway in the town of Peterborough. He said that the Peterborough Radial Railway Company, which was an integral part of the American Cereal Company, had prepared a franchise along the line of that which the town had granted to a Detroit company, and which, it was thought, would be agreeable to the town. But the company was much disappointe dto find that when the franchise had been submitted to the council, so many changes and amendments had been made to it that if the council does not modify some of the amendments made to it it will be impossible for the company to undertake to build and operate the road. He then read the different clauses of the franchise which were discussed.

The franchise calls for the operation of five miles of street railway, the whole to be in operation by July, 1904.

Clause four, which provided that if the company failed to fulfil its agreement, it should forfeit the franchise by resolution of council, was thought by the company's solicitor to be hardly fair to the company, as a council might declare the franchise forfeited for some slight reason which would not affect the operation of the road. The company felt that the clause should be made to read so that the franchise should not be forfeited unless by being declared so by a court. This objection was decided to be referred to the town solicitor to confer with Mr. Dennistoun, and decide as to the process by which a violation of the agreement shall be dealt with.

Objection was taken to the clause which provided that not more than 600 volts should be used. It was pointed out that the electric light companies were permitted to use over 2000 volts. This clause was referred to the electrical expert of the town to report on.

Clause seven, which provided for the removal of snow and ice during an exceptional fall of snow, was discussed, and Mr. Dennistoun stated that the company would be quite willing to remove the snow from the tracks at its own expense at the earliest moment practicable, and that the cars would be operated continuously. The question of using salt was then talked of and the committee thought that its use was most objectionable, as all authorities agree that it is injurious to horses' hoofs and pavements. This clause was left and will be again discussed.

Clause nine, providing for the operation of the railway in a substantial and modern manner, with all the safeguards for the protection of the public against danger, was then discussed. The company's solicitor asked that the word "ordinary" be inserted before "safeguards," which was granted.

The next paragraph providing that all wires should be insulated, was also suggested as being hardly fair to the company. This was also referred to the electrical expert of the town.

A paragraph had been inserted by the town saying that the corporation's engineer with the company's engineer should inspect at least every four months the underground wires to see that no injury was being done to the water pipes of the town, and if the town engineer ascertains that damage is being done the town may instruct the company to remedy the defects. This was objected to, because the company thought that this paragraph would hand over to the town practically the management of the road. The committee was of the opinion that all that was asked for was some means of guaranteeing that no damage should be done to the city's property, and Mr. Dennistoun pointed out that the company would be just as anxious to prevent its wires doing damage to the pipes of the city, because if damage were done the Company would be sued for the amount of the same. The Company felt that while the town should be at liberty to inspect all the equipment as frequently as it should desire to do so, it would be hardly fair to ask the Company to make an inspection at its own expense every four months. But whenever it was found that injury was being wrought the company would at once repair the same in an efficient manner.

The clause regarding the fender question was discussed and Mr. Dennistoun asked that the Company be allowed to adopt such fenders as may be decided by the Statutes of the Province. This was left to the Town Solicitor and the Company's Solicitor to settle.

The question of heating was then gone into and a paragraph providing that a fine of $10 per day for each car which the Town Engineer finds is not properly heated was objected to as placing too much power in the hands of the Town Engineer. The Committee was of the opinion that some provision must be made whereby the cars would be comfortably heated. It was agreed to that the Town Engineer should not have supreme power to decide as to whether the cars are properly heated. But the Committee, profiting by the experience of other cities in their troubles with Street Railway Companies in this matter, was firm in its demand that adaquate provision must be made to make the cars comfortable in winter.

A clause providing that the Street Railway Company should run a water cart at its own expense, was most strenuously objected to, but was allowed to stand for the present.

The clause which provides that the cost of the removal of snow on the outside of the tracks should be borne equally by the Corporation and the Company was also objected to by the Company. The contention of the Committee expressed by Ald. O'Connell, which appeared reasonable, was that the Company was only being asked to help bear the expense of removing the snow, the removal of which was only made necessary by the operation of the street cars. A compromise was suggested by Ald. O'Connell to the effect that the town should consent to the withdrawal of the clause respecting the street watering by the Company, and that the latter should allow that relating to the removal of snow at the joint expense of the Town and Company to stand. This, however, was not agreed to by the representatives of the Company.

The clause which provided that in case the railway shall not be in operation by July 1st, 1904, the franchise shall be forfeited, was also allowed to stand for the present.

The clause of the franchise regarding the hours during which the cars shall run says that they shall operate from 6 a.m. to 11 p.m., and that a ten minute service shall be given on George, Charlotte, Park and Water streets, and a 20 minute service on those outlying. The Company did not wish to be bound to give a 10-minute service at the present time, but thought that a 15-minute service should be sufficient. It was suggested that for the first 5 years a 15 minute service be given on the business streets and after that a 10 minute service be given, but was not decided.

The clause with reference to laying tracks on Bethune street was the subject of considerable discussion. It was thought by the Committee that no more tracks should be allowed on that street as it is already occupied by those of the Grand Trunk. The Company, however, wants to develop a freight carying business and to do this it may be necessary to lay some tracks on Bethune street to connect with the G.T.R. This, with a number of other clauses was not finally disposed of at this session.

The only serious difference between the proposition of the Company and that of the Town is in the matter of removing surplus snow from the streets, and in the discussion of this, the members of the Council appeared to be willing to grant the Company every facility to an expeditious settlement of the terms. The Company's contention is that it will probably be some years before the railway will be on a paying basis, and that in the meantime it is hardly fair to the Company that such an expense should be saddled upon it.

This, no doubt will be settled to the satisfaction of all concerned and the strong probability is that within a short time work will be commenced in the equipping of the, at present obsolete railway system.

Mr. Stuart, and the Company officials are evidently approaching the matter in a business-like manner, and the Council is anxious to meet them in every reasonable request.

The discussion was continued until nearly midnight, when the few unsettled clauses were referred to the Town Solititor.

STURGEON POINT REGATTA.

This regatta promises to be most successful. Entries have been received from two crews of the Toronto Canoe Club and from the Orillia Club for the war canoe race, and as there is the keenest rivalry between all three crews a splendid struggle is assured. The Argonaut Rowing Club and Barrie Canoe Club may also enter crews in this race. As each war canoe is paddled by fifteen men such a contest is an unusually exciting one. The Toronto Canoe Club will be represented by its "Trinity" four, champions of Canada, and in the singles and doubles by Messrs. McNicholl Brothers, Brent, Bloomfield, Kennedy, Findlay and others. The Orillia Club will also be represented in these events by the Club's swiftest paddlers. Peterborough will also have several representatives, as will also Barrie, Bobcaygeon and Lindsay. The Trent Valley Navigation Company has donated a handsome cup for annual competition in the Dinghy Sailing Class. The first race will be held at this regatta. The Toronto Canoe Club is running an excursion to the Point and about two-hundred of its members and friends are expected to be present. A dance will be held in the evening at the residence of Mrs. J. C. Grace, of Toronto, in honour of the occasion.

MR. McAULLIFFE BURIED.

Funeral Took Place This Morning at Nine o'clock.

The funeral of one of the best young men Peterborough ever produced took place this morning at 9 o'clock from the home of his widowed mother and, now, brotherless sisters, on Charlotte streets. Robert C. McAuliffe, the young engineer who met death so suddenly Sunday, while pursuing the duties of his dangerous calling was laid to rest by loving hands, and many a tear was shed because of the mysterious workings of a Providence which took from a mother her only son, and that son, her support in life. The funeral was attended by the members of the Catholic Order of Foresters and of the Brotherhood of Railroad Firemen, of which Societies he was a beloved member. At St. Peter's Cathedral High Mass was sung by Rev. Dr. O'Brien. Father McCoit and Father McGuire, of Hastings, also took part in the service. The pall bearers were members of the Foresters and of the Railway Trainmen, those from the Foresters being Jas. Simons, H. Gainey and T. Hickey. He was buried in the Roman Catholic Cemetery.

The late Mr. McAuliffe was, among his railway associates, one of the most highly respected, and his death has shed a gloom over those, who, by the nature of their calling are accustomed to sudden death. But it will be in his home where his loss will be felt most keenly. His only thought seemed to be the care and protection of his mother and two sisters, and in all his actions he was a most exemplary young man.

He carried $1,000 insurance in the Foresters, and was also insured in the Firemens' Society.

"TELL ME THE TIME."

His Holiness Wishes to Know Moment of Death Beforehand.

EXTREME UNCTION IS GIVEN.

The Pontiff's Life Supported by Artificial Respiration and by Chloral—He Is, However, Conscious of His Surroundings—Tells His Nephew to Take Courage — Death-bed Scenes in the Vatican.

Rome, July 7.—The following bulletins were issued yesterday afternoon and this morning, and furnish a current history of the Pontiff's illness:

2.45 p.m.—The Pope seemed somewhat prostrated after a rather exciting morning, and is now enjoying much needed sleep.

4. p. m.—A fit of coughing disturbed the Pope's sleep. Coughing might benefit him, by relieving the lungs of the catarrhal obstruction; but, owing to his weak state, it is very trying and exhausting.

8 p. m.—Accentuated symptoms of general depression are appearing. The Pope's respiration is more frequent and superficial, and his pulse is so weak that sometimes it is imperceptible. His temperature remains under normal, and his intellectual faculties are unimpaired.

Extreme Unction Given.

10.30 p.m.—The change for the worse in Pope Leo's condition is augmenting rapidly. At 9 o'clock His Holiness was unmistakably sinking, so that, Dr. Lapponi, alarmed, consulted with the Pope's relatives, Cardinal Rampolli and others, who decided that extreme unction should be given, and it was administered by Mgr. Pifferi, the Pope's confessor.

1.30 a.m.—Dr. Lapponi has just expressed the opinion that the Pope will live until morning. His Holiness is still conscious.

1.45 a.m.—Repeated doses of chloral have enabled the Pontiff to sleep, but, contrary to previous nights, artificial respiration is continued, and Dr. Lapponi goes every five minutes to the bedside to observe the patient and listen to his breathing.

3.35 a. m.—The Pope awoke from his sleep, which was induced by doses of chloral, very feeble and in pain, but with his mind quite clear.

The Latest Bulletin.

Rome, July 7, 6.45 a. m.—A bulletin has just been issued. It says the condition of the Pope is stationary. After twice taking a raw egg and a little brandy, he went to sleep. At nine o'clock Dr. Mazzoni will visit His Holiness again, and a new bulletin will then be issued.

SOLEMN LAST MOMENTS.

Death-Bed Scenes in the Vatican—Several Pathetic Incidents.

3.55 a. m.—Another morning has broken on the pathetic scene within the simple chamber of the Vatican, where Pope Leo lies dying. As the soft light of dawn penetrated into the room the Pontiff whispered to his devoted physician that he desired the shutters of the windows to be opened, saying: "I wish to see once more, perhaps for the last time, the rays of the sun."

It is just a short while that the Pope came back to consciousness from a sleep which Dr Lapponi had induced by a strong dose of chloral. His sleep was so deathlike that artificial respiration was continued, and Dr. Lapponi every few minutes leaned anxiously over the couch to observe the illustrious patient and listen to his hardly perceptible breathing.

"Tell Me When the Time Comes."

Pope Leo awoke wet with perspiration, feeble to the extreme, and his voice hardly audible. The fits of coughing had brought pains in his chest and shoulders, and he said to Dr. Lapponi: "Tell me when the time really comes."

The doctor assured His Holiness that he believed the danger of his immediate passage away was averted for the night and for to-day.

These seemingly last moments of Pope Leo are full of solemnity. Perhaps his last hours would be less melancholy and sad if the august sufferer were less conscious of the circumstances and his mind less clear as to the time remaining before he enters eternity. Although his physical powers are at the lowest ebb and his breathing comes more labored, the Pope's mind is clear as is manifest to all around him by his bright expressive eyes and the few words he now and then succeeds in uttering.

"Take Courage."

Count Camillo Pecci, the Pope's nephew, whom the dying man kept by his bedside yesterday, was so exhausted late last night by his emotions, that he had to be taken from his uncle's room, completely worn out. A few moments before, he stood bowed beside the bed, Pope Leo laid his hand on his head with paternal affection, saying: "Take courage."

Shortly after 10 o'clock at night the Pontiff received the extreme unction. An hour before it had seemed he had but a very short time to live. The Pontiff received the announcement that extreme unction was to be given with his usual calmness, and though scarcely able to speak audibly, he said he knew his time had come, and he was ready to appear before the sublime tribunal with full trust in the divine mercy. Mgr. Pifferi, Pope Leo's confessor, administered the unction. When the ceremony was over His Holiness sank back on the pillow with apparent great relief that all was done, and that he was entering into rest after his long pilgrimage.

After the adminstration of the viaticum telegrams hoping for his recovery were shown to the Pope, and he appeared to be much gratified.

Louisville, Ky., July 7.—A despatch from Evansville, Ind., says a mob lynched a negro late last night.

RATS IN LONDON.

Plague So Bad That Even Cats Are Helpless to Stay It.

When rats take to eating babies in their beds, says The London Daily Express, it is time for long-suffering humanity to pay some attention to the rat question.

London is infested with the pests—always has been, and seems to be more so now than usual. Cats are helpless. Dogs merely scare the rats into the next house. Poison creates a worse nuisance by causing the rats to die and putrify in hidden corners.

Nobody knows how many rats there are in London, and there are no local figures on which to base any sort of an estimate. In Sydney, when the bubonic plague broke out a few years ago, the authorities offered sixpence a head for rats, dead or alive, and within a few months they received 100,000. As it is certain that only a fraction was secured, and as the population of Sydney is something less than 500,000, it is reasonable to assume that there must have been as many rats as human beings in Sydney.

If the parallel holds good—and London is an older city than Sydney—the rat population of London should be five or six millions. Those will take a great deal of exterminating.

Sydney discovered that the rat has a rooted aversion to being exterminated. Poisoned bates were laid down at the worst spots. The rats disappeared, but no dead bodies were found, and the next day another district, a mile away, was so pestered by an invasion of strange rats that the residents were afraid they would be driven out of the locality.

Great lengths of sewers were blocked up and fumigated, and when the water was sent streaming through afterward the authorities looked to see it come out thick with the bodies of the slain. They were disappointed. Some carcasses came, but they were very few.

The rat has an uncanny knack of smelling danger, and escaping from it. In India the whole colony of rats will migrate from a village when plague breaks out, and go to some healthier area. They drop their sick by the way, and so the plague spreads.

At Liverpool the port authorities have been trying for years to keep out the rats which come by foreign ships. The ship is moored some distance from the quay, and round flat discs, thirty inches in diameter, are fixed on the hawsers. A rat ought not to be able to either jump or to climb over that obstacle; and, to make things doubly sure, the rope is smeared with tar on both sides of the disc.

Little the rats care for that. As the cargo is discharged and the ship rises in the water, the hawsers become twisted and out come the rats, scuttling for the hawsers, dragging their feet through the tar, and using every twist of the rope to help them to get over the disc.

They jump on to the lighter, or they swim ashore and climb up the stonework.

Fumigation is the only sure way of ridding a ship of rats; but British shipowners will seldom give up the time necessary for the operation. When the City of Perth came home with three cases of plague aboard she was fumigated with sulphur, and two hundred dead rats were found.

"The law gives us power to deal with persons, but not with rats, although the danger to the community of a plague stricken rat is as great as, if not greater than, that of a plague stricken person." That is the opinion of Dr. Williams, a medical officer of the port of London.

The difficulties of extermination are obviously much greater ashore than on a ship. Put in a terrier or a rat catcher and the rats move next door. Architects have not yet discovered how to build a house which a man can enter and a rat cannot.

"Nasty Man" Who Hadn't a Crown.

"King Edward," writes a Rome correspondent of a London paper, "has come, and seen, and conquered, with one exception— the Princess Yolanda. She, the eldest daughter of King Victor Emmanuel, had imagined that the King of England was coming especially for her benefit, so her disillusionment is easily imagined when not only did he prove to be old, but she was shut in the nursery and not allowed to come out without special permission. The Princess, however, decided not to endure any such injustice, but nurses were vigilant. However, one morning, while papa and mamma were very much occupied, she found the door open and slipped out quite unseen. But mamma's eyes were sharp, and she discovered her daughter hiding behind a huge chair. 'Yolanda, why did you run away?" asked the Queen, 'I didn't,' she replied. 'I only wanted to see King Edward's crown, and Miss Dickens kept me in the nursery. And the nasty man hasn't got a crown after all!' "

Won V.C. at Colenso.

The London Chronicle says:— The new A.D.C. and assistant military secretary to the Duke of Connaught, Lieut.-Col. W. N. Congreve, won the V. C. at Colenso, where he was among the wounded. His adventures on that desperate occasion rank among the most thrilling personal incidents of the war, and it was apparently only by a miracle that he came out of the affair alive. After venturing out and retrieving one of the guns whose servers had all been killed or wounded, Congreve on his way back saw Lieut. Roberts fall, and he at once went and brought his wounded comrade in. When the gallant rescuer had time at last to "take stock," he found that he had been shot through the leg, through the shoulder, and in the elbow, while a fourth bullet had carried away the toe of his boot. His horse ran him close, having brought three bullets back, "concealed about his person." Col. Congreve's V.C. was undoubtedly one of the best earned during the campaign.

EYES SPEAK

Volumes, at times, of woman's happiness or misery. The dull, sunken eye, with its dark circles almost surely speaks of womanly ill-health, and its attendant suffering. With the dull eye goes usually the sallow, sunken cheek, the drawn mouth, the shrunken form—the whole glory of woman's beauty marred by the effects of disease.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the diseases which undermine the health and mar the beauty of women. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free, and so obtain the advice of a specialist upon their disease. All correspondence is strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"With pleasure I send a few lines to let you know that I feel much better than for eight years before taking your medicine," writes Mrs. Pierce Geise, of 832 West Phila. Street, York, Pa. "Will recommend Dr. Pierce's medicine to every person who may inquire as to what it has done for me. I was troubled with female weakness, and began to think I would never be well. If I had continued the treatment prescribed by my doctor I don't know what would have become of me. When your treatment was commenced my weight was 108 pounds, at present it is 130. Have healthy color and my friends say I look well. My best thanks to you and my best wishes, too, for what you have done for me."

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cleanse the clogged system from accumulated impurities.

Sour Stomach —Bad Breath..

The body depends on the bowels to carry off all waste and poisonous matters from the system—it is Nature's drainage. If the bowels don't perform their functions properly and become clogged up, the system gradually absorbs this poison. It is this which causes sick headache, biliousness, sour stomach, bad breath, inactive liver, lack of energy, heartburn, etc.

Abbey's Effervescent Salt will cure you by clearing away the obstruction and thoroughly cleansing the bowels. This brings healthy action to all the organs of the body and rids the system of the cause of illness.

In this way Abbey's Effervescent Salt permanently cures. A teaspoonful in half a glass of tepid water every morning.

READING CAMPS.

A Plea for Better Conditions Among Canada's Lumbermen—The Work Already Done—Lumber Camp Schools.

How many have actually seen the inside of a lumber camp at night? Imagine a log shanty, 100 feet long, and wide in proportion; bunks three deep all around, enough for from one to two hundred men. Wet socks, mitts, overalls, shirts are hung up to dry so thick you can hardly see the bunks on the other side. Some of the men are trying to mend torn clothing, which must be worn next day, some are trying to read in the dim, flickering light, some want to write, some are talking, some are singing, and as all have to grind their axes for next day, two grindstones are busy far into the night. Imagine a traveling preacher trying to get a hearing here. He cannot even see above twenty of his audience at a time. Suppose there is no preacher, what chance have the men for rest or recreation? Think what a boon to them would be a special rest and recreation camp. They would be able to live more as civilized human beings should. Then when the occasional preacher came along they would be able to hear him in comfort. And what applies to lumber camps applies to mining and railway construction camps also.

It was to provide just such camps that the Canadian Reading Camp Association started operations about three years ago.

First the association started in one or two lumber camps in New Ontario, and at its own expense built shanties, supplying them with tables and bookshelves, and stocked these well with books, games, writing materials and newspapers. These papers were all up-to-date, so that the lumbermen could keep themselves posted in the news of the day. It was declared at first that the daily papers could not be got, but the association argued, the wagons have to go to the railway station regularly for the supplies, why should they not bring the daily papers, too? A strong leather bag was provided to hold them, and the daily papers in the camps was soon a matter of course. The books, a circulating library of fifty volumes, were provided by the Provincial Government. The men in charge of these reading camps are men of education, general ability and thorough Christian character. Protestant or Catholic, it matters not which, so long as their character is above reproach. Part of their expenses is paid by the association, and part they earn in the woods at work with the rest of the gang.

At first when the big lumber companies were approached and asked to contribute the building they refused, saying there was nothing in it for them. But shortly they changed their minds, and now in every case the company gladly puts up the camp at its own expense.

Then it is important that men should be encouraged to spend their Sundays and other spare time in better ways than huddled in cramped quarters, drinking, gambling, telling or listening to the low jest, song or story. Sundays and rainy days in camp, when men are off work, are the longest in the year. Men suffer more from ennui, from mental and spiritual languor, than from overwork on other days. They are then ready to jump at any suggestion, no matter how vulgar, that promises even temporary relief from such bondage. Their moral diseases, that are the result of this lack of social and religious restraint, are of a much more serious character.

As a matter of fact employers often fear to give their men too much spare time, not from mercenary motives, but lest the time should be abused and employed in gambling, drinking and worse evils. Experience proves that to increase the hours of freedom without insuring that these hours are to be well employed is to drag men downward, and that this is true of the rich as well as the poor.

It was with this in view that a new department of this Association was started—the Camp School. Here any man or boy can, while doing his work all winter in the woods, have the same advantages of evening classes as those living in the city.

These reading camps are really extensions of the public library system to meet the needs of isolated places. The separate building is, therefore, necessary if the books are to be within the reach of all, and yet properly taken care of.

When you consider that from fifteen to twenty per cent. of the men in lumber camps cannot recognize their own name on a letter, and that there are 50,000 or more men in the camps of Ontario alone you begin to realize the size of the educational problem.

It is these problems which Mr. Alfred Fitzpatrick, of Nairn Centre, has laid himself out to solve. He put up the test camps before mentioned and was the means of getting the Provincial Government to take the matter up.

"Cost?" to be sure it will cost something, every good thing does, but, as Mr. Fitzpatrick (who, by the way, is an ordained Presbyterian minister) points out, "it will cost the country less to provide bathrooms, laundries and reading camps than the revenue that would be derived from the additional number of good citizens. An enlightened and healthy citizenship is a better asset than ignorant and filthy slaves. Camp schools are cheaper than soldiers, paupers, drunkards and criminals."

Though only three years in existence, Mr. Fitzpatrick reports that the Association had last winter thirty reading camps in operation.

Believing that literature is just as practicable at a camp as pork and beans, the reading camp as easily put up as a sleeping camp, and the instructor is quite as portable a person as a cook, the next experiment was with railway construction camps, and now several of these have their reading and instruction camps in full operation.

Messrs. McMillan & Maguire, stock brokers, Hunter street, at 1.15 p.m., received the following despatch:

The announcement after the close of the market yesterday of the shipment of nearly 37 million gold gave the list a little hesitancy at the opening of the market, but it soon showed independence of the gold movement and became strong. The break in cotton exerted a beneficial influence. Labour troubles too, are in a fair way of settlement. A.C.P. was under pressure. One of the Subsidiary company, namely the Boston and Montana, earned more than enough to pay A.C.P. dividend for entire year at present rate. It is claimed that present break, both in metal and A.C.P., is manipulated. We think that stocks are a sale on all good rallies.

The following despatches have been received by E. M. Poussett & Co.:—

New York, July 7, 9.45 a.m.—We look for an irregular and lower market today on the adverse sentimental influence on gold shipments. We do not expect to see any extensive selling or material weakness develop. We rather look for a continued dull and dragging market.

There is a fine map for winter wheat harvest this morning.

Liverpool 1-8 and 1-4 higher.

At present market is harbouring on the weather and to-day's map is a favourable one. The weather is favourable for hurrying corn along, clear and hot.

Liverpool unchanged to 1-4 penny higher.

M. & M.

New York, July 7, 9.45 a.m.—$2,750,000 gold engaged for export to-day. Good prospects for settlement of building tie-up this week. 73 roads for May average net increase 18.14. 25 roads fourth week in June average gross increase 29.97 per cent. London mining settlement begins to-day and transactions for new account. Movement of grain on Western roads indicates no sign of falling off. Break in cotton speculation expected to favourably influence stock market. Exports to Canada for 1903 will be larger than any previous year. Banks gained from sub-treasury since Friday $867,000. Money in good demand at Western points and expected to rule firm all this year. Norfolk earnings for eleven months show 61-2 on com. and probability is that 7 1-4 is earned for year. Erie earnings for June will compare favourably with those of May.

A DAY'S DROWNINGS

Another Fearsome List of Deaths by Water.

VICTIMS WIDELY SCATTERED.

Fatalities at Merritton, Vernon City, B.C., Mount Forest, Sacramento, Cal., and Elsewhere—Instances of Bravery in Attempting to Rescue Comrades From a Watery Grave—Young Girl Drowned at Ottawa.

St. Catharines, July 7. — Louis Wood, 22 years of age, was accidentally drowned at Lock 18, old Welland Canal, about 8 o'clock Sunday night. He with some others went swimming, and, unable to swim, got beyond his depth. His companions made a brilliant attempt to save him, but failed. Wood was spending the Sunday here, his home being at Niagara Falls.

Drowned in B.C.

Vernon City, B.C., July 7.—Stewart James and Arthur Waby, two young men in the employ of the S. C. Smith mills at Enderby, were drowned while running logs from the river to the boom. They were engaged at the work voluntarily during their leisure hours, it being 8 o'clock in the evening when the fatality occurred. A Chinaman saw them fall off the log, and gave the alarm, which the steam whistle at the mills made general, but although the startled inhabitants arrived on the river bank in a few minutes, nothing could be seen of the two men. Neither could swim, and they went down in 20 feet of water. Both bodies were recovered. Stewart James came from Haliburton County, Ont.

Drowned in River.

Mount Forest, July 7.—About the middle of yesterday forenoon, Milford, eldest son of the late William Amos of this town, aged about 17 years, went to the river at the Queen street bridge to swim, with a comrade. As young Amos was not a good swimmer, he was warned by his comrade not to try to swim across the river, which is about 7 feet deep at this point. Amos, however, on seeing his comrade crossing, tried to follow him, when he sank in midstream and was drowned before help could reach him.

John Kerr Drowned.

Pickering, July 7.—George Kerr, manager of the Western Bank here, received a telegram yesterday with the sad news that his son John, aged 26 years, had been drowned on Saturday evening at Sacramento, Cal. His body is expected home to Pickering for burial.

Found Floating in Bullrushes.

Toronto, July 7.—The body of Frank Clarkin, who has been missing since Thursday, was found floating face upward in the bullrushes opposite the Royal Canadian Yacht Club last evening by Captain Goodwin. Clarkin was staying with Wm. Linton, at 10 Hooper avenue, Centre Island. After lunch on Thursday he set out in a canoe for the foot of Bay street, and the only possible clue which might indicate the cause of an accident was that one side was scratched and smeared with black paint, as if the boat had come into collision with some newly-painted craft. Clarkin was an expert swimmer and it is difficult to account for his death unless seized by cramps. The deceased, who was 21 years old, came from the neighborhood of King, where his mother, Mrs. James Curry, still resides.

Young Girl Drowned.

Ottawa, July 7.—Word has been received of a drowning accident in the Gatineau on Sunday, when the thirteen-year-old daughter of John Cyr of Oronside lost her life. The little girl and her young sister were playing in a boat, which was tied to the shore. She reached out to grab a piece of stick floating, overbalanced and fell into the water. She came up, managed to get hold of a floating log, but another log in passing struck her on the head, stunning her and knocking her off.

FREE POSTAL DELIVERY

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Dear Sir,—Postal delivery is essentially a public convenience, and is not instituted or maintained for the especial benefit of any select portion of the community; but for the public at large. The greatest good for the greatest number is its logical basis.

As a community we are not progressive in comparison with our advantages. Nature and circumstances force things upon us that we ought to have taken by the forelock, and some of our so-called prominent citizens have a strong taint of "sleepy hollow."

That we are not an incorporated city, measuring up to our advantages and meeting our opportunities, is little short of municipal disgrace.

Ald. Morrison's public-spirited move for free delivery is unquestionably supported by the general public, and that it should have any opposition from business men seems incredible. If Peterborough business men can not stand on the same basis as business men of other cities, they are simply proclaiming their lack of true business spirit, and they, above all, should be the last to put a straw in the way of public advantage.

As a community with a consciousness of our rights and needs, we should unanimously press for free delivery and adaquate postal facilities, too. It is our own fault if we get only a "half loaf."

This town is pre-eminently an industrial centre. If it was a community of retired farmers, as some towns are, they would have time to go to the Post Office, but the man who is at work ten hours a day has little desire to go a mile or more for his mail, and, in most cases, the other members of his family have just as little leisure.

With all due respect for true business interests, we must not forget that the claims of the general public are the most important, and superior to those of any class. An improvement of this kind that makes our town a more desirable place to live in, is well worth trying for, and Ald. Morrison has the good wishes of a long-suffering public, for who has not suffered many times in our slow-going Post Office.

Yours truly,
POSTAL.

JURY'S VERDICT ON CRAIG'S DEATH.

Inquest Held in Ashburnham Council Chamber.

SUPERINTENDENT'S EVIDENCE

Who Tampered With the Scaffolding—Frank Murphy's Escape—Smith was not in fit Condition to Give Evidence.

"We have carefully considered the evidence submitted to us, and are of the opinion that the accident was caused by a scaffold made defective by having the point of one of the braces cut off by some persons unknown to us, and recommend that cedar and hemlock be not used where there is tension."

Such was the verdict brought in by the jury at the inquest on the death of William Craig, which was held last night in the Ashburnham Council Chamber.

It will be remembered that on Tuesday, June 30th, at about 10.30 o'clock, the deceased fell with a scaffold on which he was working at the lift lock. The distance he fell was probably 44 feet, from the effects of which he never recovered consciousness and died about an hour afterwards. When the scaffold fell there was on it besides the deceased, a man named Robert Smith, who miraculously escaped with but a severe shaking up. The third man, Frank Murphy, was just stepping off as it fell and managed to save himself.

The two supports of the platform of the scaffolding were on evidence, and showed that a piece from the end of one of the braces had been cut off near the bolt, thus very materially weakened it. The piece of wood which had been sawn off was also produced and identified.

Contrary to expectations the room was not very crowded, in fact for such an event there were very few present. The jury was composed of the following gentlemen:—F. Malone, J. Strain, A. Fitzgerald, Jas. McDonald, Chas. S. Brownlee, Robt. Hamilton, H. W. Gillespie, T. J. Parker, Arch. Weir, Thos. Smith, W. A. Graham, J. T. Wright, Wm. Scott, foreman.

The following evidence was taken:

E. W. Nicholls, on being sworn, said he was the superintendent at the lift lock, and was supposed to look after with the assistance of a foreman, the safety of the workmen. The work at which William Craig, the deceased, was engaged, was perhaps no more dangerous than other work. He said that it could not have been done at a lower level. The scaffold which broke down was erected on June 15, and had been in constant use ever since. He stated that he had inspected it when it was erected, and had made some alterations to it at the time, in order that it might lie properly in position. He said the scaffolding on evidence was made of cedar, and that the part which gave way seemed to be shorter than the other. He did not know who had so altered it, and said that he would not consider it safe as it now was with a portion sawn off. There is, he said, 1 1-4 inches from the outside of the bolt in the line of strain and that the end being cut off would make an accident more probable. The men were using a rivetting machine on the scaffold at the time of the accident. This, he said, would cause vibration. It was a breach of the company's rules to test a machine on the platform of the scaffold, the safety of which was not his duty to attend to. He said that when the scaffold fell it was about 16 feet to the first landing, and 27 feet to the second. "When I first saw the deceased after the accident," said Mr. Nicholls, "he was lying on the second landing." In conclusion he stated that he was the only representative of the Dominion Bridge Company present.

The second witness called was J. Carroll, who on being sworn, said he was foreman on the construction of the iron work at the lift lock. He was not present when the accident occurred, but saw the scaffold built. He had not seen it put in position it was in at the time of the accident. He also testified that the men were in a dangerous position should anything have gone wrong. He said that the men occasionally changed scaffolds without orders, and he would not have allowed it to have been tampered with as it had obviously been. He would have condemned it. He said that he had checked the same men for working on dangerous scaffolds, either deficient in strength or construction. He had seen iron trusses used instead of wooden ones and said that the men were instructed to always put the nuts tight on to the bolts, and saw that they did so. He said that the men did not usually test rivetting machine before using it on red hot rivets. The men, contrary to orders used to sometimes test the machine on the planks on which they stood, and that they could not test the machine on the plates of the pontoon nor on the upright parts of the scaffold. He knew cedar, of which the scaffold was constructed, was generally "shaky" timber and that scaffolds were usually made of either pine or spruce. He had instructed the men to examine the scaffold on which they worked. He said that if the rivetter was used perpendicularly the force would probably be equal to that produced by an ordinary man with a six-pound sledge. He said that some person had cut off an end of the piece of the scaffold without either his knowledge or orders. He inspected the scaffold almost every day and said that the only reason he could give for the accident was the weakening of the strength of the structure by the piece being sawn off one of the supports.

Frank Murphy, the third man on the scaffold just before it fell, on being sworn, stated that he was the "bucker up," or the man who held the bolt which was being hammered. The scaffold had been moved from another position some two hours before the accident, and said that Smith the injured man, had tested the rivetting machine on the second plank from the outside. After about three strokes of the plunger of the machine the scaffold began to give way at one end. To quote his own words, Mr. Murphy said:—"Smith called to me and I caught a firm hold of the iron work. I saw Smith's feet in the air as he was falling, but he saved himself by holding the hose until it broke. I saw Craig fall. Mr. Nicholls warned Smith on Monday to be sure that the scaffold was safe." He stated that he knew it was contrary to orders to test the machine on the planks of the scaffold, but that he did not say anything as Smith was in charge of that gang of men. He said that he did not know of any workmen who had refused to work on the scaffold and that he had been working on it for about two weeks. In conclusion, in answer to a question from the coroner, he stated that he did not know who had sawn off the piece from one of the supports to the scaffold.

Dr. McGrath sworn, testified:—"I am a practising physician in the town of Peterborough, and was called to attend to the injuries of the deceased Wm. Craig, on the forenoon of June 30th. I found him lying in an unconscious condition from which state he never recovered. It was probably half an hour after the accident, that I saw him. I found no bones broken and the only external evidence of injury was that his right side was somewhat bruised. He died from what is termed "shock." Owing to the fact that no bones were broken he probably fell on his side. There might have been serious internal injuries."

Mr. W. Dennis, a pumpmaker by trade, also testified, but his statement was not of very material importance.

Mr. Chas. M. Lowry on being sworn said he was an iron constructor, and that he had built the scaffold in question some three or four weeks ago. It was not now the same as should be frequently inspected in piece, evidently sawn, off the end of one of the supports. In conclusion he stated that all scaffolds should be continually inspected in order that their strength might be confirmed.

George Pigeon, who was the next witness sworn, stated that he was a cooper by trade. He did not see the accident happen, but saw the state of affairs immediately after, as the falling of the scaffold attracted his attention. He said that he did not work at great heights above the ground as he was very easily turned dizzy.

John Rudkins, Jr., was next examined and stated under oath that he was the Government Inspector of steel work on the lift lock. His sole work was the inspector of steel work, he did not inspect any wood work. He stated that he was on the scaffold on the morning of the accident. At that time he did not notice any defect and it was apparently quite safe.

Benson Revoy, a teamster, and Arthur T. Bishop, a rivet heater, both employed at the lift lock, also gave testimony. Their statements, however, did not reveal anything more than had been previously heard.

This closed the evidence.

Coroner Dr. Gray, when addressing the jury, stated that Robt. Smith, the injured man who was on the scaffold at the time of the accident, was unable to appear and give evidence through injuries sustained. He advised the gentlemen of the jury to return a verdict if they could conscientiously do so on the evidence which they had heard, or if they could not do so to adjourn the case until Mr. Smith could give his testimony.

The jury retired and returned the above verdict after a somewhat lengthy debate.

POPE'S CONDITION IS MORE SERIOUS.

It is Thought That the End is Near.

Special Dispatches Telling of the Pontiff's Serious Illness.

(Special to the Examiner.)

London, July 8th. — A special despatch from Rome filed at 2.20 p.m., says that the Pope had another fainting fit to-day, that the action of the heart is very feeble, and that his condition has again become very critical.

Rome, July 8. — A bulletin issued at 9.45 a.m., says the night passed tranquilly enough, although the Pontiff had no rest or sleep. The pulse was frequent but not regular; breathing was not as free as last night. The condition of the Pope does not permit of a long examination but it seems that the pneumonia tends to solve itself and the pleurisy is not regathering. However the general condition of the patient is not tranquilizing because of the state of depression which at intervals increases.

Berlin, July 8. — A despatch from Rome to the local Anseigor, says the condition of the Pope has suddenly become worse, and that Cardinal Serafino Vannutelli (the Grand Penitentiary) has been called in to administer absolution in articulo mortis. The end, it is added, is immediately impending.

Messrs. Hutcheson and Fisher of Brockville, are associated with Mr. Haverson in the appeal, and M. M. Brown is acting for the license inspector.

DR. BARNARDO'S WORK.

Vivid Picture Showing the Past and Present of Waifs

In the current issue of the National Waif's Magazine, just published, Dr. Barnardo tells a wonderful tale of how his well-known Homes have been preserved from want in spite of the extreme pressure of recent times. "More Room" is his urgent cry at the present moment. Were the funds forthcoming, 25 new cottages at the Ilford Village Homes would speedily occupy the new and excellent site that is available. Pathetic instances are given of little ones rescued from incredibly vile surroundings. Here is a photo, for instance, of "Six-year-old Bessie, whose life-story cannot be told." Contrast pictures, showing the past and present of rescued waifs, form a feature of the magazine, and the moral of emigration is tellingly pointed in the same connection. One photograph of a rural scene is titled "Our Industrial Farm in Manitoba—No Overcrowding Here!" A paper on "Some Principles of Our Work of Waif Rescue," by the Rev. W. H. Finney, admirably sets forth the lines of effort along which the Institutions run. The point is strongly emphasized that no physical infirmity whatever precludes the immediate reception of any case of genuine destitution. Under the title of "My Children and Grandchildren," we have a pretty "Idyl of the Homes," telling of the happy marriage of two young emigrants, formerly in the Institutions. Life at the Watts Naval Training School at North Elmham, Norfolk, which is now in working order, is dealt with in another paper; and the story of the Girls' Village Homes at Ilford is ably described under the guise of "How I Retrieved a Blunder!" In this connection an intimation is given that the Annual Meeting and Founder's Day Celebration is fixed for Saturday, July 11th, the place of meeting to be the Village, which is within fifty yards of the newly-opened Barkingside station, on the G. E. R. The Homes have now, it appears, actually close upon 7,000 boys and girls under their care. A copy of the Magazine will be sent gratis and post free to any one who makes application for it to the Head Offices of the Homes, 18 to 26 Stepney Causeway, London, E.

BOUNDARY ARGUMENT.

Both Sides Are Now Ready—England Exchanges Counter Case With U.S. and Asks to See Maps.

Washington, July 8.—The counter cases in the Alaskan boundary matter have been exchanged within the time limit. The counter case of the United States was delivered last Friday to the British Charge d'Affaires at Newport, and at almost the same moment in London the British counter case was handed to the American Embassy. Each side is now ready for the preparation and submission of the arguments which are to be laid before the commission in London on Sept. 3.

The British Government has expressed a desire to see the originals of the charts and maps, which are the main reliance of the American agent. These include maps that never have been mentioned in connection with the case, and which the State Department has spent much time and money in obtaining from the most out of the way places.

The department has acceded to the British request.

THREE CENTS FOR DEPOSITORS.

Fees of the Liquidator, Inspector and Counsel Amounted to $2,033.14.

Oakville, July 8.—The Anderson Bank failure matter was closed before County Judge Gorham as arbitrator here yesterday afternoon, when the fixing of the remuneration of Assignee Clarkson and that of the inspectors was made. The amount to be paid Mr. Clarkson was placed at $600 by the judge, the remuneration of the three inspectors, Messrs. George Andrews, John Macdonald and D. O. Cameron, for 50 days' work, together with expenses incurred, $133.14, was fixed at $733.14. The Hon. S. H. Blake's bill amounted to $700, and thus the total cost of closing out the affair is $2,033.14. The total assets realizable by the depositors was $8,500, together with certain property near Toronto, on which they expect to obtain $2,500 in the future. The creditors were owed $175,000. The depositors will thus get 3 cents on the dollar.

May Be $200,000.

St. Thomas, July 8.—The alleged stealings of George Rowley, ex-manager of the Elgin Loan Comuany, may, it is reported, now reach as high as $175,000 or $200,000. The liquidators are at present examining the mortgages, and it is said that even these show signs of having been tampered with, that numerous shortages in amounts paid on them have been discovered. The liquidators expect to make a statement of the affairs about the end of the week.

PORTE TO GET ULTIMATUM.

Impression in Vienna That Bulgaria Will Send One.

London, July 8.—The Daily Telegraph's correspondent at Vienna says the belief prevails there that Bulgaria intends to send an ultimatum to Turkey.

Afraid of Manchuria.

London, July 8.—Sir Ernest Satow, British Minister at Pekin, has arrived at Simla, India, to confer with Lord Curzon, Viceroy of India. The visit is generally attributed to the aspect of affairs in Manchuria, as an Anglo-Russian rupture would closely affect India through Afghanistan.

TELEPHONE JUDGMENT.

The injunction case of the Town of Fort William against the Bell Telephone Company was held recently before Mr. Justice Teetzel at Port Arthur. This case was entered last February by the town. The court ordered that the case be dismissed; the plaintiffs shall not until judgment has been pronounced by the final appellate court, to which the action of the corporation of the City of Toronto against the Bell Telephone Company of Canada, Limited, now pending, may be carried; or such action shall otherwise be disposed of, bring action or take any proceedings to interfere with the erection of poles or the stringing of wires by the defendants in the said town, or the erection or use of any other appliances permitted by their charter and necessary or convenient for carrying on the business of defendants in the said town. The court ordered that the plaintiffs pay the defendants one dollar damages for loss sustained by reason of the injunction orders granted; and also pay to the defendants their costs of this action, including the costs of February 17th, 1903, and February 19th, 1903, and of the motion and order permitting the defendants to deliver their statement of defence, June 19th, 1903, as between solicitor and client forthwith after taxation.

North Grey Protested.

Owen Sound, July 8.—The petition of protest against the election of Alexander G. MacKay was filed with the local registrar of the High Court, W. A. Bishop, by a local solicitor representing Bristol, Bailey & Armour of Toronto, which firm had been conducting the appeal. The document, like the original form of petition, includes the usual charges of bribery and corruption, and asks for the disqualification of Mr. MacKay.

Knew Dr. Chase in 1867.

One of Dr. Chase's oldest patients in Canada is Mr. G. W. Parish of Sturgeon Bay, Simcoe Co., Ont., whom he cured of kidney disease in 1867 by means of his now celebrated Kidney-Liver Pills. Mr. Parish writes that he does not think there is any medicine half so good and that he always keeps Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills in the house as a family medicine.

The Mothers were responsible.

Physicians say that hundreds of people have had their constitutions permanently injured in childhood by having food forced upon them which was repugnant to their taste. Where is the mother nowadays who would urge her child to eat Oat, Barley or Corn meal for its breakfast.

"Malta-Vita"

has been hailed with delight by the children of Canada. They like it because it tastes so good—it is so thoroughly cooked and so easy to digest that the little people thrive and grow fat upon it.

The Tate Optical Co's

We are doing one thing extremely well—making Good Glasses. In fact the best Glasses made in Canada today. Perhaps you may think this a strong statement, but it is written deliberately and meant to be convincing.

We examine your eyes carefully, and in our examining room we have all the latest instruments for that purpose. We are Eye Specialists, and our long years of experience make us experts. In the rear of the office is a work shop equipped with the most modern machinery for optical work—the only shop of the kind in Peterborough. Surface grinding of lenses is done on the premises. When you buy a pair of glasses from us we grind the lenses to suit the requirements of your eye. WE DO NOT pick them haphazard from a box of numbered lenses.

Our patients are in all parts of the Dominion. We will be pleased to answer mail orders. Particular care is given to the fit of frames and mounts.

One of our patients, Miss Beavis, writes: "Before coming to you for Glasses I had spent over $50.00 in my endeavour to get satisfactory Glasses, but, thanks to your skill as opticians, I am now enjoying perfect vision and comfort."

In Earnest.

The earnestness of Miss Delaney's intention of sacrificing every hat in the store, every bit of millinery and trimmings, the gloves, veiling, neckware, etc., is inducing ladies to shop here for their summer needs. They know that promises are fulfilled to the letter here. And another reason is, that unusual reductions are being made to clear the stock before the workmen begin their improvements in the store this month. Miss Delaney. 2d1w

ANNUAL INSPECTION

Four Other Companies Inspected Last Night.

Nos. 5, 6, 7 and 8 Companies 57th Regiment underwent their annual inspection last evening, the inspecting officer being Col. Hemming, D.S.A. The several companies individually distinguished themselves and the inspecting officer expressed himself as being highly pleased with their work. He especially complimented Nos. 7 and 8, the two new companies, and made some pleasing remarks on the manner in which the latter company went through their drill. No. 6 Company, under command of Lieuts. Watt and Clarke did some really excellent work and deserve mention. No. 5 Company, under command of Capt. Bennet, had the largest turn out, and did some very fine work, both in rifle exercises and marching.

On the whole during the two nights the companies acquitted themselves very well, and received many complimentary remarks.

MR. WODELL'S CHORUS.

First Rehearsal Held Last Night in Y. M. C. A. Hall

Nearly sixty music lovers gathered in the Y.M.C.A. Hall last evening to meet Mr. Wodell of Boston, who will conduct a musical festival here during the summer, the productions to be the oratorio "Creation," and "Rose Maiden, cantata. Mr. Wodell made a most favourable impression upon those who were present, as he evidently thoroughly understands music, and is a very successful conductor of large choruses. He gave a short talk on oratorio music and interspersed his interesting remarks by singing in a voice which was simply charming, four compositions, "The Lark now Leaves His Watery Nest," by Parker; "Roses in June," by German; "Shine on, O Star," by Sawyer; and a sacred solo "My Redeemer and My Lord," by Dudley Buck. In all these selections he showed remarkable musical capabilities, and those who have enrolled as members of his chorus are congratulating themselves that they will receive valuable instruction. After this a short rehearsal was held on preparatory work to the "Creation," the work on which will begin at the next practice on Tuesday night. Already about 100 have signified their intention of becoming members of the chorus.

C. M. B. A. GRAND OFFICERS IN TOWN.

Those who Guide Destiny of the Society Here for Outing.

Meeting Last Night in T. A. S. Hall—Are Taking an Excursion To-day.

Peterborough is becoming an immensely popular resort for the executive heads of fraternal societies. During this season the town has been honoured by the visits of many Grand Officers of different organizations, and the pleasure which they experienced while here has evidently prompted their lead to be followed. The latest body of this kind to accept the hospitality for which Peterborough people are proverbial, is the Executive Committee of the C.M.B.A. the members of which arrived last night, and are now the guests of the local branch. Those who are in the party are: Hon. H. M. Hackett, Grand President, Montreal, former member of Quebec Cabinet; Geo. G. McNeirney, ex-M.P., St. John's, N.B., Grand Trustee; J. J. Beehan, Kingston, Grand Secretary; J. E. H. Howieon, Kingston, Assistant Secretary; and J. S. A. Chisholm, member of Executive Committee.

Last evening after their arrival, they were entertained by a Reception Committee appointed by the local Branch. They were taken for a drive through the town, and viewed with great interest the many attractive features of Peterborough, including the lift lock, parks, Canadian General Electric Company's works, Cordage Company's factory, beet sugar works, etc., all of which proved eye-openers to the visitors. The members of the Reception Committee were, President of the Branch, Ald. Corkery, Messrs. J. J. Lynch, G. Ball, Jos. Picord, R. Sheehy, W. J. Devlin, M. Quinlan, M. O'Connor and H. O'Phelan.

Returning to the hall the regular meeting of the Branch was held, at which the visiting brethren were present and inspired the members by their enthusiastic addresses.

This morning the visitors were taken for a trip to Stony Lake accompanied by about fifty members and friends. "Our plan," said Ald. Corkery, "is to entertain our visitors in this way, instead of by tendering them a banquet, as is usually done. We think they will appreciate the beautiful trip which we are giving them, as nowhere in Canada can more picturesque scenery be found."

The visitors will be reinforced tonight by the presence of Hon. F. R. Latchford, Grand Solicitor; and Dr. Ryan, of Kingston, Grand Medical Examiner; and an open meeting will be held in the opera house, which will be addressed by Hon. Mr. Latchford and others in the interests of the local C.M.B.A. Branch, which is even now in a very satisfactory condition, having about 100 members.

DOMINION DAY COMMITTEE.

Final Meeting Last Night—All Matters Cleared up in Connection With Demonstration.

The general committee of the Dominion Day Celebration met last night to settle up all affairs in connection with the demonstration on July 1st. Mr. Robert Fair was chairman in the absence of Mr. R. E. Wood. The reports of the various committees were received and showed that every committee had worked zealously for the success of the day, and while the revenue from the day's entertainment was not as large as had been hoped for, all expenses have been met and everything cleared up. The committee wishes to thank the Turf Club for its assistance and co-operation in making the day a success, and also for its generous treatment of the committee, having borne more of the expense than it agreed to.

The thanks of the citizens are due to the committee and the Turf Club for their efforts to provide a pleasant day's sports and it is hoped that in future years this will not be left to the few public spirited business men who have so unselfishly worked in the interests of the town to provide entertainment for the many thousands who cannot leave the city on a holiday.

THE LATEST NEWS OF LOCAL SPORT.

Ontarios of Port Hope Will Play Here Saturday.

Athletics Busy Arranging Games—Baseball Items of Interest—Bowling.

LACROSSE.

The T.A.S. team have made arrangements to play an exhibition game with the senior C.L.A. Port Hope team on Saturday afternoon at 2.30. This is the same team that defeated the Tecumseh's by 6—0 and last Saturday played a close game with St. Catharines. It will be a very fast game and one well worth seeing.

• • • •

A full practice of the Athletics will be held to-night.

• • • •

The Athletics are arranging a series of home and home games with Lindsay. They will play there some day next week and the return game will be played here shortly after. The Lindsay team is a fast aggregation of stick handlers and play the game in good shape, so that a couple of interesting contests may be looked for. The Athletics were to have played a championship game with Hastings, but that team, like many others has defaulted, so that the game has been cancelled. They will go to Belleville about July 22nd, to play the fast bunch in the Bay City.

• • • •

The game between T. A. S. and Lindsay will be worth witnessing, as the two teams are pretty strong aggregations. A word about the T.A.S. Crowley is their star defence man. He is the same Crowley who figured in hockey circles last winter, and it was due to his efforts that T.A.S. won the Trent Valley Championship. Another good man they have is Jack McCabe, an old-timer. Jack played with Port Hope last season and was asked to go there again this year, but he decided to cast in his lot with the T.A.S. Our own team is a husky bunch. With such a formidable defence as Reesor, West, Taylor and G. Halwarth, how can the T.A.S. win? Our home players are in great trim, and a new man has been signed, which will make the team a strong one. No one should miss seeing this great event.—Post.

• • • •

In the Junior Series C.L.A. Port Hope team has dropped out of the running, and this, coupled with the default of Oshawa Juniors, has caused the T.A.S. to win their section of this district without having to play for it.

• • • •

The T.A.S. team will play Lindsay on July 17th.

• • • •

Port Hope's husky dozen came pretty near bringing the unexpected into evidence in the Garden City on Saturday. The Athletics only beat them a single goal and it wasn't scored until within three minutes of the last whistle. St. Kitts claims to have been a little stale, having played Brantford, Tecumsehs and Port Hope from Saturday till Saturday. And considering that they won all three games they did fairly well. However Port Hope has the making of a fast team. They're big and fast and know the game. And when Brantford goes down there on August 21 it looks as Telephoneville will again disappear in the shadow of defeat. Telegram.

FOOTBALL.

The Clydesdale Football Team drove to Coe Hill on Wednesday, when they played the Ridge team one of the hardest games of football ever witnessed in these parts. The game resulted in a draw. The Ridge forwards frequently rushed the Clydesdale goal, but were well received by the Clydesdale full backs. Both teams played good combination but the Clydesdale team had not the practice that the Ridge team had.

• • • •

A football team comprising recently arrived English and Scotch players has issued a challenge to the Y.M.C.A. team to play a friendly game as soon as it can be arranged. This will be a hotly contested match as the "recent arrivals" can play some.

LAWN BOWLING.

At Toronto yesterday Mr. Kerr's rink played three games, winning from Balmy Beach, skipped by J. Booth, in a score of 19—15; and from New Toronto, skipped by W. H. Hall, the score 20—15, and losing one to Guelph, of which the skip was H. C. Schoefield by the close margin of 16—15.

BASEBALL.

George street and St. Paul's played the second half of their posponed game Monday night, and though George street made a great attempt to win out, they were compelled to go down to defeat chiefly because of their inability to connect with Watt's shoots. St. Paul's have a find in their pitcher, and if the rest of the team supports him they should start a winning streak. Gray for the George street team pitched a good game, and Warne at 1st base was a great source of strength. The score was 19-12.

• • • •

In the Guild League to-night Charlotte and George street will play the first game in the second round of scheduled games, and it will be a hot one, each team being in desperate straits to win a game.

A FRIENDLY SPEECH.

Made by President Loubet at the Guildhall, London.

VISITED FRENCH HOSPITAL.

Presence of the Minister of Foreign Affairs of the Republic a Pledge of Amity to Britain—Made a Round of Visits to Members of the Royal Family—King Edward Dines With Him.

London, July 8.—President Loubet yesterday called at the French Hospital and the Home for French Governesses, and returned to St. James' Palace about 10 o'clock. He was everywhere greeted with great cordiality and cries of "Vive Loubet." A reception was accorded a deputation from the Diplomatic Corps, and shortly after noon the President, accompanied by Ambassador and Foreign Minister Delcasse, started in semi-state to visit the city. Shortly before 1 o'clock a visit was paid to the Guild Hall. After luncheon the Lord Mayor toasted the President, who, in reply, said: "The presence at my side of the Minister for Foreign Affairs of the republic, "is a pledge to you of the value which the whole French Government attaches to the development of these happy relations of friendship between our two countries."

President Loubet bestowed the decoration of Grand Officer of the Legion of Honor upon the Lord Mayor of London, Sir Marcus Samuel, Admiral Sir Lewis Beaumont, known in America as the former commander of the British Pacific Squadron, and Lord Avebury (formerly Sir John Lubbock.)

M. Loubet returned to St. James' Palace at about 3.30 p.m., and spent the rest of the afternoon in a round of visits to members of the royal family.

King Edward drove to the French Embassy at 7.30 o'clock last night to dine with President Loubet. A great crowd of people outside gave His Majesty an ovation. The King was met at the door of the Embassy by M. Loubet, Ambassador Cambon and the staff of the French Embassy. The guests included Premier Balfour, Colonial Secretary Chamberlain, Foreign Minister Lansdowne, Mr. Choate, United States Ambassador; Lord Rosebery, and the Duke of Devonshire.

A gala operatic performance was given at Convent Garden last night in honor of President Loubet. A salute and a roar of cheers announced the arrival of King Edward and President Loubet, who entered the royal box and stood bowing while the bands played the British and French national anthems.

Exchange of Courtesies.

Portsmouth, Eng., July 8. — The British fleet yesterday welcomed the United States European squadron to Britain's naval headquarters. The British ships formed two lines and down this lane of huge grey warships moved the Americans. As the American warships approached the jetty "attention" was sounded on the royal yacht Victoria and Albert, Nelson's flagship Victory and the other ships. The Mayor of Portsmouth cordially welcomed the Americans.

SICK TWO YEARS BUT WAS CURED

Dodd's Kidney Pills Credited With Another Victory Over Lumbago.

John Ball, a Quebec Bricklayer, Tells how his Troubles Vanished When he Tried the Great Canadian Kidney Remedy.

Quebec, July 5th, (Special.) — One more remarkable cure has been marked up to the credit of Dodd's Kidney Pills in this city. John Ball, bricklayer, of 57 Little Champlain street, is the man cured. Interviewed regarding the matter he said:

"I have been troubled with lumbago for two years and have not been able to do any work. I was also suffering from urinary troubles and had to get up at night so much that my rest was spoiled.

"I bought one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills and after using them began to see and feel a change. I have used three boxes and I am now cured."

Similar cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills are reported so frequently that it seems safe to say that Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure any form of Kidney Complaint or any disease caused by disordered kidneys.

MORE DROWNINGS.

George Thornton Took a Fit on the River Bank at Brantford.

Calgary, N.W.T., July 8.— Harrie Sharples, a patient at the Holy Cross Hospital, escaped yesterday morning, plunged in, and was drowned.

Brantford, July 8.—George Thornton, 47 years of age, who came here about six months ago from Woodstock, was drowned in the Grand River. The deceased was an enthusiastic angler, but was subject to fits. Yesterday afternoon he went fishing, and it is supposed that a fit came on as his body was lying partly on the bank, his head being under water.

Winnipeg, July 8.—A young English lad named Edward Priestly was drowned in a slough north of Indian Head.

Major Maude's Gruesome Find.

Ottawa, July 8.—The body of the 11-year-old daughter of John Cyr of Ironsides was found floating in the Gatineau River about half a mile above the C.P.R. bridge by Major Maude, who was with a party in a naptha launch.

Bow River Has Risen Five Feet—Part of Calgary Under Water.

Calgary, July 8.—A heavy rain extending from the coast started Monday, and still continues. The Bow River has risen five feet in the last twenty-four hours. It is still rising. The lower part of the city is under water. A hundred feet of the north end of Bow March bridge has gone out. A washout near Keith, thirty miles west of here, delayed the trains nine hours. The storm is abating, but with so much rain in the mountains there are grave fears of higher water.

A CHAPTER OF ACCIDENTS.

Stepped Off the Train.

Brighton, July 7.—John Hyderman, a laborer from Deseronto, about forty years of age, was killed on the Grand Trunk, about two miles and a half west of Trenton yesterday. Hyderman had a ticket from Deseronto to Trenton and came up on No. 3 westbound express. It is supposed he tried to get off the train after it had passed Trenton station. A passenger had his head out of the window and saw Hyderman on the steps in the act of stepping on the track. He fell under the car and had his skull crushed and left leg cut off at the ankle.

Engineer Killed.

Peterboro, July 7.—A fatal accident occurred on the Midland division of the Grand Trunk Railway on Sunday morning near Stirling, whereby Robert McAuliffe lost his life. McAuliffe was driving the leading engine on a double header of empty freights running between Belleville and Lindsay, when the crown plate of his engine was blown off and McAuliffe was so severely scalded that he died at 8 o'clock at St. Joseph's Hospital. He was 32 years of age, and leaves a widowed mother and two sisters, who reside in town. Herbert Porter, the fireman, was also badly scalded, and his recovery is doubtful. He lives at Millbrook.

Canadian Killed.

New York, July 7.—Duncan Currie, a carpenter employed on the Manhattan Elevated Railway, fell on the third rail yesterday and was electrocuted. It is believed he came from Canada, as his brother, Rev. Dr. James Currie, resides at Orillia, Ont.

Woman Dropped to Death.

New York, July 7.—Mrs. F. L. St. John of West End avenue, a prominent society woman and church worker, was killed yesterday by being thrown into the Rapid Transit subway, 40 feet deep, at Seventy-Seventh street and Broadway, by an electric car. She had just stepped from another car when struck.

Three Persons Killed.

Chicago, July 7.—Three persons were instantly killed and several fatally injured in an explosion last night, which wrecked a factory in South Chicago avenue, where caps for toy pistols are manufactured. The three persons killed were mangled so that only parts of their bodies were found. The explosion was caused by concussion.

THE FRENCH PRESIDENT.

Dined by the King at Dingy Buckingham Palace.

London, July 7.—President Loubet's first day in London closed with a state banquet at 8.30 p.m., at Buckingham Palace. It was the most brilliant function the dingy old pile had witnessed for a long time. The company included all the high officials of the kingdom. M. Loubet was seated next to the Queen, and the King and the Princess of Wales sat opposite them. A concert followed the banquet. The cabinet and royal family were among the guests at the banquet.

Proposing the health of President Loubet, King Edward expressed the pleasure that he and Queen Alexandra felt at welcoming the French President at Buckingham Palace. The King alluded to his recent visit to France and the pleasure he experienced at his friendly reception there.

President Loubet responded, thanking King Edward for his reception, and declaring the King's visit to France had done much toward a guarantee of peace for the whole world.

SURELY WAR NOW.

Japanese Are Mobilizing Their Forces in Far East.

London, July 7.—According to the Tien Tsin correspondent of The Standard the opinion prevails in Russian circles there that the outbreak of hostilities in the far east is inevitable. It is reported that the Japanese are mobilizing their forces.

Without Significance.

London, July 7.—Replying to a question in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon on the number of British, American and Japanese warships in the Gulf of Pe-Chi-Li and the object of the gathering of the Russian and other fleets there, Admiralty Secretary Arnold-Forster said there were twelve British ships in those waters; but the Admiralty was not aware that any special gathering of warships had occurred, or that any special object was aimed at by the powers responsible for the movements of the vessels in Chinese waters.

BEVITT DID NOT APPEAR.

Judge Hughes Investigates the Speculations of the Elgin Loan Co.

St. Thomas, July 7. — Judge Hughes held court this morning to further examine W. R. Bevitt in connection with Elgin Loan speculations. Mr. Bevitt did not appear and has been out of the city for a week. Some rumors are current regarding Bevitt and his connection with Rowley in stock speculations.

R. J. Housley, broker, who was also up for examination, is said to have put through their transactions. He declined to be interviewed, and as the examination is in private, definite information is hard to get.

Bevitt put through the deals, it is alleged, at the request of Rowley, who furnished the funds. Bevitt's continued absence from the city causes comment.

Rowley spends most of his time in jail reading his Bible and religious papers.

Irish Land Bill.

London, July 7.—The House of Commons yesterday reached the second part of the Irish Land Bill before adjourning. The House, in disposing of Part 1, got through sixty-four of the eighty-nine clauses in the bill, the committee stage of which will probably be wound up to-day.

To Photograph Documents.

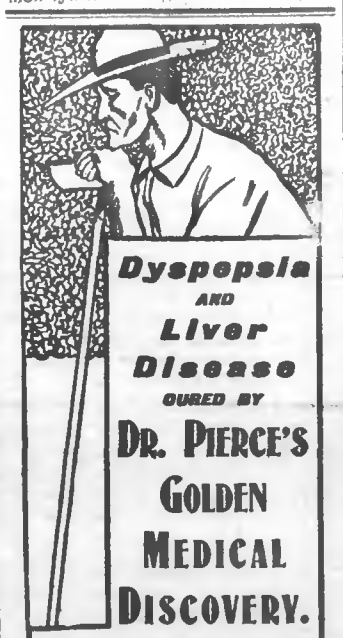
Ottawa, July 7.—Mr. Joseph Pope, Under Secretary of State, and Mr. Topley, photographer of the Interior Department, left yesterday for Washington. They have gone to photograph certain documents in connection with the Alaskan boundary case.

Given 14 Years.

Hamilton, July 7.—The magistrate sentenced yesterday Thomas Walls, who was convicted of an offence that good society taboos, to Kingston for 14 years.

Another Negro Lynched.

Lo isville, Ky., July 7.—A despatch from Evansville, Ind., says a mob lynched a negro late last night.



Dyspepsia AND Liver Disease CURED BY DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

"I was weak, nervous and dizzy, with a fainting sensation when walking," writes Jesse Childress, Esq., of Samuel, Sullivan Co., Tenn. "Could not walk any distance; always felt bad after eating; felt as though something was sticking in my throat, always uneasiness in stomach. Doctored with three physicians but they did not relieve me. I grew worse and used everything I could think of; was nearly ready to give up and then some one told me that Dr. Pierce's medicine was good, so I began taking his 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I have taken seven bottles of that now and am as stout as ever, and enjoying health as much as ever before. I worked all summer and this winter as much as any one. My case was liver disease and nervous dyspepsia of which your medicine has cured me. In September 1898 my weight was about 95 pounds, now it is 195. Please accept my sincere thanks."

THE COBRA AT HOME.

His Bite Results in the Most Pleasant, or Least Revolting Deaths That Brings the Grim Visitor to Man.

Death owing to an East India cobra bite is one of the most pleasant, or least revolting, forms in which the grim visitor comes to man. A victim feels no pain. He does not even experience anxiety. One by one his nerves are paralyzed. He does not feel this. He will not believe it even if told. He never felt better and more comfortable in all his life than he does at the moment the poison is steadily soothing him into eternity. In time he begins to feel drowsy. He wants to sleep. He lies down and the most restful of slumbers sits on his tired lids, and he closes them never to wake up, and to pass away as if the most expert surgeon had prepared his death with an anaesthetic.

Contrary to general belief, the cobra is slow to attack. Given warning—unless it be at breeding time, when there is a nest to defend—and a cobra will glide out of the way of trouble in most cases. The reptile seems no more anxious to cause trouble than she is to invite it for herself. A fact that bears this out is the proportionately small number of whites who are bitten by cobras. The reason is not that the white persons wear shoes that would offer much of a protection to the poison fangs of one of these snakes—a fang would penetrate leather as readily as it would bare skin, if the snake willed. But the shoes creak and they sound as the white man comes shuffling through the bush, and the snake has warning to dart away. Natives, however, wear no shoes. They walk noiselessly like broad-day spectres. A cobra has no warning of impending interference until suddenly it sees a dusky foot or ankle placed within striking distance. Then the snake strikes, holding fast to the bitten part for a half minute or more so as to give the poison a chance to circulate deep into the flesh and through the system.

If bitten by a cobra there is but one chance for you. Without regard to pain or mutilation, cut out the wound instantly and as broad and as deep as your pen-knife will penetrate.

In Bengal a story is told of a native wood chopper who saved himself by prompt action after being bitten by a cobra and then lost his life in a remarkable manner by trying to mend an amputated finger. The man was stooping to pick up his axe when a cobra bit him at the point of the thumb, burying the fangs almost clear through the member. Without a moment's hesitation the man laid his thumb against a tree and brought the axe down on it, severing it close to the hand. Then he ran to his bungalow to tie up the wound. An hour passed, and there was no sign of the poison having taken effect. As a rule, a bite means death within the hour. The chopper began to feel sorry for having sacrificed his thumb. He went back to the place where the thing lay, placed it against the bleeding wound, and, by tying it fast, hoped to have it grow together again. But the poison in the piece severed entered his blood, and within an hour he lay stretched in death.

Another instance showing the deadliness of the cobra poison and the incredible swiftness with which it penetrates the system is likewise told in Bengal. A native woman who was nursing a baby was bitten in the ankle. Weeping and wailing, the mother held her little one close, and in less than two hours both mother and child were dead.

Even in a dried state, cobra poison is unfailingly deadly. Native doctors use it to administer in infinitesimally small portions as a stimulant, and they have a cruel method for extracting it. The cobra is placed in an earthen pot and a banana is dropped into the vessel after it. Then the pot is sealed and placed on a slow fire. As the heat increases the snake becomes more and more uncomfortable until it becomes maddened by pain and in a frenzy of agony buries its teeth again and again in the banana, which is afterward taken from the vessel and dried and pulverized.

This same preparation is used by the native leather workers, who poison cattle in order to buy the skins cheaply. No trace of the poison may be ascertained in the dead cows and bulls, even chemically, and it is impossible to prove that the animals have not died of a cattle disease.

The snake popularly known as the king cobra is known in India as the hamadryas. It is the largest of all poisonous snakes of that country. Owing to its size—it frequently attains a length of ten or fourteen feet—the quantity of poison it injects is considerably more than if an ordinary cobra of the smaller species were to strike. Yet even this dangerous monster has been known not to strike when occasion offered and to retreat rather than to seek trouble. A remarkable illustration of this happened to a Government official who lived in the outskirts of Calcutta and caught what he thought was a huge, harmless rock snake. For three weeks he had the strange pet in his bungalow, fed it on milk, pulled it by the tail, and handled it as he saw fit until a forest officer upon visiting promptly recognized the most dangerous of all snakes, the king cobra.

A Relative of Both.

The Irish rebuke is seldom bitter or priggish, but it generally finds its mark, and one which The London Star records is not an exception.

A snobbish young Englishman, accompanied by a small dog, recently got into a street-car and sat down opposite an Irishman. The latter was immediately attracted by the animal, and after some advances, which were haughtily received by the master, asked outright what kind of a dog it was.

"It is a cross between an ape and an Irishman," was the loud-voiced reply.

"Faith, thin, we're both related to th' baste," retorted the Irishman, cheerfully.

Had Quick Consumption.

"Three doctors said that I had quick consumption. Angier's Petroleum Emulsion was prescribed. In six months I had gained fifty-nine pounds in weight, and had no more night sweats or hemorrhages. Am now in perfect health." B. H. Walton, Medford, Mass. 9a

Cheese Souffle.

Cheese souffle is a delicious luncheon dish. Cook together for five minutes two tablespoonfuls of butter and two tablespoonfuls of flour. Stir them into a cupful of sweet milk; season with salt and paprika until the sauce thickens. Remove the dish from the fire and add five tablespoonfuls of grated cheese. When the mixture is cool incorporate the well beaten yolks of four eggs and then fold in the stiffly beaten whites. Butter some ramekins, fill them two-thirds full, sprinkle the tops with buttered bread crumbs and bake in a moderate oven until they are light and brown.

Before cleaning out a fireplace sprinkle a good handful of tea leaves among the ashes. This makes the ashes lift easier and prevents the dust from flying about the room.

The following despatches have been received by E. M. Poussett & Co.:—

New York, July 8th, 9.45 a. m. — We still see nothing in the market to warrant a revival of activity or anything like a resumption of bullish speculation until the crop outlook is more assuring. There is also talk of a possible gold shipment on Thursday, which will keep buying in check. We expect to see a dull narrow market until after government report is out.

Grain.—Liverpool opening wheat 3-8 higher; corn, 3-8 higher.

M. & M.

Messrs. McMillan & Maguire, stock brokers, Hunter street, have received the following:—

Toronto, July 8, 12.30 p.m.—The selling of U.S.S. yesterday was accompanied by the statement that earnings would show a marked decrease. The showing made by the company was really favourable. The heavy selling at the close was evidently of long stock and though the market opened up the selling was continued this morning. The engagements of gold to-day for shipments were disregarded. Weakness of Rope and Twine issues foreshadows trouble in the finance of the company. The feeling as regards the rails is a little more hopeful on account of earnings, and the strength of the rails until upset by U.S.S. shows that without sympathetic weakness prices should harden. The street is waiting for the crop report. There is so much trouble with the industrial corporation that we advise the sale of stocks on all rallies.

THE RAILWAY BILL.

Fight at Ottawa for Control of Town and City Streets.

HON. MR. BLAIR'S AMENDMENT

Withdrawn When Its Effect Was Pointed Out and Another Substituted—Mr. Blair on Toronto—Toronto & Hamilton Bill and Other Cases in Point—Sir William Mulock on Rural Mail Delivery.

Ottawa, July 8.—The House of Commons devoted the greater part of yesterday to the consideration of the question of municipal rights in connection with the operation of electric railways.

After spending some time in concurrence upon the estimates that have been passed, the House again went into committee upon Mr. Blair's railway commission bill. The Minister of Railways offered an amendment to section 184, which deals with highway crossings, exempting from the restrictions imposed by the clause companies which are already in existence. This gave rise to an animated debate, in which Mr. E. F. Clarke and other members of the Opposition protested against the Minister's proposal as prejudicial to the interests of the municipalities, inasmuch as it deprived them of the right of control of their streets.

Mr. Blair withdrew his amendment and substituting another, which protected railway companies in the rights already conferred by special act, giving as a reason for the position he assumed the experience of the Montreal Terminal Railway Company. Incidentally Mr. Blair protested his inability to see things as Toronto saw them, and made some ironical references to the claims advanced by Mr. Clarke on behalf of the city of Toronto.

Mr. Arch. Campbell in this connection intimated that the municipalities surrounding Toronto had agreed upon an amendment to the Toronto & Hamilton Railway Company's bill, which will be moved this evening when the bill comes up for consideration.

In Committee of Supply Sir Wm. Mulock announced that the statements published regarding the satisfactory results of the rural mail delivery experiments in the United States were not regarded as reliable, and that he was not prepared to accept them as a satisfactory basis upon which to commit himself to the experiment in Canada. At the same time, he was in sympathy with the proposal and would be delighted to have the honor of inaugurating it during his term of office as Postmaster-General.

MINISTERIALISTS IN CAUCUS.

No Announcement as to the Government's Railway Policy.

Ottawa, July 8.—The question of assistance to the iron and steel industry monopolized attention at the Ministerial caucus yesterday morning, and the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway project consequently went over until Thursday, when another meeting will be held. The postponement of the Ministerial announcement on the latter question robbed the caucus of a good deal of interest. The Prime Minister was at the meeting and received an ovation from his enthusiastic followers. He only stayed sufficiently long, however, to state that there would be no railway policy announced that day, but a number of other matters would be brought forward. Then he left to fulfill another engagement. It devolved upon Messrs. Fielding and Paterson to ascertain the sentiment of the gathering with respect to helping the iron and steel industry. From what these gentlemen said it is not apparently proposed to impose duties, but if the Canadian iron masters are prepared to go into the manufacture of steel bars and billets and large-sized steel plates, which at present are not manufactured in Canada, bounties may be granted.

Chignecto Marine Railway.

Mr. Fielding brought up the proposition to repay the bondholders in the Chignecto Marine Transport Railway company the sum of $500,000 in consideration of the money which they have sunk in the enterprise. The bondholders claim to have invested $4,000,000 which will be a total loss unless the Government come to their relief. According to Mr. Fielding, the Government have made no promise to the bondholders, but the latter have signified that they would be willing to accept $500,000. Several members denounced the proposition, and the likelihood is that it will be laid over and no action taken.

Independent Cable Service.

Mr. Fielding told the caucus that the Government were prepared to contribute $15,000 towards an independent news cable service from England, providing the promoters will put up an equal amount. He also informed the Government's supporters, what they already knew through the public prints, that it had been decided to grant a bounty of $15 a ton on lead smelted in Canada from native ore.

The Railway Policy.

There was some disappointment over the fact that the railway policy was not made known, but there is reason to believe that it will be announced in its entirety to-morrow. To all appearances the Government and the Grand Trunk have reached an understanding on all points. A quiet but persistent lobby is being instituted among the Government's followers to have the project laid over until the next session, or at least that part providing for the construction of a line from Winnipeg to Moncton, on the ground that the information concerning the country to be traversed is vague and indefinite. This agitation can be traced to a railway antagonistic to the Grand Trunk Company, and if the idea were to be allowed to prevail the effect might be to kill the entire scheme.

The Municipalities Aroused.

Ottawa, July 8.—A conference was held last night by Mayor Urquhart, Toronto; Mayor Cook, ex-Mayor Lighthall, Westmount, and ex-Mayor Morris, on the question of corporate assault upon municipal rights. In view of the aggression of the Toronto Street Railway and other companies the conference discussed the advisability of calling a meeting of representatives of all the Canadian municipalities at Ottawa to take steps to meet the issue.

BUSINESS MEN OPPOSE FREE POSTAL DELIVERY

Proposal Unanimously Condemned by Resolution.

Merchants Argue That it Would add to the Burdens of Business Without Compensating Advantages—Demand for Improved Post Office Accomodation and Service.

At the meeting held in the Y.M.C.A. parlours last night, the Retail Merchants' Association dropped its distinctive character—it went wholesale into the denunciation of the proposed innovation in the delivery of letters. There was a free delivery of opinion against free delivery of postal matter. There was present at the meeting, Mr. Robert Fair, president of the Retail Merchants' Association, who occupied the chair, Mr. J. H. Connal, secretary, and Messrs. R. A. Dutton, A. W. Cressman, W. H. Hill, Adam Hall, W. G. Ferguson, (Kingan Hardware Company); Robt. McWhinnie, Geo. A. White, (White & Gillespie); John Green, D. Davidson, (Ormond & Walsh); J. S. Knapman, R. G. Kingan, (Kingan Hardware Company,) C. W. Helliwell and G. E. Whiten.

Free discussion was invited, but what followed can hardly be called discussion; it was an unanimous denunciation of free postal delivery.

Mr. R. A. Dutton spoke of Barrie having had for eight or ten years free postal delivery, but the twice a day delivery was not of any advantage to business men, who still kept their boxes, though there was not the objectionable features of the proposed free delivery in Peterborough—two cents for drop letters. In Barrie the rate on a drop letter was one cent.

Mr. J. H. Connal inquired if free delivery in Peterborough necessarily meant a two cent stamp on a drop letter, and he was informed by the chairman, that according to Alderman Morrison the rate would be two cents in case of free postal delivery. Mr. Fair added that the Government was undertaking in the interests of maintenance of revenue to prevent the delivery by private parties of letters.

Mr. Adam Hall said that the town was too small for a free postal delivery, which, in his case, would mean an addition of at least $100 to his postage account, if the two cent rate for drop letters came into force. He did not see that free delivery was needed and he would oppose it in every sense.

Mr. W. H. Hill said that no one would deny that the present post office and its accommodations and service was not in keeping with the importance of the town. It had been built to serve the needs of a population of between 7,000 and 10,000. It now served about 20,000 persons—about 14,000 in Peterborough and Ashburnham and 6,000 or 7,000 from the surrounding country. In Belleville with a smaller population than ours the post office had two wickets for the delivery of mail matter. Speaking of the commercial importance of Peterborough, Mr. Hill said that the customs returns for this town were equal to half a dozen other towns in this vicinity. The revenue of the Peterboro post office is nearly $22,000, the expenditure was about 6,000. So that the Government could very well afford to give us improved postal facilities, and the improved service should not be made at the expense of those who pay the largest share of the taxes of the town, and who under free delivery at 2 cents a letter would be additionburdened without any compensating advantages. At present business men get their letters at 8 o'clock and have their correspondence dealt with and their reply letters ready to send off by the next mail, whereas under free postal delivery they would not get their letters till 10 o'clock, and two late for posting by the mid-day mail. The great objection to free delivery would be the double postage rate on local letters. He thought this class of men—the business class—who pay the largest share of postage and would be most seriously affected, should be first consulted. He thought that it was in the interests of the business men to have the people come to the centre of the town for their mail matter. The people do not object to coming to the market and the same way with coming to the post office. Only a strong demand for free delivery would in any way justify it. He (Mr. Hill) had found a great many opposed to it. The Government should be asked to put the present post office in good shape. He did not see where the benefit would come in from the proposed change.

Mr. Ferguson—Who is bringing it about?

Mr. Fair—Alderman Morrison was, he believed, the promoter and Mr. Fair went on to say that those in favour of it were those who would not be prejudicially affected by it. The business men of the town paid four-fifths of the post office revenue now and the additional burden would fall upon them.

Mr. Hill pointed out that free delivery would not benefit the 6,000 or 7,000 persons from the country now served by our post office. People strongly objected to an increase of a mill upon their tax rate, but the addition to business men of a two cent rate would mean not mills on the dollar, but cents on the dollar.

Mr. Adam Hall pointed out that business men now got their letters at 8 o'clock, and they could be answered for the next mail. He also asserted that Peterborough had the poorest mail service in Canada, only one mail out a day. The post office was a disgrace to the town. There was only one wicket, only one entrance door, and the stamp stall, where a young lady was cooped up, was little better in size than a dog kennel. Money would be better spent in improving the post office quarters and strengthening the staff than in taxing merchants for free postal delivery which with the present post office accommodations would have added all the disadvantages of the present inefficient service. He submitted the following RESOLUTION.

Moved by Adam Hall, seconded by W. G. Ferguson, and resolved:

"That having heard the views of the members of the Retail Merchants' Association, and of other business men of the town of Peterborough, it is the opinion of this meeting that a free postal delivery service would at present be detrimental to the business interests of the town for the following reasons:

"1. That it is unbearable to assume additional responsibilities and burdens at a cost of doubling the postage on local or drop letters to citizens and business men principally.

"2. That nearly three-fourths of the drop letters received at our post office come from merchants, professional and business men within three blocks of the post office, and that, therefore, they would be chiefly discriminated against by having to bear nearly the whole expenditure for free postal delivery.

"4. That the population of the town of Peterborough has not reached that point where a free postal delivery would be justified, and that at present the individual tax would be greater in most cases than any compensatory benefit that could possibly accrue."

Mr. Cressman, in speaking to the resolution, agreed with what had been said. Even with free delivery business men would have the present motion agreed with what had been said. Even with free postal delivery business men would have the present expense. They would have to keep their boxes, and all the advantages it would be to them would be in paying an extra tax for no benefits received.

Mr. Helliwell mentioned that business men benefitted by having the people come to the centre of the town, to the post office, and that business was improved, and the people themselves benefitted.

Mr. Green agreed that free postal delivery would not benefit business men in the centre of the town.

Mr. R. G. Kingan opposed free delivery as an additional tax upon business without any corresponding benefits. They would have to go to the post office anyway. The people on the outskirts were not, as a rule, too busy to go to the post office. What was wanted was an improved post office and improved service.

The motion was carried unanimously.

ANOTHER RESOLUTION.

Moved by Mr. A. W. Cressman, seconded by Mr. R. G. Kingan:

"That a copy of the foregoing resolution be forwarded to the town council. That inasmuch as the rapid growth of the town of Peterborough calls for a prompt augmentation of the postal service, which has become inadequate for the public needs, this association through the Town Council memorialize the Dominion Government urging upon the Postmaster General the necessity for increasing the accommodation and improving the wicket service of our post office with as little delay as possible."

This motion was also unanimously passed and a further reference to it will be found in the report of the council meeting in another column.

The chairman, in bringing the meeting to a close, said the extreme heat had prevented a much larger attendance, for he knew there was great opposition to the proposal of free postal delivery.

POPE'S CONDITION HAS IMPROVED.

Encouraging News From Rome Speak of Hope for Recovery.

Able to be Shaved and Feeling in Rome is Much Relieved.

London, July 9. — A special despatch from Rome says a surprising rally has occurred in the Pope's condition, and his doctors say there is hope of his recovery.

Rome, July 9. — The Pope was sufficiently well this morning to be shaved. His functional disorders have passed, and a consultation with other physicians is now considered to be unnecessary.

A bulletin issued at 10.10 this morning says: "The night was tranquil and the patient rested well. The pneumonia follows the ordinary course in that part of the lung not covered by the little liquid still existing in the pleura. The general condition remains pretty good."

Rome, July 9th, 5 p.m.—The Pope was suddenly attacked this afternoon by diarrhoea, apparently caused by the large quantity of food which he had taken. Dr. Rossoni has just arrived at the sick room in consequence of the sudden change for the worse in condition of the Pope. A consultation will be held immediately.

BRIDE OF A WEEK.

Sudden Death of a Brockville Young Lady.

A despatch from Brockville says:—On Wednesday last Misses Gertrude and Edith Knowlton, daughters of Mr. F. A. Knowlton, were married, the forner to W. T. Jenks, a prominent business man of Salem, Oregon, and the latter to Dr. W. F. Phillips of Boston. The newly married couples went for a short trip among the Thousand Islands, and on Saturday evening returned and took possession of a summer residence on Rideau Lake, near Portland, where they proposed spending a couple of weeks before returning to their homes. On Sunday morning Mrs. Jenks was taken with an attack of malignant diphtheria, from which she died forty-eight hours later. The remains were interred in the family burying ground at Phillipsville. Deceased, who was about thirty years of age, was a remarkably bright and amiable lady.—Globe.

—An account of the attack on Armour's hill made by the 57th Regiment last evening, being crowded out of to-day's issue, will appear to-morrow.

AN OAK LAKE WEDDING.

Miss Sara McCutcheon and Mr. John Buchanan,

The residence of Mr. Robert McCutcheon, Oake Lake, Methuen township, was on June 24th the scene of a happy event, when his eldest daughter, Miss Sarah, was united in marriage to Mr. John Buchanan, of Belmont, Rev. Mr. Camp performing the interesting ceremony at the father's residence at five o'clock p.m. There was a large number of guests present, including several from Toronto, Peterborough, and Campbellford. The bride was charmingly gowned in cream lustre, trimmed with applique, and she carried a beautiful bouquet of roses. The bridesmaid was Miss Louise Telford, of Peterborough, who was nicely attired in white organdie, trimmed with insertion, Valenciennes lace and cream satin ribbon, and she also carried a bouquet of roses. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Wm. Buchanan. The ceremony was performed under an arch of palms and roses. The presents were both costly and numerous, showing the high esteem in which the young couple is held by their many friends. After the nuptial knot was tied a sumptuous repast was served in the dining room. Mr. and Mrs Buchanan left on Monday for Toronto and other western points and on their return will take up their residence in Toronto Junction.

BIG FIRE AT HARWOOD.

Harwood was visited on Sunday morning about nine o'clock with another fire, and the village now presents a sorry appearance. The following are the losers:

The fire originated in the stable of Mr. H. Lean, Butcher, and the cause is unknown. The stables and barns were totally consumed. Loss about $500; no insurance.

Mr. George Farr's barns and stables, near by, were also consumed, with their contents. There was a small insurance.

Mr. Ambrose Keene, stage driver, lost his stable and barn, with a quantity of hay. Loss about $500; insurance, $100.

Mr. William Maitland, baker, lost his barn and stables. No insurance.

There was a strong wind blowing from the south at the time. Mr. W. J. Edmison, had a hard time saving his stores nd premises, and the burning shingles were blown up over the hill to the Lakeview House, the roof of which was set on fire several times but was promptly extinguished. It is stated that the conflagration would have been more disastrous if it had not been for the brigade of willing workers that arrived on the ground and by the help of buckets exterminated the flames. — Campbellford Herald.

The Mayor said he understood there were some gentlemen present who wished to address the council on the question of the grand stand on the Murray street grounds, and said they would be permitted to present their views.

Rev. Father O'Brien said that more should be considered than simply the fact that the building was a violation of the bylaw. He mentioned that he represented 1800 total abstainers in the town of Peterborough, who had in good faith erected a grand stand in the interests of true and legitimate sport. He stated that exceptions had been made in other portions of the town, and in view of this fact he thought that the stand should be allowed to remain. The sole aim of the society was to provide a means whereby the young men of the town might be allowed to enjoy themselves without having to go to some isolated part of the town. The doctor said that in other cities exceptions had been made and in Detroit a large wooden grand stand had been allowed to be erected and no danger had been anticipated or experienced from fire. He was quite satisfied that public opinion would support the request of the T.A.S.

Mr. M. J. O'Brien also spoke briefly along the lines taken by the preceding speaker.

Mr. Dennistoun appeared on behalf of residents on the north side of McDonel street, and said that his clients contended that there was a great danger of fire from the presence of so much inflamable material as was used in the construction of the grand stand in question. He admitted that exceptions had been made to the bylaw in some part of the town, but said that in these cases no building had been allowed where a request by residents in the vicinity had been made that the buildings proposed should not be erected. He also contended that by reason of the unsightly nature, of the building in question, the value of property on McDonel street would, and in fact, had, been lowered. He said that while all admitted that the T.A.S. was doing a splendid work, the kindly feeling which is felt for the society, should not be allowed to influence the council to act against the spirit or letter of the bylaw.

Dr. O'Brien replied to Mr. Dennistoun, saying that he felt satisfied that the property had not decreased in value and that the overwhelming majority of residents in town who were in favour of allowing the building to stand should have some considerable weight with the Council.

Mayor Roger said he presumed the intention of the Fire bylaw was not to restrict the building of any structure, but to guard against any danger by fire. Exceptions had been made in the case of residents on Bethune street, and if the Council felt satisfied that the erection of this grand stand would not to an appreciable extent add to the danger of the surrounding structures, it would seem reasonable to suppose that the Council should favourably consider the request that the building be allowed.

Ald. O'Connell in speaking to the matter said that if the Council found that the erection of this building would not be conducive to a spread of fire, he thought that it would be ill-advised to restrict the building. He thought the contention that the unsightliness of the structure would depreciate the value of the property opposite should have little weight with the council, as the property owners in question had no right to say that a structure should not be erected. He, too, referred to the splendid work being done by the T. A.S., and thought that they should be encouraged, particularly when it would be but a slight concession on the part of the council. He also said that a deputation from the T. A.S. had waited upon the Committee of the Whole before having started work on the stand and had received every encouragement from the members of the Council to proceed with the erection.

Ald. Morrison said that the whole trouble seemed to be that the building was unsightly, and thought the point made by Ald. O'Connell was well taken, and he felt that it would be ill-advised to block the building of the structure.

This closed the discussion and Ald. Batten moved, seconded by Ald. Morrison, that the matter be referred to the Legal Committee. — This was carried.

Ald. Rush presented the following report of the Finance Committee, which was, on motion, adopted :—

All of which is respectfully submitted.

PROPERTY COMMITTEE.

Ald. Batten then presented the following report of the Property, Building and Health Committee, which was on motion referred to the Committee of the Whole, with power to act.

For some time the accommodation in the town buildings has been insufficient ,and difficulty has been found in carrying on the increasing business of the town. One of the most pressing difficulties has been the want of a room for committee meetings, in which the committees could discuss business when necessary without interruption, and with some degree of privacy, and the office room allowed some of the officers has become altogether inadequate for the amount of business that has to be transacted. The vault is also altogether too small and it has been found necessary to rent a vault to hold some of the books and records of the town. Yet we do not think the time has come when the town should incur the very heavy expense of erecting new civic buildings. We therefore recommend :—1. That the office at present occupied by the collector of taxes and the room occupied by Mr. James English be taken for an office for the Treasurer. 2. That a vault be built in the rear of this office. 3. That the Town Clerk's office be divided into two portions to provide for a committee room. 4. That arrangements be made with the Town Trust Commissioners for the south store in the market block for offices for the collection of taxes, the Town Engineer and the Street Commissioner. 5. That the Chief of Police be given the office vacated by the Town Engineer and that Mr. English occupy the room vacated by the Chief of Police. We also recommend that this committee be authorized to have this work done and the alterations carried out.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

FIRE, LIGHT AND WATER COMMITTEE.

Ald. O'Connell presented the report of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, which was on motion adopted :—

Your Fire, Water and Light Committee begs leave to report and recommend that an offer from the Peterborough Light and Power Company, to supply light in the Victoria Park provided the town paid for the wiring, be accepted and that arc lights be placed in the Park.

And also that the request of the firemen for two weeks vacation be granted.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

BOARD OF WORKS.

The following report of the Board of Works was presented by Ald. Best, and on motion adopted.

Your Board of Works begs leave to report and recommend that the applications of the Otonabee Power Company of June 1st and June 8th, 1903, for permission to place poles and string wires on certain streets be granted, the poles to be placed subject to the approval of the Town Engineer.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JOINT COMMITTEE.

Ald Morrison presented the following report of the Joint Committee, which was on motion adopted :—

Your Joint Committee begs leave to report and recommend that the Chairman of this committee be empowered to act in conjunction with the representatives of the County in the matter of repairing the locks bridge as recommended by the Town Engineer.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Ald. Best presented a resolution authorizing the Mayor and Clerk to execute a deed conveying to the Wm. Hamilton Company a portion of Downie street on which the above Company propose to erect a brick building. A bylaw was passed in 1899, conveying to the Company this property on the deed being executed by the Mayor and Clerk on motion of the council.—The resolution was adopted.

BY-LAWS.

Ald. Best introduced a bylaw to appoint Mr. W. J. Green tax collector at $700 a year, and defining his duties. After receiving its several readings it was passed.

The matter of allowing the Beet Sugar Company to place a railway spur to their works across Lansdowne street, was referred to the Committee of the Whole to deal with.

Ald. Morrison is speaking to his notice of motion, made at a former meeting, respecting the proposed postal delivery, said that there had developed a considerable opposition to it on the part of different organizations in town, and as he considered it ill-advised to go as a divided house to the Government to ask for an improved postal service, he proposed to withdraw his notice of motion and in its stead moved that this matter be referred to the Committee of the Whole. This motion was carried, after which the Council adjourned.

CATHOLIC MUTUAL BENEFIT ASSOCIATION.

A Very Successful Meeting Held Last Evening in the Opera House.

Hon. F. R. Latchford and Hon. M. F. Hackett, Prominent in the List of Grand Officers, Speak of the Benefits.

That the C.M.B.A. is a Society which ranks high in the class of faternal societies represented by it was amply verified by the statements made last night in the Opera House by the galaxy of eloquent speakers who exploited upon the superior advantages of the C.M.B.A. The Grand Officers returned after having spent a most enjoyable day upon the waters of our Northern Lakes, and the influence of the day had evidently been most pleasing, as every speaker referred in glowing terms to the beauties he had witnessed, and that the form of entertainment decided upon by the local Branch was appreciated was manifest by the very complimentary references which were to the hospitible manner in which the visitors had been received.

The C.M.B.A. is a fraternal Insurance Society and it has certainly good grounds for the claim which is made for it that it is one of the very best managed fraternal societies in existence. As its name indicates, its membership is confined to adherents to the Catholic church, and this fact would appear to be one of the strongest reasons why the benefits it confers, should be participated in by a larger number of members of that great church.

At present there are about 18,000 members and the number is rapidly becoming larger, 2,000 of an increase is the mark aimed at for this year, and if the enthusiasm displayed by the Grand Officers can be communicated to the individual members, there is no doubt it will be reached. The Grand Officers number among them some of the very best organizers and executive minds in the country, prominent among them being, Hon. F. R. Latchford, Minister of Public Works, in the Ontario Cabinet, and Hon. M. F. Hackett, formerly a member of the Quebec Cabinet, who occupies the position of Grand President.

The Order has been in existence about 25 years and is now paying out $250,000.00 yearly in benefits to the families of deceased members. Who can say that this is not a grand work? A reserve fund of $150,000.00 stands back of every promise made by the society, so that in this respect also it occupies an enviable position. The president of the local Branch, Ald. John Corkery, occupied the chair at the meeting last night, and pleasingly introduced the different speakers. He expressed the pleasure which the members of the Order here experienced in being honoured by a visit from their respected leaders, and was satisfied that it would result in a largely increased membership in Branch 30.

Hon. F. R. Latchford was the first speaker and commenced an eloquent speech of great material benefit to all who wish to take an active part in this society's excellent work, by referring to the pleasure it gave him to be present on the platform in such a cause. He said that the C.M.B.A. was an excellent society and well worthy of the support of all. It was not, he said, a secret society—its doings were open, and its chief aims were to endeavour to cultivate a fraterani spirit among the members of the Catholic church, and also to help the widows and orphans, which was an aim peculiar to fraternal societies. He urged that all those present to do their utmost to make the association a success. He spoke of the insurance benefit as being a very good object, and thought that every young man with matrimonial intentions should get his life insured. The speaker spoke at considerable length on the absolute necessity of getting more members, for it was on them, to a great extent, that the association depended. He pointed out very clearly how practically every man could induce at least one man to join, and in conclusion said he hoped to have again the privilege of addressing the members and friends of the Peterborough Branch of the fraternal association, in which cause he had spoken.

The next speaker called upon was the Grand Trustee, Mr. Geo. McInerney, K.C., of St. John's N.B., who commenced by stating that this was his first tour in the interests of the association, of which he had only recently been appointed an officer. He referred to the trip up the lakes which had been tendered in the morning, as one which had afforded him great pleasure. He said that in his own province the C.M.B.A. was doing a vast amount of beneficial work, and was doing much in relieving those in distress, more especially the widows and orphans. He said that although the association was bound by creed it included persons of all nationalities and stated that as it was beneficial to the Catholics, by them it should be supported with vigor, in order that its life might be a long one. He repeated Hon. Mr. Latchford's remarks about hoping to again have the pleasure of speaking in Peterborough.

The third speaker was Dr. E. Ryan of Kingston, the Grand Medical Examiner. He referred to the character of the Association, branches of which have been established throughout the entire Dominion. He said that at the present time there were enrolled some 18,000 members and that these were mostly of the artizan class. He stated that it was his firm belief that the association, which had only been in existence for a quarter of a century, was doing excellent work, and was one which should be taken up more than it had been in the past. He felt that the days of struggling had passed and that from now on the association would be in a very flourishing condition. In conclusion he remarked that the new Board of Directors was one worthy of support, and hoped an effort would be made in Peterborough to further the cause of the association.

Mr. J. J. Behan, the Grand Trustee, was the next person called upon to speak, and commenced by expressing the great pleasure it gave him to be present. He dwelt on the benefits of the association and referred particularly to the financial advantages of families of deceased members. He stated that the business of the association was conducted on a fair basis and remarked that not a single claim had been contested in Court, although on the average about a quarter of a million dollars was paid out yearly to relieve those distressed. He pointed out the absolute necessity of the members taking an active interest in the association's work, and not leaving it all on the hands of the Executive Committee and said he hoped to see an increase in membership by the end of the year of at least 2,000 persons, which wish could be perhaps finally realized by the help of all the branches of the society. He stated that the reserve fund of the Association was $150,000, all of which was perfectly safely deposited in banks, and could be used in case of need.

The next thought the speaker brought before his audience was the responsibility of every young man to provide for his parents, who had raised him from childhood, in case of his death. In conclusion he urged the ladies present to do all in their power to induce male believers in the Catholic Faith to join the Association.

The Assistant Grand Secretary, Mr. J. E. Howson, gave a very brief speech, pointing out the necessity of every man to insure his life, and concluded by giving some reasons for such insurance and encouragement to do so.

The last speaker was Hon. M. F. Hackett, K.C., Grand President, of Standstead, Que., who delivered an exceptionally eloquent address pointing out the chief aims of the C.M.B.A., which he stated as being fraternity and charity. He dwelt on the efficiency of the Executive and urged the members to resolve to obtain another member each. The speaker joined with Mr. J. J. Behan in pointing out the influence of ladies over men and urged that the Peterborough ladies exert themselves in forwarding the work of the Association. In conclusion he remarked on the excellent treatment the visitors had received during their visit and said that they would always look back on it as being one of extreme pleasure and satisfaction.

A vote of thanks was tendered the speakers for their eloquent and interesting addresses. It was moved by Rev. Father McColl and seconded by Mr. M. O'Brien.

In Earnest.

The earnestness of Miss Delaney's intention of sacrificing every hat in the store, every bit of millinery and trimmings, the gloves, veiling, neckware, etc., is inducing ladies to shop here for their summer needs. They know that promises are fulfilled to the letter here. And another reason is, that unusual reductions are being made to clear the stock before the workmen begin their improvements in the store this month. Miss Delaney. 2d1w

INQUEST ON CAUSE OF R. McAULIFFE'S DEATH.

Evidence of Many Witnesses Taken Last Night.

Adjourned Without Reaching Verdict—Evidence of Fireman Porter Required.

The inquest to enquire into the cause of the death of Robt. McAuliffe was held in the Police Court last night, conducted by Coroner Gray. A verdict was not rendered, however, as it was thought advisable to have the evidence of Herb. Porter, the injured fireman, who is at present in St. Joseph's Hospital. Consequently after considerable evidence had been taken, an adjournment was made to July 16th, by which time, it is thought, that Porter will have sufficiently recovered to give his evidence. Mr. Pope, of Belleville, chief clerk in the General Counsel's office of the Grand Trunk, was present, representing the Company, and stated that they were anxious to place every facility in the way of the jury to arrive at a correct conclusion. If necessary they would bring the disabled engine here from Lindsay so that the members of the jury might inspect it themselves. He appeared to be most reasonable in his statements.

Evidence was submitted as follows:—

Harry Reeves, sworn, testified—I am an engineer, running a freight from Belleville, Midland, Port Hope, Coboconk, Haliburton, etc. I have no set run. It was my fourth trip on the day of accident. The train consisted of empty boxes, drawn by 168 and 474. I had charge of No. 474. I do not know the age of those engines. We were running from 4 to 6 miles an hour about two miles from a depot. We were nearing Madoc Junction. My first intimation of the accident was hearing a puff like the explosion of loose powder. I thought the tube had blown out or that the crown sheet fallen. I got no answer when I called at the first engine. I found engineer McAuliffe, about 4 car lengths distant, staggering around. It was between 2.15 and 2.30 a.m. I do not know how he got off the train. Deceased said the last he saw of the fireman was on the engine. I found the fireman on his knees, conscious, about 10 car lengths behind my engine. I did not see the effect of the explosion then. I suppose the fire was out then. The water must have put out the fires.

As far as I knew the engine ahead was working properly. The front engine gave required signals along the line. I was fireman before I was driver. By the sound one can tell whether an engine works properly. I could not tell whether the front engine was working properly, on account of the noise of my own.

I do not know the cause of the accident. The crown plate parted from the boiler. The fire strikes directly on the crown plate. As soon as I saw the train was not slackening, I put the brakes at emergence to stop the train. We were just coming to a curve where the train binds hard. The deceased's clothes were soaking wet when I found him. There was a great deal of coal dust lying around the cab of the engine; the fire box was open, the crown sheet was bulged down, and the bolts were out of the crown sheet. I saw no water around there at the time. My opinion is that low water caused the accident. I don't think it could be caused otherwise. If the water was low, the engineer would be to blame. As to whether the engine was properly constructed, I cannot say. Even in an old engine, the boiler might be in good condition. I do not know whether the accident was caused by scales forming. I could not say whether there were scales on the crown sheet. I saw no holes in the crown sheet except where the bolts had drawn out. If the water had been low over the crown plate, the remaining water would have been forced through the opening by the escaping steam. The front engine took water at Belleville. I did not notice whether the injector was working. We had to go to the seventh district yard, and after some manoeuvres start on our run. The water taken at Belleville is sufficient to run to Hoard's station, west of Stirling. It was about 13 miles from where the accident occurred to the next watering place, and 13 miles from Belleville. We had made about half the run between the watering stations.

S. Bopery, sworn, testified—I am conductor, and had charge of the train. It was an extra. We were going from 4 to 6 miles an hour, the usual speed for a train loaded as we were, and considering the grade. My first intimation was when the brakesman told me of it. One brakesman and I were in the caboose when the accident occurred. I could not tell from my position what had caused the stoppage. One could not tell anything about it so far from the engines, about 41 car lengths. After the accident the engine was detached from the train and took the line to Stirling, in one car, which was cut off. It was a heavy train, but not an unusually long train. We could not see the engines from the caboose. I have been 20 years on the line. I have no idea how old the engine was. One engine could not draw the train, and to attempt to draw it with one engine would result in failure. Just previous to the accident the engines had been working hard. It is not a question of what one likes to do as trainmen, but he must obey orders, or, of course, he cannot draw his salary. We have good and bad luck in all cases. The front brakesman would be on the second engine; his name was Baker. I had no conversation with the deceased and did not see him until he had been dressed after reaching Stirling.

Henry Reeves, recalled, said: When I found the driver of 168 he was conscious. He said he had a guage of water. The guages are supposed to be frequently inspected by the engineer. There are try cocks, two or three on each engine as an additional safeguard. The water in the try cocks must correspond with the water in the boiler. When the try cocks are opened, either steam or water will escape. There is a light on the same side as the water guage. The engineer is seated on the right hand side. We had full pressure, or 140 lbs. of steam. If there was water in the bottom guage there should be water on the crown sheet. We usually carry as much water as possible when running. At the first guage the water would not fill one-third of the boiler. The injectors are kept working when running. It would take a large obstruction to steop the injectors after being started. If they were stopped steam would blow out. In going up a long grade one can ease up the injectors so as to make steam a little faster. The deceased made no comment in regard to the engine except to say he had a guage of water. The engineers frequently depend on the try cocks to see if they have enough water, instead of depending on the water glass. The engineer should see that the guages and try cocks are in good order, and is responsible for doing so. I never heard that the engine had been condemned. I never noticed that the deceased had any trouble in keeping the engine in good repair.

Dr. Bradd, sworn, testified—I attended the deceased, Robert McAuliffe, in Peterborough, and had him removed to the hospital. I found him severely scalded. The deceased died from shock induced by scalding. He died the same day. I could detect no pulse at any time after his arrival in Peterborough. He was practically pulseless.

Dr. McGrath, sworn, said—I attended Robert McAuliffe in consultation with Dr. Bradd. I heard Dr. Bradd's evidence and can corroborate all he said.

Chas. Wm. Thompson, sworn, testified: I am a fireman on the G.T.R. I was on the second engine. I remember the morning of the accident. When the accident occurred I was sitting down. I heard a noise and a rush of steam, leading me to suspect that the engine was working steam, being too full of water, but in an instant I knew that this was not correct. As soon as the train stopped I got off. I asked the deceased if he was hurt, and he replied, "Yes, badly." I was not speaking to the fireman after the accident. I got on the first engine and found the overflow open and water running. The overflow would work whether the injectors were working or not. The fire box opens outward into the cab of the engine. The overflow being open would indicate either that the injectors were on, or that the engineer was trying to put them on. I did not examine the engine. I could not say how much water was in the tank. I do not know whether the injectors were on.

EXPERT EVIDENCE.

James Black, boiler inspector for the G. T. R., deposed that he did not have the record of the engine. It was one of those built by the Great Western. The wear and tear and qualities of the water where the engine was working were generally to be considered in determining the life of an engine. The right hand side of the crown sheet was badly destroyed while on the left side it was in perfect condition. The mountings of the engine were all in good condition. The cause of the accident was, undoubtedly, no water on the crown sheet. The fact that the right side of the crown sheet was burned would indicate that the engine was going around a grade at the time and listing over. He was not inclined to believe that there was a gauge of water in the boiler when the accident happened. Witness said he had been inspecting boilers for thirty years on the Grand Trunk. The condition of the crown plate demonstrated that there was not sufficient water in the boiler when the accident happened. The engineer would in such case be responsible.

Coroner Gray was disposed to contend that the very intelligent jury should see the engine for themselves, and Mr. Pope replied that the G. T. R. was willing to bring the engine here in the very condition it was after the accident. There was no desire to shield anything. The company was as anxious to get at the real truth as anybody.

Expert evidence was given by Edward Champagne, of Montreal, who deposed that he had been 26 years boiler inspector in Montreal and had been called by the G. T. R. to examine the engine at Lindsay. He had thoroughly gone through the boiler and had satisfied himself that there was no defect in the crown plate and that its blowing out had been caused by want of water. Before the accident the boiler was undoubtedly good for 140 pounds of pressure. Though sufficient water had been taken on to do the engine for thirty miles, the water may have been wasted through the overflow owing to the injector failing to work properly, and not noticed by the engineer. If there had been a full water gauge the accident would not have happened. The engineer may not have neglected but rather miscalculated. Witness said that his practice as an engineer was to adjust the water to the expanse of steam required. If he squeezed his feed of water to a boiler in coming up a grade to make steam quicker, he would be careful that in doing so no risk would be run.

James T. Main, who at the order of the coroner, examined the engine at Lindsay, testified that he had gone through the boiler thoroughly, and mountings, water gauges, safety valve, steam gauges, hose bags, connections to injectors, and had found them free. He went inside the firebox. The crown sheet was bagged about 5-1-4 inches, the greater bag being about 24 inches from the face of the tube plate and in the centre from side to side. There were about sixty bolts drawn from the crown sheet and about nine partly drawn and others partly sprung. He then had the dome cover and safety valves removed and went inside the boiler over the top of the crown sheet. The stays on the end were stripped of the thread, and evidences existed inside and out that the sheet had been burned. His opinion was that the condition of the engine had been caused by low water, and could not well be attributed to other causes. The general makeup of the engine and boiler were fair. There was very little scale on the inside of the boiler. The crown plate is of steel and bolts are of iron and the latter would burn and deteriorate while the crown sheet would not. The crown sheet is 5-8 of an inch thick. There was no water in the tank.

Mr. Pope pointed out that what water remained in the tank after the accident, if there was any, had probably been drawn off subsequently.

Mr. T. E. Fitzgerald, juryman, considered it remarkable that, if there had been water in the tank when the accident happened, the boiler did not have sufficient if injectors and all connections were working properly.

This concluded the evidence taken last evening and the jury decided to wait until the foreman was able to give evidence. An adjournment was made until next Thursday evening. The record of the engine will also be placed in evidence.

STEEL RESOLUTIONS.

Bounty of $6 Per Ton on Wire Rods and $3 on Plates.

TO CONTINUE THE BOUNTIES.

Duties on Binder Twine Also Provided For—Railway Commission Bill Amended—Companies Must Prove Negligence in Case of Cattle Killed on Railways—Provisions Relating to Drainage.

Ottawa, July 9.—Hon. Mr. Fielding last night gave notice of the following resolution governing bounties on iron and steel. The Governor-in-Council may authorize payment of the following bounties on the undermentioned articles, manufactured in Canada from steel produced in Canada from ingredients of which not less than 50 per cent. of the weight thereof consists of pig iron made in Canada.

That is to say:

(a) On rolled, round wire rods not over 3-8 inches in diameter when sold to wire manufacturers for use in making wire in their own factories in Canada, a bounty of $6 per ton.

(b) On rolled angles, trees, channels, beams, joists, girders, or bridge building or structural rolled sections, and on other rolled shapes not round, oval, square or flat, weighing not less than 35 pounds per lineal yard, and also on flat eye bar blanks when sold for consumption in Canada, a bounty of $3 per ton.

(c) On rolled plates not less than 30 inches in width and not less than 1-4 inch in thickness when sold for consumption in Canada for manufacturing purposes for which such plates are usually required, and not to include plates to be sheared into plates of less width, a bounty of $3 per ton.

2. The Governor-in-Council may make regulations to carry out the intention of the foregoing section.

3. Chapter 8 of the statutes of 1899 be so amended as to provide that the bounty on steel and iron authorized by chapter 6 of the statutes of 1897 shall be continued until the 30th of June, 1907, and that the rates of such bounties shall be as follows:

(a) From the first of July, 1903, to June 30, 1904, both inclusive, shall be 90 per cent. of the amount fixed by the said chapter 6 of the statutes of 1897.

(b) From July 1, 1904, to June 30, 1905, both inclusive, the bounty shall be 75 per cent. of the amount fixed by the said chapter.

(c) From July 1, 1905, to June 30, 1906, both inclusive, the bounty shall be 55 per cent. of the amount fixed by the said chapter.

(d) From July 1, 1906, to June 30, 1907, both inclusive, the bounty shall be 35 per cent. of the amount fixed by the said chapter.

Binder Twine Bounty.

The Governor in Council may authorize the payment of a bounty to any corporation, firm or person manufacturing binder twine in Canada, such bounty to be equal to the amount paid as export duty in the Philippine Islands on Manilla fibre produced in such islands, and used in the manufacture of binder twine in Canada.

Such bounty shall only be payable in respect of binder twine manufactured on or after the 1st day of September, 1902. Provided, however, that the bounty shall not exceed three-eighths of one cent per pound on the Manilla fibre so used in the manufacture of binder twine. The Governor in Council may make regulations to carry out the intention of this act.

Appropriations Passed.

Mr. Fielding moved two resolutions making good $708,179 of supplies granted to His Majesty for the year ending June 30, 1903, and $18,342,659 for the year 1904. These sums represent appropriations passed in Committee of Supply for special and immediate purposes.

Replying to Mr. Scott, the Premier stated that Mr. Justice Richards of Manitoba has been appointed a commission to enquire into complaints arising in Manitoba and the Northwest Territories concerning the lumber trade. The investigation will begin at once.

Mr. McCreary enquired if in deciding to pay over to Manitoba interest in the deferred payments upon the sale of school lands was the Government influenced in any way by the Colonial Secretary or any one acting on behalf of the Imperial Government.

"No," replied Sir Wilfrid Laurier, "neither directly or indirectly."

Railway Commission Bill.

When the House went into committee on the Railway Commission Bill, on clause 184, Mr. Henderson moved his amendment giving rural municipalities the same protection against electric railways in respect to railway rights on public highways that is provided for towns and cities. The amendment was declared lost on division.

The Minister of Railways moved an amendment to clause 193, giving the commission power to compel the admission of telephone wires of a company or municipality to railway stations.

After a short discussion the clause as amended passed.

On the drainage clause, Mr. Cowan objected that the wording of it rendered it compulsory only as regards railways to be constructed to furnish sufficient drainage. He desired to have the clause amended to make it certain that it shall apply to existing railways.

Mr. Blair said that the clause was open to no such construction, but made it obligatory upon all railways to maintain efficient drainage and rendered them liable for damage arising from insufficient drainage.

Mr. Cowan's Drainage Amendment.

Mr. Cowan proposed an amending clause to provide that in carrying drains across railways the cost to the land owner shall only be so much as the work would cost if the railway was not there, the balance to be borne by the railway company. The amendment carried after some discussion.

The Toronto and Hamilton Railway Bill and the G. T. Pacific Bill were held over.

The House then resumed consideration of the Railway Commission Bill in committee of the whole.

The sections relating to fences, gates and cattle guards were next taken up. An amendment to the effect that nobody was in charge of an animal killed on the track should not deprive the owner of compensation was carried.

Mr. Ingram offered an amendment requiring all box cars to be equipped with side ladders and hand grips. Mr. Blair said that the House was hardly competent to decide a question of that kind, and the matter should be left to the board. Mr. Ingram insisted, however, upon having his proposition fairly considered, and as the hour was growing late, it was decided to defer the consideration of the subject to another sitting. The House adjourned at 1.40 a.m.

Put Off For a Time.

The bill incorporating the Canadian Telephone and Telegraph Co., which is promoted by a number of American capitalists, who have associated with them several members of the Canadian Parliament, was talked out by T. O. Davis, who claimed that it was a great trust which intended to control all the companies in Canada.

Does this warm weather make you feel Dyspeptic and Bilious? It shouldn't. Joseph Leake, 194 McCaul street, Toronto, pressman in the News office, tells you why.

"I have been troubled for three years with Dyspepsia and Biliousness," says Mr. Leake. "I took several medicines but none would cure me till I tried Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. One box of them cured me.

"My daughter, who was troubled with Headaches and Dyspepsia, also used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and was cured."

Other people who have used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets tell the same story. You haven't used them or you wouldn't be feeling Bilious and Dyspeptic. They never fail to cure and cure permanently.

CENSUS REVEALINGS

HUSBANDS IN ENGLAND AND WALES AT EARLY AGE OF 15.

Women Have Asserted Their Rights to Enter Some Very Masculine Callings—The Tables Concerning the "Afflicted"—Children of Tender Years Engaged in Very Arduous Work—Some Tiny Pawnbrokers.

A book of summary tables relating to the 1901 census of England and Wales has just been published. It is full, from the first page to the last, of interesting and curious information.

Who, for instance, imagined that there were more than 100 centenarians in England and Wales? There are 146. Or, rather, as centenarians are perishable beings, it would be more correct to say that there were 146 in April, 1901—93 being women.

Again, who would think that the centenarians thrived best in a big city? Apparently he does, for of the total number 102 lived in towns and 44 in the country.

Husbands at Fifteen.

Two boys were husbands at the age of 15, and two girls were widows at 16. A boy of 20 had a wife of 65; a girl of 15 had a husband of 60. There were 5,611,881 husbands, 5,717,537 wives, 550,330 widowers, and 1,246,407 widows. The explanation of the disparity between the number of husbands and wives is, of course, the fact that there are wives in England whose husbands are abroad, and husbands whose wives are also absent. There were 91 widows under the age of 20, and 25,112 over the age of 80; and 3,625 very old maids had passed the age of 85.

One of the most curious tables is that which records the callings of women.

Callings of Women.

They have asserted their rights in some very masculine fields, as the following abstract shows:—

Women. — Doctors, 212; dentists, 140; veterinary surgeons, 3; law clerks, 367; authors and journalists, 1,249; actresses, 6,443; school teachers, 171,670; artists, 3,789; blacksmiths' strikers, 316; brassfounders, 440; shepherds, 12; slaughterers, 3; knackers, 136; crossing sweepers, 110; barmaids, 27,707; cellar women, 1,316; anchorers, 86; swordmakers, 6; bill discounters, 56; boilermakers, 4; bricklayers, 4; clerks, 55,784; carters and wagoners, 660; commercial travelers, 382; gardeners, 86; pavior, 1; level crossing keepers, 265; omnibus conductors, 8; chimney sweeps, 54; slaters, 3; undertakers, 279.

Judging from the above the only occupations still confined to men are those of the soldier, groom, cabman, coal heaver, engine driver, navvy, policeman, motor car driver, and Roman Chatholic priest.

The Afflicted.

The table of the afflicted in England and Wales is as follows—Blind, 25,317; deaf and dumb, 15,245; deaf, 18,507; lunatics, 83,772; imbeciles, 48,852.

In another afflicted class— those those who languish in gaol—are thirty-five "barristers and solicitors," sixteen doctors, and twenty "authors, editors, journalists, reporters and shorthand writers." Of the two million people in Wales, 280,905 speak Welsh only.

During the century the population multiplied four fold—from 6,260,852 to 32,527,843. On the night of the census 1,645 persons were found sleeping in barns or sheds, 12,574 in caravans, tents, or the open air. In the latter category Hampshire topped the list with 895.

Of the 4,536,541 persons enumerated in London, 3,016,580 were London-born. Other persons, born in London and enumerated in other places numbered 1,115,178. On the balance, therefore, as between people born in the metropolis who left it, and people born elsewhere who came to it, London gained about 400,000 souls.

Children in Business.

But perhaps one of the most remarkable features of the tables is the early age at which our children set out on the battle of life.

Between the ages of ten and fourteen there are in England and Wales 2,673,967 children the sexes being pretty evenly divided — 1,334,688 boys and 1,339,279 girls. Of these children 188,180 boys and 70,262 girls are all at work—not at their lessons, but at every conceivable industry or occupation dealt with in the return.

As a rule, the girls seem to take more seriously to the business of life than the boys. There are, for instance, 142 ten-year-old "charwomen," 505 employed in laundries, 681 engaged in the tobacco trade, 450 in the jewellery and watchmaking industry, 674 in the earthenware trades, and 80,367 in various textile occupations.

There is one girl insurance clerk at this tender age, as well as one railway clerk and one "engaged in fishing." There are three girl "bargemen" of ten years, seven "warehousemen," four gunsmiths, seven brassfounders and two ironfounders—though a girl ironfounder of ten years is a thing "the imagination boggles at."

Tiny Pawnbrokers.

Then there are twenty-four of these tiny women returned as pawnbrokers, forty as coalminers, fifty-two as cycle and motor makers, and over a hundred screw-makers and steel pen makers.

One girl of ten figures under the classification "missionary, scripture, reader and itinerant preacher," and one under that of "painter, engraver or sculptor." There are twenty-two girl messengers in the Civil Service, nineteen photographers, and 102 actresses, all ten or eleven years old.

The boys of this elementary are more ambitious. Five [illegible] olds are returned as "engineers."

Will It Cure Me?

That's the personal question a woman asks herself when she reads of the cures of womanly diseases by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Why shouldn't it cure her?

Is it a complicated case? Thousands of such cases have been cured by "Favorite Prescription." Is it a condition which local doctors have declared incurable? Among the hundreds of thousands of sick women cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription there are a great many who were pronounced incurable by local doctors. Wonders have been worked by "Favorite Prescription" in the cure of irregularity, weakening drains, inflammation, ulceration and female weakness. It always helps. It almost always cures.

"Three years ago," writes Mrs. John Graham, of 2018 Plumb Street, (Frankford) Philadelphia, Pa., "I had a very bad attack of dropsy which left me with heart trouble, and also a very weak back. At times I was so bad that I did not know what to do with myself. My children advised me to take your 'Favorite Prescription,' but I had been taking so much medicine from the doctor that I was discouraged with everything. I came to Philadelphia two years ago, and picking up one of your little books one day began to read what your medicine had done for others, I determined to try it myself. I took seven bottles, and to-day I am a strong, well woman, weighing 160 pounds. Have gained 20 pounds since I started to use 'Favorite Prescription.'" scientific pursuits," four are "authors, editors, journalists, reporters, or shorthand writers," and four others are described with tantalizing vagueness as "connected with literature." In addition, there are thirty-four actors, and 233 invidiously described as "performers."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets clear the complexion and sweeten the breath.

Finally, these tables reveal the fact that while England and Wales contain six and a quarter million inhabited houses, there are close on half the houses altogether uninhabited, while at the same time, the houses building are increasing at the rate of near 15 per cent. per annum, while the population is only increasing at a little over 12 per cent.

CAPTAIN DEASY.

A Great Traveler and One of the Earliest Automobilists.

The Tablet says that Captain Deasy, the first to make the fine motor-car run, without stopping, between London and Glasgow (in 21 hours and 20 minutes), is the son of an Irish Judge and the son-in-law of Colonel Hickey. Catholics are by nature cosmopolitans; and Captain Deasy is one, not by precept only, but by practice. He has been a great traveler, and not always under the comfortable conditions of even a 'twenty-hours' spin in a Rochet-Schneider car. He left the 16th Lancers, after nine years' service, in 1897, so that he might go to western Tibet to do some serious exploring where already he had had glimpses as a traveler. Two expeditions of his into Central Asia occupied three years and covered forty thousand square miles of territory. Probably no other man alive has determined the height of three hundred mountains. Twice, when surveying heights at 16,000 feet, he was frost-bitten and icicle-boarded. And he discovered the hitherto unknown source of a river. On his return the Royal Geographical Society marked his services by according him its medal. Captain Deasy was, perhaps, more impressed by the Tibetans than they with him. He found them a strangely impassive people. "Arms were of no importance to them, and they had never before seen a magazine carbine, but our carbines excited no interest nor curiosity. A fine rock pigeon having alighted to rest and drink within range, Pike took the opportunity of showing the precision of his weapon and shot the pigeon, but not one of the Tibetans evinced the slightest interest in any way."

The Arts Albert Medal, 1903.

The Society of Arts Albert Medal presented annually since 1854 for distinguished merit, has, according to English papers, been awarded for the present year to Sir Charles Augustus Hartley, K.C.M.G., in recognition of his services, extending over forty-four years, as engineer to the International Commission of the Danube, which have resulted in the opening up of the navigation of that river to ships of all nations, and of his similar services extending over twenty years as British Commissioner on the International Technical Commission of the Suez Canal. Sir Charles, who was born in 1825, has a most distinguished record in works of this kind. He served in the Crimea as a captain in the Anglo-Turkish contingent, but soon afterwards settled down to civil engineering, and as long ago as 1867 reported to the Foreign Office on important questions of engineering connected with the River Scheldt. In the same year he received the Emperor of Russia's grand competition prize of 8,000 silver roubles for his plans for the enlargement of the Port of Odessa. In 1875 he was called into consultation by the United States on the improvement of the Mississippi, and he has had a hand in the development for navigation of the Hughli River, the port of Trieste, the Don of Dnieper; in the Nile barrage below Cairo, in the harbors of Kustendjie, Bourgas, and Varna, in the English Ribble, and in the South African harbor of Durban.

JUST WHERE THOU ART.

Just where thou art lift up thy voice,
Just where thou art life up they voice,
And sing the song that stirs thy heart,
Reach for thy strong and eager hand,
To lift, to save, just where thou art,
Just where thou's standest light thy lamp,
'Tis dark to others as to thee;
Their ways are hedged by unseen thorns,
Their burdens fret as thine fret thee.

Out yonder, in the broad, full glare,
Of many lamps thine own might pale;
And thy sweet song amid the roar
Of many voices slowly fail;
While these thy hundred wanderers on
Unchecked, unlighted, to the ends
Near to thy hand thy mission lies,
Wherever sad hearts need a friend.

Chaplain-General of the Forces.

Bishop Taylor-Smith, the Chaplain-General to the Forces, received his first promotion at court through a chance circumstance, says The London Chronicle. He was with the Ashanti Expedition in 1895, and the column to which he was attached as chaplain happened to arrive at the place where Prince Henry of Battenberg lay ill with fever. The Prince was about to embark for home, and having a presentiment that he would die on the voyage, he sent for the chaplain, Mr. Taylor-Smith, and entrusted him with his private papers, and with messages to be given to his wife and to Queen Victoria in case he did not live to see them. When tidings came of his death at sea Taylor-Smith set out for Cimiez, where the Queen and Princess Henry of Battenberg were then staying, and delivered his charges. When he took his leave the Queen expressed the wish that he should visit her at Windsor. The following year Her Majesty made him one of her Hon. Chaplains, and later appointed him Bishop of Sierra Leone. It was after the Queen's death that Bishop Taylor-Smith was made Chaplain-General of the Forces.

Sir Henry Irving's Wit.

That Sir Henry Irving is quite capable of maintaining his dignity under somewhat trying circumstances is shown by the following anecdote which is told of the tragedian by C. R. Kennedy, of the 'Everyman" company:

On one occasion Irving's company, having been called to the theatre for rehearsal, found upon their arrival that they were considerably ahead of time. As Sir Henry had not yet arrived, one of the actors in the company, who was noted for his accomplishments as a mimic, proceeded to give a lively and elaborate imitation of Sir Henry's highly characteristic acting. As he finished his demonstration a well known voice came from the depths of the darkened auditorium:

"Very good," it said. "Very good indeed! So good, in fact, that there is no need for both of us in this company."

WHY The Standard Mines and Milling Company

Capital $1,000,000 Ten Cent Shares

Is the Best Mining Investment on the Market To-day.

It's mines are in three great mining camps in Idaho, Thunder Mountain and Trinity County, California. It has vast bodies of ore already above ground and extensive workings under ground, thus enough insight for its three plants for years. It has one-third of the stock in another company that has the biggest and richest reef of ore (all above ground) in the world. All it has to do is to wait for dividends on this stock. It has a capable honest and reliable Management. The price of stock is very low for the present, virtually ground floor.

CALCUTT B. & M. COMPANY.

A Marked Increase in This Summer's Business.

The Calcutt Brewing and Malting Company are enjoying a record-breaking season of business prosperity. The demand for Calcutt's ale and lager is at present the largest in the history of the Company's business, and the preference shown for their popular brews by town, county and district dealers, is on the increase. To keep up with the excessive demand the company have to brew every day. During the months of May and June the brewery used up half as much more malt than ever was used before in the same period.

THE PETERBOROUGH INDUSTRIAL FAIR.

An Innovation to be Introduced This Year.

Strong Board of Directors and Officers Elected—Circus Features Eliminated.

The newly appointed Directors of the Peterborough Industrial Fair have entered upon their duties with a spirit of energy which augurs well for the success of the enterprise.

A growing sentiment among the managers of County Exhibitions is being manifest in favour of making them more of the character of educators, and to this end a great many are discarding almost entirely the circus features which for many years were thought to be indispensible to the success of County Fairs. It is gratifying to note that the Directors of the Peterborough Industrial also holds those views, and as a consequence, the fair of 1903 will surpass anything yet held. It will be essentially a farmer's and producer's exhibition, (as it should be,) and more attention than ever before will be given to stock and agricultural products. A material increase will also be made in the amount of cash prizes offered, and these will be the largest in the history of the Exhibition. The dates on which the fair will be held this year are September 22nd, 23rd and 24th. The cash prizes will amount to $2,500, of which $650 will be for horses; $512 for cattle; $270 for sheep; $200 for swine, and the balance divided among the other classes. In addition to the cash prizes a great many other valuable prizes are being offered, which will make the entries in the different classes large.

The prize list is now being printed, and the Secretary will be glad to supply copies to all applying for them.

The officers for 1903 are:—

Hon. President—Hon. J. R. Stratton.
President—D. Hughes-Charles.
1st Vice-President—C. B. McAllister.
2nd Vice-President—E. M. Elliott.
Secretary—W. J. Green.
Directors—Alex. Elliott, Robt. Fair, H. P. Kennedy, R. J. Munro, T. M. Hunter, G. W. Fitzgerald, D. Maloney, Jos. Madill, J. K. Galvin.

NEW PHYSICAL DIRECTOR.

Y. M. C. A. Board of Directors Have Appointed Mr. S. S. Aplin.

Mr. S. S. Aplin, of Toronto, will be the new physical director at the Y.M.C.A. to succeed Mr. Ayres, and will assume charge of the work on September 1st.

Since the resignation of Mr. Ayres in May, the directors have been corresponding with a number of likely men with the result that at the monthly meeting on Monday evening a unanimous call was extended to Mr. Aplin, the latter having accepted this morning in a letter to Mr. Madill the President.

Mr. Aplin comes to the association very highly recommended. He has been connected with the Brandon, Man., association as Boys' Department Secretary, and last year was assistant at the Toronto Central Y.M.C.A. Training School where he paid particular attention to the physical course under the leadership of Mr. J. Howard Crocker.

He will also attend the summer school for physical directors and further qualify himself for the work here.

The Y.M.C.A. Board of Directors are confident that under Mr. Aplin's leadership the work of the physical department will continue to make the same marked progress that it has done during the past years.

(Special to the Examiner.)

Rome, July 10. — The august patient passed the first part of the night fairly peacefully but afterwards the difficulty in his breathing became more marked, coupled with discomfort, and an increase of the feeling of oppression. The pulse is small and weak at the rate of 92. A flow of endopleuritic matter being observed a second operation was decided upon and immediately performed by Dr. Mazzoni. About a thousand grammes of bloody serum was extracted. The Pontiff bore the second operation very well, and in consequence of it the power of the heart at once improved.

MORTALITY REPORT.

Dr. Bryce Reports Number of Deaths From Various Causes.

The report of Dr. Bryce, Secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, for May, has just been published, and shows that during the month there occurred 2,193 deaths from all cases, as compared with 2,236 for April.

In the deaths from contagious diseases, 2 resulted from smallpox, of which there were 63 cases reported; 43 deaths from scarlet fever, from 391 cases; and 18 deaths from whooping cough. The extent to which tuberculosis exists in the province is indicated by the fact that 149 municipalities report 232 deaths from the disease alone, being 121 in excess of the deaths from smallpox, measles, diphtheria, whooping cough, and enteric fever combined, yet the apathy on the part of municipalities to grapple with this question still continues.

In Peterborough during the above month there were 7 cases of scarlatina reported, with no deaths; and 10 of diphtheria, from which also there were no deaths; one case of typhoid fever resulted in death.

Dr. Bryce urges upon the municipalities the absolute necessity of making some provision for the better care of consumptives, of whom there is an increasing number in the province; the institutions in existence now for the treatment of consumptive patients are entirely inadequate to deal with those suffering from this dread disease.

THE RANGERS WERE INSPECTED

By Col. Otter on Wednesday Evening Last.

An Attack on Armour's Hill Lead by Col. Miller—The March Past—Col. Otter's Remarks.

The 57th Regiment, Peterborough Rangers, underwent their annual inspection on Wednesday evening last, the Inspecting Officer being Col. Otter. Lt.-Col. Hemming, Kingston, the District Staff Adjutant of the 3rd and 4th Military Districts, was also present.

During the afternoon Col. Otter inspected the armouries which he found to be in a fairly satisfactory condition, while in the evening he witnessed six companies attack and capture Armour's Hill, which was defended by the remaining two companies.

The Battalion which was inspected in review order, had been commanded to fall in at the drill shed at six o'clock sharp, but it was after seven before this was done. At this hour two companies, Nos. 1 and 2, respectively commanded by Captains Cluxton and Clegg, and under the command of Major A. Stevenson, left the drill shed to take up a position defending the kopje. They were accompanied by the bugle band and swung off at a quick march.

About 7.15 o'clock Nos. 5 and 7 companies under the command respectively of Captains Bennett and McWilliams left the drill shed and marched across the Dickson Company's bridge, and to the Ashburnham side of the river. Meanwhile the remaining companies, Nos. 3, 4, 6 and 8, left the drill shed and marched down George street and up Hunter. They were halted opposite St. John's church.

Major Stevenson had posted No. 2 company, under the command of Capt. Clegg, on the east side of the bridge leading to that village, thinking that he would be able to annhilate any who might attempt to cross the bridge. However, Lt.-Col. Miller, the commander of the attacking party had anticipated this piece of strategy and had made provision for it by sending Nos. 5 and 7 companies over the bridge by the new dam for the purpose of cutting off Captain Clegg's retreat. As Captain Mills' Company, No. 3, was commencing to rush the bridge in extended order, Captain Clegg ordered his company to open fire on them, but was surprised to hear the rattle of musketry in his rear. Seeing that Captains Bennett and McWilliams, with their companies Nos. 5 and 7, were attempting to cut him off, Captain Clegg retired up Elizabeth street, and Captain Mills took possession of the bridge, and at the same time followed him up, firing all the way.

Nos. 5 and 7 companies retraced their footsteps and wended their way to the left base of the hill, the north-west side, while Captain Mills' company supported by Lieut. Watt with No. 6, forced a way up Elizabeth street to the west side of Armour's Hill.

Companys 4 and 8, respectively, under the command of Captains Hounsell and McPherson, crossed the river and doubled up along the Ashburnham side of it, and then turned to the right and took up a position in a ditch on the west side of the hill, which the two defending companies occupied.

The attacking party was drawn up as follows: Centre, Nos. 4 and 8; right wing Nos. 3 and 6; left wing, Nos. 5 and 7.

A carriage containing Colonel Otter, Colonel Hemming, Colonel Edwards, and Rev. J. C. Davidson, chaplain of the 57th Regiment, was drawn up on the summit of the hill, and the inspecting officer had a commanding view of the operations as they gradually developed.

During the attack the aggressors were fairly well under cover; the right wing wormed its way through a bayfield, the left through a clump of trees and bushes, while the centre was more exposed, only having what cover the hill affordded.

For half an hour a continual rattle of musketry was heard. When all the aggressors were in position, word was passed along to advance. This was done in a slow, continuous movement, the men taking advantage of all available cover. The successive commands were "Volleys," "Fix bayonets," "Prepare to charge," and, finally, "Charge!" the men carrying the hill in a very spirited manner.

After a short time allowance to regain lost breath during the charge up the somewhat precipitous hill, the battalion was formed up and marched back to town via Elizabeth street, accompanied by both bands. The regiment marched up Water street to London street in column of sections. The then then performed the "march past" in quarter column, the reviewing officers, Colonels Otter and Hemming, standing by the Central Park fountain.

It was about half past nine before the regiment got back to the drill shed, where lemonade was served out to the men to their personal satisfaction.

Col. Otter then privately addressed the officers, saying that the attack on the hill had been a very spirited one, well planned out and admirably put into execution. He said that, of course, mistakes had been made, but that the men were learning and seemed to understand that the great thing in modern warfare is to take cover. He also said that when marching the men should be more extended and should not march so huddled together.

Col. Otter complimented the Band on the excellence of the music which it provided.

After the roll call had been taken, which showed a large turn out of men, the regiment was dismissed.

It must be said that the regiment certainly acquitted itself with to say the least, satisfaction, which before an experienced officer is perhaps only the reward of some of the best city regiments.

PARK STREET BAPTIST AT JUBILEE POINT.

A Successful Picnic Held at the Famous Summer Resort.

The Park Street Baptist Sunday school picnic was a great success in every sense. The weather was perfect; the river banks with foliage and sloping corn fields, were at their best. The decks of the City of Peterborough were crowded, which relieved the management of all financial anxiety and Thos. Gillespie, with a face beaming, reported all liabilities met and over ten dollars to spare. Then with filled baskets, rollicking children, fine weather, happy parents, bent on making everybody else happy, what was to prevent a good time, and they had it indeed. The children revelled in the grass and bush, and water, baseball, football and swinging, and wondered why they could not have a picnic every month. The faithful Superintendent, Miss M. Mann, met them as they returned to the boat, and with her large heart and happy face, did much to add to the enjoyment of everybody. Now, wasn't it a happy day?.

DR. BRYCE SAYS WELLS ARE POLLUTED.

Extended Report of Provincial Secretary of Health.

Advises all Wells in Business Section to be Ordered Closed.

The following is a copy of the report of Dr. Bryce to the local Board of Health on the sanitary condition of the town:—

To the Chairman and Members of the Local Board of Health:

Gentlemen,—At the request of your Board I beg to present a brief report on the results of an inspection made on this date in company of members of your Board on the sanitary condition of several areas within the town limits, with some conclusions based thereon.

1.—Inspection of premises between Water street and Queen street.

To the east side of Water street is a row of rented stores on the Hall estate, to the rear of which are small yards facing on a lane.

The several houses obtain their water supply from a well close by the rear of Begley's furniture store. In the yard to the south of this is a row of privies, 5 in number, with water standing in them some 30 or 40 feet from the well. The surface inclines to the south east. In the yard north is one closed well and four privies some 50 feet from well.

The lane to the east of this is unclean, with here and there muddy pools.

To the east of lane is a row of, houses facing on Queen street and running north to Hunter street. A house in centre of block has well near kitchen door and from a platform, house slops thrown on the surface were standing within 10 feet of the well. At the north end of the block is the Munroe House and large stables. The stable floors have (a) Holes bored behind each stall to admit of the soaking away of stable drainage. (b) Behind the stable to the east is a manure pile exposed in the open to the rain and soakage from the roof. (c) In the building to the east are 12 double horse stalls with no floor except the earth, which is gravelly. (d) The sheds for teams and waggons are some 150 feet long, all with earth floors. The yard is unpaved and all the drainage from the sheds and yard is to the south, but a catch basin in the yard probably receives most of the drainage which is carried to the sewer.

Town water is laid in these premises.

2.—Inspection of rear premises and lane between Water street and George street, north of Hunter street to Brock street.

To the rear of the stores on Hunter street is a square space at the end of the lane, from which a short lane leads to Water street. (a) An excavation within lane shows the earth to be polluted with organic soakage at least 5 feet from surface. (b) The square space above referred to was a filthy pool with refuse, the water running from the lanes and neighboring roofs and cannot get away except by soakage and evaporation. (c) In the lane northward were more pools polluted with soakage from refuse from a fruit and fish store and the manure of Leary's livery stable. Two bakeshops where work goes on, face on this lane and the effluvia which I were extremely disagreeable in the open air, must constantly be entering these premises where the food of the people is prepared. (d) In the yard of the Commercial house is a well within 6 feet of the filthy lane and the soakage is directly towards it. The hotel, however, has town water laid in, and the premises, stables and house, are stated to have adrain to the George street sewer. (e) The stables and sheds are in this yard and are some 130 feet long, all with earth floors.

3.—Inspection of Crown Hotel Stables and yard.

(a) The main feature of this hotel is the well standing in the stable yard, within 30 or 40 feet of the stable, which is on high ground. (b) The soakage from the stable and a pen with 5 pigs in the end of the shed is toward the well, which, however, has the ground immediately near it raised, but the drainage runs in a surface gutter some 20 feet from the well or soaks into the ground. The ground is gravelly. (c) To the south is the manure pile exposed to the rain and situated some 30 feet from the well.

4.—Inspection of Mr. J. P. Metherel's Tenement.

This consists of a row of 7 houses facing on Murray street, and with yards only some 10 feet facing on a lane to the north, running out to George street. (a) These premises are well kept in the sense that a tile drain with a trapped sink to each house carries the house sewage to George street sewer. (b) The crowding behind is so great, each house having a tight box under each closet with standing water in them, which, we were informed, is removed but once in every six weeks, that emanations therefrom is inevitable. (c) Another house belonging to the same owner faces on George street, and under a shed within a few (6) feet of the summer stove and woodshed is the well, an old stoned well, held in high esteem by the owner. How from its location and the number of persons going to the well it remains safe—if it does—can only result from more than ordinary care.

5.—Inspection of Tenements on McDonel street, north side.

(a) This is a row of new tenements with a common yard to the north. At the end of the lots, some 30 feet from the houses, is a row of ordinary privies, each with its soak pit. (b) Near the middle of the block is a well common to all the houses and within 30 feet of nearest privy. Apart from the danger of soakage, the danger of contamination by way of the top through so many persons going to the well must be remembered.

6.—Inspection of row of 7 Tenements south side McDonel street, opposite.

(a) These are old tenements with privies to each house, and not more than 30 feet from houses. (b) These houses obtain their water supply from a single well, situated in the 4 feet space between two kitchens and near the kitchen door. Remembering the position, its distance from the privy pits, and also the many persons using the well, its contamination sooner or later is inevitable.

Such is a brief statement of the several inspections made in the time at our disposal, and doubtless an extended inspection would discover many more places with similar conditions, but these will justify me in making the following remarks:—

1. That, whatever conditions prevailed years ago, the increasing business of the town, and density of population on different areas, have made it inevitable that a constant inspection and oversight of the various premises of the town is absolutely demanded to discover what the surrounding conditions are in order that remedies when necessary can be applied. This can only be done by a regular sanitary inspector receiving regularly from the Board of Health instructions to investigate and report from week to week, so that the Board may be in a position to abate nuisances and remove conditions tending to create others.

2. That until in addition to this some systematic means is supplied (a) to regularly remove surface refuse and (b) to drain lanes, the abatement of such nuisances will be difficult and unsatisfactory.

3. That there is in every instance abundant evidence of yearly increasing pollution of the soil of yards, lanes and streets, which, as the soil is gravelly with in many parts but little clay, must inevitably mean pollution of wells, while the filthy overcrowded surroundings of many wells makes their further use increasingly a danger to health.

4. The many analyses of these well waters made from time to time in the laboratory of the Provincial Board abundantly proves such pollution; and in dry seasons, especially this, means increasingly, as shown in past years, outbreaks of diarrheal diseases.

5. The closing of wells must therefore be systematically prosecuted, after inspection and analyses have shown pollution, but what, as these inspections prove, can be done with much greater ease and better results, is the passage of a by-law by the council closing all wells within certain areas now supplied with public water. The history of every town and city in Ontario supplied with good public water is the immediate and steady decrease of typhoid in proportion to the increased use of public water and the disappearance of wells.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

PRAYED AT SUNRISE.

Pope Thanks God for Having Strength Left to Pray to Him.

THE PONTIFF BEYOND HOPE.

No Immediate Collapse, But a Gradual Sinking—Hope and Fear Alternated All Day Thursday—An Agonizing Period of Suspense the End of Which Even the Doctors Do Not Know.

July 9.—5.05 p.m.—Dr. Rossoni arrived at the sick room, in consequence of a sudden change for the worse in the condition of the Pope.

7.30 p.m.—The following bulletin has been issued: "The general condition of the illustrious patient, having become depressed, a consultation was held at 4 o'clock, with the participation of Prof. Rossoni. From objective examinations, it appears that the liquid is again rapidly gathering in the pleura. The sounds of the heart are weak, without any symptoms of valvular lesion. The pulse is easily compressible, and it has 90 pulsations instead of 65, which is normal. The breathing is superficial and at long intervals. The kidneys are not performing their regular functions. The state of His Holiness is considered grave."

(Signed) Rossoni, Lapponi, Mazzoni.

7.30 p.m.—After a consultation of the physicians Dr. Lapponi said: "I fear there is no hope, no hope whatever, and yet the end may not come to-night."

July 10.—4 a.m.—The injections given first by Dr. Mazzoni and then by Dr. Lapponi have had in part the desired effect, as the Pope has succeeded in getting some sleep, although his slumber was not entirely tranquil. The patient's diet has been somewhat lightened since the attack of diarrhoea yesterday, and is now limited mainly to beef broth tea.

6.10 a.m.—It is reported that when, shortly after sunrise this morning, Dr. Lapponi went to see His Holiness he found him with his hands together in the attitude of prayer. On the doctor inquiring whether he required anything His Holiness replied: "To-day finishes a week since I was taken ill. I am thanking God for having given me strength to still pray to him."

PONTIFF BEYOND HOPE.

Dr. Lapponi Has Declared His Fear to This Effect.

Rome, July 10.—(2.m.)—Another day of alternate hopes and fears has passed, and Pope Leo's life still hangs in the balance. Beginning with renewed hopes, the day closed with the scales tending slowly, but surely downwards. How long this agonizing period of suspense will last not even the attending doctors dare to say.

At 12.15 this morning, it was learned from Dr. Mazzoni that the condition of the Pontiff had not changed since the issue of the evening bulletin at 7.30 o'clock, which announced that the patient's state was grave, and at which hour Dr. Lapponi had declared his fear that there was no hope, but that the end might come during the night.

The news of the sudden relapse of the Pope, the consultation of physicians and the alarming bulletin, which followed, was an unexpected thunder in what had already become in the public feeling an unclouded sky. The idea now prevails that this brings to a definite end all of the bright hopes which were cherished this morning.

Prof. Rossoni went through the most careful examination of the illustrious patient, employing again what is known as the baceli system. The consultation lasted over two hours.

The investigation unfortunately proved, not only the presence of fluid in the pleura, but its rapid augmentation, so that it already afflicted the patient with the same disturbances that were observed on last Tuesday. It was evident that another operation would be indispensable, but no decision on this point will be reached until after another consultation, which has been postponed until to-night, because of the weakness of the patient. The three doctors will make another examination within an hour or two.

A state of great prostration has ensued, rendering worse the affection of the kidneys. It is likely that an injection of salt water into the veins will be resorted to. The diarrhoea which appeared yesterday afternoon and occasioned the consultation has now ceased.

CONSUMPTION EXPERIMENTS.

German Commission's Investigation Coincides With Prof. Koch's Views.

Berlin, July 10.—The Berlin Medical Society assembled to hear Professor Kossel of the Imperial Health Office report the results of the prolonged experiments of the tuberculosis commission in infecting calves with human tuberculosis. Prof. Koch's observations, prior to the celebrated London address, caused the Health Office to appoint the commission to make systematic experiments.

The commission summarizes as follows: "The series of experiments strengthens Prof. Koch's view that animal consumption as the cause of human consumption does not play the role generally attributed to it; but definite judgment requires further experimentation."

In the discussion which followed Prof. Orth strongly combatted the view that human and animal consumption were dissimilar and non-transferable.

Cabinet Didn't Last Long.

Athens, Greece, July 9.—The formal announcement in the chamber yesterday by Premier Theotokis of the resignation of the Cabinet (which was only formed ten days ago), was followed by a scene of the wildest disorder, during which the opposing deputies exchanged blows and the galleries joined in the general uproar. The Premier said that the Government was confronted by a formidable upheaval of the whole people, and rather than use severe measures, which the maintenance of order demanded, the Cabinet had resigned.

BERLIN CONFERENCE.

Municipal Representatives Consider Power Questions.

COMMITTEE WAS APPOINTED.

Will Secure Information Regarding the Purchase of Power From Niagara Falls Delivered—The Three Choices Open to the Municipalities Requiring Electric Power—President Snyder's Address.

Berlin, July 10.—A conference was held yesterday to consider what action should be taken under the recently passed Provincial Power Act. E. W. B. Snyder of St. Jacobs presided and among those present were: Mayor Butcher, H. L. Rice and Jas. Maxwell of St. Mary's; Mayor Hamilton, Colonel White and Ald. Carter of Guelph; G. H. Douglas, Stratford; Robt. Scott, Galt; Mayor Beck and City Clerk C. Edward of London; Mayor Bean and J. C. Haight, Waterloo; Dr. Lackner, M.P.P., Mayor Eden, J. G. Wing, John Lang, C. K. Hagedorn, W. H. Breithaupt, G. M. DeBus, Berlin; E. W. B. Snyder, St. Jacobs; Mayor Maxwell and S. Chance, St. Thomas; S. J. Cherry, Preston; Peter Brisk, Bridgeport.

Mr. Snyder addressed the meeting. He outlined the scope of the bill and said he had interviewed the power companies, one of which claimed to be able to deliver power in a year, and it was not up to the municipalities to go together. The bill, he said, gave these options:

1. For the municipalities to develop, transmit and distribute power, through a commission appointed by justices.

2. To buy the power at its source, transmit and distribute, also under a similar commission.

3. To buy power delivered at their limits and distribute it among the consumers. In this case the municipality will elect its own commission.

Mr. Snyder's Recommendation.

Under clauses 1 and 2 municipal corporations will have to do their own financing, and it is a question if they are ready to do so. It seems they are hardly ready for this step. Personally he thought it best to buy the power and do the distributing.

Mr. Snyder gave some interesting figures gleaned from the engineer's report made to the Niagara Power Commission. He claims that transmission of electricity by duplicate lines can be made at $8,600 a mile. To reach all these western corporations about 200 miles would have to be covered. This would mean a cost of $720,000. Add to that about $160,000 for right of way, and the total cost will be close onto $1,000,000. The engineer who gave these figures designed the successful transmission line from California to Colorado.

Allowing for the cost of maintenance annually, and distributing 20,000 horse-power, the entire cost would be met by selling power at $5 per horse-power and paying off the indebtedness in 20 years.

In carrying out the work under the third plan, which he considers most reasonable, it would be well to appoint a committee of five, whose duty it will be to merge the various municipalities into a group.

Committee Named.

The chairman was authorized to appoint a committee of seven to gather information and to take the necessary steps to form a union of municipalities. The following gentlemen were named: R. McGregor, Galt; Adam Beck, London; P. W. Ellis, Toronto; C. H. Waterous, Brantford; G. MacLagan, Stratford; L. Goldie, Guelph; E. W. B. Snyder, St. Jacobs.

The Tate Optical Co's

We are doing one thing extremely well—making Good Glasses. In fact the best Glasses made in Canada today. Perhaps you may think this a strong statement, but it is writen deliberately and meant to be convincing.

We examine your eyes carefully, and in our examining room we have all the latest instruments for that purpose. We are Eye Specialists, and our long years of experience make us experts. In the rear of the office is a work shop equipped with the most modern machinery for optical work—the only shop of the kind in Peterborough. Surface grinding of lenses is done on the premises. When you buy a pair of glasses from us we grind the lenses to suit the requirements of your eye. WE DO NOT pick them haphazard from a box of numbered lenses.

Our patients are in all parts of the Dominion. We will be pleased to answer mail orders. Particular care is given to the fit of frames and mounts.

One of our patients, Miss Beavis, writes: "Before coming to you for Glasses I had spent over $50.00 in my endeavour to get satisfactory Glasses, but, thanks to your skill as opticians, I am now enjoying perfect vision and comfort."

The premises are being enlarged and remodelled, and a much larger stock of choice family groceries and provisions is to be carried.

OBITUARY.

Mr. James Laing Passed Away Last Night.

The death of another long time resident of Peterborough occurred last night, when James Laing entered into his long rest. He died peacefully at his late residence, Wolsley street, at half past eleven, Thursday night, after an illness extending over a period of about 18 months induced by a slight stroke, from the effect of which he never fully recovered. The late Mr. Laing came to Peterborough about 14 years ago, and has since that time made his home here. He was born in Otonabee and for many years lived in Baillieboro, where he carried on the business of gunpmaker, selling out to his brother on removing to Peterborough. He leaves three sons and one daughter to journey through life fatherless; Thomas and May live in town and William and Wesley are in Manitoba.

The funeral will take place Saturday at 2.30 from his late residence to Little Lake Cemetery.

Mr. Laing was 70 years of age, and during his life was respected and loved by all who came into contact with him, and knew his many stirling qualities.

OBITUARY.

Death in Cornwall of Mrs. W. J. Comrie, Formerly of Peterborough.

A telegram received by Mr. Jas. Burnett, of town, yesterday afternoon, told of the death, at Cornwall, of Mrs. W. J. Comrie, formerly Miss Janet Kendry, and sister of Mr. Jas. Kendry, M.P. The deceased lady had been suffering from inflammation of the stomach, and expired during the afternoon of the 9th. The funeral will take place at Cornwall, on Saturday. Messrs. Emmett Kendry and Edward Kendry, brothers, went down to Cornwall last night. Mr. Jas. Burnett will leave to-night to attend the funeral. Mr. Jas. Kendry has been notified by wire and will arrive in Cornwall to-day.

CAMERON SURVEYING PARTY.

They Left for the North This Morning on a Survey.

The rapid settlement of the Temiscamingue district has exhausted the surveyed lands available for settlement. Therefore the Government has decided to survey two new townships, each of 12 square miles. The work has been entrusted to Mr. A. J. Cameron, O.L.S., town.

This morning Mr. Cameron left with a party of twelve capable men. Of these four are from town — Mr. J. A. Fife, B.A., science master of the Collegiate Institute, Mr. Jas. A. Paterson and Jack Cameron. The other members of the party are drawn from the surrounding country.

The party's first objective point is Mattawa, where the equipment for the expedition will be completed. Then good bye to civilization and civilized conveniences for several months. The work is not expected to be completed before November. Between that time and the present there will be abundant opportunity for experience with mosquitoes, black flies and the various little inconveniences of a plunge of four or five months into the unbroken wilderness.

POLICE COURT.

A Local Hotel Keeper was Fined for Assault.

At the Police Court this morning before Police Magistrate D. W. Dumble, Annie McDonnell was charged with vagrancy. Annie will not "receive" at the gaol, to a dark dungeon of which she has been remanded for one week.

"For coming from behind the bar and striking a man twice, besides kicking him when he was drunk on the liquor you had sold him, I fine you $2 and costs, total $6.10." Such was the Magistrate's sentence in a case of assault brought against a well known local hotelkeeper. It transpired that the complainant was the worse of liquor on July 1st, and that he used most abusive language towards the hotelkeeper who retaliated by forcibly ejecting him from the bar room.

Before delivering sentence His Worship said that those who sold intoxicating liquors which made men drunk must put up with more abusive language and bad conduct on the part of his customers than any ordinary man.

POSTAL DELIVERY MEETING.

Petitions are being circulated among citizens for signature asking the Mayor to call a public meeting for the discussion of the question of a public postal delivery for the town. It is felt that this is a matter affecting all classes of citizens and that all should have an opportunity of expressing their opinion upon it.

The Government has recognized the necessity of doing something to relieve the pressure on the present accommodation, and it would be extremely ill-advised to go to it asking for improvements the nature of which did not meet with the universal approval of the citizens. The object of the petitioners is to have a meeting called by the Mayor and attended by not only the representatives of one class, but by the representatives of all classes, so that the question may be discussed on its merits, and when a request is made to the Government it will express the wish of the majority of the ratepayers.

A copy of the petition is now at the Examiner Office, where any may attach their names to it.

SUCCESSFUL SUNDAY SCHOOL EXCURSION

That of St. John's, Yesterday, was Highly Enjoyed.

The annual outing of St. John's Sunday School, under the auspices of the Success Club was held yesterday; the pleasure-seekers going to Jubilee Point per steamer City of Peterborough. It was an occasion of great pleasure not only to the children but to the very large number of adults who were present.

The arrangements made and carried out by the Success Club, of which Mr. James Bell is president, for the comfort and pleasure of the excursionists were admirable, and resulted in both the little folk and adults spending a very pleasant day indeed. Lemonade was made on board the steamer by the committee and served the little ones free; this was an unexpected and very acceptable number on the programme. A good list of sports was run off at Jubilee, and a baseball match played between All Saints Boys' Brigade and a scratch nine. A very novel and amusing event was a tug-of-war between the ladies who exhibited considerable muscular ability. The excursionists, numbering 265, left Jubilee for home at 6.20 arriving at the C.P.R. wharf at 9.30. The pleasure of the return trip was considerably enhanced by vocal selections rendered by Mr. Jos. and Masters Halpany. Mrs. and Miss Seward and the Misses Dawson; Miss Graham served as accompanist.

The following is the programme of sports, together with the prizes and their winners:—

Baseball Match.

All Saints Boys' Brigade..... 6
Scratch nine..... 1

Four innings were played.

The Success Club certainly effected in making the excursion a complete success, not only in an enjoyable form but financially. Perhaps no better day could have been chosen and the river breeze warded off the scorching rays of the summer sun.

It is felt that every one on board had a very delightful time, especially the Secretary of the St. A's Brotherhood.

LAWN BOWLING.

The Peterborough rink of bowlers returned last night from taking a part in the Dominion Lawn Bowling Association's tournament. Although beaten they are very pleased, and justly so, with the scores and intend to send three or four rinks to the Ontario tournament, which will be held at Niagara on August 18th.

SPRINTING.

At the oval to-night D. Belland, whom everyone admits is the fastest runner who ever came to town, will attempt to lower the Canadian record for 100 yards, running under the colours of the Excelsior Baseball club. This event is causing considerable interest to be taken in running, and the Excelsior club's action in encouraging Mr. Belland in his endeavour to lower the record on local grounds, is certainly commendable.

CANOEING.

The regatta to be held at Sturgeon Point to-morrow will be the most interesting event in canoeing circles this year, and gives promise of being a most successful affair. A programme of the races follows:—

11.15 a.m.—Sailing skiff race, three mile triangular course.
11.30—Dinghy sailing race.
1.00 p.m.—Single blade canoe, one-half mile.
1.15—Juvenile race, under 16 years, single blade, half mile.
1.30—Singles, double blade, half mile.
1.45—Sailing Canoe, three miles, triangular course.
2.00—Tandem, single blade, one mile
4.45—War canoe race.
3.00—Gasoline launch race, three mile course.
3.15—Fours, single blade, one mile.
3.30—Hurry-scurry race.
3.45—Ladies' Tandem, quarter mile.
4.30—Tilting race.
4.15—Paddling upset race.
4.00—Crab race.
2.30 Steam launch race, three mile course.

It is about fifteen years since a regatta was held at Sturgeon Point. At that regatta the late Wm. O'Connor, Teemer, Bush Thompson and other leading oarsmen competed. The events on Saturday are nearly all canoeing events, and include single, tandem, fours, war canoe and the usual fancy races. In addition, however, there will be a dinghy race for a cup donated by the Trent Valley Navigation Company, and a gasoline and steam launch race. In the gasoline launch race 11 entries have been made and there will probably be several more in addition. The Kawartha Lakes Navigation Company have donated a splendid cup as a trophy in the war canoe competition. The Trent Valley Navigation Company have donated a very handsome cup worth $100 for annual competition among the dinghies of the Kawartha Lakes. The winner of the cup will also receive a medal. In the war canoe race there are three crews entered—one from Orillia and two from the Toronto Canoe Club. The Argonauts of Toronto may also send a team.

The committee in charge of the regatta are Messrs. J. D. Flavelle, T. W. Greer, J. M. Knowlson, and J. G. Edwards, of Lindsay, M. B. Tudhope of Orillia; Owain Martin, Peterborough, and Messrs. A. H. Grantham and C. B. Nasmith, Toronto.

Altogether the first Kawartha Lakes regatta promises to be a most successful affair and to become an annual feature. The secretaries of both the Orillia and Peterborough clubs have notified the committee that their club members will compete in nearly all the events.

Messrs. Norman Bell, Ronald McKee, and Bert Stock will probably represent the Trent Valley Canoe Club and after the showing which they made at Orillia it may be considered safe betting that they will capture some of the prizes.

LACROSSE.

The Ontarios, of Port Hope, are here to-morrow afternoon and will give the T.A.S. team a game on the Murray street grounds. The following players will represent the locals: Goal, Mahoney; point, Corbett; cover, Meagher; defence, Crowley, Muldoon, Derocher; centre, McGrath; home, Parnell, McCabe, McNichol; outside, F. McCoy; inside, Lapierre; spare, W. Donovan; field captain, Joe Begley; referee, Geo Lynch.

• • • •

Port Hope will take pretty good care of any team that goes east this season. They have a big defence, that is liable to take good care of any home and to do damage to one that gets too dangerous. Then their home is husky and speedy. Of course, Port Hope lost in Oshawa, but they play fewer games than Brantford, and if the champions get the least bit careless and lose one or two more, when it comes to figuring out the percentage Port Hope may just happen to have the best of the figures.—Telegram.

Lindsay is making great preparations for the game with the T.A.S. team in that town next Friday, and if enthusiasm counts the locals will play before an immense gathering. A huge streamer is stretched across Kent street, bearing the words "T. A. S. is coming!" And everybody is talking of the game. Lindsay team is practicing hard, and have been strengthened by the addition of Calder, of Beaverton, a strong point player. A half holiday will likely be proclaimed in Lindsay on the afternoon of the match, and it is said the boats will issue special rates from points near Lindsay. The T. A. S. team realizes that Lindsay will do its best to win, and intend to prepare for a stiff struggle. They will send up a strong team to the Scugog town, and those who intend accompanying the boys are requested to notify T. J. Begley as soon as possible, as it is altogether likely if a sufficient number of names are obtained a special train will be run to Lindsay on that date.

Dr. Morgar, who has been in conversation with the Havelock football team reports that they desire to play the return match with the Y. M. C.A. in Havelock on Friday, July 17th.

The proposal of the Havelock team to play the return game with Y.M.C. A. I. there on Friday, July 17th, does not meet with the general approval of the "Y" players, who cannot see the necessity of waiting so long. The weather now is too warm to indulge in hard practice and the proposition of the villagers is regarded as an effort to kill time. The game will be a very closely contested one whenever it is played, and the team will doubtless be accompanied by a number of supporters when they go to Havelock. The one goal scored by the Y.M.C.A. in the game here is the only goal which Rose has let go through this season. He proved altogether too quick for the players on the other teams with which Havelock has figured this season. McGuire, who played on the team, is somewhat of a sprinter, and also plays hockey some.

BASEBALL.

St. Andrew's Young Men's Guild Baseball team will resume practice to-night. A full attendance is requested on the Guild grounds.

This is an off week in baseball circles in Peterborough. A game scheduled for to-morrow between the Auburns and Pullmans has been postponed on account of the lacrosse game in the Murray street grounds. The Excelsiors were feeling jubilant at the beginning of the week because of prospects for a game with Cobourg to-night, but the carmakers were not able to get a team together which they thought would have a show against Whitcroft's men, and as a result the game had to be called off. They will probably come up with their fast team which practically has the Midland Championship cinched, however, in a short time, when an interesting game will be witnessed.

TURF.

George Powell's horse, Sphinx B., but for an accident would have won a 2.20 trot at London for a $300 purse yesterday. The Globe says: "A peculiar accident occurred in the second heat of this race. Sphinx B., who won the first heat, was coming down the track at a lively gait, and crowded by another horse, when his driver and owner, George Powell, fearing his horse was going to break, pulled Sphinx B. in so hard that the animal went down on his haunches and turned a complete somersault. J. B. F. who was close behind, collided with the sulky, but nobody was seriously hurt. Sphinx was out of the race, but J.B.F. was caught farther down the track, had another driver put up and saved his distance, taking fourth place." Sphinx B's time for the first heat was 2.20 1-4.

POLICE COURT

Local Liveryman was Heavily Fined.

At the police court yesterday morning before Police Magistrate D. W. Dumble, William Metcalfe was charged with being found drunk and disorderly. He was fined $2 and costs.

The next case was one in which Mr. C. F. Hicks complained that a driver of a licensed liveryman in town, had refused to drive himself, wife and family to the station. It appears that the cabman first accepted, but another party came along who wished to be driven to Chemong. The driver seeing more profit in the second deal, asked the first party to get into another cab, which they did. The husband at the time of the transfer was not present, as he was looking for his trunk. Mrs. Hicks finding the second cab well filled, got out feeling highly dissatisfied.

The action of the cab driver being a breach of the bylaw, a fine of $10 and costs was imposed, amounting in all to $14.35. Mr R. M. Denniatoun appeared for the defendant.

Once Riel's Right Hand Man.

Gabriel Dumont, who was Louis Riel's right-hand man in the rebellion in Northwest Canada 18 years ago, has returned to the territory from the United States, where he has been living since his chief was executed, after the suppression of the trouble. Dumont in his younger days bore a great reputation as a scout and hunter, and many romantic stories are told of his feats and adventures in the backwoods. He was outlawed for a long time after the Riel rebellion. He proved himself, beyond his experienced knowledge of the woods and streams, a military strategist of great talent, and he gave the Dominion forces much trouble in 1885.

FRIEND OF ENGLAND.

President Loubet So Declares For France—Ends His Visit—Escorted to the Train by King Edward.

London, July 10.—President Loubet's visit to London was brought to a close at 8.40 o'clock yesterday, when he left the Victoria Station for Dover. The scenes and incidents of his departure testified to how the Republican President had captured all classes and won the popular good will. As M. Loubet's carriage drew up at the station, King Edward advanced with outstretched hand, and, taking the President familiarly by the arm, led him through the waiting-room to the royal car. His Majesty stood chatting with him until the train pulled out, amid cheers, mingled with the strains of "The Marseillaise."

Upon his arrival at Dover, M. Loubet embarked on the French cruiser Guichen, and the vessel sailed at once for Calais, escorted by a British torpedo flotilla and followed by farewell salutes from the fleet and castle. Before his departure the President telegraphed to King Edward, thanking him for the hearty reception accorded him "as the representative of France, the friend of England."

At Calais the President was given a great reception, and in replying, said his visit to London had given him the ouportunity of discovering once more that greater justice was done to France abroad than she did to herself at home. The impression which he had brought back was profoundly satisfactory, and he felt patriotic joy in proclaiming it aloud.

King Edward's reply to President Loubet's telegram was as follows: The kind words of your telegram touched me greatly. We are all delighted that your visit pleased you. It is my most ardent desire that the reapproachment of our two countries should be lasting.

Edward the Peacemaker.

London, June 10.—At the Pilgrim's Club luncheon to the visiting American officers at the Carlton Club yesterday afternoon, Vice-Admiral Lord Charles Beresford in proposing the toast of "The King," said he believed the day was coming when King Edward would be known as "Edward the Peacemaker." Lord Beresford then toasted "President Roosevelt" in a eulogistic speech.

IN WARM WEATHER.

Use Dodd,s Dyspepsiu Tablets and you Won't be Troubled With Biliousness or Dyspepsia.

Does this warm weather make you feel Dyspeptic and Bilious? It shouldn't. Joseph Leake, 194 McCaul street, Toronto, pressman in the News office, tells you why.

"I have been troubled for three years with Dyspepsia and Biliousness," says Mr. Leake. "I took several medicines but none would cure me till I tried Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. One box of them cured me.

"My daughter, who was troubled with Headaches and Dyspepsia, also used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and was cured."

Other people who have used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets tell the same story. You haven't used them or you wouldn't be feeling Bilious and Dyspepsia. They never fail to cure and cure permanently.

A Skylight Robber.

Toronto, July 9.—Hanging from a rope in the dark shadow of the walls of the massive Rice Lewis warehouse, the burglar who has been responsible for a dozen or more skylight robberies in the downtown business section of the city during the last few weeks, was gathered in by the police last night. He is young, well-dressed and good looking, and gave his name as Henry J. Patterson of Hamilton. He was taken to the cells.

Mr. A. F. Gault Dead.

Montreal, July 9.—A. F. Gault, president of the Dominion Cotton Company, and head of the firm of Gault Bros., the largest wholesale dry goods house in Canada, died Tuesday night at his summer home at Georgeville, Quebec, aged 71 years. He had long been suffering from Bright's disease. Andrew Frederick Gault was born at Strabane, Tyrone, in 1833. Since the adoption of the N.P. he has borne the name of "The Cotton King of Canada."

Knew Dr. Chase in 1867.

One of Dr. Chase's oldest patients in Canada is Mr. G. W. Parish of Sturgeon Bay, Simcoe Co., Ont, whom he cured of kidney disease in 1867 by means of his now celebrated Kidney-Liver Pills. Mr. Parish writes that he does not think there is any medicine half so good and that he always keeps Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills in the house as a family medicine.

COMMONS STARTLED.

Workman Falls Through the Glass Ceiling of the Chamber.

MR. M'GOWAN'S CLOSE CALL.

Railway Bill Passes Committee—To Be Reprinted Before Appearing Again—Many Amendments Made—Companies Made Liable For Fires Caused by Locomotives—Safety of Train Employes.

Ottawa, July 10.—One of the glass squares which form the ceiling of the Commons Chamber came crashing down while the House was in session yesterday afternoon, and Mr. John McGowan of Centre Wellington, who sat immediately beneath, had a narrow escape from death.

An employe carrying a pail of ice to place in a ventilating pipe was the cause of the accident. He tripped and fell, and suddenly there was precipitated into the chamber a pail of ice and some thirty or forty glass prisms.

There was several intense seconds, as the roof seemed to fairly rain glass over the head of Mr. McGowan, but it glanced off his forehead, leaving him half stunned and bleeding.

The employe had his hands badly lacerated, but, was able to draw himself up again. For fifteen minutes the proceedings of the House were informally suspended.

Mr. McGowan was led out of the chamber. His wound was attended to and half an hour later he was back in his seat in the House.

Safety of Employes.

When the House went into committee on the Railway Commission Bill last night, when the clause and Mr. Ingram's amendment were called, Mr. Ingram said that the Minister of Labor and Mr. Hall and himself had agreed to a clause on the lines of Mr. Ingram's. Thereupon Mr. Sutherland got up and moved the following clause, which was unopposed, and is now incorporated in the Railway Act:

All box freight cars built in Canada, for use on Canadian railways, after the passing of this act, shall be provided with the following attachments for the security of railway employes, viz.:

(a) Outside ladders, or two of diagonally opposite ends, and sides of each car, projecting below the frame, the ladders being placed close to the ends and sides to which they are attached.

(b) Hand grips placed anglewise over the ladders of each box car and so arranged as to assist persons in climbing on the roof by means of the ladder.

All cars built prior to the passing of this act shall be fitted with such attachments on or before Dec. 31, 1905, provided that if there should, at any time, be any other improved side attachment, which, in the opinion of the board, is better calculated to promote the safety of the train hands, then the board may require any of such cars not already fitted with the side attachments first mentioned to be fitted with said improved attachments.

Two Cents a Mile.

Mr. W. F. Maclean moved an amendment, in the form of a subclause, enacting that the maximum passenger tariff on the railroads of Canada shall not exceed two cents a mile.

A keen discussion ensued, but the amendment was declared lost.

After considerable debate, clause 270 was finally amended so that the commission may make regulations that any person or company making false classifications shall in addition to the regular tolls be liable to the railway for fifty per cent. additional to the regular charges.

Responsible For Fires.

Another new section proposed by Mr. Blair provides that a railway company must keep its rights of way free from inflammable material, and if the fire spreads from the right of way to adjoining property, or if fire is started on any adjoining property by the company's engineer, the burden of proving thgt the fire was not caused by the negligence of the company shall be upon the company.

Mr. Demers of St. John moved in amendment that in case of fires communicated by a railway to adjoining property the company shall be responsible for the damage.

Mr. Belcourt supported the amendment. It was a principle of law as old as the hills, he said, that a man must not use his property in a way that will cause damage to the property of others. "The amendment," said Mr. Belcourt, "is justified by equity, by precedent and by the soundest principles of law."

Mr. Demers' amendment was carried by a large majority, Mr. Blair's being the only voice raised against it.

Att the clauses of the bill having been disposed of, Mr. Blair stated that the bill would be reprinted before the committee was asked to sit again. At the same time he expressed appreciation of the spirit in which the bill had been discussed by both sides of the House, and thanked the members for the assistance given to make the bill as complete as possible.

In committee of supply last night on the supplementary estimates for Indian affairs, items amounting to $10,870 were taken up and finally passed. The House rose at midnight.

GOOD PROGRESS MADE.

Divisions of About 50 Ridings Settled by Redistribution Committee.

Ottawa, July 10.—The special committee to whom was referred the important and difficult question of rearranging the constituencies for Federal purposes held another public meeting last evening. When the last public meeting adjourned, an impasse had apparently been reached, and there was every prospect of a protracted discussion before any conclusion could be arrived at. In the interim, however, several private meetings have been held, with the result that when the members reassembled in public last evening Chairman Ilyman presented a memorandum, which was at once accepted by the leader of the Opposition, and which disposed of 34 counties and districts which have a single representative. The feature of the evening's session was the discussion respecting the representation of Toronto, in which the claims of the city to a larger representation than that accorded to it—five members—was presented with vigor by Messrs. E. F. Clarke, E. B. Osler and A. E. Kemp. The sitting representatives for Leeds, Brockville, Grey, Simcoe, Perth and Brant were heard, and when the committee adjourned the division of the counties of Simcoe, Brant, York, Ontario, Perth, Bruce, and Leeds, and the town of Brockville, having an aggregate representation of 16 seats, had been agreed upon. This makes a total of 50 Ontario constituencies which have been finally disposed of. No attempt was made at this session to agree upon a division of Toronto.

Schedules were presented, awarding one member to each of the following counties: Prescott, Glengarry, Stormont, Frontenac (excluding the Village of Portmouth), Russell (with the Townships of Gloucester and Osgoode), Grenville, Lennox and Addington, Prince Edward, Durham, Muskoka, Parry Sound, Peel, Dufferin, Halton, Lincoln, Welland, Haldimand, Norfolk, the territorial district of Nipissing (with the Townships of Clara, Maria and Head), the territorial districts of Thunder Bay and Rainy River, the City of Kingston (with Portsmouth Village), Wentworth, the electoral districts of Algoma and Manitoulin.

Will Co-operate With U.S.

Ottawa, July 10.—The Secretary of State announced in the Senate yesterday that the Government of the United States had invited the Imperial Government to co-operate on the appointment of an international commission to investigate the waterways common to Canada and the United States. To this the Dominion Government had assented, but no commissioners had yet been named.

The Canadian Northern Railway Bill and the Lumbermen's Fire Insurance Bill were read a third time and passed.

G. T. PACIFIC ENDORSED.

The Government Caucus Practically Unanimous—The Bill on Monday.

Ottawa, July 10. — The Government's policy for the construction of a transcontinental line was submitted to a caucus of Ministerialists yesterday morning and met with unanimous endorsation. If there was any criticism at all it had reference merely to unimportant details. The project is as outlined in these columns recently. The Government will build a line from Moncton to Winnipeg, via Quebec, and lease it to the Grand Trunk Pacific for fifty years. The prairie and mountain sections of the railway will be constructed by the company, and they will derive a bond guarantee up to a maximum of $13,000 and $30,000 a mile respectively. The stretch of line from Moncton to Quebec will not parallel the Intercolonial, but will be a good distance away, and separated from it for a large part of the distance by ranges of mountains. It is expected that the bill to give effect to the agreement between the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Government will be introduced on Monday next.

Itching Eczema or Salt Rheum

The Most Torturing of Skin Diseases is cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment

The very fact that Dr. Chase's Ointment is a positive cure for eczema and salt rheum is sufficient evidence of its superior value as a means of allaying irritation and healing inflamed itching skin. Dr. Chase's Ointment is a necessity in every home in which it is known, for there has yet to be discovered a preparation which so quickly stops itching and heals sores or wounds. Ask your neighbours about it. Most people know of wonderful cures effected by its use. Sixty cents a box at all dealers. 1 3

Russia and Japan Seem Very Likely to Clash Soon.

Kin Chau, opposite New Chwang, Manchuria, July 9.—All the prominent Russian officials in China, Manchuria and Corea, are attending the conference at Port Arthur. The proceedings at the conference are enveloped in profound secrecy. It is popularly supposed that the Russian officials are considering war questions. The foreign commercial officials at New Chwang and Port Arthur believe that the possibility of war is increasing steadily.

The Russian policy is believed to be to hold the present positions in Manchuria, including New Chwang, and to take no steps to avert hostility with Japan, if it is assured that Japan will fight unaided. The war feeling among the Japanese in North China is intensifying.

Bulgaria Will Step.

London, July 9.—The Constantinople correspondent of The Daily Telegraph quotes an officer of high rank in the Turkish army as declaring that war with Bulgaria appears to be inevitable, and that Turkey was never so well prepared for hostilities. As a result of urgent representations from Austria and Russia, Prince Ferdinand has given the strongest assurances that Bulgaria will make no further military preparations against Turkey.

Branch Left at Toronto.

Ottawa, July 9.—The Department of Marine and Fisheries has decided to move the Meteorological Office from Toronto to Ottawa. A branch will be left at Toronto, the same as is now at McGill, in Montreal.

Blood Disorders

are simply kidney disorders. The kidneys filter the blood of all that shouldn't be there. The blood passes through the kidneys every three minutes. If the kidneys do their work no impurity or cause of disorder can remain in the circulation longer than that time. Therefore if your blood is out of order your kidneys have failed in their work. They are in need of stimulation, strengthening or doctoring. One medicine will do all three, the finest and most imitated blood medicine there is

THE BILL REPORTED.

All the Regular Clauses of the Irish Land Bill Adopted.

THEIR SMALLEST MAJORITY.

Was on Government Proposal to Indemnify Trinity College, Dublin, Which Was Opposed by Nationalist—Clause Was Finally Carried—Uniform Bonus to Landlords of Twelve Per Cent. Was Carried.

London, July 9.—All the regular clauses of the Irish Land Bill being adopted, the House of Commons yesterday took up the newly proposed clauses, on the first of which the Government showed the smallest majority of the whole debate. Irish Secretary Wyndham proposed appropriating $25,000 annually out of the development grant to indemnify Trinity College, Dublin, for any loss of income arising from the sale of land owned by the college. The new clause was vigorously opposed by the Nationalists, but after a long debate it was adopted by a Government majority of 63.

After several minor amendments had carried, the Irish land bill last night was reported to the House amid cheers. Mr. Wyndham agreed to pay landlords a uniform bonus of 12 per cent.

AT THE TOP.

It is a laudable ambition to reach the top of the ladder of success. But many a man who reaches the topmost rung finds his position a torment instead of a triumph. He has sacrificed his health to success.

A man can succeed and be strong if he heeds Nature's warnings. When there is indigestion, loss of appetite, ringing in the ears, dizziness, spots before the eyes or palpitation of the heart; any or all of these symptoms point to weakness and loss of nutrition. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. By perfect and abundant nourishment distributed to each vital organ it enables the co-operation of all the organs to preserve the perfect health of the body.

"For about two years I suffered from a very obstinate case of dyspepsia," writes R. E. Secord, Esq., of 13 Eastern Ave., Toronto, Ontario. "I tried a great number of remedies without success. I finally lost faith in them all. I was so far gone that I could not bear any solid food in my stomach for a long time; felt melancholy and depressed. Could not sleep nor follow my occupation. Some four months ago a friend recommended your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' After a week's treatment I had derived so much benefit that I continued the medicine. I have taken three bottles and am convinced it has in my case accomplished a permanent cure. I can conscientiously recommend it to the thousands of dyspeptics throughout the land."

Sales to noon, 430,300.

The following despatches have been received by E. M. Poussett & Co.:—

New York, July 10th, 11.00 a. m. — Buy wheat and corn.

CANBY.

We look for irregularity in market today. General sentiment has turned bearish following yesterday's developments which seemed to suggest to the bulls the impossibility of forcing any extended advance without a large market interest and particularly with the support of any substantial outside investment buying. While there was good deal of liquidation yesterday the principal selling was by professional traders with most of it for short account. The old bear crowd assumed an aggressive position on bear side and many traders who had been working on the bull side for past week threw over their stocks and sold for a turn on the short side. As a consequence the technical speculative position of the market is slightly better and the creation of a fresh large short interest will be one of the results of present depression and this of itself may furnish some support against any sharp break in prices. The engagement of two million gold for support after close yesterday for shipment Saturday was a surprise and especially in view of decline in demand sterling exchange rates and this will undoubtedly be used to-day as an additional bear factor.

M. & M.

Messrs. McMillan & Maguire at noon received the following dispatch :—

The announcement tha tseveral bond underwriting syndicates had been called upon to take up the unsold portions o fthe bonds, one issue being the N. Y.C., 31-2 suggested to the bears, the idea of testing N.Y.C. stock. The result was so disastrous to the bulls that the advantage was pressed throughout th ells twith marked declines in prices. Liquidation was forced. Stop orders were caught and the list became demoralized. Denials of N.Y. stock and bond issues of no avail. Rockfellers certificates of U.S.S. have come out recently. The Guld issues were particularly weak, as one of their bond issues remained unsold. On these sharp breaks stock should be bought for a turn but profits should be taken on all rallies, as stocks will be for sale by the big men on the hard spots.

Hon. Lt.-Col. Alex. Clerk Dead.

Montreal, July 10. — Alexander Clerk passed away at his late residence, No. 2 Beaver Hall square, yesterday afternoon, after a brief illness, aged 88 years. Mr. Clerk fought side by side with Col. Sir William Meredith in the rebellion of 1837-38, being in action at the storming of the Church at Ste. Eustache and other engagements. He retired with the rank of hon. lieutenant-colonel. He was one of those who helped to run down Sir George Cartier when the Government put a price on his head.

If He Lives He'll Be Blind.

Ottawa, July 10.—Rene Schings, a young French-Canadian, lies in the Water street Hospital, dying from the effects of a revolver shot in the head. He placed the revolver close to his head and fired. He was in love with a young lady named Albertina Fiset, whose parents forbade his suit. In desperation he took liquor and attempted to blow his brains out. The bullet entered by the right ear and came out at the left eye. Should he recover he will be totally blind.

Found $1,000 on a Barrel.

Brockville, July 10.—John Sheridan, a carter, yesterday morning found a bundle of banknotes amounting to $1,000 on top of a barrel down near the river front. They were a portion of a parcel containing several thousand dollars stolen from the mail while in transit from a Montreal bank to its branch in Smith's Falls some weeks ago. The thief is evidently an amateur, and, fearful of detection, has been trying to rid himself of the incriminating money without having the nerve to destroy it.

Killed in a Second.

Sparta, July 10. — Cecil Rodley went shooting woodchucks yesterday near here and was killed by his gun discharging while he was getting over a fence. The whole charge entered his forehead, blowing the top of his head off. He died instantly.

Located Missing Child.

New York, July 10.—In a small college at Monterey, Mass., under the assumed name of her guardian, Gussie Sail, the 9-year-old daughter of Frank Lyon, has been located. She was spirited away a year ago.

Cane For Mr. Lariviere, M.P.

Ottawa, July 10.—Mr. Lariviere, M.P. for Provencher, was presented with a black ebony cane with a gold head on the occasion of his having completed 25 years in political life. The cane was from his political friends in the House. He made a neat speech in which he took occasion to refer to the pleasant time he had spent in Ottawa.

Killed by the Heat.

Sarnia, July 10.—David Morton, who had been employed on the farm of Patrick Boyle, Sarnia Township, for a few days past, was overcome by the heat while working in the fields yesterday afternoon, and died in a few minutes. Deceased was an unmarried man, forty years of age.

A SUMMING UP.

The Great Annual Meetings of Christian Scientists.

One does not need to be a Christian Scientist to note that back of the movements of Christian Scientists there must be an interest born of a well-rooted faith.

About twelve thousand were assembled in these annual meetings in Boston. The unique methods employed to take care of this vast army of religionists are generally acknowledged to be worthy of general credit.

The weather was ideal, and great harmony prevailed throughout the week.

Perhaps the most interesting matter which entered into the communion service was a letter from Rev. Mary Baker Eddy. It read as follows: —

MRS. EDDY'S LETTER.

"My Beloved Brethren,— I have a secret to tell thee, and a question to ask. Do you know how much I love you, and the nature of this love? No! then my sacred secret is incommunicable, and we live apart. But, yes! and this inmost something becomes articulate—and my book is not all you know of me—but your knowledge with its magnitude of the meaning uncovers my life, and your heart has discovered it. The spiritual bespeaks our temporal history. Difficulty, obnegation, constant battle against the world, the flesh, and evil, tell my long-kept secret—evidence a heart wholly in protest ,and unutterably in love.

"The unprecedented progress of Christian Science is proverbial, and we cannot be too grateful, nor too humble for this—inasmuch as our daily lives serve to enhance or to stay its glory. To triumph in truth, to keep the faith individually and collectively, conflicting element must be mastered. Defeat need not follow victory; joy over good achievements and work well done should not be eclipsed by some lost opportunity, some imperative demand not yet met.

This year I invite the members and members-elect of my church to Pleasant View anticipating the great pleasure of having a few moments with them, for all my moments belong to God.

"Truth, Life and Love will never lose their claim on us. And here let me add:

"Truth happifies life in hamlet or town;
Life lessens all pride—its pomp and its frown—
Love comes to our tears like soft summer shower,
To beautify, bless, and inspire man's power.

With everlasting love,

(Signed) MARY BAKER G. EDDY."

The visit to Mrs. Eddy at Concord, N. H., was also a feature of great interest to the public, since it gave about twelve thousand individuals an opportunity to see her and hear her strong resonant voice pour forth sacred texts of truth.

LATEST FASHION NOTES.

PROMENADE GOWN IN RUSSIAN BLOUSE EFFECTS.

Hopsack is one of the most fashionable of dress goods, and a beautiful promenade costume is made of this material in a champagne color. The Russian blouse effect is well portrayed. The mutton-leg sleeves are inset with a handsome applique work of broadcloth, as is also the skirt. Cord ornaments also help to add style and finish, and appear on both skirt and jacket. All of the stitching is done with Corticelli stitching silk, which lends itself so well to this class of work. Notice the several rows at the bottom of the skirt, and the fancy stitching on sleeves and blouse.

Arsenic From Gold Ore.

The companies in Hastings county gold fields have successfully introduced the bromo cyanogen process in treating the previously refractory mispickel, as the ore in which arsenic is contained is called, and are now turning out eighty tons of arsenic a month. The arsenic can be placed on the cars at Marmora at a cost of $20 a ton. It sells at $70 and frequently as high as $90 a ton. The arsenical ore also carries from $[illegible] to $60 worth of gold in each ton, which is a handsome profit in itself.

THE ALASKAN BOUNDARY.

Chicago Newspaper Man Declares U.S. Commissioners Go to London Instructed Not to Give In.

Chicago, July 11.—The Tribune's Washington correspondent wires: Prof. O. H. Tittman, Superintendent of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, sails for Europe on July 23 on an important mission in connection with the Alaskan boundary question. The Alaskan Commission will meet in London early in August.

There will also be three British members of the commission and the belief is entertained that one of these will be won over to the American view and thus settle the dispute, which has been pending for years. With the strong case of the United States it is certain that none of the American representatives will yield to the British. There is excellent authority for the statement that the representatives will go to London with instructions to yield nothing, as the claim of the United States is so well authenticated. Unless the British yield there will be a disagreement by the commission and this will practically decide the case in favor of the United States, for in the event of the failure of the negotiations this Government will stand by its claims and retain control of the territory in dispute, and in all probability will decline to enter into further negotiations.

BRITISH FISCAL INQUIRY.

India Will Be Included—Experts From All Parts of the Empire Will Be Employed by Britain.

London, July 11.—The question of India's position in the coming fiscal enquiry was raised by Lord Northbrook (Liberal), formerly Governor-General of India, in the House of Lords yesterday afternoon, and brought out from Foreign Secretary Lansdowne a fuller statement of the Government's intention than had previously been elicited.

Lord Lansdowne said India would certainly be included in the inquiry. The Government intended to call ample expert evidence, not only from India, but from all other parts of the Empire. The interests of Great Britain and India would be fully considered from the economic, commercial and political standpoint, and thereafter the Government would publish the facts collected and give the public access to the same information on which the Government itself would rely in forming an opinion.

REVENUE NEARLY $64,000,000.

The Canadian Surplus Is $23,000,000 Over Ordinary Expenditures.

Ottawa, July 10. — The financial year ending June 30 has been one of unprecedented prosperity for Canada. The revenue on consolidated account amounted to the enormous sum of $63,739,271, giving a surplus of $22,290,168 over ordinary expenditures and of $13,060,075 over all expenditures combined. All the receipts for the last financial year are not yet in. When paid they will augment the total revenue by about a million and a half. A number of liabilities incurred during the past twelve months have also to be met. It is not thought, however, that the totals given above will undergo any material change, as the receipts and expenditures still to come will about balance each other. Canada's big surplus will give the Government a chance to effect a large reduction in the public debt if they so desire. The increase in revenue in 1902-3, as compared with 1901-2, amounts to $7,435,577. The ordinary expenditure underwent a reduction of $806,213, and the capital expenditure a reduction of $4,302,062. The Dominion has every reason to congratulate itself upon a well-filled treasury, and roseate prospects for the future.

PRELIMINARY TO WAR.

Bulgaria Getting Ready to Cross Swords With Turkey.

Salonica, European Turkey, July 11.—In spite of the reassuring official advice from Constantinople the belief prevails here that war between Turkey and Bulgaria is imminent. Bulgarian bands in Macedonia are being reorganized, under officers sent from Sofia, to use as scouts and guerillas, and a large concentration of troops is taking place in the hills near Yenidye, though orders have been issued to avoid an immediate conflict with the Turks, who are concentrating large forces at Koumanovo.

War Clouds Have Rolled By.

Constantinople, July 11.—Official news received from Sofia is more reassuring. Bulgaria has abandoned her intention of reinforcing her troops on the frontier. In diplomatic circles a calm view of the situation is now taken, and it is believed the storm has passed away.

HEAT WAS KILLING.

In New York and Brooklyn 22 Deaths Were Due to Heat.

New York, July 11.—Twenty-two deaths and sixty-five prostrations in and around New York and Brooklyn tell the story of yesterday's heat. It was the hottest July 10 in the history of the local weather bureau, the highest previous record being 91 degrees on July 10, 1880.

Kicked by a Horse.

Watford, July 11.—Mrs. E. Burlington of this place was probably fatally injured in a runaway accident three miles west of Watford yesterday morning. In company with three other ladies, she was driving out to pick berries, when the breeching broke and the horse started to kick. Mrs. Burlington was kicked in the head, her skull being fractured. Three doctors were summoned and removed a portion of the skull, but the chances of recovery are slight.

Pope Derived Much Benefit from Second Operation.

AWAKENED MUCH REFRESHED

From Sleep Which Lasted Over Two Hours—How the People of Rome Act in the Crisis—Borne Up by the Pontiff's Supreme Self-Confidence — Bulletin Story of 24 Hours.

Rome, July 11.—(12.10 a. m.)—A general feeling of tranquility marked the day in Rome yesterday, due to the widespread belief that, though the Pope's days are numbered, his hour has not yet come. The sublime self-confidence of the patient permeates the people, especially the simple folk, who go about their day's work, postponing signs of sorrow and mourning until from the sick bed itself they hear that the unusual struggle is nearing its end.

The Second Operation.

Dr. Mazzoni's operation yesterday morning was almost identical with that of Tuesday afternoon. The patient lay on his couch, with his side exposed. The skin above the affected parts was washed with a solution of alcohol, cocaine was hypodermically injected, and Dr. Mazzoni inserted a Pravaz needle, which, by suction, drew off the vitiated matter. The operation was comparatively painless, and was performed without recourse to chloroform or other anesthetics. After the operation the Pope felt so relieved that he insisted on getting up, and took several steps towards his armchair and seated himself for a few minutes. He shen rose, going to the book shelves where he keeps his favorite authors, took down Horace's "Ars Poetica," returned to the armchair and began reading, holding one leg over the other. He seemed to feel no ill effects from the operation. On the contrary, he appeared to have derived benefit from it. Later in the day the Pope had lunch and then took a long rest.

THE BULLETINS.

July 10.—10.30 a.m.—The august patient passed the first part of the night fairly peacefully, but afterwards the difficulty in his breathing became more marked, coupled with discomfort and an increase of the feeling of oppression. The pulse is small and weak, at the rate of 92. Apyrexia was complete and there was a little diuresis. A flow of oedopleuritic matter being observed, a second operation was decided upon and immediately performed by Dr. Mazzoni. About a thousand grammes of bloody serum was extracted. The Pontiff bore the second operation very well, and in consequence of it both the respiration and the power of the heart at once improved. (Signed) Rossini, Lapponi, Mazzoni.

Rest Without Suffering.

9 p.m.—The following bulletin has just been issued: "During the day His Holiness had hours of rest without suffering. His pulse maintains its frequency and force. This morning, after operation, his pulsation was 92, his respiration 28, and his temperature 36 centigrade. The kidneys continue functionally deficient. His general state is stationary."

July 11.—2.10 a.m.—The Pope just awakened afreshed from sleep, which lasted over two hours.

4.50 a.m.—Since awakening the Pontiff has been restless, and a dose of chloral was administered.

The White Star Burned.

Toronto, July 11.—In a spectacular fire, the steamer White Star was burned to the water's edge at the city dock at the foot of Bay street at 1 o'clock this morning. Thirteen people, including three women, who were on board, escaped in their night attire. The fire also badly burned a great part of the wharfing and destroyed a quantity of singles that were piled near by. The ferry boat Kathleen was shoved out into the bay to avoid ignition from the flames, and the Shamrock and Mayflower were also in danger for a short time from the showers of sparks. There was a brisk breeze, and the fire had great headway before the firemen were called. In an hour the steamer was practically only a smouldering hulk.

A Convict Escapes.

Toronto, July 11.—A daring escape was made from Central Prison yesterday afternoon. Charles Quackenbush, a young Toronto burglar, dug through a section of the wall and got away. He had probably been at liberty but a few minutes when the hunt commence. He has not been caught and the police officials who know him are not sanguine of his early capture. Quackenbush had been confined there since April 20. Though but 21 years old, he is regarded by police authorities as an all round crook. He is hard to hold behind steel bars. He bears the distinction of having made three escapes from Toronto officials, all under circumstances requiring equal daring and ingenuity.

Statue of Sir Oliver Mowat.

Toronto, July 11.—Walter S. Alward, who designed the statue of Governor Simcoe in Queen's Park, has been commissioned by the Ontario Government to model a statue of the late Sir Oliver Mowat. The statue will be of bronze, nine feet high

G. T. PACIFIC BILL.

A Number of Amendments to Be Proposed on Third Reading.

NEW DIRECTORS PROPOSED.

Power to Build From the Government Line to North Bay and Fort William —A Majority of the Directors to Be Residents of Canada — Streets Guarded From Tramways by Vote of the People.

Ottawa, July 11.—Mr. Leighton McCarthy, according to report, will proceed on Monday with the third reading of the Grand Trunk Pacific bill. He, however, gives notice of a number of amendments designed to make the measure harmonize with the Government's plicy. One of the new clauses proposed is as follows:

"The directors of the company shall have power to enter into an agreement, or agreements, with the Government of Canada, or with the commissioners authorized to enter such agreements on behalf of the Government of Canada, respecting the construction and operation of a line of railway or any portion thereof, to be the property of the Government, between the city of Moncton, N. B., and the city of Winnipeg, Man."

It is provided, however, that the agreement shall only take effect after sanction of the shareholders. There will be added to the clause of the bill designating the route of the G. T. P., the following:

"Provided also that should the Government of Canada undertake the construction of a line of railway from Winnipeg to Moncton, and the company does not exercise the powers hereby conferred upon it in respect to the construction of the eastern section, the Quebec section and the Woodland section, the company shall nevertheless have power to build branch lines from points on the line of railway to be constructed by the Government to a point at or near North Bay, Nipissing Junction or Gravenhurst, and to Port Arthur and Fort William, respectively, and also to a point on the Montreal and Western Railway, or to the city of Montreal."

Those who have been fighting the battle of the municipalities will have satisfaction in reading the new clause relating to the construction of short tramways for the carriage of ore and other freight. It contains a provision that "no such tramway shall be constructed upon or along any street, highway or other public place within the limits of any municipality until the company shall have first obtained the consent of such municipality within which such street, highway or other public place is situate."

Another amendment provides that "a majority of the directors of the company shall be residents of Canada."

To the names of directors are added: Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson, Lord Welby, John Clutter Brock, Joseph Price and A. W. Granthers. The capital is to be reduced from $75,000,000 to $40,000,000.

ALDERMEN TALK OF CIVIC BUILDINGS.

Committee of Whole Decide to Obtain More Room.

Granolithic Walks Should be Laid Inside the Line is Engineer's Recommendation.

The Town Council in Committee of the Whole met last evening in the Town Clerk's office, and discussed various matters in connection with the administration of the town affairs.

The question of placing the new granolithic pavement on Park street between Hunter and Cedar streets, inside the tree line, was thoroughly gone into, and it was thought that on account of the narrowness of the street, and also of the probability that in a short time the street railway will be in operation on it, any new walks should be built inside the trees. The town engineer has also ascertained that the irregularity of the tree line will not permit of the walk being built on the outside. A petition has been sent to the council signed by residents on that street, asking that for the sake of uniformity, the new walk be built outside the trees, as that from Charlotte to Hunter street was, but it is not probable, in the face of the engineer's report, their request will be granted. However, the members of the council are going over the ground to-day and will decide the matter.

In reference to the proposed changes in the city buildings, which are made necessary by the increasing amount of business the town officials have to transact, his Worship suggested that any changes made should be part of a general plan for the permanent enlargement of the city buildings. The plan which found favour with the majority of the members, was to remove the fire hall to some suitable location, and take the space now occupied by the town's firemen and fire-fighting apparatus for rooms for the town officers. The tax collector's office will be removed at once, and arrangements will be made with the town commissioners to secure a temporary lease of the corner store in the Market Block, formerly used by the C.P.R. as a ticket office, in which Mr. Green's office may be located, as well as that of Mr. Hay, the Town Engineer. The Engineer was instructed to prepare plans for a reconstruction of the present town offices and firehall, with a view of deciding upon some permanent scheme for securing the much-needed additional office space. The Town Treasurer is the worst sufferer at present, and he will be given the office now occupied by Tax Collector Green, thus adding to the space available for the Town Clerk's office, which also is much too small for the great amount of business which he is called upon to handle.

The Post Office enlargement was also discussed briefly, but no action was taken on it, pending the result of a public meeting which it is proposed to hold in which an expression of opinion will be given.

The Legal Committee will meet on Monday night to consider of the Murray street grand stand, which was referred to it to deal with.

"Money seemed but poor and paltry compared to health, and yet a few dollars invested in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought me good health. I suffered for several years with general weakness and bearing-down pains, caused by womb trouble. My appetite was frightful, and I would lie awake for hours, and could not sleep, until I seemed more weary in the morning than when I retired. After reading one of its advertisements I decided to try the merits of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am so glad I did. No one can describe the good it did me. I took three bottles faithfully, and besides building up my general health, it drove all disease and poison out of my body, and made me feel as spry and active as a young girl. OPINION OF THE STEEL MANUFACTURERS

On Hon. Mr. Fielding's Bounty Plan to Assist Steel Industry

Mr. F. H. Clergue and Mr. Geo. E. Drummond Say it will Benefit Manufacturers Greatly.

Speaking of the bounty plan introduced by the Finance Minister, to assist the iron and steel industries in Canada, Mr. F. H. Clergue expressed himself as being highly satisfied with the provisions made, in the following terms to the Globe:—

"The resolution in aid of steel manufacturing, just announced, is specifically in aid of certain products intended to be produced at the new steel plants in Canada, which are at present without the benefit of a tariff impost, such as is now enjoyed by nearly all other steel products. It will greatly benefit the Dominion Steel & Iron Company, which is about ready to produce these lines on a large scale, and afford about the same degree of assistance as that which the Algoma Steeel Company at Sault Ste. Marie has secured in the form of a duty of $7 per ton on steel rails. The resolution also aids the steel industry generally by increasing in amount and extending in time the present steel and iron bonuses. All the blast furnaces and steel works in Ontario, as well as in Quebec and Nova Scotia, will enjoy this new assistance, and by it will be firmly established on a substantial and permanent basis. The excessive cost of construction, due to the extravagant prices recently prevailing, have been a very grave disappointment to both the Sydney and Sault Ste. Marie works, while the delays due to difficulty in obtaining material at any price have proved calamitous to both these great undertakings; but, with the relief now afforded, and the assurance we feel that the iron and steel duties will be revived before long, I am sure that both these large works will go on to a rapid success, to the satisfaction of their shareholders and to the credit of the industry in Canada."

Asked as to the prospect of the blast furnaces and rail mills at the "Soo", Mr. Clergue said they were ready for operation at the end of the present month, with a present capacity of 150,000 tons a year, which is considerably more than any possible requirements of the Grand Trunk Pacific.

The Montreal Herald also has the following from another high authority:—

"Speaking on behalf of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, Mr. Geo. E. Drummond in conversation with a Herald representative made the following statement:—

"I have read with much interest, Hon. Mr. Fielding's notice of resolution with regard to the iron and steel bounties.

"There can be no question but that the provisions he suggests will be of very great value to the iron and steel makers of this country at the present juncture, and more particularly to the works at Sydney, because it deals specially with articles the manufacture of which, I understand, they are about ready to undertake, etc."

In reference to the result of the bounty, the Herald also says:—

"As a result of the provision made by the Dominion Government, the official statement was made to The Herald this afternoon that the directors of the Dominion Iron and Steel Company will at once make use of the $1,500,000 obtained by the issue of new bonds to push on to completion the iron rod, hand rail and structural steel mills. The foundations of two of the mills, the wire rod and structural steel, are already laid, while arrangements have already been made with German manufacturers for the delivery of the necessary machinery.

The mills can now easily be completed by the end of the present year, and the company will be in a position to secure their portion of the market of 1904.

It is the intention of the company to discontinue, as soon as the present contracts expire, selling billets to American manufacturers, and will stop selling pig iron altogether. The entire output of raw material will be converted into steel, and afterwards manufactured into the finished product.

MORE WATER VICTIMS.

George Harcourt Goes Down in Toronto Bay—Vaughan Johnston Sinks in Seven Feet of Water.

Toronto, July 11.—George Harcourt, son of Richard Harcourt of Elm Grove avenue, was drowned at the foot of Waverley road, near Balmy Beach, yesterday morning. He was out sailing and must have rolled off into the water without any outcry, some time before his friends noticed his absence. Deceased was 19 years of age, and a night clerk at the general office of the Canadian Express Company.

Drowned in Jordan Bay.

Jordan Harbor, July 11.—A young man named Vaughan Johnston, of Niagara Falls, Ont., was drowned in the bay at this place last evening, about 8 p.m., directly in front of Jordan Harbor, P.O. He, in company with two other young men, went in bathing. All three were unable to swim. It is supposed he took a cramp, as, after sinking once or twice, he never rose. The water was not over 7 feet deep. Owing to the excitement the location of the place where he sank was lost. A number of parties were quickly at work wading and grappling, but it was half an hour before the body was recovered. Dr. Addi was at once summoned and worked over the body for nearly one hour, but life was extinct. Johnston was here in the employ of William Fretz.

Threw Himself Into River.

Ottawa, July 11.—Harold Winters, No. 1 Company, Royal Canadian Regiment, London, threw himself in the Ottawa River at Rockliffe yesterday morning. Winters had all his clothes on. He was 30 years of age, and was attending the school of musketry now going on at Rockliffe. His body has not yet been found.

CHATHAM BOY'S DEATH.

William Baxter Fell Out of Window and Broke His Skull.

Chatham, July 11.—Wm. Baxter, an old Chatham boy, but now of New York city, met a shocking death here yesterday. He came here a week ago to spend his vacation at the home of his brother-in-law, P. S. Coate, when he was seized with typhoid and removed to the public general hospital. Yesterday he asked his nurse for a glass of water, and in her momentary absence left his bed and got out of the window, two stories up, and fell to the ground. His skull was fractured and he died in two hours. He was a son of the late Col. Baxter, once chief of police of this city. He leaves a wife and two children. Deceased's mother met a similar death about seven years ago, falling on a rail in getting off a train at Glencoe and fracturing her skull, dying in a few hours.

WHAT A MOTHER SAYS.

"It gives me great pleasure to say a good word for Baby's Own Tablets. At the age of two months my baby was dreadfully constipated. He could not digest his food and screamed incessantly. I was almost in despair, but since giving him the Tablets he has been well and is growing splendidly." Such is the testimony of Mrs S. Craig, 329 Bathurst street, Toronto, and thousands of other mothers in a similar strain.

Summer is here and mothers should take special pains to guard their little ones against illness. At this season infant mortality is at its greatest; colic, diarrhoea and summer complaints can be guarded against and prevented by the use of Baby's Own Tablets. Keep a box in the house; they may save your little one's life. Sold by druggists, or may be had by mail, at 25 cents a box, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

A TRAIN'S BIG PLUNGE.

Three Engines and 20 Cars Jump Track —Five Men Disappear.

Canon City, Col., July 11.—Three engines and twenty cars of a freight train have jumped the Denver & Rio Grande track in the Royal Gorge and plunged into the Arkansas River, a sheer fall of 2,000 feet. The engines have not yet been found. Ten freight cars are also missing. The river is very deep and high and the current runs at a terrific speed. The three engineers, a fireman and a brakeman disappeared in the wreck.

For Palma Trophy.

London, July 11.—Lieut.-Col. Sherwood, who is in command of the Bisley team, expresses himself as well satisfied with the team practice. The members have been shooting in good form.

The following team has been selected from the Canadians at Bisley to represent Canada in the Palma competition to be shot off to-day: T. H. Hayhurst of the 13th, J. M. Jones of the 32nd, W. C. King of the 46th, E. C. O'Brien of the 30th, J. T. Peddie of the 5th Royal Scots, J. H. Simpson of the 10th Royal Grenadiers. J. Duff Stuart of the 6th D.C.O.R., and J. White of the 13th.

A Baby Strangled.

Galt, July 11.—The seven-months-old child of Charles Watson of Blair fell out of its carriage yesterday morning, and, getting its neck in the strap, was strangled. The mother had left the baby for only a few minutes. The shock of finding it dead on her return has prostrated her.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving remembrance of Miss Mary Manley who died July 8th, 1903, aged 27 years.

She was awaiting for the Master
To come at any time;
All ready for departure
To that celestial clime.

It was a blessed change for Mary
To lay her burdens down
And hear her precious Saviour say:
Daughter receive thy crown.

Two years and six months yet not repine
Dear Mary suffering lay
So bright and cheerful all the time
Till her spirit soared away.

Soared away to that happy home
Across the silent river
To one of the beautiful mansions
To dwell with Christ forever.

Could you but look beyond the veil
And see the angelic band
That welcomes every ransomed soul
To that sweet Beulah land.

There the beautiful lilies grow
And flowers of every clime
And sweet life-giving streamlets flow
Fed by a power divine.

Dear Mary won her victory
In the great refiners fire,
To join that glorious company
God bid her come up higher.

And now amid that countless throng
That with our Saviour dwell
With them she sings the glad new song
God doeth all things well.
May each one of us be as ready.

ELIZA DOBBIN.

His Last Hope Realized.

(From the Sentinel, Gebo, Mont.)

In the first opening of Oklahoma to settlers in 1889, the editor of this paper was among the many seekers after fortune who made the big race one fine day in April. During his travelling about and afterwards his camping upon his claim, he encountered much bad water, which, together with the severe heat, gave him a very severe diarrhoea which it seemed almost impossible to check, and along in June the case became so bad he expected to die. One day one of his neighbours brought him one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as a last hope. A big dose was given him while he was rolling about on the ground in great agony, and in a few minutes the dose was repeated. The good effect of the medicine was soon noticed and within an hour the patient was taking his first sound sleep for a fortnight. That one little bottle worked a complete cure and he cannot help but feel grateful. The season for bowel disorders being at hand suggests this item. For sale by all druggists.

No man will hesitate to speak well of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets after once trying them. They always produce a pleasant movement of the bowels, improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion. For sale by all druggists.

The Converse.

A school board inspector asked a small pupil of what the surface of the earth consists and was promptly answered, "Land and water." He varied the question slightly, that the fact might be impressed on the boy's mind, and asked:

"What, then, do land and water make."

To which came the immediate response, "Mud."—London Answers.

The secret of the excellent baking and roasting qualities of the Imperial Oxford oven is found in the diffusive flue — an improvement which no other range possesses.

This flue draws fresh air from the floor, superheats it and delivers it into the top of the oven through perforations which diffuse it evenly to front, sides and back. This gives a uniform heat throughout the oven, resulting in uniformly cooked food.

It is simple to prove the fuel economy of the heat-diffusing flue of the Lord Minto Makes Those Which Passed Both Houses Law.

BARR COLONY IS CRITICIZED.

The Opposition on the Relations of the Government With Rev. Mr. Barr's Enterprise—Mr. Sifton's Statement —Reserve of Lands to the Colonists the Only Concession Given.

Ottawa, July 11.—His Excellency the Governor-General attended in the Senate at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon and gave the royal assent to the following bills, which had passed both Houses, including an interim supply bill:

To incorporate the Home Bank of Canada.

Respecting the Quebec Bridge Company and to change its name to the Quebec Bridge and Railway Company.

Respecting the Vancouver and Coast Kootenay Railway Company.

To confer on the Commissioner of Patents certain powers for the relief of James S. McDougall.

Respecting the London and Port Stanley Railway Company.

Respecting the Rocky Mountain Railway Company.

To incorporate the New Canadian Company, Limited.

To amend Chapter 27 of the revised statutes, respecting the Department of Public Printing and Stationery.

Respecting and restricting Chinese immigration.

To amend the Customs Act.

To provide for further advances to the Harbor Commissioners of Montreal.

Respecting certain acts for the extension of the Canadian Northern Railway.

To incorporate the Lumberman's Fire Insurance Company.

To aid in the settlement of railway labor disputes.

An act for granting to His Majesty certain sums of money for the public service of the financial years ending, respectively, June 30, 1903, and June 30, 1904.

The Barr Colonists.

The woes of the Barr colony were ventilated in the Commons yesterday. The subject was brought up by Mr. E. F. Clarke, who read a speech delivered in the Northwest Legislature by Premier Haultain, in which the mismanagement of the whole affair was commented upon and a demand on the Government made for a thorough investigation. Premier Haultain's statement was, that judging from conversations with members of the Barr colony there had been gross mismanagement in its financial dealings. Mr. Clarke insisted that the Government's connection with the scheme wgs such that an investigation was necessary.

Mr. Sifton's Statement.

Mr. Sifton's defence was that he had not previously had his attention called to Mr. Haultain's speech. As to Mr. Barr, all the department had done in the way of assisting him was to set apart a certain block of land for the colony; that the department being doubtful of Mr. Barr's abilities to handle the project had seen to it that the colonists upon their arrival in Canada were well looked after. The Government had nothing to do with the financial relations between the colonists and Dr. Barr, and those of them who had applied for information at the London office had been informed there was no need of an intermediary if they wished to settle in Canada. In view of the fact that the department had had nothing to do with Mr. Barr it was not quite clear to the Minister what there was to investigate, but he promised to look into the matter.

Mr. Borden said that on the basis of two thousand immigrants, Mr. Barr would receive a bonus of $12,000, as he was getting 25 shillings per head from the steamship company, and seven shillings from the Government. Moreover, Mr. Preston had declared that "from the very first the Canadian Government had this party in charge."

Mr. Sifton said that no body of people had been treated with such consideration and care by the Department of the Interior. People were sent out to put up tents for them with stoves and temporary stopping places erected at every twenty miles of their journey on the prairie. They had also been provided with farming instructors. The immigration officials in England had more difficulty in meeting the statements against the treatment of immigrants made by members of the Opposition than in meeting complaints of the Barr colonists. Mr. Sifton declared he had proof that not a single one of the original Barr settlers had returned to England.

Mr. E. F. Clarke asked if the Minister had anything to contradict in the statement of Mr. Haultain as to the necessity for an investigation.

Mr. Sifton replied that he knew nothing of the financial relations between Mr. Barr and the colonists. All the department had to do with Mr. Barr was to set apart certain townships for the colonists, but the department had not agreed to pay Mr. Barr anything. It was unfortunate that the financial arrangements between Mr. Barr and the colonists had turned out so badly, but no complaint had been made to the department, and there was no case for investigation.

Mr. Borden submitted that it was the duty of the Government to telegraph Mr. Preston and find out if it were true that he had stated that the Government was to pay Mr. Barr seven shillings per head for the settlers.

Hon. Mr. Sifton reiterated emphatically that the Government had not paid Mr. Barr anything in any shape or form.

Mr. Borden insisted that in such a case Mr. Preston should have denied the misleading statement which was published.

Sir William Mulock quoted from the alleged report of Mr. Preston's utterances, to show that even the newspaper reports indicated that Mr. Preston had said, "Mr. Barr would probably receive seven shillings per head, but that the matter was not settled." Furthermore, the Deputy Minister had, when before the Committee on Agriculture, positively stated that Mr. Barr had not, and would not receive any commission from the Government.

This ended the discussion.

Statement in a Few Days.

In reply to a question by Mr. Haggart, Sir William Mulock said the Government would announce its transportation policy in a few days.

Sir William said that Sir William Van Horne had definitely replied that he could not act on the commission at present, and the question before the Government was whether they should postpone the issuing of the commission until Sir William Van Horne could act or should appoint someone else.

During the hour for private bills, the Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo Railway Company's bill and the Depew patent bill were read a third time and passed.

The bill to incorporate the Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia Railway Company was passed with an amendment providing that the road shall not run within five miles of the Quebec and New Brunswick Railway, except with permission of the Governor-in-Council.

The House went into committee on the estimates of the Indian Department, and made good progress.

The House adjourned at 11 o'clock.

The Bill Talked Out.

Ottawa, July 11.—The act to incorporate the Canadian Telephone and Telegraph Company was taken up by the Railway Committee yesterday morning at section eight. The bill was talked out.

Ontario Remodelled.

Ottawa, July 11.—The Redistribution Committee last night practically finished redistributing Ontario constituencies.

COULD NOT SLEEP.

On Account of Headaches and Pains in the Side.

The Sad Condition of a Bright Little Girl Until Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Came to Her Rescue.

Many young girls, seemingly in the best of health, suddenly grow listless and lose strength. The colour leaves their cheeks; they become thin, have little or no appetite, and suffer from headaches and other bodily pain. Such was the case of Bessie, youngest daughter of Mr. Chas. Cobleigh, Eaton Corner, Que. Speaking of his daughter's illness and subsequent cure, Mr. Cobleigh says:—"Up to the age of eleven, Bessie had always enjoyed the best of health and took great pleasure in out-of-door play. Suddenly, however, she seemed to lose her energy; her appetite failed her; she grew thin and pale; slept badly at night, and complained of distressing headaches in the morning. We thought that rest would be beneficial to her, and so kept her from school, but instead of regaining her strength, she grew weaker and weaker. To make matters worse, she began to suffer from pains in the side, which were almost past endurance. At this stage we decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After a couple of weeks, the good effect of this medicine was decidedly apparent. Bessie became more cheerful, her step quicker, her eyes were brighter and she seemed more like her former self. We continued giving her the pills for several weeks longer, until we felt that she had fully recovered her health and strength. I honestly believe had it not been for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, our daughter would not have recovered her health and strength, and I shall always have a good word to say for this medicine."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will cure all troubles that arise from poverty of the blood or weak nerves. Among such troubles may be classed anaemia, headache, neuralgia, erysipelas, rheumatism, heart ailments, dyspepsia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, and the ailments that render miserable the lives of so many women. Be sure you get the genuine with the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," on the wrapper around every box. Sold by all medicine dealers, or sent by mail, post paid, at 50c. per box, or six boxes for $2.50, by writing direct to the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

Color Schemes in Farms.

A man who goes in for a color scheme in farming may fairly be said to have a hobby. Lord Arlington has such a hobby, which he calls his white farm. Everything about the place that can be white is white. He has white horses, cows, and donkeys, a white bull and white hares from Siberia. The hens are all white, and so are the geese, ducks and hogs. The fences and farm buildings are painted white, and so are the farm wagons. White flowers grow in the gardens, and the farm laborers wear suits of coarse white cloth. Lord Arlington dresses in white when at the farm, but in spite of his example the vegetables insist upon coming up green and the trees still have green leaves in summer. Even a British peer cannot change that.

In New South Wales there used to be a black farm, which was an object of interest to strangers. The settler who owned it had everything painted black and would allow no animal on the place which was not black. He even went so far as to have all the farm laborers negroes.

DOGS AND WORDS.

The Canine Vocabulary Is Larger Than Is Generally Supposed—A Test for a Terrier's Understanding.

According to an expert in dogs, the canine race learns to understand if not the entire human vocabulary at any rate many more words than is commonly supposed. "Beg," "trust," "fetch it" and "cats" are by no means the limit of its knowledge.

"Pet dogs, as a rule, have a much larger vocabulary than any other kind," says the expert. "Trained dogs, the kind we find with circuses and on the stage, probably come second, and the others are ranged according to the lives they lead.

"The dog learns words much more rapidly than we suppose. In the first place, this animal is a remarkably close observer. Hearing a sound repeatedly, it soon learns to associate it with a certain object. Take the well trained hound, for instance. He soon learns what is meant by gun, shoot, hunt, deer, fox, chase and so on. Experienced hunters can furnish many evidences of the understanding of dogs when it comes to the words and phrases most frequently used in connection with the sport.

"While it cannot be claimed for hunting dogs that they have a very extensive vocabulary, they understand enough words to go about their work intelligently and at times with precision that is little less than marvelous. Pet dogs—poodles, fox terriers and animals of this kind—have a more extensive vocabulary.

"An illustration of this is found in a fox terrier belonging to the manager of a well known theatre, a terrier of royal lineage, having come from the royal kennels at Budapest.

"Few words in common use around the house are beyond the understanding of this intelligent animal. It knows the name of every article of furniture and clothing in the house.

"A test was made for the purpose of determining the accuracy of the terrier's understanding of words. 'I want you to walk on your hind feet to the front room and bite Mr. B. on the ear,' said a member of the household to the pet. Forthwith the terrier was off, and before Mr. B. knew anything about the plan the pet dog was playfully pulling at his ear.

"Here was a rather intricate command. It was not simply a command to go; it said how to go, where to go, what to do and to whom. But the terrier understood perfectly.

"Now, here is a dog having an extraordinary vocabulary, understanding, no doubt, no fewer than 250 words. This one case will show that the pet dog has a wider understanding of words than dogs belonging to any other class, and there is a reason for it of course. They are talked to constantly and naturally learn to associate certain sounds with certain objects."—London Express.

These Are Not Irish Bulls.

Others besides Irishmen blunder when unexpected demands are made upon them. A well known public man was lately assured by the chairman that the assembly welcomed him "with no unfeigned pleasure," at which the visitor was so embarrassed as to say, "I—I'm always glad to be here—or anywhere else." It was an English Mayor who ordered an interrupter to sit down and go out.

A suburban speaker suggested that the pending proposition "be postponed to the future—or some other time." The appointment by a midland authority of a lady as medical officer brought a protest "against women becoming medical men," which reminds one of the convening of a meeting of "women of every class, regardless of sex or condition."—London Tatler.

Out His Foot.

Eleric, the bright little son of Mr. E. H. White, upholsterer, 303 Rubidge street, had his foot badly cut on Friday afternoon. He was playing in the creek opposite R. Hicks & Co's wood yard, where he must have stepped on some glass or tin, which penetrated the sole of his foot. The lad was taken to Dr. Coughlin's surgery where the would was stitched and properly bandaged.

At Idyl Wyld.

Idyl-Wild was taken by storm this week. A number of the largest excsions and picnics of the season visited the breezy island. All spent a jolly time and were simply delighted with this cool resort. Mr. Hutchinson, the lessee, did all in his power to contribute to the pleasure of the visitors, and proved himself a popular host. The natural beauty of the island, the shady trees, and refreshing breezes, make Idyl Wild still a favourite spot. The steamers run regularly to the island.

BISHOP O'CONNOR IN NEW ONTARIO.

His Lordship Tells of the Prosperous Condition of the Church in the North.

Remarkable Industrial Development Manifested—Pulp and Lumbering Industries are Increasing.

His Lordship Bishop O'Connor, has just returned from a trip through a portion of his very extensive diocese, and graciously granted an interview to the Examiner.

Speaking in a general way of the state of the work throughout New Ontario, where he spent most of his time, His Lordship said that he found all the churches in a very flourishing condition. The great influx of settlers into that part of the province had brought a largely increased membership to the church, and everywhere in the diocese great prosperity was being experienced. The Bishop's trip, in fact, was made necessary by the prosperous state of the different churches in that section, and his duties have been principally making arrangements for enlarging already spacious places of worship, and in not a few instanoss, preparing to build new edifices.

At North Bay, by reason of the rapid growth of the town, occasioned by the construction of the new Government railway, the good effect of which on the business life of the province, is already being felt, a new stone church, with a seating capacity of 1,000 will be built, and tenders will be called for its construction in about three weeks. In this town, which is rapidly becoming an important railway centre, between one-third and one-fourth of the population are members of the Catholic church, so that a building of the capacity as stated above, is not at all too large. The condition of things in North Bay is but an index to that existing throughout the whole Nipissing District. At Sturgeon Falls, a new town but one which has a most promissing future ahead of it, the church building has been doubled in size, and this is but a temporary provision, it is believed, as the prospects are that in a short time a still larger building will be a necessity. The cause of the rapid growth in the population of this town is the construction of large pulp mills on the Sturgeon river, utilizing the immense power which the falls at this point produce. The buildings, which are entirely of stone, have all been completed, and the machinery is now being installed. Not only is pulp to be manufactured, but as has has been the almost universal experience with pulp concessions made by the Ontario Government, the conditions under which the concessions were granted, have been more than met, and the company will not only make pulp but will also go into the manufacture of paper very extensively, the machinery for which is also being installed. The Bishop was pleased to notice on some of the paper making machinery, the name of a local firm, the William Hamilton Manufacturing Company, and upon questioning the manager found that this was the only firm in Canada from which this particular machinery could be procured. It is manufactured in the United States at Watertown, but the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Company, with its usual enterprise, foreseeing the demand which will develop for Canadian made paper-making machinery, secured the right to manufacture them in Canada, the result being that an immediate market was found in Sturgeon Falls.

The Sturgeon Falls Pulp and Paper Company took out a quantity of pulp wood last winter and will begin the manufacture of pulp and paper about Sept. 1st on a large scale. The Bishop found that among the many new settlers who had come to that section a good proportion of them were members of the Catholic church. Verner and Warren villages along the Soo Line were next visited and at the former arrangements were made to build a stone church with a seating capacity of 700 next year, and at Warren a new and larger church of brick veneer is to be built. The state of the work at Sudbury under the direction of Father Primeau was the cause of much satisfaction to his Lordship, and also at Copper Cliff, where the resumption of work at the smelters and mines of the Canadian Copper Company has improved the conditions very materially, and brightened the future prospects.

At Blazerd Valley, a new settlement 12 miles north-west of Sudbury, a new church has been built to meet the spiritual needs of a community of about 200 Catholic families, which number is rapidly increasing. The land in that section is admirably adapted to farming and those who have located there are prosperous.

At Nairn Centre the erection of a new frame church has just been commenced, to have a much greater seating capacity than the one which it is to replace. Lumbering operation in the vicinity of this place have assumed large proportions resulting in a rapidly increasing population, for which the church is anxious to provide a place of worship.

Espanola, a new town, which like Sturgeon Falls owes its increasing population to the establishment of pulp mills, is about six miles north of Webbwood at Spanish Falls, and here the Spanish River Pulp Company is erecting an immense mill and a large town is sure to be the result. The Catholics here are taking time by the forelock and a brick church which will be a credit to the denomination will be built. His Lordship visited Blind River, and the prosperous condition of the church is indicated by the fact that he gave confirmation to 47 persons, who recently united with the church. Blind River is one of the most progressive towns on the North Shore. Two large saw mills are running night and day, and the population has quadrupled during the last two years, necessitating increased church accommodation, for which preparation is now being made. Thessalon was the next town to which the Bishop paid a visit, and here, too, a large addition was made to the membership of the church, 48 being confirmed by His Lordship.

At Sault Ste. Marie, which was the last town visited by His Lordship, the churches were found to be in a good healthy condition. A new church and school has just been erected to provide the Catholics of that progressive town with the educational and church facilities which their members demanded. In speaking of the general condition of the town, the Bishop said that the business men were not feeling very jubilant, because of the apparently unsettled condition of the Consolidated Lake Superior Company's affairs. They are hopeful, however, that a speedy readjustment of the financial situation will enable the company to proceed with the extensive works contemplated, and partially completed.

His Lordship did not on this trip visit the more northerly parts of his large diocese, but at every point visited the churches were all found to be in a flourishing condition, and the people prosperous, and altogether the Bishop was much pleased with the state of his church in the new parts of the province. He stated that wherever suitable farming land was found the Catholics were settling, and he looks with pleasant expectations to the future of the church in New Ontario.

Mr. K. Hardley-Wilmot, New Manager, Has Assumed His Duties.

Mr. K. Eardley-Wilmot, late manager of the Almonte Branch of the Bank of Montreal has arrived in Peterborough, and has assumed his duties as manager of the local branch. In conversation with an Examiner representative, Mr. Wilmot expressed himself as being highly pleased with Peterborough, and has great confidence in its future. He said he expected to see a city of 25,000 people in a few years. Speaking of the bank it has a capital of $15,000,000, and a rest account of about $9,000,000 ,showing that the people of Canada have confidence in the stability of the bank when its business had been so successful. He looked forward to an increasing amount of business being done at the local branch. Particular attention will be given to farmers' business, which is an important factor.

CHIEF JUSTICE ARMOUR DEAD.

Passed Away in London, England.

BRIEF SKETCH OF HIS LIFE.

Born and Spent Early Life in Otonabee—Advanced to Position of Judge of Supreme Court.

The Examiner was advised this morning by cablegram, from London, England, of the death of Chief Justice, Hon. John Douglas Armour, Judge of the Supreme Court of Canada, which occurred in London, at the home of his son, Dr. Donald Armour, where the Chief Justice has been living for some time. The late Justice Armour was appointed on the Board of Commissioners to arbitrate the Alaskan Boundary Question, and it was while on his way to London for that purpose that he was taken ill with a serious stomach trouble which resulted in his death.

Peterborough people feel very keenly the death of the late Honourable Judge, because of the fact that among the older residents he was well known, having been born on what is still known as Armour's Hill, his father having been a rector of the Church of England, and started the building of St. John's church, which has since become such a creit to the denomination. Mr. A. H. Peck, of Ashburnham, is a brother-in-law of the late Justice Armour, having married his sister. The late Justice has left a family of five sons and five daughters. The sons are, Douglas, a lawyer of Montreal; Stuart, a lawyer of Seattle, Wash.; George, a mining engineer, also of Seattle, Wash.; Donald, a doctor, in London, Eng.; and Eric, who is also following in his father's footsteps, and is now practicing law in Toronto. The daughters are Mrs. Hayter Reed of Quebec; Mrs. Bolte, Toronto; Mrs. Jack Drynan, Toronto; Mrs. Stewart Gordon, Toronto; and Mrs. Edmond Bristol, Toronto, the two latter being with their father at his death.

The late Hon. John Douglas Armour, judge and jurist, was the youngest son of the late Rev. Samuel Armour, for many years Anglican Rector of Cavan, Durham, Ont., and was born in Otonabee, County of Peterborough, Ont., May 4th, 1830. Educated at the local schools, at U. C. College, and at the University of Toronto, where he won a double scholarship, and graduated 1850, carrying off the gold medal in classics. He studied law under his brother, the late Robert Armour, and in the office of the late Chancellor Vankoughnet, and was called to the bar in 1853. Entering into partnership with the late Hon. Sidney Smith, Mr. Armour began practice in the town of Cobourg. In November, 1857, this partnership was dissolved and he practised alone. In the sixties he formed a partnership with H. E. Holland, this connection continuing until the close of the judge's career at the bar. He was appointed County Crown Attorney for Northumberland and Durham March 27th, 1858, Clerk of the Peace for the same counties, May 11th, 1861, and a Q.C. by Lord Monck, 1867. Mr. Armour was Warden for the united counties, 1859-60; was elected a Senator of Toronto University 1859, and became a bencher of the Ontario Law Society, 1871. Appointed a Puisne Judge of the Court of Queen's Bench, on Mr. Blake's recommendation November 30th, 1877; he was promoted President of the Court by Sir John Macdonald November, 14th, 1887. He was in May, 1896 included in a committee for the revision of the Ontario Statutes. The late Chief Justice had more than once declined a knighthood. He was a member of the Church of England, and married in 1856, Eliza, daughter of the late Freeman S. Clench, of Cobourg. It is stated that when in private life Mr. Armour was a Conservative in politics; later he changed his views, and became a supporter of Mr. Blake. In 1874 he was offered the Liberal nomination in connection with the representation of West Northumberland in the House of Commons, but declined. He was believed to hold the opinion that the political independence of Canada would tend greatly to the advancement of our best interests.

His death has removed from the Bench one of the best known and most highly respected judges who ever honoured it with his occupancy, and the claims of Canada in the Alaskan Boundary dispute have lost one of their most able champions.

SPRINTING RECORD BROKEN.

D. Belland at Oval Last Night ran 100 Yards in 9 4-5 Thus Breaking Canadian Record.

An event of considerable interest in sporting circles took place at the oval last night, when D. Belland succeeded in lowering the Canadian record for 100 yards sprint. Carr, of Montreal, in the M.A.A.A., held the Canadian record, which was 10 seconds, but Belland, on a Peterborough track, and under the colours of the Excelsior Baseball Club, an amateur association, succeeded in doing the 100 yards in 9 4-5, thus lowering the record by 1-5, and bringing to Peterborough the honour of having been the birthplace of a new Canadian record.

A large number were present to witness the race among them being many ladies, and all expressed themselves as being astonished at the speed with which Mr. Belland got over the ground.

The new champion is a Canadian, having been born in Quebec, and has letters from amateur associations there attesting to his amateur standing. After spending the summer in Canada, he will go to England, to represent this country in sprinting events in the old land, being sent by the Montreal Y.M.C.A. The Excelsior club presented Mr. Belland with a medal in recognition of his record made here last night. Mr. Charles Martin of Peterborough, has been training Mr. Belland since he came here, and to his efficient work Mr. Belland gives the credit for his success last night.

Mr. Elliott's wholesale trade has grown so rapidly that he now occupies two double and two single stores, with wholesale warerooms, bonded warerooms, retail store, offices, etc.—in fact, the whole of the Snowden block, except one small shop —is now monopolized by his liquor business.

CANADIAN GENERAL ANGLING CLUB

Now Absent on a Three Day's Expedition to White Lake.

The Composition and Equipment of the Party.

The Canadian General Angling Club started upon an exploration to-day with the object of worming themselves into the confidence of the fishes of White Lake. This morning a party consisting of the following drove out to Lakefield on the first stage of their journey. The party consisted of Messrs. A. Sharpe, commodore; A. Patterson, captain; R. H. Shepperd, secretary and treasurer; J. Wilson, N. Munro, T. Moldon, J. McCabe, J. Brown, G. Scott, Geo. Mewat, L. Spry, R. Donald, — McKeown, Charles Robertson, — Scott, — Girard, Fred Roose, J. Williams, — Panter, Frank Bradburn, and others whose names could not be ascertained. The party will be met at the conclusion of their drive to Lakefield by Mr. Donel's steam yacht, the Maytlower, and proceed to Gilchrist's Bay, and thence to the camp between Stony Lake and White Lake, the latter being the scene of their fishing operations.

Like piscatorial veterans, the members of the club are well equipped. They will take with them two tents, one a marquee 15 x 25, and a dining tent of a similar size. Mr. John Trumbley, chef de cuisine, is so important a character, that his presence could not be dispensed with. Mr. Jos. Begley, the "official liar" of the club, was unable to join the party, and though there is no disparagement of his abilities, yet the mere act of fishing seems to develop spontaneously and automatically the qualities of magnifying the number and weight of fish caught, to such a degree that any member of the club in case of necessity can undertake the duties which the "official liar" is by courtesy supposed to be charged with. The party also takes with them a bard in the person of a namesake of the immortal Scotch bard—Scott.

A keen competition will be held for the King Edward Bait, whatever that means.

The party is expected to return on Monday night, laden down with fish, fish stories, mosquito bites and sunburn.

GENERALLY SPEAKING

"THE FLAG that's braved a thousand years the battle and the breeze," is the beautiful expression of a glorious fact. It is true in the abstract, but the flag as a bit of bunting or silk, is not quite up to the millenary mark. "The King never dies," is a saying indicating the perpetuity of kingship, but the individual king changes very often. The flag never dies, that is, as a symbol, but as a fabric, as a material symbol, its life is measured by less than a generation. The colours of the Fifty-Seventh Regiment are at present not a credit to the Regiment, not something to be proud of—not a credit to the corps, but a disgrace to any self-respecting body of men, or any loyal community. They might have served in their present condition, with fitness, for Falstaff's "ragged regiment." They are things of shreds and patches, tattered and torn, so that they will not hold together. If they had been shredded and pierced with bullets in the forefront of battle, their condition might be regarded as glorious, but when they are eaten away by the tooth of time, and moths, their glory has departed. "Ichabod" is written large all over their tattered folds. When regard is had to the condition of the colours, they might aptly quote, with a variation of tense, the regimental motto, "Quis separavit — who has parted our texture and filled us with rents." The colours are hopelessly shabby, the silk so rotted away that it will not bear the weight of the bullion fringe. They are so disgraceful and so rotten in texture that they can't be unfurled. The 57th went in state to Picton, but they daren't show their colours, daren't unfold them for fear a whiff of wind would below them away piece-meal like sere and faded autumn leaves. The colours are of a venerable age, coeval with Confederation. They were presented to the regiment in 1868 by the ladies of Peterborough; so long ago that it would be cruelty to expect any lady who had a share in the function to acknowledge that she is of an age to have had a hand in the event.

NOW IS ANOTHER opportunity for the ladies to show their loyalty to the Empire and their interest in the splendid body of men who are practically without colours. Some movement is on foot to raise funds to buy new colours, but as only men are concerned in it we cannot hope for success. If the ladies will enter earnestly into the project it will, it must, succeed. If the ladies of a population of about 5,000 (Peterboro and Ashburnham) in '68 could furnish colours as they did without difficulty, when they put their minds to it, it should be an easy matter for the ladies of a population of 14,000 or 15,000 to raise the comparatively small fund necessary to purchase a new stand of colours. If the ladies only set about it in earnest they can succeed—"for when she will, she will, you may depend on it." There is loyalty to the Empire and loyalty to our town and regiment involved in the call made upon our ladies. As a class our ladies can't go forth to war but they can help weave the sinews of war and stand by and help those who fight their battles and the battles of our country and Empire. And their co-operate is urgently called for in respect of the urgent demand for new colours for the 57th.

FREE POSTAL DELIVERY seems to be dead for the moment. Alderman Morrison, who is credited with inaugurating and promoting the scheme, has had a big share of cold water thrown upon it. No matter how welcome cold water may be this hot weather, yet it is not relished as prejudicially affecting a subject which has much to be said in its favour. Free postal delivery would no doubt be an accommodation to the mass of the people outside the business limits of the town. The business section of the town has been heard from and seems to be solidly against the proposition. Their side has been heard, their objections stated and now is the opportunity for the section in favour of the scheme to present its case. Free postal delivery would not only be a credit to the town, but an undoubted convenience in many ways; and it remains to be seen whether its admitted advantages can be balanced with the admitted disadvantages as suggested by our business men.

WE ARE PROUD of Peterborough with just cause. It is enterprising, progressive and beautiful, and can be made more so. The citizens generally take an interest in beautifying their homes, but their are many who in the process of making their own places neat and attractive do so at the expense of the public. That is the rakings of rubbish, leaves, tree prunnings, etc., are cast into the street till some sections of some streets look like bush clearing in a new settlement. This is wrong, and gives strangers a bad impression of the town. While many persons spend much time and effort to beautify their places, they are not helped by the town authorities. For instance. Mr. John Trombley, Charlotte street has built up a neat, cosy home for himself, by dint of working long hours after a hard day's work. Along the front of his two lots he has one of the finest cedar hedges in town. A day or so ago a horse belonging to the vicinity was tethered to a stone in a vacant lot. The animal strayed to pastures new, and in his search went too and fro through the hedge, injuring it in a beastly way, and damaging besides the garden it enclosed. This is an outrage. The labour and careful tending of years destroyed or marred by a law-breaking horse. For there is a bylaw forbidding the tethering of stock on the streets. This bylaw should be strictly enforced. It is shameful that this work of years should be destroyed by vagraat cows or horses.

LAST EVENING'S BAND CONCERT

Attended by a Very Large Number of Persons.

No better encouragement could have been given the 57th Regimental Band than the very large numbers of persons who assembled in the Court House Park last evening to hear them play.

The programme of ten pieces was rendered with transparent clearness and was enthusiastically received.

It had been stated that the band stand would be formally opened by Mayor Roger, however this did not take place as his worship was attending a meeting of the Committee of the Whole. The programme was opened by a march entitled "With Sword and Lance" which was followed by a pretty overture "Banner and Dichter" by Suppe. A Novelette entitled "Hiawatha" and composed by Haine was well received, while Mr. Gillogly sang "The Palms" with remarkable effect. The sixth item on the programme was Godfrey's "Reminiscences of Scotland" a piece ending in an appropriate manner. Other pieces played were "Song and Dance" by Mandy, Cake Walk, "Mississippi Bubble", Haine, a medley "Harvest Days" by Challaway, a piece entitled "Clorinda" and Manly's "Viscount Nelson". Of these the "Mississippi Bubble" and "Viscount Nelson" seemed to please the extensive audience the most.

The concert concluded about ten o'clock.

SCRAPS IN THE HOUSE.

What the Going Out of the Commons Lights Suggested to One Writer—Some Notable Occasions.

Day by Day in The Toronto News says: The other night, in the House of Commons, the lights went out. While candles were being sent for the members listened to a song sung by one of the men in the Press Gallery. In the darkness no one on the floor of the House knew whence the melody proceeded, and when the identity of the singer was discovered he was permitted to go unwhipt of justice, although he had smashed the constitution, and made bag of the rules of the House. The incident seems likely to point the way to a very desirable method of palliating the acrimonies of debate. When an honorable member's mordant satire becomes too cutting; when his opponents "writhe"—as the other fellows' newspapers put it—what would be the matter with the Sergeant-at-Arms touching a switch, and throwing the House into darkness? An official bard or chaunter might be appointed, at a suitable salary. His duty it would be instantly to break into song and to soothe the excited legislators. Col. Smith could safely be trusted with plenary discretion as to when he should bring in the cimmerian case for objugatory and incendiary debate. The Colonel, in his position as Sergeant-at-Arms already possesses a deal of power, the which he exerts with judgment and acceptance. He could, if he so desired, and Mr. Speaker so desired, drag from the Chamber a contumacious member. Happily, these forceful ministrations have never been demanded of the Colonel. In these mild-mannered days, gentlemanly Commoners have abandoned this whilom habit of periodically fighting on the floor of the House with their fists—which is not the correct method—instead of their tongues—which is what they are there for. It was not always thus. It is not so many years since Col. Macdonnell, Col. Smith's predecessor, was called upon to remove from the Chamber a burly Maritime Province member, who insisted upon acting disorderly. The man from down East was a big fellow, but Col. Macdonnell was no dwarf, and he had the legislator rushed through the door in a trice. In fact, the operation was so quickly performed that the House marvelled and then applauded. The Sergeant-at-Arms is permitted, if necessary, to call in the aid of messengers or policemen if he finds his man too much for him. This was done at Westminster not so long ago. Here in Canada our statesmen do better than that.

Perhaps the most memorable disturbance that has ever taken place in the Ottawa halls was the fight between Dr Orton, M.P., and Mr. E. W. Thomson, then a Canadian journalist. Mr. Thomson had written something that Dr. Orton disapproved of, and the legislator expressed his dissatisfaction vi et armis. They say the struggle was very Homeric, very bloody, and very disastrous to the wearing apparel of the gentlemen concerned. By all accounts—the incident happened fifteen years ago, and more—the battle ended in a draw. Nobody was seriously hurt, and Dr. Orton had no desire to pursue the subject farther. One day four or five years ago Sir Richard Cartwright became involved in some slight trouble with Rodolphe Lafer-riere, a French-Canadian newspaperman, and a Liberal at that. Laferriere was one of a crowd of journalists who were standing at the entrance to the lobby one afternoon just before the sitting commenced. Along came Sir Richard in hot haste to find his place in the Chamber. The Minister found some difficulty in pushing through the crowd. Laferriere jostled him, and the rather quick tempered old gentleman seized the newspaperman and gave him a good shaking. Laferriere was about as choleric as Sir Richard, and, not wanting to retort in kind, he threatened to have the Minister summoned for assault, unless an apology was made. Sir Richard believed that the newspaperman had intentionally bumped into him, and for a day or so matters were at a deadlock. Finally, Sir Richard was convinced that he was mistaken as to Laferriere's attitude, and the old gentleman handsomely expressed his regrets. Everybody was satisfied and the incident was closed.

Poor Nicholas Flood Davin had a pretty thorough knowledge of the rules of the House. He had studied the code very thoroughly, and between him and Col. Smith there existed a marked, though quite good-humored, difference of opinion as to a member's right to remain covered while in one of the galleries. Davin held that, for instance, he could sit in the Press Gallery with his hat on. "A member is as much a member in the galleries as he is on the floor," insisted Davin. "Perhaps you're right," Col. Smith would answer, "but if you attempted to sit in the Press Gallery or in any other gallery with your hat on, I should consider it my duty to remove you." Davin would smilingly insist that, in such case, the Sergeant-at-Arms would be exceeding his powers. But the question remained academic. Davin never tested the Colonel's powers, and the good feeling between them subsisted until the clever Irishman's last day in the House.

Drowned at Ottawa.

Ottawa, July 9.—Arthur Burt, 13 years of age, son of Jos. Burt, Inkerman street, Hull, was drowned last evening while in swimming near the Eddy Works. He was with two companions and was drawn into a swirling eddy. The body was recovered in a very few minutes after the accident.

A Bad Mix.

A sorter employed at the postoffice was discovered by a friend the other evening in his "diggings" looking very rueful indeed.

"I'm in a frightful hole," he said. "I went to see two doctors yesterday and got a medical certificate from each. One was a certificate of health for a life insurance company and the other was a certificate of illness to send to the chief with my petition for a week's leave of absence."

"I've often done that myself," said his friend. "What's the matter?"

"Matter! Why, I mixed the certificates in posting them. The insurance company has my certificate of ill health and the chief has my certificate of good health."—London Standard.

Ferrol in Summer.

Those who are prevented by want of time, or lack of means, or both, from going to the mountains or the seaside during the heated term, often feel the need of a concentrated and easily assimilated food to afford proper nourishment when ordinary food cloys the appetite and clogs the digestion.

To combat the depressing and enervating effects of hard work in the hot weather there is nothing like FERROL. Do not imagine that, because FERROL contains Cod Liver Oil, it is therefore unsuited for summer use. Nothing could be more erroneous. FERROL is a food quite as much as a medicine: it is, moreover, a highly concentrated food and so scientifically prepared that it is almost ready for instant absorption. It therefore furnishes the most valuable nourishment without impairing the digestion in the slightest.

When the hot weather comes, and you begin to feel languid, depressed and unfit for business, just try FERROL. You will find it pleasant to take, easy to eigest and absolutely infallible in its results.

THE TIMES CORRESPONDENT.

Walter B. Harris, Who Was Recently Captured by Morocco Robbers.

Mr. Walter B. Harris, The Times correspondent in Morocco, who has been made prisoner by a robber tribe there, is a Fellow of the Royal Geographical Society and was educated in Harrow and Cambridge University. Five years ago he was married to Lady Mary Saville, the beautiful daughter of the Earl of Mexborough. He is one of the most venturesome travelers, and has won fame in recent years by his exploits among the Mohammedans. One of his latest adventures, before his present exploration of the country surrounding Zeenat, was the journey in Yemen, in the southwestern part of Arabia, where he traveled disguised as a Mussulman during the rebellion against the Turks. He started from Aden, accompanied only by one servant and a guide. When he reached the frontier he succeeded, by means of his disguise, in obtaining permit to pass into Turkish territo . He was compelled to do most of his traveling by night during the day the little party hid in the jungle. The explorer was nineteen days in reaching Sena, the capital of the country. On his arrival there his disguise was penetrated by the Turkish authorities, who threw him into prison. They compelled him to live for two weeks in an underground cell. After a week he fell ill with fever, and while the fever was raging the Turks sent him through the mountains westward of Hodeida, on the Red Sea coast, under an escort of soldiers. The journey, covering a little less than two hundred miles, occupied five days. Then he was sent over the border, with the warning that if he returned he would be hung by the thumbs, the extreme penalty for trespassers.

Dodd's Kidney Pills Credited With Another Victory Over Lumbago.

John Ball, a Quebec Bricklayer, Tells how his Troubles Vanished When he Tried the Great Canadian Kidney Remedy.

Quebec, July 5th, (Special.) — One more remarkable cure has been marked up to the credit of Dodd's Kidney Pills in this city. John Ball, bricklayer, of 57 Little Champlain street, is the man cured. Interviewed regarding the matter he said:

"I have been troubled with lumbago for two years and have not been able to do any work. I was also suffering from urinary troubles and had to get up at night so much that my rest was spoiled.

"I bought one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills and after using them began to see and feel a change. I have used three boxes and I am now cured."

Similar cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills are reported so frequently that it seems safe to say that Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure any form of Kidney Complaint or any disease caused by disordered kidneys.

Wet Coal Burns Best.

An accident has revealed to officials of the British navy that coal which has been immersed in water has higher evaporative qualities and longer endurance than coal fresh from the pit's mouth. Experts believe that experiments now going on will produce a complete revolution in coaling stations. If the coal can be kept under water it will last longer and be cheaper to guard and store.

As the coal burned by British warships alone costs $10,000,000 a year, the item of economy in all the navies and merchant marines of the world if wet coal really does burn better will be considerable.

HAS ROMANTIC SIDE

DUTIES OF INTERNATIONAL TELEGRAPH CONGRESS.

Began Work in London on May 26—Sublime Simplicity of Telegraphy—The World's Nerve Centre—Some of the Recognized Codes—Wonderful Minuteness of Detail—Theme for a Novelist.

Without pomp or circumstance, or any of the advertisement that usually heralds a great national or international gathering, there opens in London to-day (May 26, 1903) one of the greatest and most practical of all international conferences that the world has so far been able to agree upon.

It is a conference that affects more nearly and directly the daily life and bread-and-butter interests of the people of the world than all The Hague peace conferences of other political gatherings the high politicians of the world have dreamed of.

The International Telegraph Conference will be held in the Examination Hall of the Royal Colleges of Physicians and Surgeons, on the Thames Embankment, and will be opened this morning by Mr. Austen Chamberlain, the Postmaster-General.

At this conference every nation in the world civilized enough to be a user of the telegraph—which, of course, means the whole of the civilized world—is represented, with one most notable exception. That exception is the United States of America. But though, for reasons purely technical and capable only of technical explanation, the United States is not directly represented in the conference, it yet fully shares in the effects of all its deliberations.

The International Telegraph Conference discuss and amicably arrange every point of every sort relating to the exchange of telegraphic communications between all the ends and parts of the earth.

If you should wish to travel from London to, say, Manchuria, or to the interior of Argentina or of Persia, you would need to spend quite a little time and anxiety in fortifying yourself with the very necessary permits to insure your reaching your destination unmolested by troublesome customs and military authorities, and to reach it in reasonable time.

Sublime Simplicity.

If you wanted to telegraph to these places you would simply go to the nearest telegraph office—it might be in a grocer's shop at the next corner—and hand in your message in the simple and sublime assurance that it would be delivered to your correspondent in Manchuria or Persia or Argentina within a few hours and without the slightest trouble to you or to him.

This though your message might convey immensely more important news to him than you could carry if you took the long journey yourself.

And you would most likely complain strongly if your telegram were delayed an hour or two, though you in person might be delayed for days at some frontier by some stupid frontier officer.

All these delicate matters of the free passage of the telegraphic correspondence of the world all over the world the International Telegraph Conference arranges. Its work and the result of its work are worthy the pen of the world's greatest novelist.

The conference meets about every five years. The present meeting is two years belated. It should have been held in 1901, which was the golden jubilee year of the establishment of international submarine telegraphy. It is held in turn in the world's great capitals. There were other things of moment to the world occupying the British Empire's capital two years ago. So the conference was postponed.

But though the International Conference meets only once in five years, there exists all the time an International Telegraph Bureau, which the conferences direct, that does for the telegraphic communications of the world what The Hague bureau may do for the peace of the world—when the millennium is a little nearer.

The World's Nerve Centre.

This bureau is located at Berne, Switzerland. It is the nerve centre of the world's telegraphs. It is the court of arbitration and medium of amicable arrangement of all the difficulties that arise in the way of the free interchange of telegraphic correspondence between all the ends of the earth. It is a prosaic business office full of infinite poetry.

"Berne," as the bureau is known in every telegraph office in the world, is in closer touch with all the world than are all the world's rulers and politicians.

If revolutionaries in the Balkans cut the wires, or British Generals in South Africa seize the cables, or storms or earthquakes or any other cause interrupt the free flow of the world's telegraphic correspondence, "Berne" is the first to know of it, and "Berne" notifies every telegraph office in the wide world, and immediately sets to work to contrive how best the break may be bridged without offending the national interests or susceptibilities of any nation.

The first duty of every nation is to notify "Berne" of an interruption or alteration in its telegraphic arrangements. The first duty of "Berne" is to notify every other nation. "Berne" is the centre of everything telegraphic, and "CQ," in the nomenclature of telegraphy, is the circumference of everything.

A message from anywhere addressed "Berne" finds its way by the quickest route and ahead of every other message to the International Bureau; and a message from Berne addressed simply "CQ" finds its way ahead of every other message to every telegraph office in the wide world.

Recognized Codes.

Every city in the world has its recognized code. London is "LN," New York is "NV," Suez is "SZ." Monte Video is "MV." A message sent from Berne addressed simply "IQ" would quickly find its way to Iquique, far away on the west coast of South America.

But "CQ" means "all stations," and a message from Berne, telling, perhaps, of interruption to West Indian cables because of the eruption at Martinique, or of the stoppage of cipher telegrams to South Africa because of the Boer war, would be passed from one station and Government, and cable company to another, until it reached every telegraph office in the world.

This is only a minor duty of the International Telegraph Bureau at Berne, it illustrates the world-wide touch bureau has of the telegraphic communications of the world. And what Berne does in this detail it also does in every other detail affecting telegraphic correspondence.

The conference of the telegraphic authorities of the world which meets to-day in London will report the result of its deliberations and its decisions to Berne, and on the basis of these decisions Berne will regulate the telegraphic correspondence of the world.

For Berne is very much more than a mere information bureau. It is an international clearing house and arbitration tribunal. It was created in 1868, as "a central office to collect, arrange, and publish information of all kinds relating to international telegraphy; to circulate requests for modifications of tariffs and service regulations, to give notice of changes adopted, and generally to study all subjects and execute all work intrusted to it in the interest of international telegraphy."

Everything relating to the internal telegraph service of the various countries is communicated to Berne, and so to one another; every improvement any country may introduce, all alterations of tariff, opening of new lines and closing of old ones, all about new experiments, even the times during which offices are open.

As showing the minuteness of detail with which Berne deals, it is interesting to note that Berne says that "between all offices of different States the signal for closing is given by the office belonging to the State whose capital is situated furthest West." This trifling rule illustrates vividly how Berne settles a very possible international quarrel between a Persian operator who may want to hurry home to see his sweetheart and a Russian telegraphist who, at the usual hour of closing, has still on hand a message from a prosaic Cannon Street merchant ordering a bale of something, by next steamer, from his Parsee agent in Bombay.

Every difficulty of every sort that might arise between nations in the transmission of telegrams is dealt with by Berne.

Some day some great novelist will take Berne as his theme and write a story of fact that will shame all tales of the purely imaginative story tellers.

The exponses of the Berne bureau are borne by the respective Governments in the order of their telegraphic importance, as denoted by classes.

It is interesting that in the first class come Great Britain, Germany, the Argentine Republic, Brazil, France, British India, Italy, Russia, and Turkey. Then come Austria, Spain, and Hungary. In the third class are Belgium, Norway, Sweden, Holland, and Roumania.

Denmark and Japan come in the fourth class, with some of the British colonies. Portugal, Greece, and Servia are in the fifth class, while in the last Persia, Montenegro, and some smaller colonies of European States.—London Express.

THE BAREFACED MEN

PRESENT FASHION IN THE FACES OF CANADIAN MEN.

Consideration of the Reasons Why They Denude Themselves of Facial Hair—The Day of Whiskers—Will It Ever Come Back Again?—Most Men Look Younger Without Beard or Moustache.

The time was when the chiefest delight of the young man just embarking in the world consisted in his budding and immature whiskers. He inspected their progress at least twice a day; to stimulate their growth—if the novelists of the time spoke truly—he besmeared the filmy down with bear's grease, Macassar oil, and other detestible and evil compounds. Whiskers he looked on as the only thing necessary to his being a perfect man. We all remember the way Dickens described Mr. Feeder, B. A., and Mr. Feeder's whiskers. And there was the young fellow who besought Barber Sweedlepipe to "go gently over the jumps." David Copperfield's step-father, too, the saturnine and sanguinary Murdstone was drawn clean-shaved. Thus was his innate villainy made apparent at one sweep of the brush. And Thackeray's young beaux all rejoiced in magnificent whiskers, which would to-day be described in new-English as "skilligans." The whisker has disappeared for good and all; the beard yet remains with some of the more conservative of our citizens, but the Anglo-Saxon world to-day is full of clean-shaved young men. Even the Englishman has sacrificed his beloved moustache. Canadians and Americans are nearly all destitute of any hair on the face. They all look like curates, actors or professional baseball players. It is not a fashion. It is an indication of the overwhelming desire of some men to look younger than they are, says The Toronto News; of others to show themselves as possessing good features; of still others the remnant of a sort of inveterate conservatism. They began as clean-shaven boys; now they are and will remain clean-shaven men.

But there must be another reason. Imitativeness must have something to do with it. Look at the pictures of amazingly broad-shouldered and amazingly well dressed young gentlemen displayed in the advertisements in the daily newspapers. In the whole months, parade of swells you shall not find more than one to whom the artist has presented a moustache. And not a single specimen is allowed a beard. It seems to be a case of the rankest, most offensive discrimination. Do not men with moustaches buy ready-to-wear clothes? Are men with beards too purse-proud to allow anybody but the high-priced merchant tailors sell them clothes? Why should nobody but hairless-faced young men impress the public from the advertising columns? It is time for the whiskered, the moustached citizens to resent this insult. For centuries men devoted time, and thought, and energy, to the production of whiskers. And now, unless they are superior to fashion and custom, they have to spend time, or hire barbers to spend time, on the avoidance, repression and excision of whiskers. Look at any old photograph of thirty years ago, say. What is the chief characteristic of the men there portrayed? Certainly, whiskers. One of the Toronto newspapers a few weeks ago published a photogravure of the first Canadian Wimbledon team. Out of the twenty odd marksmen there was but one who had not enough whiskers to stuff a sofa cushion. The exception was Dr. Oronhyatekha, and, as everybody knows, the Indians are always clean-shaven. Col. the Honorable J. M. Gibson shines forth in the picture with thrice as many lineal feet of hirsute adornment as his closely cropped Henri Quatre beard allows him now. Again, a recently published volume of Dr. W. G. Grace's cricketing reminiscences gives us a picture of the English cricket team that toured in Canada and the United States in 1871. All of those willow-wielders boasted windsifters that must have seriously retarded their progress when they were sprinting after the hard-driven ball, or were running between wickets.

Your barber, if you venture to mention to him the object, will gravely assure, with every air of certitude, that the days of beards, much less whiskers, have gone forever. It is impossible, however, no matter how good a workman that barber may be, to regard him as an impartial witness or authority. The wish must be father to the prophecy. If beards came in, barbers would go out. The problem of the displacement and re-arrangement of labor is always difficult. But the barber is probably right. The man with the clean face seldom grows a beard; the man with the beard often takes it off. The shearing razor denudes the visage, and lo! the owner steps forth from that chair both feeling and looking ten years younger. Not only are Force, Matter and Science with the man with the clean face. So also is the stream of tendency. The day may come when the whiskers will re-appear, but we shall all be a good deal older, doubtless, when it dawns.

are simply kidney disorders. The kidneys filter the blood of all that shouldn't be there. The blood passes through the kidneys every three minutes. QUAKERS IN CANADA.

Brief Sketch of the Society and of the Children of Peace.

Two hundred and seventy-five years ago George Fox began to preach to the England of Charles I., gambling, judge-bribing, cavalier England, where "Thee" and "Thou" were meted out to the farmer and the mechanic, and "Mr." and "You" to none lower than a merchant. Emotionally Fox was a Bunyan. His early life reads like a mixture of John Wesley and Luther. Of martyr lineage, his life was a series of martyrdoms. He was in foul dungeons for months—often; for preaching that a man's religion is an inward experience and not a painted show. His doctrines are incorporated in a discipline drawn up this year for the Canadian society in their recent annual convention in Toronto.

Quakerism in Toronto dates back to 1877, when the first meeting of friends was held on Berkeley street. This grew out of a Bible class, and was founded by Mr. Elias Rogers, who still remains an active member of the society on Carlton street. The second church was on Pembroke street. That being too remote for convenience the society moved in 1902 to the present new edifice on Carleton street, which is the only Quaker church in Toronto; not a remarkable fact when it is considered that the total Canadian membership is but 2,000.

Quakerism in the vicinity of Toronto dates back to 1800, when Timothy Rogers received from Gov. Simcoe a grant of 8,000 acres of land up Yonge street in the solid bush vicinity of what is now Newmarket, on condition of settling forty families in that part. In 1803 he brought forty families from New England, all Friends. The following year came twenty families from Pennsylvania, Friends also. Thus began the colony of Quakers which for thirty-five years knew no adversity but the wilderness. But about 1835 David Wilson organized a cult among the Sharon Society, known as the Children of Peace. On behalf of this offshoot, with its somewhat new-fangled and variant doctrines concerning government, etc., Wilson built a temple; a 19th century reproduction in pine of Solomon's temple. In this temple twice a year was held a great feast. Near the temple was a regular meeting house, in which David preached. He also organized a brass band for help in the musical service. And between the temple and the meeting-house he built a curious study for himself, with many windows, from which he could see all the works his hand had made. He called it "The All-Seeing Eye." But the movement went the way of all fads. It died, and the primitive Fox religion again held the field.

So also it does to this day; as simple and severe, if not quite so unpopular as it was in the day when plain George Fox respectfully called the great Cromwell "Thee," spent twelve months in the Derby jail, six of them in a filthy dungeon, because he would not become a soldier, and left the name of "Quaker," as a sobriquet for his sect, because he told the Derby magistrates to tremble at the word of the Lord—and they did. A humble, democratic sect, they still eschew finery. They pay no stated salary, but a spontaneous giving to the minister, who does not claim to be called "Reverend," and is not regarded as a better man than the humblest of his flock, but merely as one having spiritual gifts. Every man may, if he choose, take part in any service if he be so moved of the Spirit. Formalism in service they have none; not even a prescribed order. They freely admit women to the work of the church, both private and public. In the courts of justice they will not swear, but simply make affirmation. They believe not in war but a kingdom founded on peace. Neither will they speculate in stocks or attend balls. They also give freely, and without advertisement of their estate, to the poor.

Could Be Copied in Canada.

The Rev. S. Swan, vicar of St Alban's, Carlisle, England, has hit upon a novel way of making the acquaintance of his parishioners. The reverend gentleman notifies in his parish magazine that he has been very busy sharpening 540 lead pencils, which will be placed with wrapping paper in the pews of the church, in order that the worshipers may leave behind them their names and addresses, which will constitute a visiting list for the vicar.

A Long, Stopless Run.

The London and Northwestern company has announced its intention of putting on a train between London and Carlisle which will make the trip of 299 miles without a stop. This is 105 miles farther than any similar run in Great Britain.

"FRUIT OF THE LOOM."

Men and women of taste and judgment go into ecstacies over the wonderful patterns, textures and colors which are "the fruit of the loom." But there is one fruit of the loom they rarely consider, and that is the frail and faded woman, old before her time, because necessity compels her to work under conditions, which send her more favored sister to bed and the doctor's care.

The diseases which weaken and torment women, may in almost all cases be cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness.

"I had female trouble for eight years," writes Mrs. L. J. Dennis, of 846 East College Street, Jacksonville, Fla. "Words cannot express what I suffered. I sought relief among the medical profession and found none. Friends urged me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. When I commenced taking this medicine I weighed ninety-five pounds. Now I weigh one hundred and fifty-six pounds—more than I ever weighed before. I was so bad I would lie from day to day and long for death to come and relieve my suffering. I had internal inflammation, a disagreeable drain, bearing-down pain, and such distress every month, but now I never feel a pain—do all my own work and am a strong and healthy woman."

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used with "Favorite Prescription" whenever a laxative is required.

IN WARM WEATHER.

Use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and you Won't be Troubled With Biliousness or Dyspepsia.

Does this warm weather make you feel Dyspeptic and Bilious? It shouldn't. Joseph Leake, 194 McCaul street, Toronto, pressman in the News office, tells you why.

"I have been troubled for three years with Dyspepsia and Biliousness," says Mr. Leake. "I took several medicines but none would cure me till I tried Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. One box of them cured me.

"My daughter, who was troubled with Headaches and Dyspepsia, also used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and was cured."

Other people who have used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets tell the same story. You haven't used them or you wouldn't be feeling Bilious and Dyspepsia. They never fail to cure and cure permanently.

Sir Frederick Lugard.

For a man of only forty-five, says The Chronicle, Sir Frederick Lugard has had a diversified military experience in many lands. He had hardly attained his majority when he accompanied the expedition for the punishment of the murderers of Sir Louis Cavagnari. In Afghanistan, Egypt, the Soudan, and Burma he has participated in considerable fighting, while his work in Uganda as representative of the British East Africa Company, and his present post in Nigeria under the Colonial Office, have given him a training in civil administration and practical colonization. He is the author of "The Rise of our East African Empire; or early Efforts in Uganda and Nyassaland."

Lady Lugard was once known to fame as Miss Flora Shaw, the lady who toured Australia for The Times, tramped to the Klondike gold field, also for the benefit of Printing House Square, and was one of the witnesses before the House of Commons Committee of Inquiry into the Jameson raid. The nature of her association with this latter ill-starred enterprise is one of the many matters that the committee preferred to leave in the realms of the mistily mysterious. Lady Lugard is one of the three ladies who have read papers before the Royal Colonial Institute during the last three decades. She vivaciously described her adventures in the Klondike country to a crowded and fashionable audience.

OLD CAVES.

Ground Under Chislehurst, Eng., Honeycombed With Them.

For many years past it has been known that the ground under Chislehurst, England, was honeycombed with caves, but these subterranean passages have only recently been made quite safe for ordinary visitors. Up to the last few weeks it has not been possible to go in except at considerable risk to life and limb, as abrupt descents had to be negotiated and much care exercised in getting around obstructing boulders. Now, however, Mr. H. Ryan, the proprietor, has had the entrance, which is situated in the grounds of the Bickley Hotel, put into proper order. The official opening took place yesterday. In the first half of the caves pink and green electric glow lamps have been placed at just a sufficient distance to guide the footsteps, and at the same time leave an effective twilight. But the further portion will probably prove most popular, for, in the dim glimmer of the candles which have to be used, everything appears mysterious. What the age of these caves may be is, of course, uncertain, and it would be very instructive to have expert geological opinion upon the matter. One theory is that in far distant ages they were hollowed out by the sea, and this is supported by the fact that fossilized shellfish have been found imbedded in the walls. At one place in the roof can be plainly discerned the limbs of what appears to be a mammal turned to stone during the course of centuries. In another place there is a flint-lined well about 100 feet deep, while in still another one can look up a great shaft and see daylight, like a faintly twinkling star, 150 yards or so overhead. At the bottom is a living beech tree, the leaves of which are bleached by the unnatural light. It is said that this has grown from a seed dropped from above. Support to the theory that these caves have been inhabited at an unknown period by man is given by a number of little dome-shaped cells in pairs, which have been hollowed out in the furthermost portion. In one cell of each pair a shelf has been fashioned which certain authorities state was intended for a bedding space, and a part of the tunneling in the shape of a cross is taken to mean that a religious body at one time took shelter there. Almost throughout the flooring is of flint, while the walls and roofs, which in places bear traces of human working, are of chalk, with occasional layers of sandstone. Visitors are conducted for about a mile inward under Chislehurst Hill and Common, and about the same distance on the return, but in addition there is a perfect labyrinth of other passages. It is worth noting that one long tunnel leads to the cellars of Camden House. The temperature stands at about 50 degrees all the year round.—London Standard.

Ontario Metal Output.

The Bureau of Mines has published a statement of the output of metalliferous mines and works of Ontario for the first three months of 1903. Gold ore treated was 9,688 tons; gold product, 2,692 ounces, valued at $47,218. Nickel copper ore raised was 52,866 tons; ore smelted, 47,880 tons; nickel in matte product, 1,059 tons, valued at $567,211; copper in matte product, 780 tons, valued at $112,676. Copper ore raised was 9,940 tons, concentrates produced, 236 tons, valued at $10,388. Iron ore raised was 78,789 tons, valued at $116,620; Ontario ore smelted, 7,392 tons; foreign ore smelted, 18,349 tons; pig-iron produced, 14,357 tons, valued at $165,656; steel produce, 1,340 tons, valued at $29,480. Arsenic produced was 216,000 pounds, valued at $6,264.

As compared with the first three months of 1902, the total value of production shows a decrease from $1,256,685 to $1,055,513. This is chiefly accounted for by the falling off in the output of pig-iron, from $397,838 to $165,656 due to shutting down at the furnaces for repairs. Nickel rose in quantity from 1,485 tons to 1,659 tons, and in value from $546,356 to $567,211.

Sunshine Furnace

PROPRIETOR—"Well Tom, how did that new furnace work this winter—save any coal?"

JANITOR—"Yes, sir! put in two tons less than last winter and have about half a ton left—guess it paid you to throw out that old coal-eater and put in this up-to-date SUNSHINE."

PROPRIETOR—"Yes, I think so; and I noticed the house was comfortable in all kinds of weather. Easy to take care of?"

JANITOR—"Yes, sir! just had to attend it twice a day—never had any trouble with the fire going out, and didn't have to spend half my time sweeping, cleaning, shaking, dumping ashes, and all that sort of thing—wish all my customers had SUNSHINES."

In the end you pay more for fuel than the furnace in which you burn it—a furnace that saves fuel saves it's cost.

LACROSSE.

The first real good exhibition game will be played on the 17th between T. A. S., of Peterborough, and Lindsay. It will be a good game, as both teams are evenly matched and both are playing good lacrosse. The T.A.S. defeated Lindsay at Lakefield, and the latter will endeavour to turn the tables this time. Mr. Peter McMillan, of Beaverton, will referee. The McCoy brothers and McGrath are fast runners and stick men on the T.A.S. twelve, McGrath is the champion sprinter of the Midland district, and it will be worth the price of admission to the game to see him sprint. Of course the locals will miss Buck, but his place will be filled by a good man. It won't do to bank to much on the success of the green and white, but it's very likely they will come out on top.—Post.

CANOEING.

The Trent Valley Canoe Club is represented by Messrs. Norman Bell Bert Stock, at the Sturgeon Point regatta, which is being held to-day. Mr. Martin, of the Stanley-Martin Piano Company, is also with the boys, he was appointed by the Regatta Committee to act as a judge in the races. Mr. Ronald McKee is also along as a representative of the Wm. English Canoe Company. The secretary of the Club in conversation with the boys as they were leaving, asked them to telegraph if they were successfu , the reply was, that if they succeed in winning any firsts, they would, so the secretary is expecting one any moment.

* * * *

On Wednesday evening next, the T.V.C. Club intend to have an outing, which they hope will be enjoyed by many. They are going to run off races entirely new to Peterborough people, which none should fail to see. After the races, there is to be a flotilla, and the Club invite all who have canoes, skiffs or launches, to take part. The Club is securing about 25 musicians, who will bring their instruments along, and it is expected that a very enjoyable evening will be spent. The Club has just received a very handsome pennant, it is of heavy blue silk, doubled, and is bordered with white silk ribbon, the T.V.C.C. monogram is also nicely worked on it. The effect is most pleasing, and much praise has been given to the ladies who were so kind as to make it.

* * * *

Yesterday afternoon between 4 and 6 o'clock, a trim little canoe, carrying two sails and the same number of occupants, might have been seen on the Little Lake scudding before a stiff breeze at a merry clip. All went well till the cemetery point was reached. The sail caught on the bow of the canoe and over it went, the occupants being unceremoniously thrown into the deep. One young gentleman, well known in local financial circles, who was personally interviewed by the writer, on coming to the top, hung to his canoe, taking no stock in the closeness of the shore, and not feeling very buoyant, did not attempt to float, owing to the dangerous proximity of the long green. The mariners, after a good deal of shouting for help, attracted the attention of a homeward bound punt, and were picked up, and they arrived in the harbour without any further accident. And so happened the liquidation of another "trust" to say nothing of the brother.

Another pair of ambitious aquatic sports, determined to show a "clean" pair of heels to the land lubbers, and set sail before a high wind. They accomplished their design sooner than they anticipated, for before they had gone very far they received an unexpected "washing."

TORTURING DISFIGURING

Skin, Scalp and Blood Humours

From Pimples to Scrofula From Infancy to Age

Speedily Cured by Cuticura When All Else Falls.

The agonizing itching and burning of the skin, as in Eczema; the frightful scaling, as in psoriasis; the loss of hair and crusting of the scalp, as in scalled head; the facial disfigurements, as in acne and ringworm; the awful suffering of infants, and anxiety of worn-out parents, as in milk crust, tetter and salt rheum,—all demand a remedy of almost superhuman virtues to successfully cope with them. That Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Resolvent are such stands proven beyond all doubt. No statement is made regarding them that is not justified by the strongest evidence. The purity and sweetness, the power to afford immediate relief, the certainty of speedy and permanent cure, the absolute safety and great economy, have made them the standard skin cures, blood purifiers and humour remedies of the civilized world.

Bathe the affected parts with hot water and Cuticura Soap, to cleanse the surface of crusts and scales and soften the thickened cuticle. Dry, without rubbing, and apply Cuticura Ointment freely, to allay itching, irritation and inflammation, and soothe and heal, and, lastly, take Cuticura Resolvent, to cool and cleanse the blood. This complete local and constitutional treatment affords instant relief, permits rest and sleep in the severest forms of eczema and other itching, burning and scaly humours of the skin, scalp and blood, and points to a speedy, permanent and economical cure when all else falls.

Cuticura Resolvent, liquid and in the form of Chocolate Coated Pills, Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Soap are sold throughout the world. Depots: London, 27 Charterhouse Sq.; Paris, 5 Rue de la Paix; Australia, R. Towns & Co., Sydney; Boston, 137 Columbus Ave. Potter Drug & Chemical Corp., Sole Proprietors.

THE DROWNED.

Principles of the Methods Which Might Be Used in Artificial Respiration in Man-Resuscitation.

At a meeting of the Royal Medical and Chirurgical Society, held at 20 Hanover Square, London, recently, Prof. Schafer read the report of the committee (of which he was chairman) appointed to consider the physiological phenomena attending asphyxia produced by the entry of water into the lungs, and those which accompany recovery in apparent death by drowning. The report described at some length the principles of the methods which might be used in artificial respiration in man. These are of three kinds: (1) Traction—enlarging the chest by raising the ribs, that is Silvester's traction method of dragging the arms forward and upward: (2) compression, by pressure on the walls of the thorax, thus squeezing air out of it and allowing fresh air to pass in, and (3) the mechanical driving of air through the air passages into the lungs. This third method was neglected in the experiments as not being generally applicable in most instances of apparent death from drowning. Experiments had been carried out on five medical men and physiologists to determine the quantity of air passed into and out of the lung The results had been carefully tabulated, no less than ten methods of inducing artificial respiration being used, all modifications or combinations of the traction and compression processes. It was apparent that all the methods employed were competent to effect the oxygenation of the blood by an exchange of air. The committee drew attention to the amount of air movement obtained when the subject was placed face downward or on his side, and both traction and pressure employed, and advised that the rolling method, and the still simpler plan of placing the subject face downward and using regular intermittent pressure upon the back, should occupy a prominent place in all recommendations made with the view of the resuscitation of the apparently drowned. From experiments on dogs it was clear that the presence of water in the lung after death was not to be expected, the fluid exuding from a cut lung being blood serum. Another striking fact was the length of time immersion might last— in one case eight minutes—and yet be followed by complete recovery. There was little difference in the results obtained from the experiments carried on in fresh and salt water. As one of the most marked physiological symptoms of death from any form of asphyxia was the extreme lowering of blood pressure owing to paralysis of the vasomotor system, it had been hoped that injections of adrenalin would be of service. The experiments established the fact that such injections could only be beneficial in cases where the blood was efficiently aerated, otherwise the effect was only temporary, deferring the inevitable result for a brief period.—London Standard.

The Moon and the Earth.

Professor George Darwin, son of Charles Darwin, who has made a special study of the moon's effect on the rotation of the earth, has proved by mathematics that the moon once was a part of the earth and still is slowly moving away from it. However, by the agency of the tides —due in the main to lunar influence —the rotation of the earth is being made slower, for the tides act as a huge brake upon the earth, which ever spins a little less rapidly; hence it is that the length of the day — the period, that is, of the earth's rotation—increases by about twenty-two seconds in each century. Obviously this, unchecked, would make a tremendous difference in the habits of the people, say a million years hence, when the day would be about eighty hours long. Professor Darwin says that ultimately the day and the month will be equal in length, amounting to about fifty-five days of the present length. This will be by no means the end, for if there still are oceans on the earth the sun will cause a tidal friction, even when the moon has ceased to do so, and will eventually bring the moon back to the arms of the earth never more to be parted. Such indeed will be the history of the solar system, for the earth and all the other planets and their satellites will one day rejoin the sun which gave them birth.

ORANGEMEN'S DEPARTURE

Number of Persons see Them off at the Station.

Members of the Orange Order are to-day celebrating the anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne, the celebration for this county being held in Lakefield. The Peterborough lodges, supplemented by members from lodges in Smith, left this morning by special train for the scene of the celebration ceremonies. The Campbellford brass band has been engaged for the day, and is providing music to suit the most fastidious.

A large number of persons were at the G.T.R. station this morning seeing the local Orangemen off to take part in the celebration at Lakefield. The band of the 40th Regiment, Campbellford, escorted them to the station, where a special train was standing ready to take them to their destination. The band, which was composed of fifteen pieces, was under the direction of Mr. J. D. Dickson, and provided some excellent music outside the Munroe House on Saturday evening.

The Orangemen were accompanied by large numbers from town, filling the four coach train with which they were conveyed to Lakefield.

AN EXCITING EXPERIENCE WITH BURNING CLOTHING.

Alarming Accident Yesterday at Chemong—The Horses Unmanageable for two miles.

What might have been a fatality, had it not been for the prompt action of two gentlemen present, occurred at Chemong yesterday afternoon. The persons concerned were not burned to death, but two were somewhat badly burned, besides having their clothing destroyed by fire.

It is learned that a party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Kingdon, of Louis street, town, a Miss Montgomery, also of Peterborough, and a Mr. Atkins, of Toronto, spent yesterday afternoon by a drive to Chemong.

At about 5.30 o'clock, they were sitting on the bank near the lake, when Mrs. Kingdon jumped up, stating that she was on fire. Her husband immediately attempted to put out the fire which had caught in her dress, by clapping it with his hands, which consequently were very badly burned. Mr. Atkins pulled off his coat and succeeded in smothering the fire, which by this time had destroyed most of Mrs. Kingdon's clothing, besides scorching her hair. The inhabitants of the cottages lent Mrs. Kingdom necessary clothing in which to drive home, and bandaged Mr. Kingdon's hands.

Mr. Kingdon was smoking at the time, and it is thought that a lighted match thrown carelessly aside may have occasioned the accident.

Serious as it was, this was not the last of the party's adventures, for when driving home the horses got out of the control of Mr. Atkins, who had never driven before, but who had to do so on this occasion as Mr. Kingdon's hands were too badly burned for him to hold the reins. For about two miles the horses were unmanageable, but the party arrived in town about seven o'clock, without having experienced any further accidents.

—Do not forget the T.V.C. Club's races and outing on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. A musical programme is being arranged for.

Body Found in Ottawa.

Ottawa, July 13.—Last February, J. W. Campion, a barkeeper in the Wellington Hotel, disappeared on the eve of his marriage. Yesterday his body was found floating on the Ottawa River, about six miles below Ottawa. It was identified by the clothing, and by the inscription on a locket presented by friends. There is no doubt but he committed suicide. The body naturally was badly decomposed, having been in the water five months.

THE PETERBOROUGH BOARD OF HEALTH

Met at 11 o'clock This Morning in Town Clerk's Office.

A meeting of the local Board of Health was held in the Town Clerk's office this morning at 11 o'clock. There were present, Mr. R. Neil, Chairman, and Messrs. A. Parker, Wm. Eyres, Mayor Roger, Schneider, Dr. McNulty, Dr. Bingham, Medical Health Officer and Chief Roszel, Sanitary Inspector.

The following communications were first read:—

From Mr. A. Brown stating that no action had been made to construct a sewer on Hunter street as the Board's recommendation was deemed insufficient. He asked that the Board give an order.

Mayor Roger pointed out that the Board had done all in its power and that it could not do anything more if the council did or did not construct.

Several members expressed their opinions that the council could not overrule a resolution of the Board of Health passed for the benefit of the public health..

Mayor Roger said that the matter had been referred to the Board of Works, which he said was booked to meet this evening.

From Lindsay & Might enclosing a bill for one month's rent of 100 London street.

It was resolved that the matter be ignored and no action taken.

From the Kawartha Lakes Navigation Co. stating that the Ontario Health Association purposed holding a meeting in Peterborough in the near future and volunteering special rates should the committee resolve to give them a trip up the lakes.

It was moved that Messrs. Neill, Parker and McNulty be appointed a committee to confer with the council in the matter.

On motion of Mayor Roger, seconded by Mr. Neill, it was resolved that Dr. McNulty be asked to draw up a paper to be brought before the Provincial Health Association.

Board was informed that attending physicians had allowed patients suffering from diphtheria to be discharged from the hospital after only three weeks isolation.

Mr. Eyres said that the matter should be enquired into at once.

It was moved and seconded that Dr. Bingham look into the matter with power to act as he thought best.

The Board then adjourned.

6th Y. M. C. A. Boys' Camp.

The sixth Boys' camp under the auspices of the Y.M.C.A. open to all members of the Association under 18, will be pitched on the banks of Clear Lake, on Wednesday next. Features never known in the past five camps will be introduced this time and a splendid outing is assured. There will be a pow-wow of the fellows who are going to camp at the Y.M.C.A. this evening at 7.00 o'clock. None should be absent from this meeting.

THE LIQUOR LICENSE ACT.

Who is Responsible for the License Law?

Chief Officer of the License Branch Writes on the Subject.

Mr. Henry Totten, Chief Officer of the License Branch, thus writes to the Toronto News:—

To the Editor of the News:—With reference to the editorial, "A Weak Defence," in your issue of Saturday last, and to Mr. Raney's observations on the administration of the Liquor License Act in the county of York, I will take it as a favour if youy will permit me, as chief officer of the License branch of the Government, to bring to your notice a few points, hoping thereby this may influence you and others when considering and discussing the conduct of the authorities in the discharge of their duties committed to them by this Act. I shall assume that both you and Mr. Raney are supporting the Mayor and Council, of this and other municipalities, in their present efforts to prevent any interference on the part of outsiders with the absolute control by the civic authorities over matters of a purely local and municipal nature. This will be an object lesson on some of the points I am about to raise.

To begin with, we shall go way back to the 70's and prior to the passing of what is commonly known as the Crook's Act. At that time the statute provided that the granting of liquor licenses should be vested in the municipal councils. They were authorized to pass by-laws fixing the number and naming the individuals to whom they were to be granted. After payment of the municipal fee the applicant received a receipt and certificate. On presentation of this to the Government issuer the license form supplied to such issuer was delivered. At this time, therefore, you will see that the responsibility for the granting or withholding of licenses in the municipal authorities. The Government was interested as a matter of revenue only, and supplied the blank forms to all persons to whom the municipal clerk had given certificates. I do not suppose that Mr. Raney will claim that, under the law as it then appeared on the statute book, the Government would have had any right to question the conduct of the municipal authorities or to give them any instructions or suggestions in regard thereto. Had they done so it is probable they would have been received and resented as they are to-day. This mode of granting the licenses remained in force for many years and until the time when popular sentiment revolted against it and demanded a change. It was well understood at that time that the dealer in liquor took a very active interest in politics. His place of business was a well-known centre of political activity, especially in municipal matters, and it was pretty generally recognized that his influence had to be reckoned with in all municipal contests. In very many councils this interest dominated, and as a result the liquor dealer issued his own license and became a law unto himself. As I have said, public sentiment revolted at this state of affairs, and a change was manded. The weakness of the law was that each applicant for a license had the power to vote for himself or the opportunity to bring influence to bear upon the authorities having the power to grant, and so the demand was made to remove the power from municipal control and place it in the hands of an independent body. Now, where was this independent body to be found? This question was more discussed in the Legislature than probably any other clause in the new bill. Various suggestions were made, and the one finding most favour was that three persons were to be appointed, to be composed of the County Judge, the Warden of the County and the Mayor or Reeve of the municipality. Upon discussion even this because the majority of the Board would still be municipal officers, and subject to the votes of the electors. It was finally decided as the best solution of the difficulty to place the granting power in the hands of three disinterested persons, to be selected by the Government, and that is the law to-day, and the only law on this point the Government has by the Legislature been entrusted to administer. If it is wrong or defective the same Legislature that passed can repeal it. Can Mr. Raney suggest a mode of dealing with the matter, that has not already been discussed, that will be an improvement? In changing the law all powers vested in the municipal authorities for the granting of licenses were transferred to this new board. This board, therefore, has been simply substituted for the municipal councils.

WAS VESTED SOLELY

I think that I have shown you that under the old law the Government had no legal right to interfere with the discretion vested in the councils. Had they presumed to so interfere, it would have been resented. Will Mr. Raney point out the authority under which the Government has now the right to question the conduct of the Board in matters committed to its charge by the Legislature? In more recent years, and when the memory of the old days has become somewhat clouded, it has been the custom of many persons to hold the Government responsible for full administration of every clause of the License Act. This is manifestly unjust, because the Legislature has not seen fit to extend this power to the Goverment. On several occasions this fact has been made public, and some who have not fully realized the effect have answered that, as the Board of Commissioners are appointees of the Government, they thereby become officers of the Crown and subject to its dictation. Mr. Raney evidently entertains this view. Were this accepted the of the [illegible] defeated, and the Government would have simply been substituted for the Municipal Councils. The country did not demand such a change, and the Legislature has not enacted it. There are certain sections of the License Act for which the Government may be held responsible, if they are not strictly enforced. There are other sections for which they may not be so held. Now, apply what I have said to Mr. Raney's charges and let us see if he has been just and fair to the Government. First, take the case of East York, where Mr. Raney claims that too many licenses have been issued within a given area. The Board of Commissioners, composed of men residing in the riding and who presumably know the wants and requirements of the riding, have dealt with this case for years. The views they entertain regarding the wants and requirements of the riding are expressed in the number so issued. They do not agree with Mr. Raney upon this point. Mr. Raney also implies the Government should interfere in this case. Assuming the Government agrees with Mr. Raney, under what authority may they take action, and be within the law? Another case is in North York, where the recent Dominion census resulted in the diminution of licenses, and the Board had therefore been limited to two instead of three, as heretofore, and the difficulty was overcome by the taking of a new census. The License Act provides that under circumstances the Board may act upon a census taken after the Dominion census under the authority of the Municipal Council. Now, the taking of a census is strictly a municipal matter.

THE COUNCIL ALONE IS THE AUTHORITY

for its being taken. They may take action or not, as they see fit. If they move in the matter, being a representative body, it may be fairly assumed they are acting with the approval of the majority of the electors of the community, and in cases in which it is necessary to apply to the Government the Government would be justified in so assuming. If the action of the council is not approved in the locality, the electors have a complete remedy at the next elections. In the case referred to I understand the council ordered a new census to be taken, and upon presentation of the clerk's certificate to the Board action was taken. Mr. Raney claims the census was fraudulent. That is a charge that may be made against the council, but certainly not against the Government, unless it is admitted it is the duty of the Government, being a representative body, to supervise the conduct of the municipal council, another representative body, but more in touch with the people upon local matters. I presume no one will make such a contention.

To deal specifically with the other cases mentioned by Mr. Raney would make my explanation too lengthy and occupy too much of your valuable space. Before closing, I would like to say generally that many critics of the Government are often too prone to place blame on undeserving shoulders. There is no better,

NO MORE COMPLETE LICENSE LAW,

in the world than the one now in force in Ontario. Anyone who is now old enough to remember the state of affairs that existed in this province prior to the Crook's Act, and compare them with the present, must hold the opinion that much has been accomplished under it. For these improvements the Government is entitled to a very great deal of credit. In that act there are many sections giving authority to the local councils to do almost everything for the municipality that has been demanded by those interested in the cause of temperance for the whole province. They may appoint officers to enforce the law. They may further limit the number of licenses to be issued or absolutely prohibit, but in the efforts of the Government to administer the law it is found that but few of the councils take advantage of these classes. This being a fact, what inference is to be drawn therefrom? In calling local constables to account, a not infrequent answer is that a discharge of the duty would cost him his situation. If the energies of those who would wish to see the law more rigidly enforced were concentrated upon the local authorities and the education of local sentiment it would accomplish much and go a long way towards assisting the central power. For some reason unknown, there appears to be a desire on the part of some people, and I am speaking generally, to attack the central authority when much less effort locally would accomplish the same, or a better result. If a change in this respect were made much good would be the result.

Apologizing for so much of your time and thanking you for space, I remain,

Yours very faithfully,
HENRY TOTTEN,
Chief Officer License Branch,
Toronto, July 6, 1903.

TO PREVENT TAINTED MILK.

Tainted Milk Renders Making of Good Cheese Impossible.

The patrons of a cheese factory have a direct financial interest in supplying only good pure milk, free from taints or bad flavours. Thousands of dollars are lost to the country annually because patrons send to the factories tainted milk, which, if used at all, not only precludes the manufacture of first class cheese, but diminishes the quantity of cheese per 100 pounds of milk. Some of the chief causes of tainted or gassy milk have been enumerated by the Dairy Division of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, in order that be induced to guard against them. In many cases the source of trouble may be found in the undesirable

Germs that get into the Milk During And After Milking.

These germs are always associated with filth in some form or other. Careful investigations show that a very large proportion of the cases of taints or bad flavours in milk and its products are caused by the germs which are always present in the droppings of animals. Such germs are to be found in large numbers wherever such droppings are deposited. The mud of stagnant ponds, where cattle are allowed to drink, and the surfaces of barn-yards or milking yards are always swarming with them. For this reason the udders and flanks of cows should always be brushed before milking. In removing the dried mud, particles of manure, hairs, etc., which might otherwise fall into the milk pail. Straining the milk, while it is necessary to remove the visible dirt, does not get rid of these foul germs, which are the actual cause of the tainted, gassy milk. Improperly cleaned milk pails, strainers and milk cans are constant sources of contamination.

The whey tank is a common source of infection at those factories where the whey is returned to the patrons in the milk cans. This practice is detrimental to successful cheese-making, but when it cannot be arranged to have the whey disposed of in some other way, the tanks should be kept thoroughly clean in order to lessen the danger of contamination. They should be emptied at least once a week.

Absorption of Odors.

It is a well-known fact that milk will absorb some odours to which it is exposed. Warm milk will absorb odors quite as freely as that which has been cooled; hence the necessity for removing it from the stable or milking yard as soon as possible after it is drawn.

An Impure Water Supply.

An abundant supply of pure water for the cows is one of the essentials for the production of good milk. When cows are compelled to drink the water of swamps, muddy ponds, or sluggish streams and ditches, in which there is decaying animal matter, including their own droppings, there is a constant menace to their health, and unless the cows are in good health they cannot give first-class milk. Moreover, the mud, often full of foul germs, which collects on the legs, flanks and udders of the cows, and falls into the milk at the time of milking, is a direct source of infection which is often overlooked.

Improper Feeding.

There is in Canada abundance of good wholesome food available for cattle feeding purposes. The natural pastures are on the whole, excellent, and it is only in limited districts or at certain seasons of the year that trouble is experienced with weed flavours. Among the cultivated foods, turnips and rape are two prominent exceptions to the rule of suitability which applies in general to Canadian fodder crops. While they are undoubtedly valuable in a ration for growing or dry cattle, if turnips and rape are fed, even in limited quantities, to milking cows, there is a likelihood of imparting to the milk a taint which cannot be eliminated by any process known to the cheese-maker's art. Some first-class foods, when fed alone, and to excess, will cause indigestion and thus indirectly affect the milk. One example of this kind is found in green clover.

In conclusion it may be said that when cows have free access to salt at all times they will give more milk, which will have a better flavour, and keep sweet longer than when they do not get any at all, or receive it only at intervals.

Yours very truly,

REV. J. P. WILSON TO ORANGEMEN

Eloquent Sermon Preached Last Night in George Street Church

150 Members of Orange Order Attend Divine Service—Special Singing by Mr. Wodell of Boston.

Orangemen the world over are to-day celebrating the anniversary of the memorable Battle of the Boyne, and as a fitting prelude to the celebration the members of Nassau No. 457, Downer's Corners, No. 321, and Peterborough, No. 80, with visiting brethren from Lakefield and Smith Lodges, L.O.L., attended divine worship last night in the George street Methodist church, and listened to a most appropriate and eloquent sermon by Rev. J. P. Wilson, the pastor. There were about 150 members of the Order in the procession, which was headed by the Campbellford brass band of twenty pieces.

The centre of the spacious church had been reserved for the members of the Order, and they completely filled it, the sides and galleries being crowded with those who desired to hear the sermon, and the special musical service.

After the reading of the Scripture lesson, Mr. Wodell, of Boston, sang the solo, "O God, Have Mercy," from Mendelssohn's Oratorio, "St. Paul." Mr. Wodell also sang "Come Unto Me," by Coenen, during the offertory, and in both of these delighted the large congregation. His voice showed a great range, which was well displayed in the selections chosen. He also sings with marked feeling.

Mr. Wilson preached his sermon from the text found in St. Matthew xxiii, 8, "For one is your master, even Christ, and all ye are brethren," and his words were well chosen and helpful. He prefaced his sermon by giving a welcome to the members of the Orange Order to the church. He said the Order had always been zealous for an open Bible and free worship, and that this being the case their presence was most seemly.

The 12th of July was associated in the minds of our people with William Prince of Orange and the Revolution of 1688, one of the most noted and far-reaching in its effects of any in the British Islands. The Battle of the Boyne was a fatal day for the papal party in England and Europe; all hopes of regaining the English crown or ascendancy in political affairs in Europe, were lost. Since William, Prince of Orange reigned, no English king ever sold himself for foreign gold, or held himself a vassal to any foreign court, either political or ecclesiastical. Mr. Wilson sketched the political situation in Western Europe in the 17th century, which culminated in the revolution of 1688, and how Louis XIV of France became the recognized head of absolutism in Western Europe, having for his motto, "I am the State," and William of Orange became the exponent of the opposite theory of government. Louis by his hatred to Protestantism, exhibited in the edict of Nantes in 1865, and the Drag-nade against the Huguenots, set himself over against Protestant England and Holland, under the leadership of the valiant Prince of Nassau. So it happened that the crisis of the 17th century set Louis of France and William of Orange in direct antagonism. The liberty which had been wrested from Catholic absolutism in the times of Elizabeth, and again taken by force from Charles II., was now imperilled, to such an extent that England and Holland must draw the sword in its defence. James II. seemed determined to re-establish the supremacy of the Catholic church in England. To prevent this England formed a coalition of Whig and Tory churchmen, and dissenters, army and navy, peers and commoners, and invited William, Prince of Orange, to England. He came partly in his own right, being a grandson of Charles I., partly in his wife's right, she being a daughter of James II., partly by invitation of the English people, and partly because he was the champion of Protestantism in Western Europe. So great was the seeming danger to the liberties of the British people, that the whole nation, with only a small reservation, joined to invite and welcome the stranger Prince. Everywhere the cry went up "Free Parliament and Protestant Religion."

The revolt was everywhere triumphant. One battle won England for William the Norman, but the hearts of the English people won England for William of Orange. The Battle of the Boyne settled practically the Protestant Succession. The speaker thought that the language of the Coronation oath might be somewhat changed, but any change in the deep meaning of the oath would be resented by the body of the British people.

He further stated that the society of Orangemen, composed of those who made oath to uphold the Protestant throne of Great Britain, and oppose the then policy of the Catholic church, still bears witness to Prince William's honour and perpetuates the great victories he achieved, and the blessings that have accrued from them. He did not think that Orangemen professed to monopolize all the loyalty and Protestantism. Yet they were "to support to the utmost of their power the principles and practices of the Christian religion, and maintain the laws and constitution of the country.

Continuing, Mr. Wilson said that the Orange Order to-day was witness to the integrity of William of Orange. It stood for no section of society or political party, but for the maintenance of liberty and a pure religion. Party strife is the bane of Canada to-day. One of the most praiseworthy objects of the Orange Order is that it affords assistance to distressed brethren. It abhors despotism, and the acme of Orangeism is its belief in religious liberty for all men. A nation's progress may be always determined by its religious fervour, and as a proof of this assertion the speaker enumerated from the history of ancient nations, instances of how under righteous rule they flourished, while when the rulers were iniquitous, the nations declined in temporal power. The same was true of England also. Under the early monarchs it had periods of prosperity and adversity as the governing powers were true to their religious beliefs or otherwise, until the time of William of Orange, when it rose to a permanent prosperous condition, and is to-day "Mistress of the Seas." For the same reason, also, Canada and the United States has the same superiority over South American countries, that England and Germany have over the Latin nations of Southern Europe. That the promise of prosperity to nations which allow religious freedom contained in the scriptural passage, "Blessed is that people whose God is the Lord," has been fulfilled in the case of the British Empire, is proven by the advancement it has made since the time of William of Orange. Orangemen taught and practiced love for country. It is the duty of every man to feel within his breast, and to express in his actions a love for his native country, and in the case of Britons, surely the "Greatest Empire that has been" is worthy of the love of all who enjoy the freedom which her protection affords. The blood shed that British liberty should be maintained has not been shed in vain for nowhere under the sun are men's rights and liberties as well protected as under the British flag.

The Orange Order, by its Constitution stands for the election to offices of controlling power, in the state of honourable men and "times like these demand strong men, true men, men whom the spoils of office cannot buy," etc. The speaker said that no higher service could be rendered by a man to his country than to fill well the duties of a public office to which he had been elected and seek to administer honourably the country's affairs. Orangemen follow Prince William because he was a noble man and a hero. He was a King every inch of him, and perhaps no better example of a true man could be found on earth, but there is one above every Ruler, every King, every Creed, and even above the Bible whose example all men should emulate, "One is your Lord, even Christ." Orangism stands for all that is best in nations and in men, therefore the highest example must be followed. Jesus Christ is the only perfect example, and has been called "God's Ideal of a man." What men need is a common standard of morality for all men. Conditions change as to time and place and many have as their standard their own or other men's opinions, which are not safe guids, because an apology can be found for every crime.

Speaking of how we should follow Christ's example, the speaker said His pure life should be imitated. Christ came to teach that the great ambition of man should be to live a pure life. The old Roman idea was that duty should be the dominative power in man, but Christianity taught that purity should be first. The reverend speaker characterized as false the statements sometimes made that a man could not live a pure life in politics and business. Religion was not intended to exclude its adherents from participating in the administration of the country's business, and he believed that there were in political life just as pure and honourable men as could be found anywhere.

There is a very dangerous tendency in America to-day towards commercialism to the sacrifice of the finer instincts. A feverish haste is manifested by all classes to become rich fast, and this feeling has been the cause of great misery, because it has resulted in the adoption of sweat-shop methods, and the oppression of employee by the employer. A gambling mania has taken possession of our young men which is having an utterly demorilazating effect upon their moral natures.

In contrast to the spirit of selfishness which prevails now, Mr. Wilson pointed to the example of Christ's life. He lived entirely for others, and in His ministrations to others' needs found His greatest joy, as indeed, everyone does, who practices the example of Christ. Tennyson's "Knight of the Holy Grail," on returning from a vain search found the Grail while quenching the thirst of a poor wayside sufferer. So it is to-day, the greatest joy and highest reward come when the life is spent to make others happy. Orangemen should be enemies to all who ignore the love for fellow men, and should denounce those who seek to disturb society and bring strife between employer and employee. The only way to reach the ideal state of living is by following the example of Christ. The reverend gentlemen closed his eloquent discourse by a strong appeal to the members of the Order which he was addressing to stand firm for Peace, Liberty, Loyalty and Patriotism, and to follow the example of Christ, who was God's ideal of a man.

After returning to their Hall by George and Simcoe streets, a short meeting was held in the Lodge Room, when some of the members spoke in appreciative terms of the courtesy shown them by the pastor and officials of George street church, and a resolution was introduced conveying to Rev. J. P. Wilson, the officials of the church, the choir and Mr. Wodell, the thanks of the members of the Order which was heartily endorsed. Special mention was made of Mr. Wodell's singing. It was the best heard in George street church in a long time, and it was considered a very gracious act on the part of Mr. Wodell to consent to sing.

Mr. Wilson made a most efficient Marshall for the parade.

MORE ENGLISHMEN.

Another Party Arrived in Town This Morning From Manchester.

A party of thirteen Englishmen arrived in town this morning on the early train. They are mostly from Manchester, and crossed the ocean on the Allan liner, "Bavarian." They are machinists, and are now in the employ of the Canadian General Electric Company, with whom they engaged before coming to this country, where they expect to better themselves financially.

The Englishmen expressed themselves as being greatly "tickled" with both the actions and speech of the French-Canadians. As yet, they remark, they know nothing about the country but expect to find it more acceptable than the land of their birth.

THE LATEST NEWS OF LOCAL SPORT.

Port Hope and T. A. S. Played Close Game Saturday.

Y.M.C.A. Football Team at Havelock To-morrow—Junior Athletics and T. A. S. II in an Exhibition Game.

LACROSSE.

PORT HOPE, 6; T. A. S., 5.

When it was announced some days ago that the fast Ontario Lacrosse Team, from Port Hope, the one which trimmed the Tecumsehs of Toronto to the tune of 6—1, on their own grounds, was coming to play a game with the T.A.S. team, it was generally considered that the "Total Abstainers" were up against an impossible thing. But the result of the game Saturday, it is safe to say, came as a pleasant surprise to the local team's supporters. Playing against such men as Grimes, McDonough, Donaldson, Roach and Young, all lacrossists of years' experience in senior teams, the plucky T.A.S. succeeded in doing what few thought possible, scoring five goals on the Ontarios, while the visitors only did the trick once more, the score after 60 minutes of fast play being 6—5. While the team which represented Port Hope on Saturday comprised some junior men, there were six of the senior team's best, and the juniors were all considered eligible for places on a good fast team. The playing of the locals surprised many who witnessed the game. They were equal to their opponents in point of speed, and their stick-handling and combination were the subject of many complimentary remarks. During the first quarter's play the visitors were painfully outplayed, the locals confining the play almost entirely to the Port Hope end, and during the 15 minutes succeeded in locating the net three times, which the visitors only scored once. During this quarter the T.A.S. played some pretty combinations and the defence held their positions. McCabs scored the first goal after three minutes play, the trick being repeated by LaPierre in another three minutes. After the face off the ball travelled to the T.A. S. end, and Byan scored on a pass from Roach in one-half minute's time. The T.A.S. defence had a rest for the balance of the quarter, the play being entirely in Port Hope's territory, but no score was recorded until one and a half minutes before the call of time, when McNicholl shot a hot one which Young failed to stop. McCabe was off in this quarter three minutes. The Port Hope players have a variety of sets of tactics which their long experience in the lacrosse field has taught them to use to good advantage, and by which the players on an unsuspecting team are sorely deceived.

In the second quarter's play the wily southerners enticed out into play the T.A.S. defence and when their object was accomplished a grand rush was made on the goal, which the defence had left unprotected, a score resulting. In this respect the T.A. S. players showed some slight inexperience. Had the defence maintained their position, and refused to be drawn out, it is doubtful if the visitors would have made any better showing in the remaining three quarters than they did in the first.

At the beginning of the second quarter's play the ball travelled by some superb passing to the T.A.S. end, and Alcott, who had an elegant chance to score, missed it, and made a pass instead, the sphere travelling to the other end of the field, Young making a fine stop of a well placed throw, saving a goal. Parnell however, located the net on a nice pass from Muldoon, after five minutes play, making the score 4-1 for the locals. After the face off McNicholl got the ball and after a great run in which he was hard pressed, made a throw, which, with a less clever man than Young in goal, would have been a score. This ended the scoring in this quarter for the locals, but Port Hope by the exercise of the tactics as stated above, succeeded in adding two to their credit, the first by Donaldson in 7 minutes and the second by Alcott in 1 minute, just before the referee's whistle, the score at half time being 4—3. McCabe and Griffith were each given two minutes rest in this quarter because of a mix-up in which they figured.

After the face-off in the 3rd quarter, Donaldson received a pass from Grimes, in turn passing to Byam who scored. The ball then went up into dangerous territory for the Port Hopes. Young running out of goal and securing it made a long throw to Grimes, but it was unavailing as Meagher, after some brilliant dodging located the Port Hope net in 7 minutes. This was offset by Donaldson who by liberal use of his superior weight secured the ball and scored in 1 1-2 minutes, followed by Alcott in 4 minutes, no further scores having been recorded when time was called, the score then being 6-5 in favour of Port Hope.

The last quarter began with the visitors in the lead, and another and still more effective line of play was adopted by Port Hope. The ball was kept in play as little as possible, and while few attempts were made to reach the T.A.S. goal the whole team was brought up on defence with the result that no further scoring was done by either team. Donaldson was again relegated to the fence for 3 minutes for slashing.

It was a good work-out for both teams and will be a distinct education to the T.A.S. The locals played a good clean game and have every reason to be proud of their record. Some changes are contemplated on the team which will strengthen it materially. The line-up was as follows:

Port Hope — Goal, Young; point, Griffith; cover point, McLean; defence, Grimes, Williamson, McDonough; centre, Roberts; home, Roach, Rowden, Byam; outside, Alcott; inside, Donaldson.

T. A. S. — Goal, Maloney; point, Donovan; cover point, Corbett; defence, Meagher, Crowley, Muldoon; centre, Derocher; home, Parnell, McCabe, McNicholl; outside, McCoy; inside, LaPierre.

Field captain—J. Begley.

Mr. Geo. Lynch acted as referee.

The Athletics II has been formed with the following line-up: —Goal, Best; point, T. Glover; cover point, G. Galley; defence, Watson, Hamilton, Ford; home, Bowes, Kemp, Dumble, Patterson, Long, Kearns, and others. They will play T.A.S. II on Thursday night.

FOOTBALL.

To-morrow at 11.35 the Y.M.C.A. team will leave for Havelock to play the second of the series of home and home games to decide the championship of the Midland Football Association, and the ownership of the Stratton Cup. The game will be a close one and the Y.M.C.A. will take a strong team, and be ready to work hard. The Havelock boys are quite confident of their ability to win out on their own grounds, and the showing they made here would seem to give reason for their confidence. The "Y's", however, are not at all depressed, and speak with equal confidence of their being able to defeat the villagers.

• • • •

There will be a meeting of the Y.M.C.A. Football Club after practice to-night.

BASEBALL.

Two games were played in the Intermediate League on Saturday. In the first the Y.M.C.A. defeated the Shamrocks in a slugging match by a score of 22 to 16. Quinlan of the Shamrocks was batted hard and often, while Miller pitched a fair game for the Y's, but had poor support from his infield. The feature of the game was Sanderson's brilliant batting.

The second game brought the Orioles and Victorias together. The Victorias presented a badly crippled team, only four of the regulars playing, and only one of them playing his own position. The game resulted in an easy win for the Orioles.

Scores—Y.M.C.A., 22; Shamrocks, 16; Orioles, 15; Victorias, 5.

To-night at 6.45 o'clock sharp the St. Andrews's Young Men's Guild will have a practice on their grounds, McDonel street, with the George street Young Men's Guild, in preparation for their match with the Y.M.C.A. on Tuesday night. The following are requested to report in good time: R. Elliott, L. Thornton, C. Anderson, W. Peace, J. Cox, G. Macdonald, W. Garrow, C. Kelly, Henderson, R. Watt, L. Patterson, E. Read, W. Richardson, Miller, H. Wilkie and any others.

CANOEING.

On Saturday the Sturgeon Point regatta was held, and it was one of the best ever seen. Paddlers from all over Ontario were present, and the races were fast and exciting.

Blomfield defeated McNichol, of Toronto, who was Canada's champion, in a single paddle, in which sixteen canoeists took part. Bell, of Peterborough, was about a canoe length behind taking 5th place, the others were not in sight. Here we might speak of the Orillia paddlers who won on July 1st, in a quarter mile, were not in sight at finish.

In the double, Bell and Stock took 3rd place, which was certainly a hard position to hold.

Orillia won the war canoe race, which was very exciting.

In the upset race, Bell was out, had his canoe bailed and in it in 7 seconds, he was beaten by 1 ft., and by Blomfield, who was in a light racing canoe, while Bell was in a heavy one.

The boys are well satisfied with the results.

• • • •

To-night the T.V.C. Club invite all who will race on Wednesday night to come out and practice the new races. All races are asked to be on the lake about 7 o'clock in time to try a number of novel races. The list of races will appear to-morrow.

• • • •

The Toronto Star has an appreciative notice of the skill with a canoe of Mr. Reg. Blomfield, of Toronto, but whose home is in Lakefield. He can perform feats which are apparently impossible to his imitators. The Star says:—"Blomfield is a regular acrobat in his canoe. He can turn her over, and clamber in again without getting any water inside, and, in addition wins all the crab races on the Club programme."

THE TRIGGER.

For the Canadian Bisley team, Capt. W. C. King, of Bowmanville, 46th Regiment, is doing about the best work. He leads the Canadians at 900 yds. range with a score of 67, and is second at 800 yds. with 69. For many years Capt. King has been a member of the Bisley team and is always well up in the list of good shots.

SPRINTING.

Fred McGrath not having raced, and the 30 days having expired, Geo. Taylor hereby claims the F. S. Schneider cup.

(Signed) Geo. Taylor.

Britain Loses Palma Rifle Shooting Trophy at Bisley—The Aggregate Scores of All Teams Competing.

Bisley, England, July 13.—The United States Saturday recaptured the Palma Trophy. Her team scored an aggregate of 1,570 out of a possible 1,800, and beat all the best shots of Europe, South Africa, Australia and Canada, congregated for the first time on English soil to compete for this trophy.

Great Britain was second with 1,555; Canada third, with 1,518.

The other grand aggregates were: Australia, 1,501; Natal, 1,899; Norway, 1,241; France, 1,230.

The weather conditions were favorable, though the heat was terrific. The shooting of 800 yards resulted as follows: United Kingdom, 554; United States, 551; Canada, 536; Natal, 518; Norway, 441; France, 441; Australia, 518.

The Canadians' scores at 800 yards were as follows: T. Hayhurst, 13th, 70; J. M. Jones, 32nd, 63; W. C. King, 46th, 69; E. C. O'Brien, 30th, 63; J. L. Peddie, 5th R. S., 68; J. H. Simpson, R.G., 69; J. D. Stuart, 6th D.C.O.R., 70; J. White, 13th, 69.—Total, 536, out of a possible 600.

In the second stage, at 900 yards, the aggregations were: United States, 1,066; United Kingdom, 1,058; Canada, 1,040; Australia, 1,010; Natal, 960; Norway, 855; France, 845.

At the 900 yards range the Canadians scored as follows: Hayhurst 63, Jones 66, King 67, O'Brien 64, Peddie 62, Simpson 59, Stuart 59, White 54.

The victory of the American riflemen at Bisley was celebrated by a Palma Trophy banquet, given by the International Rifle Association at the Trocadero. Among those present were the contesting teams and a number of distinguished British officials. The Duke of Cambridge, president of the rifle association, presided.

Funds have been subscribed, or are promised, already to enable a British team to go to the United States in 1904, to endeavor to recapture the Palma trophy. The Norwegians will send a team to the United States for next year's match.

The American Centennial Palma Trophy was given in 1875 by the United States of America, for international competition for the championship of the world at long ranges.

The trophy was won by the British team at Ottawa, Sept. 13, 1902, in competition with teams from the United States and Canada, and this year was shot for at Bisley.

Injured at Barn Raising.

Hamilton, July 13.—Robert Alexander Jones, a popular young farmer, who resided at Van Wagner's Beach, died yesterday afternoon in the City Hospital from injuries received at a barn raising a few days ago. The deceased was crushed in the back by a beam falling on him at the raising, which was on Mr. Stewart's farm, near Stoney Creek, and he was brought to the city for an operation at the hospital. He was about 25 years of age, and was the chief support of his parents. His father is blind.

WILD ORCHIDS.

Canada Has Some That Claim Much Attention and Admiration.

The mention of the name orchid recalls uncanny stories of plants with homicidal tendencies, while it excites anticipations of strange members of the vegetable kingdom perching on trees and drawing sustenance from the air. But we have members of the family in Canada claiming attention and admiration for their own sake, quite independently of the fame of their southern relatives. They do not coil their relentless and resistless tendrils around the unwary traveler, nor pass through their metamorphosis in syndicate short stories. Neither do they climb trees or otherwise defy the mandates of floral decorum. But they have charms all their own that repay many a season's quest where the life of nature has not been destroyed by encroaching civilization. The yellow lady's slipper or moccasin flower, either name being sufficient for identification, is perhaps the best known of our wild orchids, although to find it makes a ramble memorable. Its lip, for all orchids have that member, is in form and color indicated by its name. In season look for it under low undisturbed branches on dry hillsides. The pink lady's slipper and showy lady's slipper are still more beautiful sisters, and the ram's head lady's slipper, a cunning little member of the family, has been so named on account of its characteristic horns. The northern calypso is accorded the place of honor among our wild orchids, not only for its eager desire to be first in the spring but for its evanescent charm that no portraiture has yet been able to express. It may be passed unobserved, nestling in the moss. Finding the calypso is among the events that dwell in the memory, but even if it is never found there is the satisfying reflection that searching is its own reward. Its rich charms of pink, purple and yellow are concealed with becoming modesty.

The bog moss or sphagnum of swamps and sluggish streams, that perpetual vegetation which grows above while it dies beneath, creating vast stores of vegetable residue, is the chosen foothold of many wild orchids. The arethusa, richly tinted with pink, dainty in form and exhaling a rich perfume, the snake's tongue, northern white orchis and bracted orchis, seem to live parasitically on the bog moss. The plain and striped coral root rise quite confidently from the rich ground, not at all eager to hide the charms they possess. Their confidence is so often abused that they are growing rare. The flowers surround their naked stems, and the thick, smooth, brittle roots from which they are named seem to have no hold whatever in the ground. They shrink rapidly when exposed to the air. The lady's tresses, twisted and braided, grow in the open meadow, as well as in the close, shady woods, and the fragrance of their intricate flowers are among the delights of summer and early autumn. The rattle-snake plantain has a creepy, snakelike leaf that lives under the snow throughout the winter. It is one of several members of the family whose flowers are disappointing. A brilliant relative is always a serious handicap, and, although many of our wild orchids suffer in that way, they are none the less attractive to their appreciative friends.

Blood Disorders

are simply kidney disorders. The kidneys filter the blood of all that shouldn't be there. The blood passes through the kidneys every three minutes. If the kidneys do their work no impurity or cause of disorder can remain in the circulation longer than that time. Therefore if your blood is out of order your kidneys have failed in their work. They are in need of stimulation, strengthening or doctoring. One medicine will do all three, the finest and most imitated blood medicine there is

Old Age IS MADE Vigorous

BY THE USE OF

DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

"I suffered for six years with constipation and indigestion, during which time I employed several physicians, but they could not reach my case," writes Mr. G. Popplewell, of Eureka Springs, Carroll Co., Ark. "I felt that there was no help for me, could not retain food on my stomach; had vertigo and would fall helpless to the floor. Two years ago I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and little 'Pellets,' and improved from the start. After taking twelve bottles of the 'Discovery' I was able to do light work, and have been improving ever since. I am now in good health for one of my age—60 years. I owe it all to Doctor Pierce' medicines."

HEYDAY OF THE TAVERN.

Resort for Men of Letters During First Half of Eighteenth Century.

The heyday of the tavern as a resort for men of letters was in the first half of the eighteenth century. Addison and Steele, Pope and Swift, Akenside, Garth, and Gay have conferred undying fame on Button's, Tom's and Wills' coffee-houses, all in Russell Street, Convent Garden, Dick's in Fleet Street, the Cocoa Tree, in St. James' Street, and the Upper Flask at Hamstead. A little later on Dr. Johnson, with Boswell, Burke, Reynolds, and the Literary Club gave almost equal celebrity to the Crown and Anchor, Arundel Street; the Essex Head, Essex Street; the Turk's Head, Gerrard Street; the King's Head, Ivy Lane, and the Mitre, Fleet Street, while in addition Goldsmith is specially associated with the Globe, Fleet Street, and Garrick with the Queen's Arms, St. Paul's churchyard. Johnson declared "there is no private house in which people can enjoy themselves so well as at a capital tavern." At Nandos, now the so-called palace of Henry VIII., Thurlow obtained his first brief after engaging in a chance argument, and John Philpot Curran when in London, made it a point to "spend a couple of hours every night at a coffee house."

The order of the "Monks of the Screw," over which he presided in Dublin, was hardly inferior to Johnson's coterie, including as it did such celebrities as Lords Avonmore and Charlemont, Bowes Daly, Father O'Leary, Henry Grattan, and Henry Flood. Edinburgh had its eighteenth century tavern clubs, such as the Ante Manum (pay before hand), and the Marrowbones long before Christopher North gave a semi-fictitious fame to the Noctes Ambrosianae of the Blackwood group. A generation previously his gifted countryman Burns had set an example of tavern haunting in a coarser kind than that prevalent at Ambrose's, and earlier still Thomson, who wrote part of the "Seasons," at the Doves, Hammersmith, indirectly met his death while returning from that hostelry. The modern club has killed its public-house prototype, but the older institution has died hard. Lamb, Southey, and Coleridge carried on the ancient tradition in the Salutation and Cat in Newgate Street, where Sir Christopher Wren used to smoke his pipe. Dickens was himself the hero in David Copperfield's scene in the Red Lion, Parliament Street; he sketched the Leather Bottel, at Cobden, from personal knowledge; and he well enjoyed a day at Jack Straw's Castle. His great contemporary, Thackeray, frankly confessed to liking "what was called Bohemians and fellows of that sort," and long after he was a member of several well-known clubs he drew James Russell Lowell into Evans' to tell him he had killed off Col. Newcome. —London Standard.

A Story About Du Chaillu.

Du Chaillu was a little man of great good humor, but of very quick temper, and used to relate with satisfaction his first encounter with the late Duke of Argyll. When the skeleton of the first gorilla ever brought to Europe was on show in London the public was admitted on presentation of cards. The duke wrote to Du Chaillu that on such and such a day "the Duke of Argyll proposed to visit the gorilla." Du Chaillu at once wrote back that the gorilla was to be seen every day between certain hours and that of the Duke of Argyll presented his card he would no doubt be admitted like the rest of the public.

A Tailor's Perquisites.

There has been a serious strike of tailors in Edinburgh, and it has revealed an interesting state of affairs concerning the way the journeymen are treated by the masters. One of the latter, complaining of the unreasonableness of the strike, said that he allowed his men three glasses of whisky a day, with an extra nip if they started work before 4 in the morning and an extra glass if they stayed late after tea time.

Coal in South Africa.

South Africa is probably the richest mineral country in the world. The coal is almost equal in calorific values to the standard Welsh. It is so convenient, often lying on the top of the gold mine, that it can be delivered for $3 a ton. One coal mine company will probably abandon its coal to dig for gold.

HELPFUL HINTS TO YACHTMEN.

If in safety you would be,
Always let your sheet run free.

Do not gybe in heavy seas,
Put down your helm and face the breeze.

A foot to windward 'gainst the wind
Worth yards to leeward, bear in mind.

But do not go and overdo it,
And 'pinch' too much, or you will rue it!

Authority should always be
But one on land—more so at sea.

Don't run ashore to save a tack
At most a few yards you'll go back.

On a lee shore never land,
You may get blown upon the strand.

Always ready'—ever will Prevent upsets and many a spill.

In a squall, though going free,
To down your helm must careful be.

If round a mark a gybe you make,
Don't cut it fine—'tis a mistake.

Sit to windward on your tiller,
Or p'raps a sudden puff might spill her.

If 'neath a lee you're sailing then—
Look out for gusts down dale or glen.

When out from 'neath a lee you go,
Be ready for a stronger blow.

Never, never hesitate,
One second's pause—'tis then too late.

Don't carry sail for swagger's sake,
You're pretty sure to have a break!

If you have to scrub your sails,
Choose a day when sun prevails.

When sailing with the girl you love,
Don't let her 'gainst the tiller shove.

—Negemoosha, in Bermuda 'Colonist.'

Physicians and Hospitals.

During the past twenty years, millions of bottles of Angier's Petroleum Emulsion have been sold, and nearly all upon doctors' prescriptions. It is also extensively used in hospitals, especially for consumption, and wasting diseases of children. A good reason why you should use it.

Men of the Day.

The Right Hon. Andrew Graham Murray, Lord Advocate for Scotland, who has been appointed to preside over the Royal Commission which is to consider the law affecting trades unions and the relations of capital and labor, is a very eminent Scottish lawyer.

Sir William Lewis, who will also serve on the commission, is a Welsh coal magnate, and the inventor of the sliding scale of payment for coal-getting. He was born at Merthyr Tydvil in 1837, and has served on several previous Royal Commissions on labor and coal-mining.

Mr. Arthur Cohen, K.C., owes his nomination to the commission to his highly specialized knowledge of trade union law. He is now Judge of the Cinque Ports and has a son at the Bar.

Mr. Sidney Webb may be taken as the representative of the trade unions on the commission. He is an authority on the subject and an expert in questions of London Government, to which he has long devoted himself.

Sir Godfrey Lushington, who will represent the Home Office on the commission, was permanent Under Secretary for the Home Department from 1885 till 1895.

TROUBLES OF EX-CHIEF OF POLICE

Could not Stand Before Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mr. Charles Gilchrist had Diabetes for Years —Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Him.

Port Hope, July 13th. — (Special.) —Mr. Charles Gilchrist, Chief of Police here for fifteen years, and afterwards Dominion Fishery Overseer, is always willing to add his testimony to the volume of proof from all parts that Dodd's Kidney Pills never fail to cure any form of kidney disease.

"I am a healthy man. Dodd's Kidney Pills have done the job," is the way Mr. Gilchrist puts it. "When I first started to take Dodd's Kidney Pills I was in an awful state. I had been a sufferer from Diabetes and Kidney Disorder for ten years. My urine was of a dark bricky colour and I would suffer something awful passing.

"I tried everything, and tried the doctors, but could get no help till I was advised to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. They have made me a new man."

Mr. Gilchrist is getting on in years but he feels young. That's what Dodd's Kidney Pills do for a man.

JUDGE ARMOUR DEAD

Canadian Jurist Died After a Lingering Illness in London.

SKETCH OF JUDGE'S CAREER.

A Life of Varied Usefulness in Public and Official Positions — A Brilliant and Successful Student — Distinguished by Winning Coveted Scholarships—His Career as a Public Man and a Judge.

London, July 13.—Chief Justice John Douglas Armour, of the Supreme Court of Canada, and a member of the Alaskan boundary commission, who had been critically ill for some time and recently suffered a relapse, died at the London residence of his son Saturday morning.

Sketch of His Career.

John Douglas Armour was the son of the Rev. Samuel Armour, a clergyman of the Anglican Church, and was born at Otonabee, Peterboro County, on the 4th of May, 1830. After passing through the local schools and Upper Canada College, he took a brilliant course at the University of Toronto, winning two scholarships and the gold medal in classics, on his graduation in 1850.

He was called to the bar three years later after studying law with his brother, the late Robert Armour, and with the late Chancellor Vankoughnet. He began practice at Cobourg with the late Hon. Sydney Smith, and afterwards formed a partnership with H. F. Holland, which continued until his appointment to the bench.

In 1858, he was appointed Crown Attorney for the united counties of Northumberland and Durham and three years later, Clerk of the Peace. During the years 1859-1860 he also held the position of warden of these counties. He was elected a senator of Toronto University in 1859, and became a bencher of the Law Society of Upper Canada in 1871.

He was appointed one of Her Majesty's counsel learned in the law by Lord Monck in 1867, and in 1877, on the recommendation of Edward Blake was appointed Judge of the Queen's Bench Division of the High Court. After ten years' service Sir John A. Macdonald promoted him to to the position of Chief Justice of that branch. He went to the Court of Appeal as Chief Justice of Ontario on July 2, 1900, and in his last year was appointed to a seat on the Supreme Court Bench. In 1896 he served on the commission that revised the statutes of Ontario.

Mr. Justice Armour was married in 1856 to Eliza Clench, daughter of the late F. S. Clench of Cobourg.

In early years a Conservative in politics, he later changed his views and became a supporter of Mr. Blake. In 1874 he was offered the Liberal nomination for West Northumberland in the House of Commons, but declined. He is said to have been of the opinion that the independence of Canada would tend to the advancement of her best interests. What is said by Dent, the historian, is considered to have been the most comprehensive summing up of his character—"A man of wide reading, multifarious knowledge and great shrewdness and common sense."

The Vacant Position.

Ottawa, July 13.—The news of the death of Justice Armour was received here yesterday morning. Since coming to Ottawa Justice Armour made many friends and his death will be greatly regretted here. It is not likely that the Government will lose any time in appointing a successor to him on the Alaska Boundary Commission. There will be no necessity for filling the vacancy his death creates in the Supreme Court before September. The position will likely go to Ontario.

GREAT CANADIAN EXHIBIT.

Dominion Federal Authorities are Planning for a Grand Representation at the World's Fair, St. Louis.

St John's, Mo., July 10th.—Canada's exhibit at the World's Fair to be held at St. Louis next year will be the largest and most comprehensive that she has ever before attempted to show. The Canadian authorities, represented by their Agriculture Department at Ottawa, Ont., and Mr. William Hutchison, exposition commissioner, are putting forth unusual efforts to make such a display of Canadian products as will do justice to this country's magnificent resources.

It is a very well-known fact that the neighbours to the north are more vitally interested in the St. Louis Exposition than any other foreign country. It is also, and it has been already proved that at the Paris and Buffalo Expositions, Canada was to the front in securing first positions for natural products, dairy interests and cattle; furthermore, at the Osaka fair held last winter in Japan, ten foreign countries competed, Canada easily won the medal of honour for the best display.

The Hon. Mr. Fisher, Minister of Agriculture in the Dominion Government, has just caused an item of $150,000 to be voted for the St. Louis World's Fair. The Canadian building will cost upwards $25,000.

One of the most interesting features of the Canadian exhibit will be a cold storage plant for the preservation of natural products.

One fact which, although not widely known, is nevertheless very true, namely, that for the last five years a great number of Americans have crossed the border and have settled in the Canadian Northwest. It is obvious, therefore, that a practical illustration of Canada's natural wealth such as she intends to show here next year, cannot but stimulate to a high degree, a continuance of the emigration. Canada needs settlers of an industrious and earnest character, and she must display all honest and available means to that end.

Will Probably Live.

Ottawa, July 13.—Rene Schingh, the love-sick swain, who put a bullet into his head the other night, on account of being refused the privilege of paying court to a lady, is not likely to die. He has regained consciousness, and has a good chance to live. He will be blind in both eyes.

BIG CELEBRATION OF ORANGEMEN.

Very Successful Day's Programme in Lakefield.

MANY LODGES WERE IN LINE.

Very Creditable Showing Made by the Different Lodges—Addresses by Prominent Men.

Yesterday all roads led to Lakefield, and beginning almost at sunrise, the sound of the fife and drum could be heard in the land, and sturdy farmers with their wives and children, in buggies, democrats, or wagons, wended their way to the little town on the lake, where the Battle of the Boyne was to be celebrated by all Orangemen of Peterborough County, until at 11 o'clock 1500 visitors were the number conservatively estimated.

The special train of six coaches left Peterborough at 10.30, on board of which were members of Peterborough Lodge, No. 60, and Col. Saunderson's Lodge, No. 321, and a great many others who were taking advantage of the opportunity to visit Lakefield, and at the same time participate in the Orange celebration. Arriving at Lakefield about 11 the contingent was met by the lodges already gathered, and a great number of other persons who welcomed the visitors heartily and escorted the new arrivals to the town hall, where the procession disbanded for dinner. This was no small undertaking either, as it is seldom that so many hungry people are waiting to be fed at one time, but, with the limited accommodation possesed, this work was accomplished in a wonderfully expeditious manner, and that everyone had fully satisfied the inner man, was proven by the good natured smiles which wreathed the faces of all the throng.

Hosts Craig and Leahy had their hands and their houses full, and every second private house in town served meals to all and sundry, while in the town hall two large tables were spread and a sumptuous meal served to hundreds of visitors.

At two o'clock the procession was formed at the Craig House and paraded the principal streets of the gaily decorated town to the strains of martial music supplied by brass and fife and drum bands.

The parade, which was a most creditable one, took the following form:

Every lodge made such a creditable showing that it is hard to particularize. North Star Lodge made a good showing for a comparatively new lodge. All the members were dressed in white vests and presented a natty appearance. Nassau, No. 457, also created a very favourable impression by their clean and appropriate uniforms. Three little boys carrying large bouquets preceeded the lodge, and made a decided hit. The following Past County Masters were in the parade: J. B. McWilliams, No. 80 Peterborough; Jos. Jones, No. 80, Peterborough; Jos. Batten, No. 321, Col. Sanderson Lodge; Dr. Burges, No. 122, Lakefield, also Mr. Robt. Weir, Past Grand Master, Black Knights, British America, who wore a gold P. G. M's badge, presented to him at Collingwood. The objective point of the parade was the Park adjoining the Craig House grounds, where a large platform had been erected on which were stated the Past County Masters, District Master R. Wilson, and the speakers of the day, also Mr. W. Moncrief, who will be 100 years of age in a few months, and has celebrated 82 12ths of July. He was introduced to the gathering and his appearance provoked the heartiest applause. He is a resident of Otonabee, and has the use of all his facilities. The chairman of the meeting which was held immediately after the parade was Mr. Steven Harrison, County Master, and in opening, called for a selection by the Campbellford Band, which was much enjoyed. The first speaker was Ald. Jos. Batten, P.C.M., and his address was given in humorous vein. He expressed hi self as being pleased to have the honour of speaking to such a large gathering of Orangemen. He said that there was a growing public sentiment in favour of Orangemen. There was a time when they were considered to be rather a disreputable class, but all this is changed now. The OrangeOrder is growing in respectability year by year, and as a result the opinion of the public is becoming increasingly in favour of the Order. He said the aims and objects were high and noble and that the members were recognizing more and more the obligations which they took when they become Orangemen, and the benefit resultant to the members at large were manifold. He closed by expressing a wish that all might live to celebrate many more such happy days.

Rev. T. W. Loggott, Methodist Minister of Lakefield, was next called upon and gave a splendid address. On rising he said that the Constitution of the Orange Order was a high one, and to live up to it should be the aim of every man who took the sacred oath of the Order. Orangism stands for (1) Personal Liberty and (2) Uprightness. Everyone who becomes a member of the society is supposed to be a man in character and in aspirations. Orangemen today have just as important a duty to perform as their fathers had 213 years ago, although their duties do not take the same form. Then they were called upon to defend their principles with their life-blood, but now the duties devolving upon Orangemen were more of an educative nature. They should instill into the minds of people the principles of religious liberty for which their ancestors fought and died. He appealed to all Orangemen to hold high ideals in the management and operations of the Order, and sustain the pure character which it was intended the Order should bear. This address was followed by a second selection given by the Campbellford Band, after which Lt.-Col. Millor, P.C.M., was called upon, and responded, making one of the most brilliant speeches of the day. He considered it a glorious thing to see such a mass of people gathered to celebrate one of the greatest events in its far-reaching results, ever recorded in English history. He reviewed briefly the events leading up to the advent. into the arena of English politics of Prince William of Nassau. English people had had a varied career of successes and failures, owing to the fact that but few of the various rulers recognized the great principle of religious liberty as being an essential one to the permanent success of a nation. But upon the arrival of William, the history of the country took on a brighter hue and never since has that liberty which was then procured, been questioned. Out of Chaos and disorder he formed a great nation, and the cardinal principles of religious and political liberty which he established, stand to-day. So that any man may worship in whatever way his conscience may direct. Orangemen have a God-given heritage which must be perpetuated, but this can only be done by every member living up to the principles upon which the Order is based.

The very essence of Orangeism is toleration. Orangemen do not say that all must hold the same views as they do, but uphold the principle that all may have perfect freedom of thought and action. He appealed to all the members to live so that even the enemies of the Order would be forced to admit that it was right, because the lives of the individual members were right. The men who defended Derry, some of them even to the extent of dying for it, were noble men, who had a high sense of public honour, and the same spirit should actuate Orangemen to-day. He believed that the members of the Order to-day were good loyal Britishers, and as such would do all possible to build up this part of the Empire in uprightness and integrity. He believed that Canadians had the true spirit of loyalty, their readiness to shoulder a rifle and defend their country attested to the true spirit of loyalty which pervaded the land.

Mr. J. B. McWilliams, P.C.M., followed in a brief but inspiring address, in the opening of which he expressed his pleasure at being present, and to meet so many of his Orange friends. It was largely through his efforts that Lakefield was honoured with the celebration this year. He had felt that it was hardly fair to the smaller towns that the celebration should take place every year in the larger places, and he had arranged to give the smaller towns an opportunity of participating in this glorious event. The Orange Order had made remarkable progress since its introduction in Canada in 1812. Lodges might now be found from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and the Orange principle that no man should be persecuted because of his religious opinions, has obtained a firm foothold in Canadian institutions. He was glad to testify to the good feeling which existed between the Orangemen and the Roman Catholics, and referred as an example to the late Mr. Cahill, Peterborough, who when a member of the council always supported a proposal to make a civic grant to the Orange Order when the celebration was held in that town. This is as it should be; all sections should work together to build up a country. He paid a hight tribute to the loyalty of Orangemen. Whenever there has been a danger threatening the country, the members of the Orange Order have been the first to go to the help of their native land, or the land of their adoption. He cited instances in the war of 1866, when a great majority of those who enlisted were Orangemen, and in 1885, when fully three-fourths of the volunteers were members of the Orange Order. The Order even was ahead of the churches in advancing the nation along moral lines, because they had introduced legislation at the last Grand Lodge meeting to prohibit any manufacturers of intoxicating liquors becoming members of the Order.

Rev. Mr. Quarrington, Baptist minister of Lakefield, was the next speaker and congratulated the Order on the excellent showing it had made, and felt it was an honour to Lakefield to have the members celebrate the great event of 1690 there. He spoke briefly on (1) what the day reminds us of, (2) what the fact which is celebrated reminds us of and (3) what the Order reminds us of. Orangism stood for a unified Protestantism. In it all church differences are lost sight of and the one great fact that they are all Protestant is magnified. He spoke of the duty of Orangemen to the country and the King, and pleaded for a broad spirit of brotherly helpfulness, which should extend even to the Roman Catholic friends. Mr. Quarrington's address made a most favourable impression. He spoke with an eloquence which is rather remarkable in one so young.

The last address was given by Mr. W. Kindred, Deputy Master of Peterborough District, and he made the hit of the day in a short, but very humourous speech in which among other things he expressed his pride in being an Orangeman, and closed by thanking the Lakefield citizens for their hospitality. The meeting was closed by the National Anthem, led by the band.

The celebration was in every way a great success, and the Orangemen of the District have reason to be proud of the result of their efforts. A remarkable feature was the good behavior of the visitors. Police were an unnecessary precaution, because the conduct of all was most exemplary, attesting to the fact which was mentioned by some of the speakers, that Orangemen were growing in respectability. Everyone was well dressed and well conducted, and all went home feeling that a most successful day had been spent.

A GREAT MEASURE.

The Globe.

Hon. Mr. Blair is to be congratulated on having at length got his railway commission bill out of the committee stage in the House of Commons. Although the principle of it was not objected to by the Opposition, there is nevertheless a variety of opinions on the details, and this the Minister had to meet. Like the old Parliamentary hand that he is, Mr. Blair showed from beginning to end that he was not disposed to create any unnecessary friction in the passage of the bill through the House, nor to antagonize interests outside to any greater degree than was absolutely necessary in getting effective legislation. To all suggestions for additions to or improvement of the clauses, he kept an open ear, but exhibited the necessary firmness, backed by knowledge, when the suggestions were not acceptable. By the exercise in fact, of great Parliamentary tact and skill, he has steered successfully through committee, a measure that must be regarded as revolutionary.

As an early and insistent advocate of a railway commission, the Globe may be allowed to express popular satisfaction that a law will this session be put on the statute book with this end in view. It has required real courage, and no ordinary initiative on the part of the Government to undertake such a task, and we prophesy that not the least of the achievements of which the Liberalism of after times will boast will be that it has furnished the people of Canada with so necessary an instrument of social and commercial justice. There was undoubtedly a temptation to leave such a thorny subject alone. The politician is never very enthusiastic about legislation that promises to make more enemies than friends, and the misfortune is that measures such as this are never remembered on election day, except by those who dislike them. Another circumstance that had a tendency to dissuade from taking the subject up was that the efforts at railway regulation made by the United States Congress had been by no means successful. The Interstate Commerce Commission started off apparently with powers which, if not ample, were at least considerable. Bit by bit, however, through judicial rulings its powers have been so materially abridged that but a vestige of its former authority remains.

A very little reflection, however, sholud have satisfied those who thought that this experience was a discouragement to all other efforts in this direction, that the cases of Canada and the United States are in many ways dissimilar. There the legislator found himself surrounded by conflicting Federal and State rights, liable to the interpretation of courts which time out of mind have illustrated the ingenuity of the human mind in discovering meanings in plain English phrasefologies that no mere layman would ever have thought it possible to read into them. In Canada the right of the Federal Parliament to make regulations for the control of railways is not likely to be challenged, so that from the Atlantic Ocean to the Pacific the law which will soon receive the royal assent will be in full force and effect. There is, of course, one exception to this statement. The bargain with the Canadian Pacific Railway makes the main line of that railway virtually exempt from the provisions as to the regulation of freight rates. Of all the clauses of that bargain, that which leaves the Canadian Pacific exempt from regulation in this respect until the profits exceed ten per cent. on the investment was unquestionably the most ill-advised and inexcusable. But there it stands, and will continue to stand, as a limitation on our powers to regulate all the railways of Canada. It is some comfort to reflect that to some extent the Canadian Pacific Railway will be affected, whether willing or not, by the regulations which its competitors will have to observe.

PORT SIMPSON.

It is Said to be the Finest Port on the Pacific Coast.

Port Simpson, in British Columbia, is just now attracting very much interest as the proposed terminus of two trans-continental roads and the wonder is that more has not been said before of its great natural facilities as a harbour and a shipping point.

Mr. Hall and Mr. C. E. Perry, the engineer in charge of surveys for the Trans-Canadian Railway from Quebec to Port Simpson, have just made a survey of the harbour and approaches and they are most enthusiastic about it, stating that it is the most beautiful city site, undoubtedly the best on the Pacific coast, not even excepting the far-famed Harbour of San Francisco.

Besides completing plans of the terminals and proposed docks, the locations have been made for 100 miles westward.

The main harbour is approached from the open sea, Dixon entrance, through the Inskip Passage 1-2 mile in width; soundings from 13 to 30 fathoms. The Birnie Island and Harbour Reef protect the harbour from northerly and westerly winds. The harbour has a length of 3 1-2 miles, with an average width of 1 1-4 miles; soundings from 13 to 29 fathoms with good mud and gravel anchorage ground. 2-3 of a mile south of Inskip Passage is Cunningham Passage 1,300 feet wide; soundings from 13 to 30 fathoms. This inner harbour has a length of 3 3-4 miles with an average width of 1,300 feet. It is entirely protected from all winds.

The present population of Port Simpson is about 250, of which 100 are white. There are Episcopal, Roman Catholic and Methodist churches. The Indians are expert fishermen and earn large wages during the month of June, July, August and September. The climate in winter is never very cold and the summer is very fine. All cereals, flowers and fruit thrive well. Port Simpson boasts of a telegraph station, government agent's office, Hudson Bay Co's store and a Post Office.

Doubtless before long a great change will come over this little village which will assume a more important role than its present inhabitants ever dreamed of for it.

TROUBLES OF EX-CHIEF OF POLICE

Could not Stand Before Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mr. Charles Gilchrist had Diabetes for Years—Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Him.

Port Hope, July 13th. — (Special.) —Mr. Charles Gilchrist, Chief of Police here for fifteen years, and afterwards Dominion Fishery Overseer, is always willing to add his testimony to the volume of proof from all parts that Dodd's Kidney Pills never fail to cure any form of kidney disease.

"I am a healthy man. Dodd's Kidney Pills have done the job," is the way Mr. Gilchrist puts it. "When I first started to take Dodd's Kidney Pills I was in an awful state. I had been a sufferer from Diabetes and Kidney Disorder for ten years. My urine was of a dark bricky colour and I would suffer something awful passing.

"I tried everything, and tried the doctors, but could get no help till I was advised to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. They have made me a new man."

Mr. Gilchrist is getting on in years but he feels young. That's what Dodd's Kidney Pills do for a man.

POPE SINKING FAST.

All Leo's Relatives Summoned to His Bedside.

DISSOLUTION IS IMMINENT.

All the Symptoms Manifested by His Holiness Are Considered of the Gravest Nature—His Feeling of Fatigue and Indifference Is Interpreted as a Sign of Fast Diminishing Vitality.

Rome, July 14.—(2.16 a. m.) — "While there is life there is hope" was all the consolation that Dr. Lapponi could give this morning in admitting that Pope Leo's condition was very grave.

The Pontiff has suffered another relapse, and he lies in a more critical condition than at any time since the middle of last week. The semi-comatose condition into which he fell at midnight, and the confused state of his heretofore lucid mind on his awakening at an early hour this morning, accompanied by still greater depression than during yesterday are regarded as symptoms of the gravest nature, and as pointing to an imminent dissolution.

Death May Be Delayed Days.

Even in the early evening medical opinion was less pessimistic, and Dr. Mazzoni thought the end was not within sight. He expressed the belief that unless the disease took an unexpected turn there was no reason to apprehend death for two or three days. This statement, however, did not relieve the anxiety of those who knew that powerful stimulants are being constantly administered. Some attribute the Pontiff's weakness last night to the excessive mental and physical efforts undertaken Sunday in receiving visitors, hearing mass, etc.

Vitality Diminishing.

Never before has the patient's weakness progressed as it did yesterday. For the first time since his illness the Pontiff asked to have the shutters almost closed, as the light hurt his eyes, and at the same time, contrary to his custom, he begged to be left as quiet as possible. Another noteworthy symptom of his weakening condition was the docility with which he took medicine and nourishment. Previously, indeed during his whole life, Pope Leo has been against the prescriptions of doctors or anything which had the aspect of being forced upon him. His feeling of fatigue and indifference was interpreted as a sign that his vitality was fast diminishing. Late last evening, nine cardinals, including Satolli and Martinelli, were admitted to the sick room, but the Pope could not even speak to them, merely giving them his hand to kiss.

The Latest Bulletins.

4.30 a. m.—Dr. Lapponi has succeeded in reanimating the Pope with stimulants. He also gave him a little nourishment. The patient's breathing is again difficult. He says he feels very tired.

The fender proved useless, and allowed her to be crushed and mangled almost beyond recognition by the front trucks. She is in the hospital struggling between life and death.

Drowned in the Trent.

Frankford, July 14.—A drowning accident occurred in the River Trent at Frankford at 11.30 yesterday. Maggie A., the 12-year-old daughter of Patrick O'Sullivan, while bathing along with two other girls of the same age, stumbled over a rock and fell into deep water. The others could give no assistance. The body was found half an hour later, but life was gone.

Train Off the Track.

Toronto, July 14.—A run-off occurred on the main line of the C. P. R. at 6.30 yesterday morning just east of Myrtle, near a town called Radnor. Several cars of a freight train left the track, doing a great deal of damage to the rails and roadbed, but no one was hurt. The C.P.R. regular from Montreal was delayed five hours as a result.

ANOTHER VICTIM TO THE WATER.

Albert Dunsford Drowned This Morning.

Trawling Line Caught in the Weeds and Upset the Canoe—Two Narrowly Escaped.

Not a month has passed since the son of one of Peterborough's foremost citizens was drowned while canoeing in Little Lake, and to-day the death by drowning of a member of the local Fire Brigade is reported. The news was heard only a few moments before going to press so that the story obtained cannot be given in a detailed report. The fatality occurred between half past eleven and twelve o'clock, at a point about three miles down the river, and Mr. Albert Dunsford was drowned. It is learned that at an early hour this morning three men, Albert Mitchell, Art. Ringer and the deceased fireman went down the river in a canoe to trawl.

At the time and place previously mentioned the canoe upset and its occupants were thrown into the water. The three men were not expecting an upset and the canoe had drifted some distance before they realized their perilous position.

From what can be learned it is understood that Ringer immediately struck out for the bank, while Mitchell caught up to the canoe. Dunsford also made for the shore. Ringer thought Dunsford had made for the canoe, but on looking back saw him following to the land. He is said to have called out and asked him if he could manage to swim the distance, which query, it is reported, Dunsford answered in the affirmative. However, the treacherous weeds must have entwined themselves around his legs and body and drew him beneath the water. Notwithstanding a diligent search on the part of his two companions his body has not since been seen.

On the arrival in town of Mitchell and Ringer, the fire bell was rung, and the firemen collected and were told of the fatality to one of their number. A search party immediately left to try and discover the body.

Albert Dunsford was aged about 39 years, and was a widower residing on Sherbrooke street. He was the father of three children, and was born and raised in town. His loss will be greatly felt in town, as will also be the severing of his connection with the brigade, of which he has been a good and brave member.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT TO MASTER ELMO BOGUE.

His Thigh Broken in Accident on Water Street To-day.

A rather serious accident occurred this morning about 11.30 o'clock as a result of which Elmo Bogue, the eleven-year-old son of Contractor Bogue, fractured his right thigh.

The lad, who is a bright, active little fellow, was riding with Mr. Blodgett, who was hauling gravel to Water street, where Mr. Bogue has a contract for repairing the granolythic walk. As the wagon was being unloaded a plank which formed the box on the wagon slipped, and striking the little fellow on the thigh a serious fracture resulted. Dr. Greer was passing at the time and took charge of the boy, making him as comfortable as possible, with the assistance of the Misses Dennistoun, opposite whose residence the accident occurred, until the arrival of the ambulance, when he was conveyed to his father's home, on Dublin street, where the fracture was set by Drs. Greer and Halliday. He is doing as well as can be expected at present.

PARALYTIC SUFFERER REMOVED TO STONY.

Mr. W. Brock, of Toronto, Taken to his Cottage Yesterday.

Mr. W. Brock, who resides on Brunswick avenue, Toronto, and was a teacher in Church School, suffered a paralytic stroke some six weeks ago, which has deprived him of the use of one side. He has a cottage on Stony Lake, and some ten days ago expressed a wish to Mr. George Cochrane that he might be moved to it, as he thought the change would result in an improved condition of his health. Mr. Cochrane kindly offered to attend to the arrangements for his removal which were accomplished yesterday. Mr. H. LeBrun and Mr. Cochrane met the train on which he was conveyed from Toronto, and took him to Lakefield at noon, where he was placed on board the Majestic and taken to his cottage on Stony Lake. Mr. LeBrun accompanied him up the lakes to render his trip as comfortable as possible.

DR. W. E. BROWN ON THE ROENTGEN RAY

Instructive Lecture in the Y. M. C. A. Hall.

Under the Auspices of the George Street Epworth League—A Simple Explanation of a Difficult Subject.

Despite the fact that the entertainment season has drawn to a close in Peterborough, the Y.M.C.A. Hall was more than filled with an audience eager to hear a lecture on the Roentgen Rays, which it had been advertised would be given by Dr. Brown, under the auspices of the George street Epworth League.

It must be stated that the lecture was both interesting and instructive, and couched in such simple yet explanatory language as to be within the comprehension of all present.

Besides explaining the apparatus, Dr. Brown made some practical experiments for the benefit of the audience.

The lecture was preceded by a short musical programme of somewhat more than usual quality. Miss Ida Sanderson commenced with an instrumental solo, which evoked merited applause. "Oh, that we were Maying," was the title of a vocal duet by Miss Clara Belleghem and Mr. J. Browne. Their voices which blend well together, were heard to advantage, and the singers scored a distinct success. The third and last number of the musical programme was an instrumental solo from Miss Wilhelmine Gumpricht, whose rendition was well received. The fingering in Miss Gumpricht's selections showed her to be a musician of unusual proficiency.

Dr. Brown commenced his interesting lecture by stating that in one discourse it was not possible to give more than a limited idea of the Roentgen or X-Rays, which he said, like many other discoveries, had been led up to by things which had gone before. He said that matter was generally considered in three states — solid, liquid and gaseous, but added that there was a fourth, the radiant state, which was, to use a dictionary explanation, a state of emitting vivid light or splendour, or darting rays of light or heat. To illustrate what he had said, Dr. Brown remarked that water in a solid condition was ice, and in a gaseous state, steam. He reminded the audience that air had already been liquified, and stated he thought it could be solidified if the temperature were cold enough, and the pressure sufficiently great.

The lecturer said that Sir William Crookes had invented a tube, which had been called after that inventor, and said that the light which would be shown would be Crooke's light, and not the X-Rays.

The speaker then diverted the attention of his audience to "air," which he said was composed of molecules, which are always in constant motion. Speaking of the Crookes tube the lecturer said that when a powerful current was turned on, the molecules, inside the tube, stream off the platinum plate and go to the surface of the contained tube. He said that every time a powerful current was turned on there was a tendency to form a vacuum and pointed out how, by an ingenious method, this vacuum was lowered to its proper level.

Before proceeding further with his subject the lecturer dealt with the substance termed "ether" through which medium the X-Ray was obtained. He said that old philosophers termed "ether" as follows:—"A thin subtle matter much finer than air which begins with the limits of the atmosphere and occupies the heavenly sphere." Late physicists, said Dr. Brown, term it—"An all-pervading, elastic medium everwhere present and penetrating all bodies however solid." He said that the amount of ether in more solid substances was proportionately limited to the solidity of the substances. The speaker said that air or the atmosphere was a different substance from ether. He took for an illustration the vibrations caused by the striking of a note on the piano. The striking of lower "C" in air caused some hundred vibrations per second, while the striking of the upper "C" caused some hundreds of thousands of vibrations per second. The lecturer said that the same vibrations in ether would be measured by the billions per second. Dr. Brown incidentally remarked that in his machine there were some 140 miles of copper wire closely wound.

The lecturer then entered into a detailed explanation of the apparatus he had on the table.

The speaker then stated that he would operate the machine and make a Crookes' light. The room being darkened by the light having been turned off this was done, and the audience saw nails which were embeded in a piece of wood and several similar objects hidden from the vision of the naked eye.

At the conclusion of the discourse Dr. Brown, on motion of Mr. Stubbs, seconded by Mr. Galley, was tendered a hearty vote of thanks for his interesting and instructive lecture.

In reply Dr. Brown stated that he was indeed glad if he had induced any to think more of the wonders of nature such as wireless telegraphy and the Roentgen Ray. He said that every good or bad word uttered was vibrated up through the ocean of ether above and around and recorded for or against us as the case might be. In conclusion Dr. Brown thanked the audience for its attention and regretted that he had not had more time to deliver a more specific lecture.

FIRE IN LAKEFIELD CAUSES AMUSEMENT.

Bravery and Presence of Mind Prevent a Serious Conflagration.

Yesterday while the preparations were in progress for the great Orange Parade at Lakefield, a most exciting incident occurred. Mr. A. Northey, whose residence is situated on "Broadview," in common with nearly every other householder in the town, with a true patriotic spirit, was trying to feed a share of the hungry multitudes, and was also running a soda water and "ice cold lemonade" emporium on his lawn. So much attention was being paid to the business on hand that it was not noticed that an extraordinarily fierce fire was burning in the cooking stove in the kitchen until a smell of smoke was scented by one of the pretty damsels, who also from pure feelings of patriotism, was waiting on one of the tables. A hasty examination revealed the fact that the roof in the vicinity of the chimney, and part of the walls upstairs, were in flames. At once consternation reigned among the waitresses, and many who were waiting at the tables for their sixth course to be served, had to leave the building with their meal unfinished, but the gallant sons of Douro and Smith came to the rescue, and soon a bucket brigade was organized and water was being poured down the chimney, and, incidentally, down the backs of the spectators, and any old place, except where the fire was. In the meantime the fire bell was pealing forth in musical tones the information that a fire was in progress, and the firemen, recognizing the opportunity to make a name for themselves, were making preparations to take advantage of it. The members of the brigade gathered leisurely at the hall and held an informal meeting to decide upon the course of procedure. There was a dissension in the ranks as to whether it would be becoming, in view of the fact that so many fine visitors were in town, to appear in their official capacity without having donned their uniforms. It was contended that this was an occasion which was too valuable to be missed, and after it had been put to a vote of those present, it was unanimously decided that each member should first procure his uniform before proceeding to the fire. This was done, and when all was ready, the brigade was formed in review order and, preceded by the fire engine, drawn by a well-groomed horse, proceeded to the burning building.

It was thought by some of the members that one of the visiting bands should be engaged to head the parade, but this proposal was voted down by a narrow majority. When the brigade with their engine and other fire fighting apparatus, arrived on the scene, they were greeted by an ear-splitting cheer, and it was easily seen that their fine appearance as they marched with stately tread through the crowded streets, was fatal to the whole hearts of numbers of the visiting young ladies. That they arrived too late to be of any assistance in extinguishing the fire, was a matter worthy of little consideration, compared with the impression which they created upon the visitors. But at any rate, just to show that they could work efficiently, as well as look nice, the engine was put into commission, and notwithstanding the fact that the occupants of the house had almost forgotten there had been a fire, and the lemonade stand was again doing business, a stream of water, which must have reached to the eaves of a one-storey building, was thrown around promiscuously, to the evident discomfort of some who were not costumed for a shower, not to speak of a water shed.

Mr. Northey estimates his loss at about $200, partially covered by insurance.

There will likely be paddlers who are not members in the races, and the club invites all who are interested to take part. The races start at seven p.m. sharp and will consist of.

FOOTBALL.

The Y.M.C.A. team left this morning on the 11.35 C.P.R. train for Havelock, accompanied by a number of supporters to play the deciding game for the championship in the Midland Football Association, and the winning of the Stratton Cup. The following men will represent the Y.M.C.A.:

Goal, McFadden.
Backs, Burnham, Whitea.
Half backs, Simpson, Lee, McPherson.
Centre, Schneider.
Right wing, Noble, Morgan.

It is very hard to understand the action of the Havelock Association Football Team to-day. The local Y.M.C.A. team journeyed to that village to-day for the purpose of playing the return game in the final round for the Stratton cup. On arriving at the grounds they were met by a constable who would not allow them on the field. They then went to another field to have a practice among themselves but were ordered out of this field also in short order. The above actions of the Havelock people seem entirely unexplainable.

The Young Men's Guild of St. Paul's church defeated the Young Men's Guild of the Charlotte street church, at a sudden death game of baseball last evening by a score of 20 to 11, compiled in three innings. Mr. Sailsbury when interviewed said that McGrath had accepted Taylor's challenge before the expiration of the thirty days, but added that Taylor had not notified the committee that he had challenged McGrath, who it is understood, is willing to run.

MR. BLAIR RESIGNS.

Minister of Railways Steps Out of Laurier Government.

THE SENSATION AT OTTAWA.

Out of Sympathy With His Colleagues on the Grand Trunk Pacific Policy—Believes Moncton-Quebec Portion of New Project Will, If Carried Out, Injure the Intercolonial Railway.

Ottawa, July 14.—Like a bolt out of the blue last night came the report that the Minister of Railways had sent in his resignation to the Prime Minister. Instantly it monopolized attention to the entire exclusion of everything else. Members forsook the chamber and gathered in knots in the corridors to discuss the matter. When the report was brought to the Prime Minister's attention he refused to say a word in regard to it. Hon. Mr. Blair was just as reticent, and politely but firmly declined to open his mouth on the subject. Nobody, however, doubts that the report is true, and the probability is that the Prime Minister will be consulting the Governor-General with respect to the matter this morning.

HON. A. G. BLAIR.

Against Moncton-Quebec Line.

The action of Mr. Blair is apparently connected with the Government's decision to build another Government line from Moncton to Quebec. He seemingly takes the view that such a policy will not be beneficial to the Intercolonial, which it has been his special pride and ambition to build up and extend. Being out of harmony with the majority of his colleagues, Mr. Blair doubtless felt there was only one course open to him. He was out of town on Saturday and Sunday, having gone to pay a visit to his daughter. He returned about 12.30 yesterday, but did not attend the afternoon meeting of the Council, neither did he visit his department.

The Premier's Plans.

The Premier will in all likelihood announce the policy of the Government on the Grand Trunk Pacific project at the end of the present week or the beginning of the next. Sir Wilfrid has from the very beginning taken an active part in the negotiations, and will elaborate the Government plans for the benefit of Parliament.

Mr. Fielding Is Silent.

As the House was about to adjourn R. L. Borden said there were rumors that Hon. A. G. Blair had resigned, and asked for an official statement. Mr. Fielding, who was leading the House, replied that he had not seen Sir Wilfrid Laurier or Mr. Blair that evening, and had therefore no information to offer.

Mr. Borden suggested that Mr. Fielding make it a point to see the Premier and Mr. Blair before 8 o'clock this afternoon, so that he might be able to enlighten the House.

A Successful Administrator.

Mr. Blair entered the Laurier Administration as Minister of Railways and Canals at its formation in July, 1896, and in August of that year was elected for Queen's-Sunbury. As Minister of Railways he had charge of the extension of the Intercolonial from Levis to Montreal, which was approved by Parliament in '98, bringing the terminus to a shipping centre, instead of leaving it in "a ploughed field." Under his management of the railway the heavy yearly deficits of his predecessors have given way to a satisfactory surplus, while the service of the line has been vastly improved, until the service and equipment will now compare favorably with that of any other line on the continent. The St. Lawrence canals have also been greatly improved, and the fourteen-foot waterway completed from the lakes to the sea. At the general election of 1900 Mr. Blair defeated Hon. Geo. E. Foster for St. John by 997.

Before going to Ottawa Mr. Blair had had a most successful career as Premier of his native Province. Entering New Brunswick politics in 1878, when there were but six Liberals in a House of forty-one, at the first session he was chosen leader of the party, and before the next election had gained eleven more supporters. Shortly after the general election of '83 he succeeded in defeating the Government, formed a Ministry, and was later sustained in three general elections in '86, '90 and '94. At the time of his resignation to enter the Laurier Administration, he had been Premier for over thirteen years, and he still commands a strong following in New Brunswick, the Province sending nine Liberals and five Conservatives to the Commons. The retiring Minister has a most distinguished reputation as a lawyer. He was a member of the Inerprovincial Conference which met at Quebec in 1887, and was a Vice-Chairman of the Reform Convention at Ottawa in 1893. Mr. Blair is a Methodist, and is in his sixtieth year.

Train Smash at Hamilton.

Hamilton, July 14.—The fast International Limited, due here at 5.50, nearly came to grief last evening in the west end of the G. T. R. yards. It crashed into a yard engine and tossed it off the track. Both engines were badly wrecked. One passenger, Robert Duncan, Sanford avenue, was rather seriously injured, but all the train hands escaped with a few bruises. The yard engine was standing on a siding. It was a miracle that so little damage was done.

Won't Give King an Address.

Dublin, July 14.—Wild scenes yesterday marked the second debate by the municipal corporation on the question of presenting an address of welcome to King Edward on his arrival in Dublin. The Lord Mayor finally called in the police, who cleared the hall. After a stormy sitting of four hours the motion in favor of the address was defeated by 40 to 37 votes.

EDMUND MATTHEWS' DEATH.

Large Number Attend Funeral of Murdered Man at Harrow.

Windsor, July 14.—Dr. McKenzie of Harrow performed an autopsy on the remains of Edmund Matthews, the colored man, who died from wounds inflicted by O. Richardson. It was found that the bullet which caused Matthews' death entered between the ninth and tenth ribs on the left side of the body, penetrated the lining of of the stomach, passed through the kidneys and lodged in the spine. The wounds were such that recovery would be impossible, the kidneys being very badly injured.

The remains of the deceased were interred yesterday. There were many curious spectators present, and a large number of friends and relatives followed the remains to the grave.

This morning, at 10 o'clock, Coroner Hassard of Harrow will hold an inquest into the death.

ENDEAVORERS IN A PANIC.

When Tent Blew Down 8,000 People Were Under It.

Denver, Colo., July 14.—The big tent where the Christian Endeavor Convention was held for the past four days, was blown down yesterday while over 8,000 people were inside. A dozen persons were injured, but none seriously.

The convention was in full progress at the time of the accident. The sides of the tent had been opened to admit air, and this enabled a sudden wind to lift the big canvas as if it were a balloon. Immediately the 8,000 occupants of the tent were in a panic. Hundreds of men sprang to their feet, however, and raised the tent.

GEO. STEVENS
AGENT.

THE INDIANS OF CANADA.

We Treat Our Red Men in Such Fashion That They Do Not Object to Be Ruled by the Whites.

Canada is making good Indians out of live ones. The Dominion started the right way about it. While the red citizens of the United States were engaged in repelling the advance of civilization, while they were massacreing the settler and the settler's family as they pushed their way further and further west, the Canadian Indian was trapping the game of the north for the Hudson's Bay Company, and in this way benefiting mankind.

The fact that in Canada the white man brought the Indian congenial employment, brought the white man's need for the Indian to fill, and for which he was ready to pay, put the attitude of both into their proper relations. Go where you will in western Canada even at this date and the H.B.C. flag of the old company is a safeguard against theft by any Indian. To the Indian that flag stood for their employer's, for a Government that left them their wild free life and their game. But it represented a Government none the presented a Government none the less, a Government for the Indian by the white man, but a Government of such a character that the savage did not rebel against it.

There are nearly one-half of the Indians of Canada still under the jurisdiction of the Hudson's Bay Company. They are the natives of the far north and include the typical red men of the forest and the Esquimaux far beyond the Arctic circle. To these the factor at the Hudson's Bay Company post at which they dispose of the trophies of the chase for what they consider the luxuries of life is both lawmaker and lawgiver. His authority is unquestioned, and his order meets with instant obedience. The source of his authority is neither known nor cared; to him chiefs, medicine men and warriors bow a willing knee.

The tourist from Winnipeg west finds Indians at every station. In Winnipeg they come into the city in the winter time with dog teams and sledges, bringing to the market offered by the fur traders, of whom there are now a number, the skins they have secured during the summer months, and taking back with them the powder and shot, blankets, rough clothing and other things for which they exchange their products. During the summer months the really picturesque Indian is unknown in Winnipeg. They reside too far north to make the trip except when the winter's snows offer a method of transportation, but as the tourist travels westward he finds more of them. They meet every train, they are seen at every hand, and it is hard to believe that there are less than 10,000 of them all told in Canada.

Hon. David Laird was once asked: "Where is the best place to see the typical Canadian Indian?"

"It depends entirely on what one classes as typical," he replied. "What we could class as typical western Canada Indians are those in the schools, on the farms and the cattle ranges. They are not the picturesque Indians however. If you are looking for paint and feathers there is no better place than around Calgary. There you can see the Indian in all his savage finery, but they are typical of a generation ago, not of to-day."

Canada has successfully educated a large percentage of her Indian population. All over the western provinces and territories are Indian boarding and day schools in which the younger generation of Indians take a great interest, and in which thousands of them are perfecting themselves for lives of civilization and usefulness.

But the old love for the wild life is not entirely dead even among the younger generations. About Calgary may be seen the Crows, the Blackfeet, and a little farther west in the foothills of the mountains the Stony tribe. With them the moccasins, the blanket, the buckskin breeches and shirt constitute the wearing apparel; the squaws still perform the drudgery of the camp, her lord is still a hunter, and to a small extent a cattle ranger. The tepee is the common home, and they are seen by hundreds from Medicine Hat to the Rocky mountains.

A Floating Sawmill.

They are operating a floating sawmill on Lake Champlain with a great deal of success.

It is a two-storied, ark-like affair, but upon a heavy float. The boiler and sawing machinery occupy the entire main deck. The upper story is divided into living rooms for the crew. As soon as the mill has finished with one batch of logs a small tug tows it to the next cove. The mill can be hired by the week, or by the job, and in some cases the logs have been cut on shares. The result has been that farmers along the lake have been able to cut their trees and market the lumber with profit.

A high stack rises out of the house at the stern, giving the craft the appearance of an antiquated steamer. In the same end are wide doors, through which the logs are hauled to the sawing block. The lumber is passed out through one porthole in the side of the barge and the slabs through another. The sawdust and scraps are carried to the fireroom, and furnish the fuel.

Dr. Doyle as Sherlock Holmes.

Dr. Conan Doyle tells thus of a bit of aimless Sherlock Holmesing which he did in real life: "I was in a tailor shop when a rather unattractive man was selecting a pair of trousers. He flatly objected to striped goods, and I got the idea that he was an ex-convict. To satisfy myself I visited one or two prisons and, sure enough, found the man's picture in the rogues' gallery. Doubtless he had had enough of striped wearing apparel."

"Shut your eyes, open your mouth and see what luck will bring you."

The mother smiles at the childish game, and doesn't realize that it is a game she as a woman has perhaps played for a great many years.

Many a woman is weak and sick, nervous and discouraged. She suffers from headache, backache and other ills. She wants to be well, but all she does is to shut her eyes and open her mouth for medicine and trust to luck for results. She "doctors" month after month, often year after year, in this same blind, hap-hazard fashion, and receives no permanent benefit.

Women take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription with their eyes open to the fact that it cures womanly ills. It cures irregularity. It dries debilitating drains. It heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. There is no trusting to luck by those who use "Favorite Prescription."

"My disease was displacement and ulceration of the uterus, and I was in a terrible condition with pain and weakness and had given up all hopes of ever being well again," writes Mrs. Harry A. Brown, of Orono, Penobscot Co., Me. "Had doctored with four different doctors within four months, and instead of getting better was growing weaker all the time. I decided to try your 'Favorite Prescription,' 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and 'Pleasant Pellets,' as I had heard of the many cures resulting from their use. I bought five bottles and felt so much better after taking them that I kept on until I am as well as ever in my life, and to Dr. Pierce all the praise is due. I cannot say enough in favor of his medicines. Before I began taking your medicines I only weighed one hundred and twenty pounds. I now weigh one hundred and sixty pounds. I gained forty pounds in six months. I shall doctor no more with home doctors, as it is only waste of money. I am now in perfect health, thanks to Dr. Pierce."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets clear the muddy complexion.

Sick Headache—Lack of Appetite.

Its glorious to feel right in the morning—ready for work. But how seldom one does. Sick headache, lack of appetite, disagreeable taste in the mouth—these are the usual morning feelings of most people—even of careful livers. This morning illness shows that the organs of digestion are not working properly. They need a tonic. Take a teaspoonful of in half a glass of water as soon as you rise—you'll be ready to do justice to a good breakfast.

Abbey's Effervescent Salt cleanses the bowels and intestines, invigorates the fagged out stomach and energises the torpid liver.

TWO ABUSED WORDS.

An English Writer's Views on the Use of "Former" and "Latter."

I detest them. I should like to banish them from the English language. One of them by itself may be occasionally tolerable, but the two together are unendurable. The writers of comic verse long ago perceived their absurdity. Arthur Reed of it in his lines to the "Lost Pleiades" has given us a good example ad:"

She had yielded to a mortal when he came to flirt and flatter.
She was Merope or Sterope, the former or the latter.

Calverley also:

One night I saw him squeeze her hand;
There was no doubt about the matter;
I said he must resign or stand
My vengeance, and he chose the latter.

It were perhaps beside the point to cite the punning poet who wrote of Xenophon's historic retreat:

When over the land and the sea
It behooved the ten thousand to scatter,
There were some cried, "The former for me,"
But the rest cried: "The latter! The latter!"

The appreciation of this requires a little strictly Attic salt. But the locus classicus is of course in the "War Song of Dinas Vawr:"

The mountain sheep are sweeter,
But the valley sheep are fatter;
We therefore deemed it meeter
To carry off the latter.

Seriously, why cannot authors repeat their words instead of using these unnecessary substitutes? Is it thought that such repetition is unpleasing to the ear? To my thinking the very opposite is the truth. And much is gained in the case of lucidity. Take the following sentence, for instance, which I chanced upon in a daily journal: "A 'board' "—which is probably a screen, as somebody said a generation ago—"understands and the great bulk of the ordinary shareholders do not understand the workings of company finance. When a crisis comes the latter seldom hesitate to put their interests in the hands of the former.

Halte la! We must "hark back" and reconsider the passage. We are then led to the conclusion that by "the latter" is meant the shareholders and by "the former" the board. But why not so write it like an honest man? "And when a crisis comes the shareholders seldom hesitate to put their interests in the hands of the board." Surely this is better both to mind and ear, and if instead of "the board" we read "the directors" we have a clear, simple and, in my humble judgment, a much improved statement.—London Speaker.

Cost of Ocean Speed.

What it costs to increase the speed of a ship by one knot has lately been determined with great accuracy in the steam trials of the British armored cruiser Cape of Good Hope, says The New York Times. On her full power trial this vessel of 14,100 tons displacement, attained a mean speed of 23.05 knots an hour. By the speed curves plotted from the trial results, it appears that to go from half speed—11.05 knots—to full speed—23.05 knots—needed roughly, 26,000 additional horse power, of which the last knot alone absorbed 8,621 horse power. In other words, to increase the speed of this cruiser from 22 to 23 knots consumed as much power as was needed to propel her at 16 knots; or, to put it in still another way, the power required to propel her at full speed would have propelled two vessels of the same size at an average speed of 19 knots an hour. At full speed her coal consumption was 26 tons per hour; at 19 knots it was about 11 tons per hour. This means that at full speed she would move .85 knots for each ton of coal burned under her boilers, while at 19 knots the distance would be doubled for the same coal consumption. This illustrates very clearly the price paid for high speed afloat. Applying the ratios thus established to steamers of the Atlantic merchant fleet, it will be readily understood why the "greyhounds" earn more applause than dividends.

Ocean Patrol.

One English shipbuilder is furthering a project which if carried through will be the means of much saving of life and property in mid-ocean. He calls it the International Blue Cross Ocean Life and Salvage Service. It is meant to take the place of the Red Cross in the army.

It will consist of a fleet of ten lifeboats and one store boat to patrol the north Atlantic along the line of travel of the great ocean steamers. The aim is that of saving vessels and crews in distress. They will have a regular schedule time, which will be sent to all captains of vessels, so that in case of wreck or fire or disablement the officers will know at what exact date and point a Blue Cross boat may be expected, and much may be done to save both life and money.

The salvage is to go to the respective Governments which fitted the fleet out in proportion to their shipping tonnage. He expects the various nations that have much traffic on the high seas to appropriate sums necessary to the complete outfitting of the boats and crews. The project seems to have met with approval in high places, and ere long we may expect the Blue as well as the Red Cross to the rescue of human lives in danger.

Young and Old Folks,

Pleasant to take, agreeable to the stomach, soothing and healing, Angier's Petroleum Emulsion is prescribed by physicians instead of cod-liver oil. It does all, and more, than cod-liver oil. The ideal medicine for children and enfeebled persons. 14a

Interesting Romance of a Picture.

There has just come to light in Bristol, England, an interesting romance of a picture. For some years there has been hanging in the Bristol Young Men's Christian Association a picture entitled "The Holy Family." The owner lent it for a long time, and once proposed that the association should buy it. He did not wish to drive a hard bargain. The picture was obviously a good one; it was six feet by four and a half feet. Would the committee like to buy it for £10? "If you would," he said, "I am so much in sympathy with your excellent work that I am willing to contribute £5 myself toward the purchase money." But the committee felt that they had more important demands for their £5 notes, and they replied accordingly. By and by the owner died, and the executors began to realize his estate. The picture was looked up and the work was ordered to be packed and sent to London for sale. Judge the satisfaction of the executors when they received an offer of £7,000 for it, and were advised not to sell under £10,000. Experts have identified the picture as from the brush of Pietro de Cortona, the great Italian painter of the early seventeenth century.

The following despatches have been received by E. M. Poussett & Co.:—

New York, July 14th, 9.45 a. m. — Our opinion is that any immediate revival of bull movement unlikely and think after shorts have covered speculation will become professional again and that the market will lapse into comparatively dull and sagging state again. Sharp rally at close yesterday was natural and brought about chiefly by covering the shorts and some support from banking interests and chances are the rally may go somewhat further this morning. Speculative position of the market much improved and outlook for crops much better and the lower range of prices should induce some good outside investment, buying as nearly all good stocks are now down to a basis which will net 5 p. c.

M. & M.

New York, July 14th, 11.00 a. m. — Grain.—Cables show only a moderate decline considering weakness here yesterday. Traders seem to be decidedly mixed. Many who are bullish on ultimate outcome of wheat prices look for temporary decline or at least until wheat crop moves more freely and trade see how demand will meet supply. Many reports showing improvement in corn coming in but still very backward for the season.

CANBY.

New York July 14th, 12.00 a. m. — Market disappointed so far. It has failed to show any good buying which proves that most of yesterday's buying was to cover shorts. Traders are selling out some stocks they bought yesterday. Commission house business light. Some of Keene's brokers been selling since opening also the up town and Western houses. Sub treasury statement shows banks lost $427,000 yesterday, making total so far this week $3,717,000.

Messrs. McMillan & Maguire have issued the following letter:—

The failure of the market to hold its rally and the weakness of St. Paul and N.Y.C. were taken as indications that the Standard Oil people are against an advance in the market. They are accumulating stock so as to be able to break into the Penna. Vanderbilt combination and have not yet enough for their purposes. B. O. opened up well on good showing for the year but weakened with the rest of the list. London has been a large buyer of stocks on this break but not enough so to materially help the market. The break in cotton and grain was a favourable feature.

We would buy stocks only on sharp breaks and then for a turn only.

IMPROVEMENTS AT THE DRIVING PARK.

Fair Grounds and Race Track Made Into one.

Persons who have not visited the Driving Park will be surprised to see the alterations and improvements which have been effected this last spring. To begin with, the fence between the fair grounds and the race track has been done away with and the two large grounds made one. The main entrance has also been moved and will be at a point between the two grounds, and there will also be a private entrance for badge holders, whose accommodations on the grand stand have been greatly improved. The track has also been improved and men and teams are to be seen daily working upon it, and the caretaker is at present living upon the grounds. The paddock has been lengthened 100 yards and the betting ring enlarged.

The accommodation for rigs is exceptionally good. There are no less than 91 box stalls where horses can be tied without any charge whatever.

The following horses may be seen daily working on the track:—

"Cheatem" a 5-8 mile horse, a light chestnut owned by Mr. P. J. Cleman.

Mr. J. M. Brooks' "Blackboy" by Governor Johnson, which has been entered in the 2.30 stake.

Fred. K., owned by Mr. George Powell, a four-year-old by Little Fauneton.

Spinks B., owned by Mr. George Powell, a strawberry roan.

Fairlawn A., owned by Dr. Bradd, a good young mare entered in the 50 stake.

Mr. Alex. Elliott's "Lillie", a two-year-old colt whose dam was Lilliputian.

INFORMATION WANTED

Sporting Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—All of us who are interested in athletic sports, and Peterborough has always had a fairly good reputation in this line, were attracted by the announcement in an issue of last week's paper, that the Canadian record of 100 yards sprint, had been broken in our town. Pride will be felt by the good citizens of our town when any athletic record is broken here, even though the athlete does not happen to be a Peterborough boy in the real sense of the word. But the sporting element—I mean the lovers of legitimate sports,—are not seeking to get any credit on a false of dishonest basis. A straight deal and all honours to the record breaker. But to get back to last week's performance, I would like to ask the referee—a fair man above reproach in sports as in anything else, if he measured the course that was run for 100 yards? If he did, and found it good measure, (as the time-keeper admits it was), does he (the referee) think that the extreme heat could cause that course to contract from 100 yards to, say, 84.

These are questions easily answered and would satisfy one who saw the dash and thought if that course was a full 100 yards that the runner might easily lower the Canadian record by at least 11-3 seconds.

Let us hear from you, referee, or others interested.

THE PETERBOROUGH CHEESE BOARD.

A Short Meeting Held This Morning.

One Week's Cheese Sold to Four Buyers—An Adjournment of one Week.

The meeting of the Peterborough Cheese Board, which was held in the Council Chamber at 10.30 o'clock this morning, was a very short one, as the one week's cheese amounting to 3,814 boxes was quickly bought by Messrs. Whitton, Fitzgerald, Rollins and Cook.

As has previously been stated, the meeting began at 10.30 o'clock sharp, by five minutes to eleven all had been sold and half a hundred men were trying to get out through the door, all at the same time.

The following is a list of the names of the buyers who entered the bidding arena:—Messrs. Gillespie, Kerr, Fitzgerald, Cook, Whitton, Rollins, Wrighton, Brentnell.

The following factories boarded.—

The bidding commenced at 9 1-8 by Mr. Whitton, and quickly rose to 9 1-2. Some dispute ensued as to who called that figure, but Mr. Whitton settled the point by making a bid of 9 9-16. At this figure he called the following factories: Percy, Dartford, Ormonde, Melrose Abbey, Westwood, Villiers, Keene, Shearer, Indian River, Bensfort, Cavanville, Norwood, Oakleaf, Daisy D., Central Smith, Myrtle, Laing and Shamrock.

The next call was from Mr. Fitzgerald, who named Buckhorn, Fleetwood, Fraserville, Lakefield and Trewern, at 9 5-8.

Scarcely had the last name been answered to when Mr. Rollins, who perceived that Mr. Fitzgerald had concluded, called 9 5-8 with considerable vehemence. The following factories accepted his offer:—Warminster, North Smith, Warsaw, Pine Grove, Maple Leaf, Young's Point, North Dummer, Ballyduff, Cedardale, Stony Lake, South Burleigh, and Apsley.

At 9 5-8 Mr. Cook bought up the remainder of the cheese, — Missing Link, Peterborough, Otonabee Union, East Emily and Mount Pleasant.

Some discussion arose as to whether the Board should adjourn for one or two weeks. Finally it was moved and seconded that it adjourn for one week and sell up to the 15th inst., and then in the future meet every fortnight. The motion was unanimously carried.

THE POPE'S CONDITION.

Probability That His Holiness Will Live Till To-morrow.

Rome, July 15. — During the night the Pope had some periods of sleep. No change is observed in his general condition. His pulse is 82; his respiration 30; and temperature 36.2 Centigrade. A special edition of the newspaper Tribuna, to-day says the Pope may live until to-morrow, and possibly, with great difficulty, until Friday.

MRS. ALEX BRADEN HAS PASSED AWAY.

Death Occurred at the Residence of her Son-in-law, Water Street.

It is with deep regret that the death of Margaret Braden, relict of the late Alexander Braden, of Lakefield, has to be recorded. Mrs. Braden, who died this morning, at a quarter to nine o'clock, was 63 years of age. Some three months ago, not being in the best of health, Mrs. Braden came to Peterborough, where she has since been staying at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. G. S. McKee, 782 Water street.

The deceased, who was a staunch and conscientious member of the Presbyterian church, leaves a family of two children—Mr. Thompson Braden, of Smith, and Mrs. G. S. McKee, of town.

The funeral will take place on Friday afternoon at two o'clock, from the residence of her son-in-law, 782 Water street, to the Lakefield cemetery for interment.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE ALBERT DUNFORD

This Afternoon to the Little Lake Cemetery.

The funeral of the late Albert Dunford, who was drowned yesterday morning while trawling, at a point about three miles down the river, took place this afternoon at four o'clock, from his residence, 414 Sherbrooke street.

The deceased, who was 38 years of age, was a member of Court Littlejohn, Canadian Order of Foresters, besides having been for over a year an energetic unit of the local fire brigade. The remains were interred at the Little Lake cemetery, where Rev. E. A. Langfeldt conducted the burial service.

THE SUGAR BEET INDUSTRY.

The Peterborough Sugar Co. and other companies in Ontario interested in the production of sugar from beets are feeling very much encouraged from recent improvements in the outlook. Some weeks ago the Dominion Government placed a sur-tax of 33 1-3 p. c. on German sugars which will have the effect of excluding from this country about 175,000,000 lbs of sugar formerly imported from Germany. Since the sur-tax was levied the wholesale price of the highest grade of granulated sugar has increased about 40c per 100 lbs. Evidently the best way for consumers to avoid the incidence of the extra tax is to purchase stock in the beet sugar companies and share the dividends.

An invention was recently made in New York City, which converts sugar beet pulp into alcohol, a certain valuable acid, glue and charcoal. American papers have stated that the invention will make pulp worth $8.00 per ton; should it bring the price up to $2.00 a ton only it would mean a fortune to each sugar company. Each factory that runs through 65 or 70,000 tons of beets in a campaign will have about 40,000 tons of pulp which at $2.00 a ton at the factory would bring in $80,000. Hitherto, the pulp has been of very little value. Apart from this, tests at the Agriculture College, Michigan, and at other places have proven that the pulp is a most valuable food for fattening cattle. The Peterborough Sugar Company is seriously considering the establishment of a great cattle industry by which 3,000 head of cattle will be fattened annually in connection with their factory. In either event it seems probable that the pulp will prove to be a valuable product.

Recently a Berlin citizen invented a machine for blocking out rows of beets. By hand labour it costs about $3.00 an acre to do the blocking. The machine will do it for 30c an acre. This will mean a large saving to each sugar company, and also to the farmers who work large acreages.

The citizens generally are invited to visit the works and the beet fields of The Peterborough Sugar Company. It is difficult to find superior concrete work than is being done in connection with the foundation and walls of the local sugar factory, and a look at the same will repay a visit. Most of the Company's beet fields are in excellent condition, —the stand of beets being good generally; and many of the fields belonging to the farmers are looking fine.

This is the year of experiment in Peterborough County, and many valuable lessons are being learned. Farmers are finding out that it is easy to work ten or twenty acres if suitable implements are procured. The Company has been using two-row cultivators, which have given great satisfaction. They will also purchase in the fall a number of lifters, which make it easy to harvest the sugar beet.
make it easy to harvest the sugar beet.

The local sugar company has now 115 stock-holders, and preparations are being made to sell extensively in the near future in Toronto and Eastern Ontario. It is expected by the management that the stock will be all sold before the 1st of November.

It is also expected to have the factory running by the first of December at the latest.

Remember the Printers' Picnic to Jubilee Point on Saturday afternoon, August 1st. Particulars later.

ST. JAMES' DEBT IS DOWN TO $55,000.

Big Methodist Church in Montreal is Being put on its Feet.

The exact figures of the amount to which the debt on St. James' Methodist church has now been reduced by the movement begun by Rev. Dr. Williams and carried to success by Rev. J. W. Graham, were given out officially yesterday by Rev. J. W. Graham, as follows:—

The floating debt of $170,000 has been reduced to $3,500 and it is expected that within a few days funds to pay this off and leave a balance over will be forthcoming.

The blanket mortgage on the church and Temple building of $450,000 will have been cut down to $55,000 when some $10,000, for which definite promises have been given by prominent citizens, has been actually paid over. This is expected to be done within a few weeks. The sale of the Temple building for $275,000 to Senator Cox, $50,000 more than had been anticipated, was, of course, a great help towards getting rid of the burden, but the other $290,000 has been raised entirely by subscriptions.

It is confidently hoped that the congregation will easily bear the burden of the $56,000 still owed by the church, and pay it off altogether within a few years.

The debt was found by Rev. Dr. Williams at its high water mark, $620,000, and he reduced it to $512,000. Rev. J. W. Graham than took charge and has succeeded in practically extinguishing it.

C. G. E. ANGLING CLUB'S ANNUAL EXCURSION.

A Delightful Three Days' Outing up North.

Fishing, Feasting and General Enjoyment Galore.

The C. G. E. Angling Club held their annual outing to White Lake on Saturday, and to say that they enjoyed themselves would be putting it mildly. The party started from Fitzgerald's livery stable at 6.30 a.m., by bus, and drove to Lakefield, where they boarded the staunch yacht Mayflower. Young's Point was reached in good time, and the local nimrods were enjoying themselves immensely. After locking through, away they went up Clear Lake, through Stony Lake up to Gilchrist's Bay, and thence to the portage, where the tents were pitched. After everything was fixed up, the portage looked more like Walter L. Main's circus than anything else. The main tent was an enormous sheet of canvas 40 x 25. This is where all the animals and baggage were stored. The rocks looked very uninviting for a bed, but a few loads of sweet hay from a near-by farm took all the hardness away. By this time Chief Cook Trombley had a sumptuous dinner ready for the boys, and all of them did justice to the meal. Jack Wilson ate so much that the club's doctor had to put a belt around him to keep him from exploding. It was getting dark by this time, and pipes were lighted, stories told, singing, etc., till about ten p.m., when everyone began to crawl to his roost. All went well till 2 a.m., when we were all awakened by Reddy, who, by the way, was having a high old time to himself. It seems that a hornet, or something with a sting, jabbed him in the ear. "Oh, my!" The air was blue for a while. Poor Reddy's arms were going like a windmill. Somehow he got rid of the pesky critter, and lay down again to dream of his best girl, when bang goes the flat of his hand to his nose. This time it was a gigantic cockroach, about 17 inches long that wanted to make his acquaintance. This made Reddy frantic, but finally Mr. Cockroach was disposed of. Reddy rolled himself up again, and went to sleep for about seven minutes more—but it was of no use. The humming birds began to get in their good work. They tackled Reddy's ears and nose for a while and then charge bayonets. We saw Reddy jump up and bolt out of the tent like a streak of lightning. He went so fast that he looked about the size of a small pea. We have not seen the poor fellow since.

Oft in the stilly night,
E'er slumber's chains had bound me,
I feel the stinging bite
Of creeping things around me.

By this time everyone was fully rested and were beginning to feel ready for breakfast. After a duck in the creek, and arrayed in our best Sunday clothes, we all sat down to a real old backwoods diet. The pork and beans were done up brown, thanks to the culinary skill of Cook Trombley. This being Sunday, everyone observed it as such. Some of the boys went to church, and others went somewhere else. Anyhow the day was put is very quietly. We went to bed at 9 p.m. and the night being cool we slept like tops. At 4 a.m. Monday morning all hands but the cook went a fishing. We had a fairly good catch of the denizens of the deep. Patterson caught a bass; Scotty a sunfish; Munro caught a cold. John Brown was the lucky man, being the proud possessor of two fine 'lunge. He told us a sad story of losing a big fish. He swears it was 9 feet long. Wilson was so mad that he went and got a shiner, then he borrowed a bicycle pump and blew it up to make a 'lunge out of it. After dinner preparations were made to depart for home. It was a very reluctant party that left, but the best of friends must part. We embarked on the Mayflower and got to Young's Point with a good ducking. We had a 12th of July parade while the boat was getting through the lock. then away again for Lakefield, which place was reached at 5.45 p.m. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. Rupe Donell for the services of the yacht, followed by three lusty cheers, and a tiger. After which we boarded the 'bus for Peterborough, arriving home at 8.30 p.m. everyone feeling that this was the most successful and pleasant outing the Club ever held. Mr. R. E. Layfield and sons were delighted guests with us for a day.

The names of the party were:—A. W. Patterson, R. H. Shepherd, J. Wilson, J. A. Brown, H. Millard, P. Fuller, Bert. Scott, Another Scott, J. Trombley, Reddy Howson, Jack Gerard, N. Munro, J. Panter.—Com.

BLAIRTON.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

A large drive of saw logs is going through here, and owing to fair wind and good management, the large booms, acres in dimensions, are being rushed through Crow Lake with greater despatch than has been witnessed in thirty-five years.

Universal sorrow is felt here on account of the death on the 10th inst., of Mr. George Bleecker, sr., member of Bleecker Bros., general merchants, Marmora. The funeral took place on Sunday, the 12th, under Masonic honours. A special train from Trenton brought hundreds of the craftsmen from Belleville, Trenton, Frankford, etc. All neighbouring lodges were well represented also. The crowd was exceedingly large.

On Monday fifty lodges were in Marmora to celebrate the "Glorious Twelfth." Large numbers from the north passed through here en route for that great event.

MADE THE ARREST.

The Rideau Record publishes the following, which is said to be a chronicle of actual fact:

About one o'clock the other morning just as Chief Sweet had got into a good deed sleep, his telephone rang, and with bated breath somebody in a remote part of the town informed him that there was a strange acting man staggering about on the street and destroying the peace of mind of the whole neighbourhood. They were all sitting up watching him and dare not go to bed. The Chief dressed and started on the long tramp to the place where the disturber of the peace was operating. When he got near the spot he was met by a deputation of the frightened residents, who had stolen out of their houses by the back doors to await his coming and be in at the finish. While they stood to reconnoitre for a minute one of them plucked the Chief by the sleeve and tremblingly whispered, "There, see him!" The Chief saw him. In the darkness he looked large and bulky and every once in a while he seemed to make an effort to get up but was unable to do so. He made no noise whatever but every little while he lurched and rolled about and seemed to be in a bad way. Finally the Chief summoned all his courage, and with baton in hand for emergencies, walked over, and in stentorian tones, shouted out, "In His Majesty's name, I arrest you." It was an umbrella and the Chief took it home. It was open, and the wind was rolling it about.

PERPLEXED DOCTORS

Cannot Imagine How the Pope Manages to Keep Alive.

MEDICAL THEORIES UPSET.

The Pontiff Rallies Again After His Condition Had Sunk to the Lowest Ebb—End May Be Hastened by Inability to Eat, Heart Failure or Progress of Pleuric Disease—The Bulletins.

Rome, July 15.—(1.20 a.m.)—Another remarkable rally in Pope Leo's condition occurred yesterday afternoon after a morning in the course of which His Holiness suffered spells of delirium and at times his strength sank to the lowest ebb, and now this morning he lies in no worse condition than he was on Monday evening, except for the steady diminution of his strength. Monsignor Bisleti, master of the chamber, visited the sick room just after midnight, and on emerging stated that the Pontiff's condition was unchanged. A little later the Pope fell into a sleep, which, it has just been announced, is fairly tranquil, although the patient's respiration is troublesome.

Upsets All Medical Theories.

Yesterday's rally was characteristically opposed to every medical theory, and consisted in getting out of a bed on which two hours previously the Pope himself had made all preparations for death. Unsatisfied with this exhibition of vitality, he transacted business and received four cardinals, with whom he talked in an animated way. In fact, Pope Leo's record for yesterday, little of which appeared in last night's official bulletin, would be incredible if it were not confirmed by the doctors and cardinals present in the sick chamber. None seemed more perplexed that the doctors themselves. Dr. Lapponi said frankly: "I cannot imagine how the Pope manages to keep alive."

May Die at Any Moment.

According to the physicians the Pontiff may die at any moment, even in the midst of one of those extraordinary intervals when his mind and body present a comparatively sound appearance. All those around the patient have long since ceased to hold definite opinions regarding the duration of the Pontiff's existence. The slow but progressive diminution of the strength of the august patient foretells the approaching end of the struggle with death, but the doctors will not venture to predict how near the end is. Constant relapses, they say, such as created alarm early yesterday, are gradually wearing down the Pope's constitution, which seems immune from any specific disease. Most persons are inclined to the idea that Pope Leo may go through perhaps two or three repetitions of yesterday's ups and downs, till, as Dr. Rossoni puts it, "his pulse stops for ever."

Causes of the End.

Three causes may accelerate the end, viz., continued inability to take nourishment, which was exhibited yesterday; sudden heart failure, or the progression of pleuria disease.

The Pope himself yesterday afternoon ordered the four cardinals to be admitted and received them standing. He, who is supposed to be at the point of death, saying: "Please be seated." He recounted the impressive ceremony of the morning, when he received the benediction of the Franciscan order. The cardinals informed him of the world-wide prayers for his life. Pope Leo answered that he was much gratified, but that he was ready for his final departure, concluding by saying: "God's will be done."

Controversy Over Embalming.

Even more striking was the Pope's interview with his secretary, Monsignor Angeli. His Holiness sent for him, saying he wished to see certain papers, which the secretary brought. Then, after a short explanation, Mgr. Angeli wished to get the Pope's decision on a matter, but Pope Leo said: "Well, well, not to-day. We will do that some other time." A curious controversy is proceeding between the Vatican medical body composed of ten doctors of lesser importance than Dr. Lapponi, and several foreign physicians over the embalming of Pope Leo's body. Several foreigners having offered processes of embalming, each more wonderful than the other. The Papal doctors unearthed bulls giving the right to embalm the Pope solely to the Vatican medical body.

REMARKABLE BULLETINS.

Rome, July 14.—2.55 p.m.—The organs of the Pope are gradually ceasing to perform their natural functions. All processes of elimination have ceased, and no more nourishment is taken.

8 p.m.—The Pope passed a fairly quiet day, but had short periods of depression. Pulse 88 weak; respiration 32; temperature, 36.08 centrigrade. The strength of the august patient is diminishing slowly, but continues steady.

Rome, July 15.—1.20 a.m.—After midnight the Pope's sleep seemed tranquil enough, although his breathing at times was difficult.

4.10 a.m.—The general condition of the Pope is almost unchanged. To periods of restlessness succeed periods of drowsiness.

Another G.T.R. Wreck.

Hamilton, July 15. — The Grand Trunk had another small wreck yesterday. When the engine of the International Limited that figured in the collision Monday night was being taken into the round house a new man set the turn table wrong and two more engines dashed into each other. Both were badly damaged. No one was hurt.

The Printers' Picnic will be held on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 1st, to Jubilee Point. Tickets only 35c and 20c.

"Peruna is better by far than any other medicine sold in the Dominion for the troubles peculiar to the sex. I suffered with backache, headache and dragging down pains for over nine months, and nothing relieved me a particle until I took Peruna. A few bottles relieved me of my miserable half-dead, half-alive condition. I am now in good health and have neither ache or pain, nor have I had any for the past year. Arrested at Hamilton.

Brantford, July 15.—The office of S. F. Whitham, planing mills, was entered by burglars Monday night, the safe blown open and some small change taken. Mr. Whitham noticed three strangers hanging around his planing mills early in the evening. He went to the station yesterday when the morning train was leaving he saw the same men going away. Mr. Whitham followed them to Hamilton, where he had them arrested.

Originated the Massacre.

Kishineff, Russia, July 15.—The murderer of the boy Doubassary, whose death was charged to the Jews, and which was the immediate cause of the massacre, has been discovered. He is a gardener and has confessed that he and the boy's uncle committed the crime.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT.

Premier Makes It Regarding Hon. A. G. Blair's Resignation.

A STATEMENT ON THURSDAY.

Debate of an Hour and a Half on the Ottawa Valley Railway Bill — Mr. Monk's Motion Lost by 87 to 51—Destruction of Game Fish—The Immigration Policy Discussed—Immigration Estimates.

Ottawa, July 15.—In the House yesterday, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Prime Minister, addressing the Speaker, said:

"I have to inform the House that the Hon. Mr. Blair has tendered his resignation as a member of the Cabinet and Minister of Railways and Canals, and His Excellency the Governor-General has agreed to accept the resignation. The detailed explanations will be given probably Thursday next."

Over in the Senate a statement in exactly the same words was made by the Secretary of State.

Canada's Militia.

Sir Frederick Borden made a statement regarding the Militia Bill. The Minister said a short time ago Hon. Joseph Chamberlain intimated that as there was a Militia Bill before the Dominion Parliament he would be glad if Sir Frederick Borden would go to England and discuss the measure with the Secretary of State for the Colonies and the Secretary of State for War. Sir Wilfrid Laurier concurred in the proposal, and the bill was withdrawn so that the conference may be held.

To Amend Fisheries Act.

Hon. Mr. Prefontaine introduced a bill to amend the Fisheries Act. He explained that the bill contained provisions governing the hunting of whales with explosives and fishing with trap nets. The bill also provides that the Minister of Marine and Fisheries may license the use of purse seives in the Pacific Ocean. Mr. Prefontaine stated that the bill is the result of the work of the commission appointed last year, the report of which, shortly to be submitted to the House.

Ottawa Valley Railway.

Mr. Monk moved that the Ottawa Valley Railway Bill be referred back to the Railway Committee for further consideration. A long discussion ensued, in which Mr. C. N. Armstrong, one of the incorporators of the company, was roughly handled by Mr. Prefontaine. Mr. Prefontaine said that he himself had a claim against Mr. Armstrong of some seventy thousand dollars, which he had been unable to recover.

On a vote of 87 to 51 Mr. Monk's motion to refer the bill back was declared lost.

Immigration Policy.

After a discussion on the Government's immigration policy, precipitated by Mr. Uriah Wilson and who was answered by explanations by Mr. Sifton, the House went into supply at midnight on Mr. Sifton's main estimates for immigration.

Mr. Monk suggested that, in view of the late hour, and the late session of last night, that the $110,000 for salaries and employes in Canada, Great Britain and foreign countries, and two small items, should be passed, but that the remaining item of $483,000 for contingencies should be held over.

Mr. Sifton accepted the suggestion, and the House adjourned at 12.20 a. m.

The Harrow Inquest.

Harrow, July 15.—The coroner's inquest on the death of Edmund Matthews opened here yesterday morning at 10 o'clock. Only nine of the thirty-five witnesses were examined at 6 o'clock last evening, when an adjournment was made until 10 a.m. Friday. As many more witnesses will be examined on that day. The evidence on the different sides so far has been very conflicting. Richardson was present in custody of Detectives Campau and Mahoney, and was taken back to Sandwich Jail last night. He seems very little affected by his position.

Norwegian Unloading.

Quebec, July 15.—The Allan steamer Norwegian, which recently went ashore at Cape Ray, arrived in port Monday evening, and is moored at the company's wharf, where she began to discharge cargo from the after-hold yesterday morning. The damage done to the Norwegian is not so great as anticipated. Capt. Whitney, in command of the ship, says that the vessel only requires three or four new plates, and the repairs ought to be made within three days.

Enormous Growth.

Ever since Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills were first introduced to the public the sales have steadily increased, each year being larger than the year preceding. This is probably the best evidence of their remarkable efficiency, as a treatment for derangements of the kidneys, liver and bowels. They are invaluable as a family medicine.

The Late Justice Armour.

London, July 15.—The body of Justice Sir John Douglas Armour of the Supreme Court of Canada, and a member of the Alaskan Boundary Commission, who died July 11, leaves Thursday for Canada by the Allan Line steamer Tunisian. The two daughters of the deceased will accompany the body. A memorial service will be held to-day at the Temple Church, and will be attended by representatives of the bench and bar and other prominent personages.

The fact that

HISTORICAL SKETCH OF GEORGE STREET CHURCH

From a Small Beginning in 1835 to the Present Prosperous Condition.

Men who Have Helped in the March of Progress—Biographical Sketches of Rev. J. P. Wilson B. A., and Rev. W. J. Crothers D. D.

An announcement was made some few days ago that Rev. Dr. Crothers, of Bridge Street Methodist Church, Belleville, had been invited, and accepted the invitation to become pastor of George Street Methodist Church, Peterborough, for next year, and in this connection it may be of some little interest to present a brief sketch of the rise and progress of Methodism in Peterborough.

It has come to be a universally acknowledged fact that the Methodist church is a great pioneering church. In all parts of Canada, the erection of a Methodist church of some kind, it may be but roughly formed of logs, but some place in which Methodists may worship, is among the first buildings to be erected in any new settlement.

REV. DR. CROTHERS

and to this spirit of enterprise, characteristic of Methodists, may be attributed to a marked degree, the great success which has attended the work of this great evangelical church. The oldest records available, give the information that a Methodist church has been in existence in Peterborough with a regularly ordained minister, since 1835, when, what was known as Peterborough circuit, was composed of Peterborough town, and the Townships of Smith, Otonabee, Monaghan, Cavan, Ops, Emily and Dummer, with two ordained Ministers to attend to the spiritual welfare of this scattered circuit. The first ministers were Rev. John Black and Rev. Wm. Deverell, who remained here one year, and were followed by Rev. John Armstrong and Rev. Hugh Montgomery, who also were here but one year.

In 1837 the circuit was given a third preacher, who was known as Presiding Elder, and who had as assistant, two circuit preachers. Those who were stationed here under this regime were:—

1837—Rev. Anson Green, Presiding Elder; Rev. Geo. Poole, Rev. J. G. Manley, Circuit Preachers.

1838—Rev. Anson Green, Presiding Elder; Rev. Geo. Poole, Rev. Silvester Hulburt, Circuit Preachers.

1839—Rev. Anson Green, Presiding Elder; Rev. Gilbert Miller, Rev. Solomon Snider, Circuit Preachers.

1840—Rev. Wm. Davidson, Rev. Wm. McFadden, Rev. John Sanderson, Rev. Kennedy Creighton.

1841—Rev. Wm. Davidson, Chairman; Rev. Wm. McFadden, Rev. I. B. Howard, Rev. Thos. Jeffers.

1842—Rev. Asa Hulburt, Rev. Wm. McFadden, Rev. Geo. Kennedy.

At this stage the circuit was evidently divided as only two preachers were stationed here subsequent to this date.

1843—Rev. Wm. Coleman, Rev. Wm. Darlington.

1844—Rev. Wm. Darlington, Rev. Robt. Demorset.

1845—Rev. S. P. Ladow.

1846—Rev. Wm. McCullough, Rev. Thos. Cieghorn.

1847—Rev. Wm. McCullough, Rev. Jas. C. Slater.

1848—Rev. Geo. Goodson, Rev. Chas. Turner.

The circuit in 1848 was again divided as it found that the growing town demanded the whole time of a preacher, consequently the town of Peterborough was given a resident minister and the three year term began. Those who were stationed here:—

1849-51—Rev. Isaac B. Howard.

1852-4—Rev. John Gemley, under whose ministry the church prospered to such an extent that it was found to be too small, consequently an addition was built in 1854. The church was then situated on the West side of George street, directly opposite the present site. The pastors following the enlargement of the church were:—

1854-6—Rev. Wm. H. Poole.
1857-8—Rev. Wm. Scott.
1859-60—Rev. Henry Lanton.
1861-3—Rev. John Carrol.
1864-5—Rev. Jas. Brock.
1866-8—Rev. Joshua H. Thompson, M. A.
1869-71—Rev. G. H. Davis.
1872-3—Rev. Chas. Fish.

At this time the town had grown to such an extent that even with the then large church on George street, it was deemed advisable to build another place of worship in the southern portion of the town, the result of the deliberation being that a church was built on Charlotte street, where it still stands, afer addition having been made to it.

The first pastor after this change had been made was Rev. Samuel P. Rose, whose term was from 1873 to 1875.

For some years negotiations were being carried on with a view of obtaining a more suitable site for the George Street Church, and also of building a larger church, and one which would meet the needs of the congreaation for a long period. The grounds upon which the beautiful church now stands were purchased and the erection of the present structure proceeded with, and completed in 1875. The building was then, and is still, a great credit to Methodism in Peterborough, and a worthy tribute to the grand men who undertook its erection.

The pastors who have been stationed here since that time are:—

1875-8—Rev. R. R. Willoughby, M. A., Rev. Coverdale Watson.
1878-81—Rev. E. B. Harper, LL.D., F. H. Wallace, B. D.
1880-1—Wm. Starr.
1881-4—Rev. John Shaw, Rev. Geo. Workman, B. A., Rev. Thos. Manning, B. A.
1884-7—Rev.. I. Tovell.
1887—Rev. F. H. Wallace, B. D.
1888—Rev. S. J. Thompson.
1888-90—Rev. M. L. Pearson.
1890-3—Rev. J. H. Locke.
1893-7—Rev. W. R. Young, B. A.

Peterborough was now supplied with two large churches, but still there seemed to be those who were not being reached, and, in keeping with the progressive spirit, which has always characterized the Methodist people, Grace Church was built to supply a need in the outlying part of the town for a place of worship. In 1896 this church was built and dedicated. The congregation then turned its attention to the mater of building a new parsonage and in 1897 the beautiful residence adjoining the George street property on Water street, was built at a cost of several thousand dollars. It is a parsonage of which any church and pastor might well be proud, and is an attestation to the fact that the members of the church have a very practical interest in the comfort of their pastor.

Rev. S. J. Shorey ably filled the duties of pastor during the years 1897 to 1900, when the present pastor, Rev. J. P. Wilson, B. A., was called from Oshawa to assume the pastorate of the church, and has now entered upon his fourth year in charge of the congregation.

GEORGE STREET METHODIST CHURCH.

The period since 1900 has been pre-eminently the most successful period in the history of the church, and under Mr. Wilson's guidance, every department is in a most flourishing condition. The membership of the church is now considerably over 700, while that of the Sunday School including the Home Department is 1,030, and for the year ending May 15th, 1903, the contributions for church purposes amounted to $3,400.00, which is a material increase over previous years. The spiritual growth of the church has also been very gratifying, and the success which the pastor's work among the young people has meet with, is one of the most pleasing features.

REV. J. P. WILSON, B. A.

The present pastor was born in the County of Lennox, in a Methodist parsonage, and is a son of the late Rev. David Wilson, a decendent of the U. E. Loyalists, on his mother's side, of GIRLS' OWN OUTING.

Ladies aim at Happiness Without the Men.

No one will deny that ladies are ambitious when they strive to attain the unattainable — to be happy without the men. This morning the lady employees of the dress and mantle department of Messrs. Richard Hall & Son, embarked on board the North Star for an excursion and outing to Gore's Landing. It was an exclusively petticoat party, the sterner sex being rigidly excluded. No doubt they wish to assert their independence of mankind, but with the inconsistency, which is one of the charms of the sex they were apparently very glad to have a man, who happened to be straying within the sphere of influence, to put their lunch baskets and band boxes on board the steamer.

Notice is hereby given that all accounts due to Dr. T. J. Moher by persons residing in and around Peterborough are to be paid to me on or before the 1st August, 1903. After that date all outstanding accounts and balances of accounts will be turned into court for collection.

A GREAT STREET FIGHT

A Fierce Feud in Progress on Park Street.

Park street north has a good reputation for law-abiding and peaceful habits, but a great fight is going on there on over the placing of a granolithic walk. There seems to be almost as much diversity of opinion as there are individual residents. A granolithic pavement has been booked for the west side of Park street from Hunter street to Cedar street. One person wants the walk of a certain width, irrespective of situation. Another wants it of a certain width, and it must be inside the trees. Another wants it of any width, but it must be outside the trees, and between the factions the walk seems likely to be "up a tree," in the figurative sense. Still another, with a view of conciliating all parties, proposes to apply the principle of "sunny ways" to the situation. He suggests a compromise -- that the walk be placed outside the trees from Hunter street a certain distance north, and then deflected by a graceful ogee curve to the inside of the tree line. This, he argues, will produce an aesthetic effect, well befitting the requirements of a residential street. The "line of beauty" would be preferable to rigid stiff straight lines, especially when such a line would solve the faction fight, which, while it is not likely to end in any physical complications, threatens to be a serious war of words—the ladies are inclined to take a hand, or, rather, a tongue, in the controversy. If the City Engineer undertakes to please all parties his theodolite will be cross-eyed before he is done with the matter.

THE LATEST NEWS OF LOCAL SPORT.

FOOTBALL.

HAVELOCK DEFAULTS.

The Y.M.C.A. football team was made the subject of the most unsportsmanlike treatment on their trip to Havelock yesterday. They went to play the second of a series of home and home games to be played between the winners of two groups, Y.M.C.A. and Havelock. The President of the League, Dr. J. A. Morgan, and the Executive, after consulting both teams, ordered the game played at Havelock yesterday. The local players went to the latter town in good faith in readiness to play the game as ordered, but were surprised when they went to the grounds to be forbidden entrance by the village constable, and the Havelock players were nowhere in sight. The Captain of the little team was searched for and when asked for an explanation of the conduct of the team, had nothing to say, save that the team was not ready to play. After having waited at the grounds the required length of time the game was given to the Y.M.C.A. by default, together with the right to the possession of the Stratton Cup, which was the trophy given for the winning team in the League. The "Y" players naturally feel rather sore from the treatment they received, as they would much prefer to play for the championship instead of winning it by default, and the only explanation of Havelock's failure to play is that they would rather allow the game to be lost to them by default than be beaten by a superior team.

TUG-OF-WAR.

Charlotte street Guild challenged St. Andrew's to a tug-of-war, and St. Andrew's, who never bluff, have accepted it. It will take place to-night on the latter's McDonell street Grounds at 8.15, and will be well worth witnessing.

BASEBALL.

St. Andrew's played a practice game of three innings last night with Y.M.C.A. and defeated them in a fast game by a score of 5—3. Patterson pitched superb ball for the winners, it being almost impossible for the "Y's" to find his offerings. Peace made a two base hit and carried off the batting honours of the evening. The batteries were Patterson and L. Thornton, and Miller and W. Thornton.

* * * *

The following team will represent St. Andrew's in their game against George street to-night : — Thornton, c ; Wilkie, 3b ; McDonald, 2b ; Elliott, 1b ; Anderson, cf ; Garrow, lf ; Cox, rf ; Peace, ss ; Patterson, p ; Miller and Henderson, spare men. Players are requested to report at 6.45 sharp.

LACROSSE.

The following team will represent Athletic II in their game with T.A.S. II on Thursday night :—

Goal, E. Best ; point, T. Glover ; cover point, A. Garney ; 1st defence, V. Hamilton, 2nd, C. Kemp, 3rd E. Ford ; centre, J. Bowes ; 1st home, H. Leay, 2nd, W. Patterson, 3rd, O. Dumble ; outside home, A. Long ; inside home, H. Kearns ; time-keeper, Ernie Wasson.

* * * *

The T.A.S. have good men in Muldoon, Derocher, McCabe and Crowley. They are all old timers, the latter being a star defence man. Nobody should miss seeing Friday's game.—Lindsay Post.

Oshawa is after more recruits, Lindsay was visited this week, but our boys will not go back on the local club. If we have players eligible for senior company then we have men fast enough to give the Peterborough boy's a good game. — Lindsay Post.

AFFIRM PRINCIPLES.

Representatives of Municipalities at Ottawa.

THE MEMORANDUM PRESETED

Points Were Raised in Connection With Declaring the Toronto and Hamilton Railway to Be For the General Advantage of Canada — Ontario Government Represented — Conference Adjourned.

Ottawa, July 15.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Wm. Mulock, Hon. Mr. Fielding and Hon. Mr. Paterson received yesterday afternoon a very large deputation, representing the Ontario Government and the municipalities of Ontario and Quebec, who made known their views on the points raised in connection with the Toronto & Hamilton Railway Bill. The views of the municipalities were concisely set forth in the following memorandum, which was handed to the Prime Minister:—

"The following municipal representatives, in conference assembled, after careful consideration of the bill for the incorporation of the Toronto & Hamilton Railway Co., and of the principles involved therein, and in other bills of a similar character now before the Parliament of Canada, desire to affirm the following principles:—

Principles Affirmed.

"That undertakings entirely provincial and essentially for local or municipal purposes should not be removed from provincial and municipal control by mere declaration that such work are for the general advantage of Canada.

"That no such declaration should be made in any case until the Government and Parliament are satisfied by actual proof that the declaration is true.

"That all the street railways or tramways or electric railways constructed and operated wholly or in part through the streets or highways of a municipality are essentially of a local character and should be left under the jurisdiction of the local Legislatures and municipalities.

"That the Local Legislatures have hitherto dealt with the incorporation of such railway companies and have provided safeguards for the construction and operation of such railways and their rights so to do should not be interfered with."

The declaration was signed by Aemilius Irving, acting on this occasion for the Attorney-General of Ontario; W. D. Lighthall, honorary secretary, Union of Canadian Municipalities; James Cochrane, Mayor of Montreal; Thomas Urquhart, Mayor of Toronto; James S. Fullerton, Corporation Counsel of Toronto, and numerous other representatives of municipalities from all parts of the Dominion.

Speeches were made against the clause in the Toronto and Hamilton Railway Company bill, declaring it to be for the general advantage of Canada, by Messrs. Aemilius Irving, K.C., representing the Attorney-General of Ontario; Mayor Urquhart, Toronto; City Solicitor Fullerton of Toronto; the City Attorney of Montreal; Mr. Duff of Barton Township, and City Solicitor McKelcan, of Hamilton.

The bill was upheld by Mr. A. Campbell, M.P.; Mr. C. C. Robinson, Solicitor for the County of York, and Mr. D. O. Cameron of Toronto, who represented several of the municipalities interested.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier—"It is represented to us that this bill violates a principle and infringes on the jurisdiction of the provinces. That is what we want to hear about."

Mr. Robinson then argued that the work was to the general advantage of Canada, as did Mr. D. O. Cameron.

After a cross-fire argument it was agreed to allow ten days for Mr. Dewart to put in a written argument, to which Mr. Fullerton should reply.

TROUBLES OF EX-CHIEF OF POLICE

Could not Stand Before Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mr. Charles Gilchrist had Diabetes for Years —Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Him.

Port Hope, July 13th. — (Special.) —Mr. Charles Gilchrist, Chief of Police here for fifteen years, and afterwards Dominion Fishery Overseer, is always willing to add his testimony to the volume of proof from all parts that Dodd's Kidney Pills never fail to cure any form of kidney disease.

"I am a healthy man. Dodd's Kidney Pills have done the job," is the way Mr. Gilchrist puts it. "When I first started to take Dodd's Kidney Pills I was in an awful state. I had been a sufferer from Diabetes and Kidney Disorder for ten years. My urine was of a dark bricky colour and I would suffer something awful passing.

"I tried everything, and tried the doctors, but could get no help till I was advised to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. They have made me a new man."

Mr. Gilchrist is getting on in years but he feels young. That's what Dodd's Kidney Pills do for a man.

STRIKERS ARRESTED.

Wingham Moulders Seriously Assault a Farmer by Mistake.

Wingham, July 15.—The Moulders' strike in the Western Foundry was dragging quietly along until Monday night when a stranger supposed to be a moulder was assaulted by four or five men near the Kingsly House, and very badly used up. However, it turned out that the man was a farmer living a few miles north of the town, and he laid information yesterday morning against four of the striking moulders for assault. The magistrate's hearing is set for Friday, the 17th inst. The strike is being fought to the bitter end.

Laborers Strike Over.

Toronto, July 15.—The stubbornly contested long-drawn-out fight between the union builders' laborers and their bosses ended last night. Six hundred builders' laborers went out on May Day for an increase of five cents an hour. The masons section of the Builders' Exchange offered them a compromise of two cents an hour advance. They refused this offer. The exchange then withdrew all propositions before the union and advertised for laborers at the old rate. The union wages previous to the strike were 25 cents an hour. The men go back at this rate.

City Strike Is Over.

St. John, N.B., July 15.—The city laborers' strike is over and the men decided last night to accept the compromise offered them by the Council. The old men get $1.10 and the younger get $1.40. The former rate was $1 and $1.20, and they struck for $1.25 and $1.50. Over 200 men have been out twelve days.

One Strike Called Off.

Vancouver, B. C., July 15.—Japanese fishermen yesterday accepted the canners' terms, viz., 15 cents per fish during July and 14 cents during August, and the strike declared by the white fishermen has, therefore, been called off.

Violence by Strikers.

Clinton, Mass., July 15.—A body of striking stone masons, who had been employed on the Wachusett Dam of the Metropolitan Water system, armed with revolvers, yesterday marched among the other workmen and with threats compelled 450 to stop work. One man who hesitated was thrown into the Nashua River, but was rescued by his associates.

30,000 Get Advances.

Youngstown, O., July 15.—At the bi-month wage conference held here yesterday between the representatives of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers and the Labor Bureau of the Republican Iron and Steel Company, the rate per ton for puddling was increased from $6.12½ to $6.25 for the next two months. About 30,000 mill workers are interested in the advance.

More Gross Irregularities.

Washington, July 14.—The United States Treasury Department confirmed the report that gross irregularities had been charged in connection with the assay of imported lead ores at El Paso, Texas. The investigation is now in progress.

Canadian Nurse Saved Him.

Cincinnati, July 14.—Miss Minnie Awrey, a nurse in the City Hospital, prevented an insane patient from throwing himself out of a third storey window. She came from Smithville, Ont., and formerly taught school in Dundas.

THE ARCHÆOLOGICAL REPORT.

Its Creator, Mr. David Boyle, Does Not Figure Largely Last Year.

The Ontario Archaeological Report for 1902 is mainly noticeable for the paucity of articles by its editor, and former chief contributor, Mr. David Boyle. In Mr. Boyle the Province possesses an archaeologist of remarkable powers of investigation, and a notable gift of expression. He is the creator of the Archaeological Report, which ranks high among the publications of other than statistical and administrative matter issued by the Ontario Government. The Government is pursuing a meritorious policy in publishing this report, but the conviction must force itself upon those aware of the facts that it does not go far enough, and support Mr. Boyle more heartily. What it has done has been to make him Curator of the Provincial Museum in the Educational Building, and to furnish him with inadequate assistance. He is immersed in routine work, which could in large measure be performed by persons devoid of the special qualities which he possesses. As a result, the only important portion of the Report which is from Mr. Boyle's pen is the set of notes on the accessions to the museum. It is impossible to regard this as a wise use of an excellent public servant, says The Toronto News.

The principal positive feature of the Report is the series of township archaeological maps. Mr. Boyle has set on foot a more or less systematic mapping of the Western Penninsula of Ontario from the archaeological point of view. Mr. A. F. Hunter is exploring, township by township, the important region between Lake Simcoe and the Georgian Bay, Mr. W. J. Wintemburg is working in Oxford County, Mr. R. T. Anderson in Elgin, and Mr. F. W. Waugh in Brant. The only work of this nature attempted in Central Ontario is by Mr. G. E. Laidlaw, who deals with North Victoria. Eastern Ontario is unrepresented, although it must be rich in sites. The explorers of the Western Peninsula year by year select particular townships, and prepare maps showing every known village site, the Indian trails, and other information throwing light upon the aboriginal mode of life. In time a valuable archaeological map of Ontario should be compiled.

One comment which must be made is the roughness of the actual map-work done by the investigators. Mr. Hunter's map of the Township of Oro is the only one which indicates the presence of hills. It might be suggested that investigators in this line of work might be supplied with properly drawn maps, showing the physical features of the ground. The survey which is being made by members of the Royal Military College has produced a number of excellent maps of a portion of Ontario. Could not the Dominion authorities furnish the Provincial Archaeologist with prints of these? The increase in accuracy would be well worth the trifling outlay.

A curious and valuable contribution is Mr. A. T. Cringan's continuation of his examination into Iroquois folk-songs. He has reduced to musical notation over thirty additional airs.

THE OLD BOYS.

"O mother, the bells are ringing as never they rang before,
And banners afloat are flying and open is every door;
And down in the streets are thousands of men I have never seen,
But friendly are all the faces—O mother, what can it mean?"

"My little one," said the mother, "for many long weary years—
Thro days that the sunshine mocked at, and nights that were wet with tears,
I have waited and watched in silence, too proud to speak, and now
The pulse of my heart is leaping, for the children have kept the vow.
And there they are coming, coming, the brothers you never knew,
But sightless, my ears would know them, so steady and firm and true
Is the tramp of men whose fathers trod where the wind blows free,
Over the heights of Queenston, and willows of Chateauguay—
For whether it be a thousand, or whether a single man—
In the calm of peace, or battle, since ever the race began,
No human eye has seen it—'tis an undiscovered clime
Where the feet of my children's fathers have not stepped and beaten time.
The dwellers upon my threshold had vaunted, and jeered and cried,
'The pledge of your offspring's birthright, your children have swept aside.
They cumber the land of strangers, they dwell in the alien's tent
'Till home is a word forgotten, and love but a bow unbent.
Planners and builders of cities (were ever such men as these?)
Councillors, guides and moulders of the strangers' destinies.
Conquerers, yet ere they conquered, and this is the word and sign,
You boast of their wise seed-sowing, but the harvest they reap is mine.'
Ah! little the stranger knew me this mocking, but friendly foe,
The youngest mother of nations, how could the stranger know.
The faith of the old grey mother, her sorrows and hopes and fears—
Let her speak when her sons are tested like mine, for a thousand years.
Afar in the dim Saranna, when the dawn of the spring is near,
What is it wakes the wild goose, calling him lond and clear?
What is it brings him homeward, battered and tempest torn?
Are they weaker than birds of passage, the children whom I have borne?"

Nay! the streets of the city tremble with the tread that shakes the world,
When the sons of the blood foregather and the mother flag flies unfurled.
Brothers are welcoming brothers and the voices that pierce the blue
Answer the enemy's taunting, and the children of York are true.
Wanderers maybe, traitors never! By the scroll of their father's lives
The faith of the land that bore them, and the honor of their wives.
We may lose them, our own strong children, blossom and root and stem,
But the cradle will be remembered, for home is ave home to them.

—William Henry Drummond.

Protection of Australian Birds.

Australia has an ornithologists' union which is working hard to secure the passage of laws to protect certain birds which are in danger of extermination. It is suggested that certain islands should be reserved specially for the nutmeg pigeon.

PATRIOTISM

The stomach is a larger factor in "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" than most people are aware. Patriotism can withstand hunger but not dyspepsia.

The confirmed dyspeptic "is fit for treason, stratagems and spoils." The man who goes to the front for his country with a weak stomach will be a weak soldier, and a fault finder.

A sound stomach makes for good citizenship as well as for health and happiness.

Diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition are promptly and permanently cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It builds up the body with sound flesh and solid muscle.

"After I received the advice which you gave me in regard to my treatment," writes Geo. Dorner, Esq., of 1913 Pulaski Street, Baltimore, Maryland, "I used your 'Golden Medical Discovery' according to directions. After using four bottles I considered myself cured, as I have not felt any symptoms since. Had tried almost all remedies that I heard of that were good for dyspepsia, but without relief. Finally, I became discouraged, and wrote to you for advice, with the above result."

The dealer who offers a substitute for the "Discovery" is only seeking to make the little more profit realized on the sale of less meritorious preparations.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the paper covered book, or 50 stamps for the cloth bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

HISTORIC SODA WATER.

Bottle Recently Recovered From Wreck of the Royal George, 1782.

A bottle of soda water, recovered from the wreck of the Royal George, is to be submitted to public auction by Mr. J. C. Stevens. The relic is said to be well authenticated, and, as the Royal George was sunk on Aug. 29, 1782, it is over 120 years old. Some two-thirds of the contents, originally about half a pint, remain, the cork being still retained by wire partially displaced. Chemical changes corresponding to those produced by ullage in wine presumably account for a thin internal incrustation or discoloration of salts. The bottle, of the familiar soda water shape, incapable of standing up, is of green glass, but in capacity and also as to size of neck there are marked differences between the bottle of the eighteenth and the bottle of the twentieth centuries. No clue to the name of the maker of the soda water is given. Some light upon the evolution of artificial mineral waters has been thrown by Mr. William Kirkby, lecturer on pharmacognosy at the Owens College, Manchester. This investigator remarks: "The question of origin of soda water has from time to time received considerable attention. It would be a matter of some difficulty to ascertain with certainty who was the first to use the name, but the evidence of contemporary records clearly points to Mr. Richard Bewley of Great Massingham, who introduced his mephitic julep in 1767, as the one to whom is due the credit of first conceiving the idea of aerating a solution of soda with carbonic acid gas. The earliest mention of soda water appears about 1798, in which year Carallo refers to it as 'acidulous soda water, as it is commonly called,' and to 'the soda water which is now prepared and sold in London by a Mr. Schweppe contains an incomparably greater preparation of carbonic acid gas.' From the forthcoming testimony it may be safely concluded that soda water was invented in 1767, and it received its present name before 1798."

Soda seems to have preceded all other aerated waters, but seltzer was in existence in 1798, for a receipted billhead is still preserved, dated "London, Sept. 3, 1798. Mr. Yarwood dr. to J. Schweppe & Co., 11 Margaret Street, Cavendish Square, for one dozen half-pint seltzer, 4s." In 1802 Paul of Geneva, who had associated himself with Gosse, a pharmacist, and Schweppe in 1790, was making seltzer, spa, gaseous alkaline water, seidlitz, oxygenated water, hydrogenated water, Vichy water, Bassans, Vals, Contrexeville, Balarne, Plombieres, and Bareges waters. In each case the salts were put into the bottles, and the carbonated water was added afterward. Geneva was at this period exporting 40,000 to 80,000 bottles. There are no contemporary records, stating the method o aeration used by Paul. Ginger beer was once put up in bottles similar in form to the soda water pattern, but of stone, not glass. A glass soda water bottle closely resembling the Royal George specimen was dug up on the Crimean battlefield, showing that no alteration in the model had taken place for seventy-three years. Bottles more than eighty years old are still kept, but the Royal George souvenir is a veteran beside them. — London Telegraph.

Greatest Living All-Round Man.

Lord Kelvin, whose declaration in favor of creative design has come to stimulate waning faith among men of science, has felt a certain shyness in coming forward as an apologist, says The Chronicle. He is admittedly the greatest living all-round man of science. As a physicist and a mathematician he has dealt over a long course of years—he took his degree in his early teens, and he is now nearly eighty—with all problems and puzzles except those of life. His methods fail him when he faces the secrets that no physics or mathematics can solve. He estimated the age of the earth, rather to the confusion of geologists and many years ago he made the famous guess that the first life may have been brought to our earth by a meteorite. Fifty-four years of a professorship of natural philosophy in Glasgow have not supplied Lord Kelvin with a theory of life, such as Haeckel's exploded carbon theory, that dispenses with a first cause. Lord Kelvin, though soon to be four-score years of age, is generally recognized by scientists to be in his intellectual prime.
